Schiffres New S. C. Prexy; Two Newspapers Continue

It took until 2:46 A.M. to finish counting the ballots in last Friday's election, but when the long night watch was over, Prospects candidate Irwin Schiffres had completed the long road back to his electoral defeat last May to upset incumbent Gerald Wallace and win the office of SC President by 67 votes.

After the final tabulation, the vote stood: Schiffres, 1318; Wallace, 1251; Gary Schlessinger, 745. The total vote of 3314, while it compares very favorably with previous elections, still represents only about 51 per cent of the eligible voters.

In the voting on the proposal to merge the two newspapers, continued existence of two papers was upheld by a negative vote of 1949-1021 against the merger resolution.

Not So Close

Contests for the other three major offices was not nearly as close as the race for president. Henry Krisch was elected vice-president by a vote of 1728-1362 over Lenny Lederman. Ray Hamilton got 1431 votes for secretary as opposed to 873 for Phyllis Schwab and 712 for Leo Bodner. Council's new treasurer is Fred Boretz, who handily defeated Harry Pollak, 1747-1077.

The narrowest decision of the election came in the vote for Senior class president. Here Marty Dubin, with 202 votes, edged out Mark Maged, who had 197. Dick Fields (118), and Stan Ross (94), finished out of the running.

The four delegates to

the National Students Association were, in order, Jerry Koenig, Howard Young, Jim Berry and Neil Dimschitz. The fifth delegate will be SC President-elect Schiffres.

Top Spots

In other contests for class presidencies, Sandra Gonick slid into the headship of '55 by 13 votes over Martin Ozer; Manny Halper obtained a 23-vote decision over Fred Quellerin '54, and '53's Walter Urban was unopposed.

Elected to other senior offices were Jay Fischer, vice-president;

Marv Davis, secretary; Sherwin Rear, treasurer, and Emil Scheller. Herb Chabot and Lisle Greenidge, SC reps. New class vice-presidents are, Friedman, '53; Vetri, '54, and Sokol, '55. The balloting for a recipient of the "human relations award" had Ralph Bunche top man, with Eleanor Roosevelt a distant second. In answering the second question of the merger referendum, most voters favored a publication which would appear three times a week.

Of the 21 representatives now chosen for Council, only seven are newcomers: Emil Scheller and Herb Chabot, '52; Gerry Kramer and Stan Applebaum, '53; Hank Stern, '54; Selma Stahl and Barney McCaffrey, '55. In the matter of late successes, the four major offices were evenly divided between Prospect (Schiffres and Boretz), and Student Needs (Krisch and Hamilton) Quo Vadis got nowhere.

Registrar Taylor Admits That Spanish Grade Was Raised

An OP investigation has revealed that the grade of a student formerly on the freshman basketball squad was changed from a "D" to a "C" last January. Robert L. Taylor, Registrar, admitted that there were evidences of erasure on the grade sheet of the Spanish 52 course the student had taken. At present the student is on a leave of absence.

The falsification was discovered while the Committee on Course and Standing was looking into the record of the student. The Committee checked with the instructor of the Spanish course, who reported that his records showed that he had given the student a "D". The forged grade sheet showed a "C" and was recorded as such on the permanent record.

Only Case

As a result of the discovery the Registrar's office made an intensive investigation of the records of varsity and freshman squad basketball players. No other instances of record changes were found. Mr. Taylor stated, "There seems to me to be no connection between this change and the falsifications in the transcripts of the other players (Al Roth, Herb Cohen, Ed Chenetz, Arnie Smith and Moe Bragin)."

The name of the player involved is being kept secret, Mr. Taylor stated, because it is believed that he had no part in the falsification. Mr. Taylor cited the adverse effect of the revelation of the transcript changes in the cases of Chenetz, Smith and Bragin, who are also believed to have had no knowledge of the changes.

Forger Unknown

Personnel in the Department of Romance Languages and in the Registrar's office had access to the grade sheet, but the identity of the person who changed the records remains a complete mystery.

