Buell Gallagher, New City College President, To Address Students in Great Hall Rally

By Hal Cherry

Dr. Buell Gallagher, newly elected president of the College, plans to introduce himself to the student body at a program in Great Hall, tentatively scheduled for Thursday, October 9th, at 12:30 P.M. The program, suggested by an OP reporter, will be co-sponsored by Observation Post, Campus, and Student Council. Pres. Gallagher was elected to the $18,000-a-year post on June 16th by the Board of Higher Education and took office on September 1st. He succeeded Dr. Harry N. Wright, who reached the mandatory retirement age of seventy during the summer.

The election of President Gallagher, which had considered more than 100 persons for the position. Among those given tentative offers were Ralph Bunche and David E. Lilienthal, both of whom declined.

In an interview with Observation Post, President Gallagher stated that his educational philosophy is one of action rather than wooly generalities, and that it is based upon democratic and ethical values. "I'm much closer to the ideal of John Dewey and William H. Kilpatrick than any other schools of thought," he said.

Against Loyalty Oaths

The new president was asked of loyalty oaths for teachers. He replied that "no one who is a loyal American should resent making a voluntary statement of loyalty" but he "could see no reason in singling out the teaching profession for special requirements of loyalty." Pres. Gallagher doubts the value of such oaths since "a disloyal person would hardly hesitate to add the crime of perjury to the already contemplated crime of disloyalty."

The President said that he "would not knowingly hire a person who was committed to fascism or communism. In both cases they are persons whose minds are closed ... I regard them as unfit to teach in any country but a totalitarian one."

Army Hall Dorms Shut Down; Manhattanville Not Available

By Hank Strom

Army Hall has been declared unfit for occupancy by city authorities, and as a result there will be no dormitory life on the College campus for the 1952-53 academic year. Sleeping quarters are available in Manhattanville but not in City College. All students are housed in the City College budget to maintain them. Two hundred of the two hundred and fifty students who are living in Army Hall have been placed in substitute quarters in the neighborhood by the department of student life room renting agency.

Army Hall has been used by City College for dormitory and classroom space since the end of World War Two. The Department of Housing and Buildings considered the possibility of a new dormitory and the old structure a fire hazard, and costs upon $20,000 worth of (Continued on Page Three) Operation Book Sale '52 is going on at Army Hall this week. It is to the exchange in existence. The main function of the organization is to give students a fair price deal in the purchase and sale of their out books. Sheldon Harpman, who is the manager of this term's book exchange, says that his organization has been going better than was previously expected and this year may be one of the best in the history of the organization.

During the past two weeks the Used Book Exchange handled between 5,500 and 5,900 books and an estimated $15,000. Before the Exchange closed it is expected to handle at least $25,000.

Business has been so good that the organization has been able to pay one-half of the $300 loan that was taken last year by the Student Council. It is hoped that at the conclusion of this semester's work the entire loan will be repaid.

During the first week of this term the Used Book Exchange doors will be open from 9:00 A.M. to 6:30 P.M.

Temporary Dean

Queen's College President Thomas E. Gallagher has appointed Dr. George S. Spitz, Jr. to serve as dean of students temporarily after the resignation of Dr. Harold Lano, who replaces Dr. Harold Lano, was Lano's former assistant.

Lano was demoted to assistant professor of German after attacks on his political views by the Queens County American Legion, the Catholic War Veterans, and others.

Thaddeus, after interviewing thirty candidates and receiving at least three decisions, has been unable to find a permanent dean.

LUCKIES ARE MADE BETTER

TO TASTE BETTER!

Here's your chance to make yourself $25. Just write a 4-line Lucky Strike jingle, based on the fact that Luckies are made better to taste better. Then, if we select your jingle, we'll pay you for the right to use it, together with the money you have earned by writing it, probably in this paper.

Submit your jingles on this page. Then get the gang together, break out the rhyming dictionary, and start writing. It's fun! And we're buying jingles by the bushel, so if you can make your jingle, it's a good one.

Here are the instructions:

1. Write your Lucky Strike jingle on a piece of paper which will have your name, address, and college on it.
2. Send your jingle on any Sunday or Monday.
3. Print your jingle on the line that says, "Lucky Strike--better to taste better!"
4. Enter your college name, and the college name of every college you are attending.

Write the jingle you write, the money you have earned, and the date you must read the instruction on.

