The Story of Dov Seligman

(Ed. Note. Dov Seligman, 25,1 the fourth American to die in the partition fighting in Palestine, was a veteran of 1½ years in the Pacific. He was killed by Arab snipers while driving a tractor on a collective farm on January 19.

The following is the story of Dov Seligman as told by his brother Martin to SY POSNER, OP reporter.)

The last time I saw him before he left for Palestine was three months after he got his honorable to discharge, when he announced that he was leaving for the Holy Land on an illegal Haganal ship, the Josiah Wedgewood. When he left us a few days before embarking, he stood in the doorway and said, "This is not really a goodbye. I want you to promise that you'll come see me in Palestine."

Zionist in H. S.

My brother became a Zionist at 17, while a student at DeWitt Clinton High School. At that time he joined Hashomer Hatzair (a labor-Zionist organization). After graduating from Clinton in 1940, he attended the National Farm School in Doyleston, Pa. where he prepared himself to till the soil. He then entered the army, where he served for 31/2

I followed his trip to Eretz Israel in the newspapers. The Josiah Wedgewood picked up about 1200 refugees at a port in Northern Italy. Unfortunately, the ship was intercepted by the British, making it the first rescue ship that failed to slip through the blockade. My brother was tossed into the Athlit concentration camp in Palestine guardedas he later ironically wrote back

Dear Freshman:

If, after a week at College, you are still very much confused and bewildered, you're perfectly normal.

in a few crowded days, you have suffered the purgatory if registration, stood on endless lines to tay books and raced rom Finley Hall to South Hall to Army Hall.

Perhaps you have already discovered the maze of tunrels underneath the campus in which even seniors have been anown to get lost.

You have been handed your first leaflets. (Get used to hem: they are a daily event at CCNY!)

How do your first impressions jibe with what you've neard about the college?

A Saturday Evening Post article last spring called CCNY A College Without Frills or Fun. We got quite mad about that because most of us have managed to enjoy a considerable bit of fun at City College.

Just what is the City College student like? Perhaps he or she is a little brighter than other college students-perhaps not. To be sure, you won't find many Buicks parked on the campus. There is a definite shortage of raccoon coats and a shocking scarcity of tuxedos . . . but a basketball game at Madison Square Garden, a spring boat ride, a winter carnival and Friday night dances at the gym can be lots of fun too.

Possibly you've heard of the City College "reds". City Councilman Quinn to the contrary, you won't find very many Communists on the campus. You will find many students who are genuinely liberal, who aren't frightened by name- at what they're going to do! calling, who are deeply conscious of the privileges and responsibilities of citizens in a democratic country and students in a democratic college. They will rebel vigorously against any attempt to curtail their liberties and especially their freedom of expression. In the hundred year history of our college, students, sometimes at the risk of expulsion, have fought to maintain a free college press and an unfettered Student Council.

We hope that you will participate actively in the college community. You will find clubs and organizations to suit your every interest—be it vocational, social or political.

Observation Post is your newspaper. We want your comments, your criticism, your assistance. On our part, we promise, to the best of our ability, to continue to represent the best interests of the students.

We welcome you to City College!

Election Hangover

OP did not endorse any candidates during the last Stucent Council election. The student body voted and that is the endorsement which counts.

The successful candidate for Student Council secretary as Harold S. Pollock, who ran on the Independent Student oalition slate. It now appears that, through a technicality, ollack will be unable to take office under the present council by-laws. A two thirds vote of Council is required to waive the pertinent by-law.

Politically. Student Council is divided almost equally petween the two rival parties. The Student Liberals Committee has enough votes to block the seating of Pollock and possibly even to elect one of their own members to replace

We hope that they will not do so.

Bitter election campaigns, charges and counter-charges. have made many students cynical about student politics. The members of Council, and especially those in the SLC. will now have the opportunity to demonstrate their respect for the wishes of the student body.

We strongly urge Student Council to waive the by-laws! and seat Harold S. Pollock as S.C. secretary.

Book Store Snafu

Army methods, as a rule, don't rate too highly with civilians, but the idea of a specialist for every job is, we think, a good one.

We're referring to the colossal snafu that's been taking place at the College's Book Store for the past week or two. It seems to us that much of the time wasted standing on endless lines could easily be saved by the application of one or two very simple reforms.