Asked why the facts were not made public until OP confronted him with the story, Mr. Taylor explained that "we don't send a letter to the New York Times everytime we have such a case." President Harry N. Wright and Howard C. Kelly, chairman of the Board of Higher Education's special investigating committee, have noted that this case is part of the report being prepared on the entire basketball situation at the College. This investigation was prompted by statements made by Judge Saul S. Streit when he sentenced former basketball stars for their participation in "fixed" games.

There Were 'Sure' Teachers: Galiber

In an interview with OP last Monday, Joe Galiber, co-Captain of the 1950 Grand Slammers, said that there were a few teachers in whose classes basketball players were assured of passing or getting grades higher than they deserved. The fact that entrance records and college marks were changed fraudulently came as a complete shock to him, however, and he believes it was a complete surprise to the other players. He also took issue with Judge Streit who described the Evening Session as a back door for those who could not get into school through regular procedures. He said that he had to go to school from 8 A.M. to 11 P.M. his first term, and that generally Evening Sessions students striving for a B average find it no picnic.

Buitoni Co. to Offer Italian Scholarships

Scholarships for study in Italy at summer will be awarded to students at the College by Giovanni Buitoni, president of the Buitoni Macaroni Company, it was announced by Professor Vincent Luciani (Romance Languages), chairman of the Buitoni Awards Committee.

The scholarships will provide study at the University of Perugia from July to September. They will include transportation, tuition fees, room, board and trips to Rome and Florence. The awards are being made in celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Buitoni Company in Perugia.

According to Professor Luciani, the scholarships are open to students who wish to pursue further study in Italian language and literature, comparative literature, music, education, classical antiquities, or the history of Western Europe. The award winners will be selected from applicants who have already demonstrated proficiency in one of the above fields. The only requirement is that the applicant must be an upper classman and must have or must acquire at least an elementary knowledge of Italian by next June. The deadline for applications, which must be submitted to the department chairman or to members of the Buitoni Awards Committee, is January 15.

Sound & Fury

Thirty-two pages of articles, reviews and fiction—"The Indian Student Today," by Indian Fulbright, winner Ram Nagel; "Soft Words and Long Sentences," a critique of Stephen Crane's "Red Badge of Courage," by Fred Goldin; Vincent Harding's "Knooling," and "The World Outside," by Jack Jaffe—these are some of the attractions in the new "Sound and Fury," out January 2 for a mere 10c. The bigger and better "S & F" will also contain art, photos and cartoons—the best work of the College's talent. Remember—January 2, 10c.

Robeson Blasts Compromise Offer, Will Not Agree to Great Hall Forum

By Ruth Fenner

Paul Robeson, denouncing as typical of the "dodge of the universities" Student Council's suggestion that he debate in a forum in the Great Hall on January 10, stated flatly that he would "not accept in any sense" the compromise proposal.

Speaking to members of the Students' Non-Partisan Committee, headed by Lyle Greenwich, two City College reporters, and Julian Ramos of YPA last Thursday, Robeson said, "I will debate anybody, and that includes President Wright," after the present issue is resolved. He went on to say that when he appeared in the Great Hall in 1947, he was introduced by Jones Shapiro, a classmate of his at Columbia Law School and president of the CCNY alumni association.

Last year, Robeson sang and lectured at the University of Chicago and Boston University, and expects to speak at both these schools again this year. He declared, however, that he especially "expected this university to understand." He said that he was "not barred in any other country" and that he had received invitations to speak in England, Israel, India, Paris, the Scandinavian countries, and the University of Edinburgh. "And why not Cuba?" he queried. "There are no philosophies of life, but mine is based on coexistence. It's sense that we can't live with either Russia—or China. We live with Turkey!"