TOIPS TO JINGLE MAKERS

To write a winning Lucky Strike jingle, you've limited it to "Lucky Strike--better to taste better." Use other words on your paper, but only those words, and nothing else. It's possible to have two or more jingles on this page. The winner will be selected by the judges.

Lucky Strike is the best cigarette you can buy. It's fun! And we're buying jingles by the bushel, so if you can make your jingle, it's a good one.

Write the jingle you write, the money you have earned, and the date you must read the instructions.

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

By Ir. Cohen

From the Shoulder

As the passage of time may well prove, the freshman year is the most difficult time in college. In most cases, transition must be made. It is in the making of this transition that poor and elderly study habits begin to show at the surface, and that an absence of feeling of personal responsibility leads to restlessness and laziness in study.

Now then, can this transition to the college study pattern be smoothed?

First, it is necessary that you recognize this important fact: the burden of learning is entirely on the instructor but instead, weighs squarely on you. You must learn, and this is your battle. When you thoroughly assimilate this concept, half the battle will have been won.

If you are confronted with a problem, there are people who are interested in helping you solve it, whether it deals with academic difficulties, financial embarrassments, a job, or even trouble with a boy or girl friend. The Freshman Advising Committee (Army Hall 39A) has been set up to deal with the problems of freshmen specifically. These are two places where you can always find a friend when in need of one.

The keys to success in college, then, are evaluations, planning, and organization. Each of these phases of your college activity is provided for. This should include a definite amount of time for extra-curricular activities, or even just plain leisure.

Then there are the intangible, and so much should not go with you by time of making it up a schedule as we go along.

Extra-curricular activities are an integral and indispensable part of college life. They lose their value, however, when they are permitted to occupy a disproportionate part of your time. These activities, like many wonder drugs, become toxic when taken in excess. Don’t hesitate to participate, but at this early stage of the college life, it is best to indulge mildly.

This should include a definite amount of time for extra-curricular activities, or even just plain leisure.

House Plan Getting Ready

For “Creative” Semester

Going all out to establish House Plan as a creative as well as a social institution, David Newton, Director of House Plan announced today that the expected 1300 entering freshmen and sophomores could find new additions to the Student Houses. Besides the rejuvenated Brown Room and the new jumble house planners will find a new face at the Assistant Director’s desk: Miss Lee Kromer, Assistant Director of House Plan since 1947 is leaving and will be succeeded by Mr. Jerome Gold, the new Director of the Evening Session House Plan. Mr. Newton expressed the gratitude of his departure as Miss Kromer but also praises Mr. Gold as a capable and wonderful replacement.

In addition to the regular Frosh Open House, Sept. 22 to Oct. 20 and the Welcome Back Dance, Saturday night, Sept. 27, House Plan with the assurance of the Student Activities Committee is planning a House Plan -Camping Weekend.

Beginning October 7, the Student Houses will initiate the House Plan Film Festival featuring American and foreign films, including hits such as “The Big Sleep,” “Casablanca,” “Ingrid Bergman,” “The Woman in the Window,” and “The Eternals.”

Students returning to Drill Hall will find that a number of changes have been made during the summer months and a new house system will go into effect; some familiar faces will be missing and new faces will be appearing. This fall, the new house system will begin shortly after the new students have arrived on campus.

This fall, Drill Hall will consist of three officers and three enlisted men. The returning students will receive a 1-A classification.

This should include a definite amount of time for extra-curricular activities, or even just plain leisure.

A Close-Up:

The Freshman President, Buell Gordon Gallagher

By Jerry Rosen and Jerry Ludwig

Buell Gordon Gallagher, CCNY's illustrious freshman, can't quite be called a "Jack-of-all-trades," but his background is varied enough to qualify him for the title of "Jack-of-many-trades." His is the background of a man who has been active both in and out of education. He is a man whose reputation is one of liberal, tolerant thought. He has been called a man of ideals and a man of action.

The President—Buell Gallagher

I think it would be very difficult to find a better man. He is most willing and able to let students have a share in governing the College. He has respect for the individual. It's a wonder to me.

Bonifacio Anaya, President and President of Student Council

President Gallagher is a very fine man. He is bound to do great things for the College.