We think that a large room, such as the ROTC Drill Hall, could be used for the first two weeks of the term for the sale of books and supplies. The store management could set up about a dozen separate counters—each with its own cash register—to handle students who need a wide variety of books and supplies. Thus, a division of labor and has effort wasted would save every stadent the misery and fast withat come with hours spent in annecessary lines

Lost and Bewildered Frosh Air Sorrows to Reporter

By MURIEL CUTLER

"Interview some freshmen on what they think of City College," we were told. "How do we locate freshmen?" we queried. "Find someone who looks lost and bewildered." was the reply.

So we went loking for lost and bewildered people; no problem in City College. The problem was getting out of room 16A. The corridor was full of the variety of homo sapiens we were in quest of, waiting on the Cooperative Store book line. When we waded through the line, the first lost and bewildered person we found was Dave Yashinowsky, class of '48.

Q. Are you a freshman?

Freshman Found

We finally found a freshman! When we asked him what he thinks of City College now that he's here, he quickly brightened up.

With poised pencil, prepared to fill up reams of paper, we awaited the reply.

"Nothing," he said. "Nothing?" we said. After a little prompting he admitted that it is a good echool, "I guess."

All that fuzzy-chinned Harry Leiberman class of '52 had to say ; was, "I'm staggering around like a new born baby."

Artie Schonwalt '52 aimost jumped out of his skin when we asked him what he thought of City College. "Look at it!" he exploded discainfully.

L. F. Grague

When we asked Lino Gragiis whether he was a lower freshmen, he said "As low as they come." Upon further inquiry he revealed that, "as a par Finley Hall would suit me fine, but as a Tare of learning—no!"

Boo Perker, '52 said, "Net Ten. Those that are here will do, but-not enough women."

Beating our way back through the crowd outside room 16A, we staggered in.

"You look lost and bewildered," said the editor.

CHILDREN'S APPEAL

AVC and the United World Federalists will co-sponsor the United Nations Children's Appeal at the College, in cooperation with the Department of Student Life, it was announced today.

A two-day collection among the student body is scheduled for March 8th and 9th. The money collected will be used to purchase food to supplement the diet of more than fifty per cent of the world's children who are presently existing on rations which are beow minimum health standards. The Student Council will also be asked to endorse the campaign.

Finally, a dance is being given in

Well, it seems that City College is really shot now. Even if we took every scholastic prize, won every basketball game (and the Tourney, too), and even if OP started coming out daily in four colors, it would be no compensanow dead. When they start treating incoming freshmen as if they were human beings, that's all brother!

"It is the worker who creates that they should praise and help -not the terrorist (Note: here he is referring to the Irgun) who destroys."

In another letter to a buddy, he writes: "We shall have to stand the test of blood and fire. But if we must, we shall. For most of our people this is the last station—the end of the line."

Subsistance Data

By Sy Brown

Vets at C.C.N.Y, will not receive their first checks until after March 31. I've to a directive, the VA cannot issue checks until a veterun has been in training for thirty days. The second check this term will indicate that increase.

Most Vets are knocking themselves out celebrating the increase in subsistance which goes into effect April 1. Upon suber examination we find that there is no companion legislation to make the increase real for those thousands of vets who work to supplement their income. The cailings impused by Congress last year still stand. Ordinary muthematics indicate that the increase in subsistance means a decrease in the outside earnings of vets in order to conform with the exilings imposed last year. Write your Congressman explaining the peculiar situation.

Due to a directive issued by the VA recently, all re-entering vets who have suspended their GI Bill must obtain Supplementary Certificates of Eligibility before the school can certify the student for the ensuing term. All veterans who have not written to the VA to stop the accrued leave will recui "their checks for the sum total of fifteen b who do not receive this compensation days at the end of March. should subsait a claim.

The leave mentioned above is measured on the busis of 24 days er month of full time attendance. It is grunted on a culendar basis, one day being charged for every day that is used. No advanced leave is granted. It must be understood that a reduction in entitlement will result from the securing of accrued leave. Every day for which the veteran is payed subsistence is deducted from his total period. Those who have applied for readjustment allowances will not receive accrued leave.

We realize that Mr. Robert L. Taylor has his hands full during registration, but we do not understand the "chicken" thrown at the vets this past registration. There were many vets who payed a dollar for unintentional mistakes. We submit that Mr. Taylor was legally in the right in imposing those dollar fines for "defacing the registration cards," but we ask that Mr. Taylor read the purpose of the GI bill. In these days when the vet cannot make ends meet it is rather of obtaining support of the Davisdifficult to shell out that extra buck.

We feel this blast should be accompanied by a "Hats Off" to Mr. Jacobs, manager of the bookstore for the way he supplied 80 percent of the vets with their basic kits and their books during regis- from organizations which intend college and will apply for a char- 141st St. and St. Nicholas Ave., tration week.