The last time he was abroad, Robeson said, was in 1949, when he toured with the Philharmonic orchestra, and in 1950, when he attended several peace conferences. He added that his voice in the peace movements is heard by tens of millions. Today he is considered a security risk, but although he has several times requested a hearing by the House Un-American Committee, this has never been granted. He expressed a great desire to face Senators Wood and Rankin, saying, "I want to speak very much."

'Let Justice Be Done'

On the afternoon of Friday, November 30, I attended a geology field trip at the Palisades. When I returned home, I was informed by my mother that Coach Holman had called and said that my record and those of Moe Bragin and Arnie Smith had been tampered with and we therefore were ineligible for athletic competition. This was the first time I knew or had even thought that my record had been altered. The initial shock was tremendous; I received calls from relations and friends who were anxious to find out the whole story. Unfortunately I could not tell them, for I knew as little as they did.

I had taken the entrance examinations at Queens College as well as City, and during the summer of '48 I received letters of admission to both schools. Bragin and Smith also received notifications of acceptance to City.

The following day I hastened to read the newspapers and what I read just added to my chagrin. Most of the metropolitan newspapers wrote the story in a slanderous manner. It was written so that the public thought we were conspirators in the act and it cast an aspersion on our right to be in college.

On Monday we prepared a statement in order to defend ourselves and released it to the press. We stated that we had not had any connection with, or knowledge of, the record tampering and were willing and eager to sign affidavits to that effect. We further went on to say that our high school marks warranted our admission to practically any college in the country. Bragin's average was 75%, Smith's 77% and my own was 80%.

The question now arises as to whether or not we are bona-fide students. If we are, we should be given all the rights and privileges of students. This would, of course, include participation on any athletic team. We feel that our return to the squad would remove one of the stigma that has been placed by this whole situation. Our main purpose is complete vindication and we will continue to strive for that.

We have taken our case to President Wright, Deans Engler and Gottschall, Professor Lloyd and Mr. Lester Nichols, and we have found them sympathetic and helpful. However, the final decision on our status rests with the president, who is an inherently honest man. We know that the decision he will make will be just and in the best interests of the college. Whatever the decision, we will accept it in good faith.

Light Up the Sky

Reviews

Dramsoc hitched itself to a Roman candle this week-end and soared to success. The group's revival of Moss Hart's comedy "Light Up The Sky" was excellently done, and it was well worth venturing out into the cold night in order to see it.

The play is a satire on the theatre and all the people connected with it. Mr. Hart's characters are all stereotypes of what one would expect theatre people to be like. They are affected and for the most part witty and sarcastic. A few of them have invested money, time, and their reputations in a play written by an unknown author. After the premiere performance, however, they are sorry that they ever had anything to do with it.

Seymour Schutter portrayed the role of Carleton Fitzgerald, the sentimental and sensitive director of the play. His characterization was the most delightful performance of the evening. I am certain that the audience will long remember his famous line, "I could cry."

Naomi Rey gave a very excellent interpretation in the role of Irene Livingston, a shallow and self-centered actress.

Ivan Lyons-Pleskow portrayed the high-gear, garrulous producer, Sidney Black. At times he was too vibrant and as a result became unintelligible. On the whole, however, he gave a very convincing performance. His dollar conscious, gin rummy playing wife Frances Black was played by Roslyn Yager. Miss Yager managed to get laughs but she did not shine until she mimicked a poor old lady selling violets and balloons in Shubert Alley. Bragin rummy partner, Stella Livingston, was fairly convincingly played by Sonya Kokotoff. It is when these two women are playing their 4 A.M. gin game that things begin to look brighter for those connected with the newly opened play. At this time they learn that it has received excellent reviews and everyone is happy, everyone except the reticent and not very worldly author of the play, Peter Sloan. After much discussion he asserts himself and agrees to improve the play. Ted Rifkin gave a commendable performance as the author.

The play was staged by Ronald Ershowsky. Mr. Ershowsky has proved that he is not only a very capable actor but an exceedingly clever director too. Allan Landman is to be applauded for his authentic looking hotel suite set. The entire production was produced by Marion Velich.