Joseph Cohan, Staff Editor

Dr. Gallagher has a brief whirl in the political field in 1948. He was then running ethics at the Pacific School of Religion in California, but was persuaded by the urgency of local labor and liberal safety to run for Congress. Running as a supporter of the Fair Deal program, he was defeated in a close race.

Dr. Gallagher comes now from Washington where he recently stood in as Assistant U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Student VIPs Get Behind Gallagher

The appointment of Buell G. Gallagher to the presidency of this College has raised considerable hope of operation among the student body. Improvised groups are the groups of student "leaders" on the campus.

Ron Halper, Vice-President of Student Council

President Gallagher is a very dynamic person. He is charming, eager, and willing to listen to students at CCNY. His frank approach and willingness to deal with students should go far in perpetuating a better relationship between student faculty, and administration.

He has been called a man of ideals and a man of action.

He is an ordained minister of the Congregational Church; an articulate phrasemaker: "I am prejudiced against fascism and against communism, but beyond that, I am prejudiced against practically all forms of prejudice." Or "a college ought not to stand as an academic sentinel defending its traditions. It ought to be, as it is increasingly becoming, a working part of the community, reaching to where the people are," he said.

President Gallagher, by his record, has long been a champion of the rights of minorities. He feels so strongly about race intolerance that he has lived in the heart of the deep south refusing to conform to the Jim Crow laws. His liberal leanings have found expression through, among other channels, his work as National Vice-president of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People). He has written three books on the subject of race relations: "Color and Conscience: The Irrepressible Conflict;" Portrait of a Pilgrim: A Search for the Christian Way in Race Relations; and "American Caste and the Negro College."

Collected Background

Buell Gordon Gallagher is a man of diffrent outlooks and temperaments who have held the post before him. Under the John H. Fleming, a New School for the Masses, led the college, during the year from 1867 to 1868, the "experiment" was expanded upon.

Through the first world war up to the very threshold of the depression, when, in 1877, Dr. Frederick S. Robinson took over. Robinson's administration was possibly the most turbulent in the history of the college. Many of the teaching faculty were dismissed, and questions revolved around such issues as...
Finley, at forty, was the young president of Talladega College, in Alabama. His inaugural speech, at the opening of the college for the first time that year, was a astounding declaration of his belief that a certain thing was more than possible. He believed that a little thing could be done before the world was finished. No matter how much the world was against it, he would have his way. He believed that a thing that was impossible to do could be done. He believed that a thing that should not be done could be done. He believed that a thing that would never be done could be done. He believed that a thing that was never done could be done. He believed that a thing that was never done could be done.

As I See Him

Buell Gallagher

By Walter R. Reges

The man looked soberly out of the window, his pale blue eyes gazed thought beyond the gold rimmed glasses. His thumb slowly back and forth across his lower lip as his forehead deepened in concern.

"Fear, fatigue, and futility is the prevailing temper of our time."

He shifted quickly in his chair and leaned forward to emphasize his point.

"The hope for the world is transmitting these words into a guiding light for world peace and prosperity. The U.N. is far more than a forum. It is to be supported, used, and improved. It is a just agency we have for the job that has to be done."

He reflected for a moment, offered a cigarette to the reporter, and continued.

"The U.N. has given us what the League of Nations should have been. It is not a college which can wreck the United Nations, but it is by one man can, to avert the problems of the world. Differences of opinion on important subjects have led to the creation of the college."

He paused a moment, then leaned forward again, "I cannot tell you how happy I am to be here, to be its own best."

A prepared list of questions was almost forgotten as he easily moved from one topic into another. We were discussing Academic freedom and freedom of speech.

"There is no absolute right," he said, "Every right has with it a responsibility." He smiled at Senator McCarthy, "By singling out the character of certain people, McCarthy is trying to give this country a false image."

He took a short puff on his cigarette as he sat there with his arm lazily resting on the edge of his desk.

"That's the coward's way out—an empty gesture."

We were discussing if he had any immediate, specific plans for the betterment of the college."I do not think there is any, but I hope to get a background of how the college was started and its importance to a young man." The Colonel indicated that he was about to return to the rank of captain. He became more serious as he sat there with his arm lazily resting on the edge of his desk.

"Where there is hope for us. If we think the job is done, there is fear in our hearts."

He was quick to respond, his sincerity manifesting itself in a deep thought.

"We must not stand on ceremony," he said, "We must do what we can do, and think of the work that has to be done." He asked if he had any immediate, specific plans for the betterment of the college.

