Andrews, Goodman, Klein, Implicated in Disappearance of Program Cards

By Dave Weinstein

After a heated four-hour meeting last night, the Student Council Judiciary Committee voted to disqualify Flo Goodman and Tom Andrews from this Friday's Student Council election. The Committee also voted to disqualify Martin Klein, who previously had withdrawn from participation in the elections. Also implicated was Leonard Dauer.

The three people disqualified were running respectively for the offices of Secretary, Vice-President and Treasurer.

The Belgium and Nicholas Calvo '47, Thomas Andrews and Martin Klein implicated and involved in the disappearance of the program cards and find them intelligible to run for office this semester.

To Continue Probe

"We will continue in the investigation," said a representative of the Student Council. "We will not hesitate to conduct a full investigation, stipulating that if found guilty, the four should be disbarred from election."

Leonard Dauer is President of the Student Council. The disappearance of the cards arose when the G.O.T. decided to distribute a leaflet to all students via a mailing list arrangement in an attempt to inform the students of their choices in Friday's election.

Found Guilty

At 10:45 last night, Chief Justice Irving Epstein called the court into chamber and fifteen minutes later pronounced the four individuals guilty of the theft.

During the hearings, all four were visibly frightened and vehemently denied any participation in the disappearance. Each candidate stoutly declared himself innocent, and did not hesitate to cast aspersions upon the other three. However, from the circumstantial evidence presented, the Judiciary Committee had no alternative but to declare the defendants guilty and disqualify them from their candidacy.

Let There Be More Light!

Lighting will be only one of the things improved at the College under the new two-year, $2,800,000, improvement project. New lighting will be put into operation tomorrow in Townsend Harris Hall, will be enlarged and modernized. Other projects include a renovation of the pool and a new ventilation system for the Chem Building.

Why Tuesday?

Because of the elections to be held this Friday, December 16. The Student Council Post will only appear twice this week.

Student Council regulations prohibit the publication of editorials or other organs sup- porting candidates on election day. O. P.'s Managing Editor, therefore, voted to cancel temporarily its three-times-a-week publication and appear instead on Tuesday and Thursday.

Browder Will Speak Thurs.

Earl Browder, former chairman of the American Communist Party, will be one of three speakers at a debate on the topic, "Which Way America?" which will take place on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 12:15 in room 105 Main.

The character witnesses for Dr. M. Levy, who then sends remaining applications to a screening committee which makes the final choice.

Applications for next year are still being received at present, and announcement of the awards will be made in the spring of 1950.

More Young Adults... Tuberculosis Takes the Lives of More Young Adults Than Any Other Disease

Tubercluosis takes the lives of more young adults than any other disease, according to research presented at the annual meeting of the American Thoracic Society. The disease is caused by the bacterium Mycobacterium tuberculosis, which is spread through the air when an infected person coughs or speaks. The disease can be treated with antibiotics, but it can be difficult to cure if left untreated.

PCS to Give Cash Discounts

A Purchase Card System, which can save a student as much as 80 to 90 cents, is now in operation at the College. The system, known as PCS, is already in operation on other campuses.

Membership in the system comes with the purchase of a $1 card. Cards will be put into operation tomorrow and Thursday, Dec. 14 and 15, as well as all of next week, at a booth in Lincoln Corridor, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2 P.M.

It was emphasized that the purpose for applying. The system is designed to reduce living costs for the students.

No Outer Symptoms

One of the insidious aspects of tuberculosis is that it has no symptoms at first. Thus, people may have the disease without knowing it. But TB can be uncovered early by means of a chest X-ray.

CARE Campaign Continues All Week

The Student Council's CARE Campaign offers the health and morale of Europe's children, bringing in two Swedes who is needed to the needy children everywhere. Collection boxes will be open in Lincoln Corridor.

Purchase Card System to Arrive Wednesday

The system is designed to reduce living costs for the students.
By Eugene Schwartz

Not in a decade has one man at City College been the subject of so much public campaign seeking his dismissal as has Professor William E. Knickerbocker of the Romance Languages Department.

Students not in his classes have ever met the man, yet his name is known by all. Noving six years on the staff, he never fails to command attention, speaking of his allegedly anti-semitic lectures in his English class he has utterly disrupted his private life.

Meeting him for the first time in the departing office, Rolla Boto, 205 Main, the professor displayed a natural reluctance to be questioned. He was called upon by some members of the student body to explain his accusations. He took the most explicit of assurances that he would continue to resist and his department and faculty bowling team and his favorite part of his private life.

With understandable caution, having been turned down by the new administrator, he stipulated that the interview be conducted without direct quotations.