A job well done Dramsoc!

HP Talent Show to Feature Candle Light and Soft Music

Couples sit intimately around small tables sipping their refreshments. Soft music blends in with candle light and the surrounding cabaret atmosphere. A sudden blast of the trumpets announces that the show is about to begin. The scene is not a Greenwich Village tavern, but the usually unromantic drill hall. The show is not straight from the Ritz but from the classrooms. It is the culmination of Evening Session HP's talent search.

By the night of December 22, the best of both sessions' singers, dancers, sword-swallowers, etc., will have been noticed to perform and be judged. The winners will get an audition with NBC-TV. Judging the talent will be Ivan Black, discoverer of Eddie Mayhoff, and Jim Tuck, producer of Circle in the Square. A third judge has not yet been chosen, but we are promised something big. Music is to be provided by House Plan's band, the Musicalles. Tickets to the talent search and subsequent dance are being sold not only to CCNY students, but to students of 14 New York colleges and universities. Any group who wants a section of tables for itself should notify HP by Dec. 21. Tickets are on sale at $75 each. They will be $1.00 at the

Letters

To the Editor of OP:

Too often when something goes wrong in this school, people just shrug their heads and forge about it or curse the scapegoat of that particular moment. Too often that scapegoat is Student Council.

Suppose you turn on a water fountain and nothing comes out, or the showers in your locker room don't work. Report this fact to the Student Council School Affairs Committee in Room 20 Main. We have set up a committee to look after the health and welfare of the CCNY student; it will serve as a clearing house for student complaints and suggestions which will be forwarded to the proper authorities.

The Administration can not be everywhere at every time. A lot of things don't get fixed because we don't know about them. A member of the committee sees the proper authorities periodically and brings him the various complaints. As a result of our work at least partially, the water fountains are undergoing extensive repairs, new showers are being installed in Townsend Harris and coat hooks will be installed in every class room. Gerald Walpe, President of Student Council, spurred on by student complaints, got the staircase leading up to the College from St. Nicholas Terrace repaired.

The student newspapers have been too busy exposing the points of Student Council to write about many things SC is doing to fulfill the needs of the student body.

Manny Halper, SC rep.

Cinema 16 to Honor Richter Tonight With Special Program

A special program honoring Hans Richter, and commemorating the 30th anniversary of the avant-garde film, will be presented by Cinema 16 on December 19 at 7:15 and 9:30 P.M. at the Central Needle Trades Auditorium, and again on January 1 at the Paris theatre. Mr. Richter will introduce his "Rhythmus 21," first non-objective film ever made and Hans Richter's first production (1931); "Dreams That Money Can Buy," his latest film, and other films produced by him in the last thirty years will also be shown.

Hans Richter has taught at the City College of New York for the past ten years and is now the director of the Film Institute there. His opinions on the motion picture as an art form are highly regarded... (News Item)

"Television is a new medium which has to be explored. It is now crude, except in the field of news. Films will remain films. Television, adding color or anything else, will never replace the film as a medium."

Professor Richter went on to say that TV distorts movies and takes away the illusion normally present on a large motion picture screen.

"Old films should not be shown on television, but special films can and should be produced for the new medium, with the thought in mind that they will be presented on a small and curved screen."

Professor Richter feels that television is going through the same embryonic changes the movies went through fifty years ago. "At the present time TV, as a whole, satisfies more the immature cravings of the audience, whereas films can satisfy (and must if they wish to survive) the more mature demands of a modern audience.

"To use the media of films and TV wisely, to have them aid in the general education and information of the masses, a generation of trained and responsible workers in these media must develop. We at the Film Institute hope to contribute to their education."

Professor Richter exuberantly states that "teaching at City College is a wonderful experience. It keeps me fresh, dealing with young people. I love it. I love all the responsibilities."

