Big Mayoralty Forum Hears Ross Today
By Art Robinson

Paul B. Ross, American Labor Party candidate for mayor, appeared Tuesday before a meeting in Harriman Auditorium, sponsored by the American Labor Party, to discuss his views and platform.

Ross, who is also candidate for the Democratic nomination, stated that he has represented the people of New York City for 39 years.

"I have been a member of the New York City Council and have represented the people in my district for 39 years," he said. "I believe in the people of this city and will work for their benefit."

Our Hero

Wagner has come and gone, and Mitti Luchan is still unredeemed. A prisoner of football frustration, he will have to wait for the Susquehanna game to end in its inevitable defeat before his head high again.

We only wish that more students at the College had the Luchan spirit. (At least in football matters.) Although this has hardly been a gala season, it is up to the student body to actively support their fellows on the team.

Dear Editor:

I do not wish at this time to argue the merits of the question of whether candidates should be protected from possibly libelous statements at the time of Student Council elections. But I strongly protest the unfair slantings of the articles in the last several issues, or “before the hearing line ‘Council Demands Control,’ etc. was a gross misrepresentation of the questions that were resolved by Council last Friday were a concrete step toward liberalizing Press Censorship and control over leaflets.

It is in the belief of Council that all students should be given an opportunity to have their opinions heard. They should be given an open forum. These major points were almost completely ignored by the students’ paper. It is a shame and a waste of time to have such an excellent publication to waste its talent.

I must point out also that the Action Committee of the College, no organization or paper could under any circumstances be stopped from publishing any opinion; they could only be forced to publish a balanced view of the consequences.

The examples which the College Committee cites as being cases where the students’ paper ignored SFCSA regulations concerning leaflets cannot be considered reliable. If they violate this trust, then we can reverse freedom of the press and in the end have an open hearing. These major points were almost completely ignored by the students’ paper. It is a shame and a waste of time to have such an excellent publication to waste its talent.

It is expected that any organization or paper not subject to the regulations of SFCSA will continue to be free from censorship.

Yours very truly,
Irwin J. Schmitt

Dr. Weinreich Advocates Larger 'Yiddish' Program

By Bob Gamstrov

The College can boast of many students, distinctions, from the cello to courses in radio engineering, to the first to open a graduating evening session. But may not know is that in College is also the first and only American institution of learning to offer permanent courses in the Yiddish language and literature.

Feeling this unique prestige is now conveyed to the German Department by the Professor, who, since 1923, when Prof. Max Weinreich, received his doctorate from the University of Marburg, has been active leader in the field of Jewish studies. In 1925, he became the founder and co-director of the Yiddish Scientific Institute (YIVO) of Vilna, Poland, which, through its many branches, has become the central institution of Jewish social science. The Institute, according to the University Jewish Encyclopedia, "is the teacher and inspiration of an entire generation of Jewish scholars in Yiddish through his activities as author, editor, teacher, and guiding spirit of YIVO." Through the organization, Prof. Weinreich was able to conduct research work all over Europe, from Oxford to Paris and Vienna, and to attend the leading linguistic conferences on the continent.

Commenting on the three years at the college, Dr. Weinreich remarked that he was happy to see the student body becoming more interested in the field of Yiddish studies. "German 61 and 62 and the advanced seminars are more than just courses in Linguistics, but rather a survey of Jewish history and culture. As such, they should be of interest to those who would like to know more about the cultural background of the Jewish people."

The professor also announced the formation of the Peretz Society, a student organization of which he is the faculty adviser, and strongly urged those interested in Jewish culture to join the association by contacting him through the German Department Office, room 305 Main.

YMHA Offers New Discounts For Concerts

The Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association offers an annual series of subscription concerts of chamber music, and song, poetry and dance recitals. In order that the large majority of college students may enjoy these concerts, they have effected special student discounts. There are ten series of concerts; a new series each month at a discount of fifty percent for most of the concerts and twenty-five percent for a lesser number. Student rates are available for single events, and there are special group rates for ten or more people of a club or other organization. Along with the subscription, you receive a concert for the nominal cost of sixty cents.

The concerts scheduled for this season promise to be particularly stimulating. The Dance recital at the Y is widely known and the Y is regarded as the center of Jewish dance. Several of the noted artists to appear are Richard Dormally, Hooey Taylor, Patricia Hovey, Orson Wash, Robert Frost, T. S. Eliot, and the Yiddish Troupe.

The Y is very much aware of the student in the planning and execution of the concerts. Last semester, several Music 1 classes were asked to vote for their ideas concerning their likes and dislikes of concert programs.

The concerts are sponsored by the education department of the Y at a public service. Further information may be obtained either at Home Plan or at the Concert Bureau in the main lunchroom. Just ask for the YMHA Bulletin of Concert Activities.

Newsmen Club

This semester, the Newsmen club has been more and more interested in inviting a guest speaker and has initiated a group of "Newsmen." The program will take place the entire week, will be reviewed different aspects of the Catholic religion. The first four weeks is the Hillel, Yiddish, and Yiddish day, Monday, Thursday and Friday. The second week at the B'nai B'rith, and the last week in the American Hebrew. The program will be held the Newsmen every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and all are welcome to attend.
Eleven Faces Susquehanna; Looks for First Win Saturday

By Don Zaidman

Still seeking its first victory of the 1980 season, the City College Football Team will engage the Crusaders of Susquehanna this Saturday at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania. The game will mark the eleventh meeting between the two schools. Susquehanna holds a 5-4 edge. The teams played a 9-9 tie in 1947.

The Crusaders of last year were a team that had lost all but one game, and they have shown their true values. In four games, Susquehanna has pulled two of their last three losses. The team is a powerful one.

The Crusaders of last year have shown their true values. In four games, Susquehanna has pulled two of their last three losses. The team is a powerful one. There were a great many things I could do in my neighborhood. "I spoke to some people and they seem like a fine bunch. Why don't you do something about it?" He did say since the incumbent was a Democrat, Gersh sought, and received, the opposition Repub­

Public nomination for Assemblyman, Sixth A.

Doing it himself is no novelty to Gersh. He has, in the past, been a Golden Glove champion, a college football star, a Negro Leagues baseball player, a white-collar worker, and boxing pro. His greatest thrill? That's easy: winning the Golden Glove Heavyweight Championship in 1943 (under the name of Ed Gein). And the strongest connection between Gersh's Golden Gloves and City College is, strangely enough, a watchtower. "The idea of boxing first came to me through a friend who had a watch in an amateur boxing tournament. I needed a timepiece, but my friend had one. If you watch somebody else's watch, it's the same as your own."

But professional boxing because he had to choose between a fightin' career and a teaching career. The transition was only superfical. As that great contemporary philoso­pher, Sugar Ray Robinson, says: "You don't get nothin' for nothin.'" Ed Gersh, ex-boxing coach here at St. Nicholas Terrace and current lecturer at the High School for Boys, says: "You don't get nothin' for nothin.'"
