In an attempt to systematize and thoroughly study the subject of academic freedom, the New York Metropolitan Region of the American Association of University Professors will hold its Upstate CCNY conference, to sponsor a conference in a second week. This conference, the second to be held on April 5, 1972, will take place on Saturday, April 5.

The College administration has refused to release excerpts of the report made by a five-man faculty committee which investigated charges of anti-Semitism in the Sociology Department lodged by Mrs. Lutzger (Chairman). An amendment, introduced by the students, states that the committee will pass to the Robeson matter. Polling envelopes were returned in favor of the committee's decision. The college administration has refused to allow the students to release excerpts from the report. The committee has been called to order for the purpose of studying the situation further.

Idiot's Delight to Bow At P.E.T. April 4 & 5

War and its futility is one of the central themes of Robert E. Sherwood's "Idiot's Delight." The play was produced in 1936 and has been revived at a time when the world, on the brink of plunging into the most destructive war in history, directed again to the same condition, a fact which makes this play appropriate and pertinent. The Director has picked up the beat and will present "Idiot's Delight" at the Pauline Edwards Theatre on April 4 and 5.

The Dramatic production ‘bought a Pulitzer Prize in 1938. Today the world is in very much the same condition, a fact which makes this play appropriate and pertinent. The play was directed and produced by Naomi Berge.
Fencing Champs Taught By Jimmy for 22 Years

By Joe Marcus

"Builder of Champions" is the title given to Mr. James Montague, coach of the City College Fencing team, now in his early sixties, who learned the ancient art of fencing. He attended the University of London where he participated in several tournaments. In 1919 he came to the United States.

For eleven years he taught wrestling to students of the New York School of Drams and mentored at the New York theatrical. In 1926 Prof. Montague appointed Junior Varsity coach of the Beavers' Fencing. His duties also included being one of the highly regarded Townsend Harris Fencing squad, where he trained some of the other members. In 1937 he became Varsity coach at City College, where he had several major tournament winning teams. In 1947 he coached the Intercollegiate Saber Championship, which signified the outstanding saber squad in the nation. In 1948 the Beavers pulled the grand slam of fencing by capturing both the Mid Atlantic Invitational and NCAA tournaments. In 1949 the Lavender Fencing team also won the Iron Man Trophy, symbolic of foil superiority and the Eastern Intercollegiate Three Weapon title. In the following year the Beavers tied with NYU for the Iron Man. Two weeks ago the City Fencing team, again captured the Foil Trophy for the third time within a five-year span.

Seven members of the present, United States Olympic Fencing squad have been coached by the capable Mr. Montague. Dan Bubis, who captured the National Foil Championship in 1938, is one of this country's leading prospects for an Olympic berth. Nat Lubbel, who captained the 1937 team, is rated as one of the top fencers in the United States. Neil Lantern, National Three Weapons title holder in 1944 and 1945, is sure to be a candidate for the Olympic team. Albert Axelrod, winner of the Eastern Individual Foil Championship in 1943, is rated as one of the top fencers in the United States. Nat Lubbel, who captained the United States Olympic team. is rated as one of the top fencers in the United States.

Sapora, Matmen Coach Former AAU Champion

By Herb Major

Television has brought the American home into contact with many things. Prominent among these is the sport of Professional Wrestling. Due to watching these theatrical performers, many have come to think of wrestlers as something Frank Rock brought back alive. As a result, many students are surprised when they meet the College wrestling coach, Joseph Sapora.

Sapora started competing in the 123-pound class while an undergraduate at the University of Illinois at a date which he doesn't wish to divulge. While competing for "hustling body, he won the National Intercollegiate championship for his weight.

Sapora came to City College as assistant coach in 1930. Seven years later, he moved into his present post. Since then, he developed many fine wrestlers, most of whom had little or no experience prior to coming under his instruction. His proteges include such competitors as Jerry Stenstrom of last year's squad, Dave Lesky, who was undefeated in four years of college competition, and Jay Twersky, who was a professor of history at the college.

Although the past campaign was not too successful, Sapora has many fine freshmen candidates, the mighty mite with the mighty grip can look hopefully forward to another season.
Former Lacrosse Greats Organize Alumni Squad; Will Play 7 Games

By Ed Lipman

A group of ex-lacrosse stars from the College are forming an Alumni team this year. Coached by assistant mentor of the College team, George Baron, they will play a seven-game schedule against other athletic clubs and colleges.

The formation of the team will mean that future graduates of the College will have something to look forward to after they leave school instead of simply letting their lacrosse days behind them.

The team is shaping up well and while not too many have come out for it, those that have are all top-flight stickmen and can still give any opponent a tough time of it. Some of the men have been out of condition and may lose easily, since they have not played the game lately. Once they begin to come around, the other teams had better watch out.

The Alumni team has high hopes of taking the varsity this year, in the annual season opener. The caliber of the Alumni coming out for the game has proved greatly in recent years and the match this year should be a real rough tussle.