Cafe Singers On Way Out

During the past few weeks, passers-by going through the cafeteria on Friday afternoons have been startled to hear the sound of melodious voices blending in song. Closer investigation reveals these voices to belong to members of the City College Glee Club, meeting after their Friday afternoon practice session.

Unfortunately for those who enjoy good singing, the Glee Club will be disbanded after this semester, due to a severe budget cut. They will, however, attempt to continue their work in an outside group. Larry Kerch, who has been with the group longer than anyone else, and who is unofficial leader of the Friday sessions said that all the new group will need will be a room and a piano here at the college.

The last meeting of the Glee Club, and incidentally the first meeting of the new organization, will be held on January 4, at 2 P.M.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded nutcracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

OP SPORTS

By ED LIPTON

In the case of the three City College hoopmen who were declared ineligible because they played summer basketball this year, the obvious question to be considered is why these men would jeopardize their basketball future by going against the E.C.A.C. ruling. The students, Howie Levinson, Shelly Thomas and Larry Myers, did it for various reasons.

Levinson, a transferee from the University of Baltimore, was unable to play freshman ball at City because of a dislocated shoulder. Not being a member of any varsity team, he did not receive the notice that was sent out last semester by Professor Winograd concerning the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference ban. Levinson, a sophomore, worked at the Nemerson Hotel where he was employed as a waiter.

Shelly Thomas, who is also a sophomore, was on a leave of absence from the College last semester. He worked for the Harmony Country Club but competed in only one game for the Harmony "5" before he quit.

Now in his senior year, Larry Myers had been off the team since 1949. He felt that with only half a season of eligibility left to him, he would not get the chance to play any ball, and so he went to work at the Pines Hotel in South Fallsburg, where he played basketball.

All of them needed the money and took these jobs for the same reasons that many other College Students take summer jobs.

The original ban against summer basketball was passed last year, after the big part that borscht-belt ball played in the corruption of "big time basketball" was revealed. It was found out that such "noble" men as Salvatore Sollazo journeyed to the Catskill region in the summer solely for the purpose of making contact with various players. Another interesting, but not surprising revelation, was that the hiring of some basketball players by several hotels in various capacities such as waiter, busboy, etc., was merely a front, and that they were being employed for their basketball abilities.

Last week, at the latest E. C. A. C. meeting, a new development arose when the ban was modified. The new ruling exempts all those students who are not representing and have not represented an institution in basketball from the ban. Under this new setup both Levinson and Thomas would be eligible to play varsity ball, but since this rule is not retroactive, their basketball future is still very much in doubt. If the ruling stands, it is to be hoped that these two men will be taken back into the good graces of the E. C. A. C., surely this would be the only fair thing to do.

If the corrupting influence of summer ball was and is not eradicated, then surely an athlete who has never played for an institution is just as easy to corrupt as an established college athlete. If this is not so, then it is a sad reflection on our institutions of higher learning. It seems obvious that the inexperienced athlete has just as much chance to come into contact with his "environment" as does the varsity veteran.

On the other hand, if the evils of borscht-belt ball were previously exaggerated, or have since been lessened to a point where the first ban is not necessary, then it follows that there is no need for any restrictions on summer basketball.

One thing is certain. The ECAC should make up its mind one way or another. Either it should ban participation of all its athletes in summer ball, or it should lift restrictions completely. To exempt some athletes from any ruling in this affair is absurd.