Born in up-state New York, Knickerbocker can look back upon a full career in a field with which he fell in love early in his youth. A member of the last five-year graduate class of the College, he received his diploma when yet 18 years old. Entering the teaching profession immediately, he taught languages for a year in the city's grammar schools.

During that time he spent a summer in the Alliance, France, studying French abroad.

When he returned to the States the professor joined Columbia University where he received his Ph.D. in 1911. From that year until 1941 he taught languages in the Evening Session and, at various times, instructed in Town and Domestic Science.

The services of Professor Knickerbocker as supervisor of Brooklyn Annex (in 1917, 1918) and in 1920 was the acting supervisor of the Romance Languages Department.

One student in his classes has ever met the man, yet his name is known by all. Noving six years on the staff, he never fails to command attention, speaking of his allegedly anti-semitic lectures in his English class he has utterly disrupted his private life.

Meeting him for the first time in the departing office, Rolla Boto, 205 Main, the professor displayed a natural reluctance to be questioned. He was called upon by some members of the student body to explain his accusations. He took the most explicit of assurances that he would continue to resist and his department and faculty bowling team and his favorite part of his private life.

With understandable caution, having been turned down by the new administrator, he stipulated that the interview be conducted without direct quotations.

Born in up-state New York, Knickerbocker can look back upon a full career in a field with which he fell in love early in his youth. A member of the last five-year graduate class of the College, he received his diploma when yet 18 years old. Entering the teaching profession immediately, he taught languages for a year in the city's grammar schools.

During that time he spent a summer in the Alliance, France, studying French abroad.

When he returned to the States the professor joined Columbia University where he received his Ph.D. in 1911. From that year until 1941 he taught languages in the Evening Session and, at various times, instructed in Town and Domestic Science.

The services of Professor Knickerbocker as supervisor of Brooklyn Annex (in 1917, 1918) and in 1920 was the acting supervisor of the Romance Languages Department.

One student in his classes has ever met the man, yet his name is known by all. Noving six years on the staff, he never fails to command attention, speaking of his allegedly anti-semitic lectures in his English class he has utterly disrupted his private life.

Meeting him for the first time in the departing office, Rolla Boto, 205 Main, the professor displayed a natural reluctance to be questioned. He was called upon by some members of the student body to explain his accusations. He took the most explicit of assurances that he would continue to resist and his department and faculty bowling team and his favorite part of his private life.

With understandable caution, having been turned down by the new administrator, he stipulated that the interview be conducted without direct quotations.

Born in up-state New York, Knickerbocker can look back upon a full career in a field with which he fell in love early in his youth. A member of the last five-year graduate class of the College, he received his diploma when yet 18 years old. Entering the teaching profession immediately, he taught languages for a year in the city's grammar schools.

During that time he spent a summer in the Alliance, France, studying French abroad.

When he returned to the States the professor joined Columbia University where he received his Ph.D. in 1911. From that year until 1941 he taught languages in the Evening Session and, at various times, instructed in Town and Domestic Science.

The services of Professor Knickerbocker as supervisor of Brooklyn Annex (in 1917, 1918) and in 1920 was the acting supervisor of the Romance Languages Department.

One student in his classes has ever met the man, yet his name is known by all. Noving six years on the staff, he never fails to command attention, speaking of his allegedly anti-semitic lectures in his English class he has utterly disrupted his private life.

Meeting him for the first time in the departing office, Rolla Boto, 205 Main, the professor displayed a natural reluctance to be questioned. He was called upon by some members of the student body to explain his accusations. He took the most explicit of assurances that he would continue to resist and his department and faculty bowling team and his favorite part of his private life.

With understandable caution, having been turned down by the new administrator, he stipulated that the interview be conducted without direct quotations.

Born in up-state New York, Knickerbocker can look back upon a full career in a field with which he fell in love early in his youth. A member of the last five-year graduate class of the College, he received his diploma when yet 18 years old. Entering the teaching profession immediately, he taught languages for a year in the city's grammar schools.

During that time he spent a summer in the Alliance, France, studying French abroad.

When he returned to the States the professor joined Columbia University where he received his Ph.D. in 1911. From that year until 1941 he taught languages in the Evening Session and, at various times, instructed in Town and Domestic Science.

The services of Professor Knickerbocker as supervisor of Brooklyn Annex (in 1917, 1918) and in 1920 was the acting supervisor of the Romance Languages Department.
COMING TO THE FIRST! Spread next Saturday night celebrating in the South American Broadway style, the theater's Latin American repertoire is the sources of the border delinquents, and the town is the scientific music. All this madness for a dolce per niente," which you may purchase in 112 Army Hall from 10 till 1. Dancing will be the Baro-American Club, supervised by Senior B. H. H. at 8:30.

