Prof. L. Snyder Hits Jackpot With Anthology of Reporting

By Henry Klinch and Seymour Richman

"Literature under pressure" has hit the financial jackpot. "A Treasury of Great Reporting," by Professor Louis L. Snyder (history) and Professor Richard B. Morris (history, Columbia) is so successful that even Walter Winchell wants "to open up a book shop and get on the gravy train."
The complete first printing of 10,000 copies was sold out the day after publication just two weeks ago. Plans are being made for a third printing next month, and the book is expected to "hit the best seller lists any week now."
Professor Snyder, in an interview, quoted the surprised president of the publishers, Simon and Schuster, Mr. M. Lincoln Schuster, who stated that, "as far as the Treasury of Great Reporting" is concerned, we were caught with our typewriter down.

This anthology of journalistic writing includes selections by reporters dating from 1870 to 1916. Among the stories presented are items as varied as Walter Winchell's tell-all, "The Public Life of Famous Lepke surrendering to him; the N.Y. Times' report on the Roosevelt-Trump-Traveler, the grim story of the death of Sacco and Vanzetti; the burning of a statuette, the Titanic.

Tucsy are stories by famous writers: Jack London on the San Francisco Earthquake, Hemingway on the Spanish Civil War, Karl Marx on a London workers' strike, Pauline Johnson on the Olympic trials, Lynchings, as well as sports writing like H. L. Mencken's account of how the International Louis-Schmeling fight, and Herbert Bayard Soyer's "for journalism historians. This book is an attempt to popularize journalism as a subject."

Professors Snyder and Morris have drawn on radio as well as newspapers and magazines: Lowell Thomas broadcasting on the birth of Israel, William Barrett's explaining to the Americans about the surrender of France, Edward R. Murrow witnessing the "orchestrated hell" that was a raid on Berlin.

Write to the Editor:

Our committee would like to express our sincere appreciation for your splendid cooperation and excellent handling of items which appeared in your paper regarding the blood bank.

Every youngster, as the news spread, were not as satisfactory as had been expected. But the degree of success attained was largely due to the excellent public relations work of the College and the previous public relations work of the College and the press. When the bloodmobile returns to the campus in our next effort to obtain donations, may we count on you again?

Al Goldstein, Chairman.

MANHATTANVILLE College has still not been added to the City College campus. The Board of Higher Education, City Council and Mayor O'Dwyer have already approved the plan.

The Board of Higher Education has still not filed its brief on the Karcher-Hoover case with the State Commissioner of Education. The Corporation Council, representing the IRS, has failed to comply with the State Commissioner's order although it third time extension has already expired. The date: November 1.

Young Liberals

By Club Viewer

This is the first of a series of articles which will attempt to familiarize the student with the purpose and activities of the Young Liberals club.

Typical of the political organization in college life is the Young Liberal, a student affiliate of the New York Liberal Party. The club gives membership of the political party to twenty-five students, of whom five are males and twenty-five are females.

Mr. Newbold Morris, Bill Wagner and Ben Davidson, the past president of the club, believe that the Young Liberals have been instrumental in obtaining such speakers as Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr. Newbold Morris, Mr. Bill Wagner and Ben Davidson, who are currently both political and student leaders at the college.

In the near future the Young Liberals will sponsor a forum for students who hope to have such speakers as F.D.R. Jr. and Jacob Kampf. The main purpose of the organization is to "provide a third force or alternative to reaction of the right and left." They have attempted to acquaint the students with their activities by forming a publicity committee to distribute leaflets and publish a bi-monthly paper.

But all of the group's activities are not along a political vein, for the club sponsors a dance at least once a term. Anyone interested in joining the Young Liberals should attend meetings held in Main 216 every other Thursday at 12:30. Further information can be obtained by consulting either Gerald Weisberg or Marvin Maurer, co-chairmen of the organization.

There's no doubt about it. Mr. Turkey, Santa Claus in Mary's role, and the Weather Man have verified it. The Yuletide season has sneaked in and caught us off guard, so let's enjoy it while we may before the two weeks of mad cramming following the New Year's hangover. We have one month more to mingle and be merry before the two weeks of mad cramming following the New Year's hangover.

The skiing season hasn't caught the American Youth Hostel spirit yet. It's planning a ski trip now, and reservations must be made before the two weeks of mad cramming following the New Year's hangover. This ski trip is planned for the weekend after New Year's Day. Camels for Mildness!

Yes, Camels are 50% Milder than the rest and in Amsa Hall during the week of December 5-8. Voting will be on a College-wide basis, and the winner of the contest, the first "Carnival King" in the history of the College, will be the student with the most money in the collection box. Seventy five hot photos. All money collected during the contest will go towards the building of an out-of-town camp for City College students. The camp project has been undertaken by House Plan as a memorial for Marvin Wurmscher, a College sophomore who died last term after being struck by a bus on Convent Avenue.

Irwin Holds Lavender Mark for Season (274 Pts.)

and Gardien High Contest for Single Season (283 Pts.)

Matmen to Count on Vets, Heller, Hillner

For the first time in four years, the Beaver wrestlers—II'll take to the mats without the services of remarkable Dave Lesky when they open their season Thursday against the Lafayette Leopards. Although they are still the same number on the roster, the competition indicates, he could be out for revenge this time.

Irwin Sees Mark

Co-captain Irwin Dambrot, by scoring 20 points against Queens last Saturday night, has taken over the top spot on the all-time College individual scoring records, formerly held by Sonny Jameson. Now in the running, however, is Dave Lesky, who has accumulated a grand total of 600 points, surpassing Sonny's previous record by 50. The third racer, who has added considerable savor to the team over the summer, has been playing a solid ball. Norm, who was fifth in scoring last season, is looking forward to a big year.

Allagroosers

To Rock MSG

All leather—hanged, Allagroos—'tuckin'—choosin'—Lavender—blended men will clip the cheer below, bring it to the game Saturday and yell like hell for the Beavers.

To the Lafayette Leopards the Allagrooans say:

Give us the ball

Go back to the woods

Here come I,

Squad veterans include Clara Young, Ireni Fajeloson, Gloria Mandele, Anita Friedman, Jean Stokes and Lois Hind. New to the team will be Clara Zsmlowita, Elaine Schwartz, Constance Edelman, Anita Friedman, Jean Stokes and Lois Hind.

Femmes Cagers Prep for Year

Basketball has brought fame to our college, but there is one basketball team on the campus that is as unknown—unknown—the girls' basketball team.

Bring the only intercollegiate sport that the girls participate in, and the girls with the Lavender. However, the Beaver's followers need not worry, for the Lavender out for revenge this time.