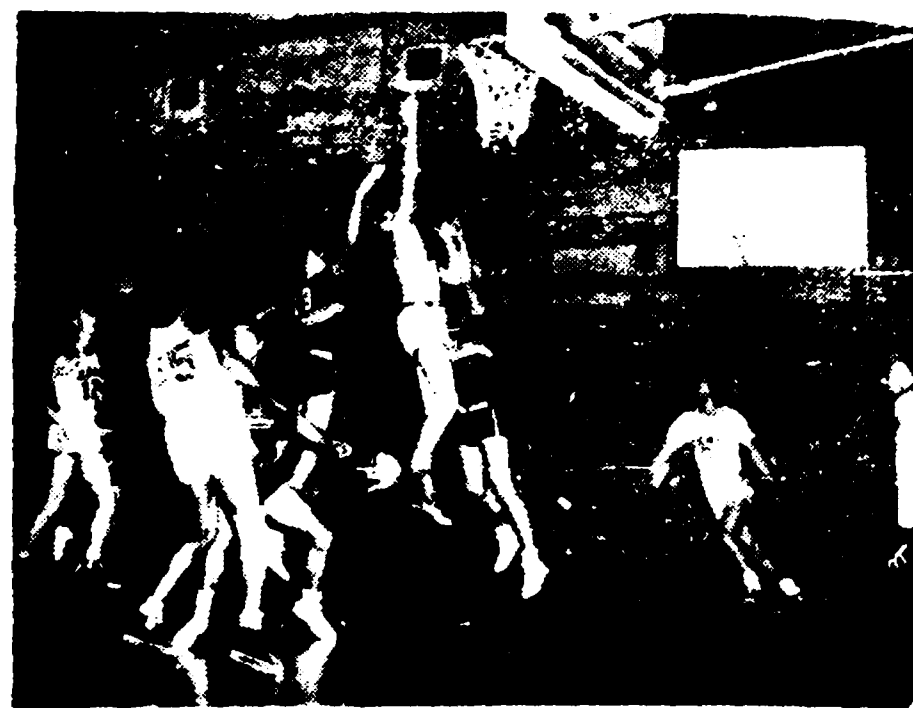

City College's erratic Beaver quintet fought its way to an 85-74 win over the Mitchel Field Flyers in the main gym Saturday night, as Jerry Domershick led the Beaver attack with 29 points. The victory was the fourth for the Lavender in five starts.

The Beavers opened the scoring with Domershick tallying on a lay-up in the first minute of play. Don Meneely, the Airmen's high-scoring ace, connected on a driving lay-up and added a free toss to snatch away the Beaver lead. Meneely teamed with Captain Dick Wagner for four quick points before Bobby Logan hit with a set shot to give City its sixth point.

Mitchel Field poured it on and opened a 14-7 gap at the 5:30 mark of the quarter with Harvey Reichenberg, Earl Nordeng and Meneely sparking the Flyer's drive. Logan, Domershick and 6-7 Dick Watson hit from the floor for the Lavender before Meneely scored for the Airmen on a jump shot from the keyhole. Mitchel Field led at this point 17-13. Logan made good from the foul line with Domershick and Charles Jessup trading two-pointers. Domershick and Surprising Suzie Cohen, who made six of eight shots from the free throw line, added fouls to knot the score at 18-18. Frank Morant, who was moved up from Bobby Sand's quintet, tallied on a set shot to make the count 20-18 in favor of the St. Nick's men as the first quarter ended.

Two field goals by Dynamic Domershick, following a long set by Logan, gave the Beavers a 26-19 edge early in the second quarter.

points, the Lavender opened a 68-52 lead as the third quarter ended. Domershick's driving lay-ups, Morant's deadly shooting, and some fine rebounding by Earle, paced the St. Nick's attack. A jump shot by Cohen and a driving lay-up by Domershick sandwiched between Wagner's two goals opened the fourth quarter scoring. Meneely hit with a long set from the outside but Morant's one-hander evened matters. Paced by Domershick, Logan and Cohen, the Beavers drove to a 77-60 lead late in the period as the City fast-break humbled the Long Islanders. Manhattan's Junior Varsity defeated the City Frosh, 70-49, in the first game after holding a thirteen point half-time lead. It was the fourth consecutive setback for coach Bobby Sand's freshmen Squad, who have yet to break into the win column. Bobby Nanas was high man for the Lavender with 14 points.

Rifle Squad Outguns Rutgers; Moss, Mayer, Star for City

Sparked by the great shooting of Al Moss and Bert Mayer the City College Rifle team rolled to their fourth consecutive victory of the season over Rutgers, 1395-1347.