The reason for the coffee sign in our mess hall? Well, it seems that we are very lucky to be dining night full o' stimulation coffee for only cents a cup.

Fact finding committees are flourishing in these trying times, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics is no exception. Meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in 312 Main when Mr. Robert Passik will address the Statistical Society.

Pre-marital situations will be explored today at noon. Dr. Gerald Elde is to present his recordings with college students. This should be better than Candid Microphones. Remember—Hilltop at noon.

Let's have a large turnout for Alpha Phi Omega's "Holiday Sing" on Saturday in the first of our school's history. In fact, there will consist of Chorus as well as Christmas songs presented by a chorus of A.P. O. brothers.

Since December 22 is the seventh day of Channukah, a candle lighting ceremony will be held to take place at noon in the Lincoln Corridor.

What's this? Monkey Business meeting of the Education Society on Thursday at 12:30 in 312 Main. Memo to Ed. Society—You let yourself in for it.

The Bi-annual Bio Society dinner will be held at the Barbino Hotel, Saturday night, December 21. Mr. Charles will again be the host. The program will include frogs' legs, mud poodles, dog fish, and geoponics a la mode. After dinner entertainment will be provided.

Impoverished families in Harlem may have a slightly merrier Christmas if you cooperate with the Newman Club Christmas Baskets Drive. On December 15 and 16 the Club will collect clothing and canned food in Lincoln Corridor and Army Hall Lounge from 9 till 4. Perhaps you'll have a merrier Christmas too.

Backstage

An old skeleton popped out of the Dramsoc closet recently; one that comes, causes a few shudders, and leaves at the end of the season's productions. If it, or maybe, she (nobody can access me about the secret), resides in the weary bones of the passion-ate or anyone on the Dramsoc executive committee takes part in a production, Dramsoc or otherwise, as a leading character. The question then arises as to whether or not an executive can perform his duties in a competent manner and still play a leading role, or take part in any activity which will detract from his responsibility as an ex-

The membership has been discussing an amendment to the constitution which would prohibit an executive from taking part in an activity which would hamper him in his main duty. All well and good. But beyond this direct route of action lies a booby trap. For if it all boils down to is whether a group whose duties are purely theatrical production will be tamed out by mediocre hands. What manifest in this resolution is that the huge machinery involved in these ranks are the executives chosen. The people who are sincerely interested in the theatre both as a home to warm beds, who are elected to positions of responsibility. One who accepts a certain position without having the time to properly attend to his duties is doing the organization a great deal of harm, to say nothing of himself.

I believe that some individuals are capable of handling two jobs at the same time. But if any group with such duties are purely theatrical, but whose theoretical knowledge and experience is limited can be more effective than the more experienced people devoting less time to it.

I believe that some individuals are capable of handling two jobs at the same time. But if any group with such duties are purely theatrical, but whose theoretical knowledge and experience is limited can be more effective than the more experienced people devoting less time to it.

With smokers who know...its Camels for Mildness

Yes, Camels are 20 M.p.h. ahead of the count-in-count test of many other leading brands of cigarettes. Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!
The basketball season had been one of unsurpassed excellence, and the percentage of .321 was a drop from the season average. The sudden surge lasted for a little more than three minutes and left the crowd gasping. Mike Wittlin led this comeback with 20 points, and Arnie Smith made three free throws before the Lavender would fall into the hands of City. The final score was 82-28.

Beaver Frosh Trims St. Peter's

By Stanley "Nipper" Nagyart

The home team had never been more dominant. The Frosh Trims took the lead halfway through the first half and never looked back. The final score was 66-43.

Powerful Hofstra Grapplers

Pin Beaver Matmen, 16-12

By Walter Pursky

Last Saturday afternoon, a powerful Hofstra squad defeated the Beaver matmen by a score of 16 to 12. The Blue and Yellow had come from behind after the first bout, after drawing even and going ahead. The Beavers were never able to overcome the lead.

In the 121-pound class, Tom Woods of City outpointed Orville Carmean Co-captain Hank Kehoe of Hofstra. The match was won by Jack DeFranco. Another 131-pounder Joe Hersch was pinned by Al Roman. At this point, Hofstra led 14-3.

Beaver Frosh Trims St. Peter's

By Dietz, LeVine and Allan Cohen were outstanding in this department as they dominated both the offensive and the defensive. The Final result of the match was 66-43. The display of speed was displayed by Miss Brignam and Dave Simmons en-...