Al Moss shot a very good score of 286, while teammate Bert Mayer scored 282 to take runner up honors. Thom Guenther was the leading scorer for the Scarlet with a creditable score of 280.

John Calahan finished fourth for the Lavender with a score of 278, his finest score of the season. Sherwood Waldman of the Beavers finished in fifth place with a score of 276. Carl Kramer of Rutgers finished sixth with a score of 274.

Bill Drew of the Scarlet tied Bill Betker of the Lavender for seventh position with a score of 273. John Rowe's score of 265 garnered ninth position for Rutgers, while teammate Bob Tatana rounded out the first ten with a score of 255.

The Beavers will place their undefeated record on the line Jan. 4 against Newark College of Rutgers at the Lewisohn Rifle Range.

City Aquamen Dunk Jaspers; Set New Backstroke Record

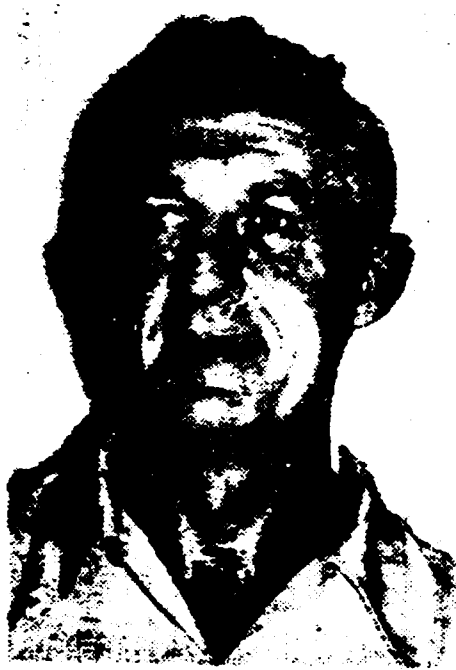

Climaxed by the setting of one record and the tying of another the CCNY swimmers beat Manhattan 45-39, for their second consecutive victory of the 1951 season.

The 400 yd. relay record was tied in 3:52 by Moe Silberberg, Charlie Schlichterlein, Stan Worchel, and Freddie Vicedomini. Going into the relay, which is the last event, the Lavender were trailing by one point. The lead brought in by Capt. Moe Silberberg was never relinquished by the other three and this gave the Beavers the needed seven points to top the meet.

The big news of the day was Normie Klein breaking his own backstroke record. He chopped one tenth of a second off his previous record of 2:37. He won the 200 yd. Backstroke even though he made a few poor turns.

Howie Schloemer, the only Beaver Merman in the 440 freestyle won it by a comfortable margin. He also copped the 220 yd. freestyle (shades of Joe Browdy). Charlie Schlichterlein hit a 0:25 flat to take the 50 yd. freestyle. In the 300 yd. Medley, City, led by Normie Klein, nipped Manhattan.

Bob Kellogg was the sole Lavender entry in the 200 yd. Breaststroke due to the absence of Vic Fulladosa. Kellogg was just nipped at the finish line by Bob Cody of Manhattan. The meet gave Coach Rider a few gray hairs but he was relieved to see Vicedomini make the final touch in the relay. The swimmers will meet a strong Columbia squad this Wednesday at the Lion's Pool.

'Golf'—Newest Sport to Bloom At the College

A new sport has been added to the athletic program. This spring, a golf team will play a schedule of six matches. The squad will be coached by John La Place.

All those interested are requested to attend a meeting in room 103 (Auxiliary Gym) in the Hygiene Building. Freshmen are especially urged to attend, but all are welcome. Plans will be made for the spring.

Prospective members are asked to arrange next term's program so that they will be free on Thursdays from 12:00 on. All matches will be held on Thursdays throughout the spring. During the first season of competition, the golfers will meet Queens, Fordham, Adelphi, Hofstra, Fairleigh Dickinson and Stevens Tech.