Five Departments Change Chairmen; New Dean of Education

The fall semester of 1962 will be remembered as a term of change. We have a new president, new chairman, and new president and dean of the Education Department, and a new Faculty Manager and Assistant Manager of Athletics. Perhaps less immediately significant, but no less important, is the appointment of new chairmen of five departments and a new Dean of Education.

SOCIOLOGY

"I'm delighted to be back at the college after so many years, and feel quite proud to return as a chairman," declared Professor Charles H. Page, newly appointed head of the Sociology Department. Professor Page, who is no stranger to City College having taught here twice before, was born in Tonawanda, a small town in New York State. He received his B.A. from the University of Illinois in 1931, and his Ph.D. from Columbia in 1938.

He had been teaching at Smith College for the past six years when he received word of his appointment as chairman of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at City College. For the past four years he has been teaching at the New School for Social Research.

EDUCATION

Professor Harold H. Abelson has been named Dean of the School of Education. He succeeds Dean Egbert Turner who retired last June to begin a sabbatical leave.

Professor Abelson's long career has been marked by his wide range of experience and his ability to adapt to changing educational needs. He has taught at Brooklyn College, the University of Illinois, and the University of New York State. He received his B.A. from the University of Illinois in 1925, has been a member of the Department of Education and has taught at various schools and colleges throughout the United States.

He is married and lives in New York City with his wife and daughter.

MATH

Dr. George W. Garrod, who replaced Prof. Hubert as the new chairman of the Math Department, has succeeded Professor Guerdon was a member of the department for the past sixteen years. Before teaching at CCNY, Prof. Guerdon was a member of the engineering faculty of his Alma Mater for six years.

He is a graduate of the School of Engineering at Cornell, the University of Colorado, and the University of Illinois. He received his M.S. in 1940, also at Columbia.

He has been named Dean of the School of Engineering.

Professor Abelson has also taught in Summer sessions at the Universities of Colorado and Cornell, and at Hunter College. For the past four years he has been teaching a course at the New School for Social Research.

Army Hall Requiems

Army Hall is closed as a dormitory for CCNY Students, and frankly we're not sorry. It's been a figure of fun for a number of students having a gossipy look and a quality of being "out of the way". Despite many students' express disapproval of the place, we cannot help but feel sorry for the students who have been in Army Hall and will have to contend with the difficult situation at the College. We do hope that better facilities will be provided.

Dr. Gallagher's Inaugural Address

Dr. Gallagher's inaugural address at the Freshman Assembly and later, Student Council meetings, was a most impressive and inspiring address. He stressed the importance of education and the need for a good education. He also spoke of the need for a good community and the importance of the individual in the community. Dr. Gallagher's message was clear and his words were inspiring. We hope that the students and the community will take his words to heart.

Hygiene Head

There are seven faculty members on the campus, and one of them is Professor Raymond F. Purcell. He is the chairman of the Hygiene Department. Professor Purcell is a well respected and well known figure on the campus. He is an expert in the field of hygiene and is well known for his knowledge and expertise. He is a figure of great respect among the students and is held in high regard by all. He is a figure that the students can look to for guidance and direction.

Information Please

In the wake of the recent shakeup in the Hygiene Department, in which those men who were closely associated with the foot Mr. Sloan, and particularly basketball, policy have lost their former positions, it is curious that Nat Holman has seen fit to take a year's leave of absence. As basketball coach, and Supervisor of Coaches, his duties were always great, and he was always one of the most respected figures on the campus. His services will be sorely missed, but we are sure that he will succeed, there is no doubt.

The top spot in any field is seldom filled. One who has been in that same post quite consistently must serve face at any cost. If he does so, food's status goes, he realize when the time has come to move out of the picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. He will usually ask his resignation. Only if he does not, he is dumped uncerimoniously out into the cold, cruel world. His fine record is an ignoble fate for a man of great stature.

But the great and near great in the educational field are different. They are usually being demoted at a rate faster than that at which they could discharge a five game lead, Nat Holman has decided to take a trip to Europe. And Holman does not belong at City College anymore. He will not be back. Not because there may be stigma attached to his name. For there isn't. He will not bake up a picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. One who has been in the same position for thirteen years. Dr. Lloyd and Dr. Winograd are still in the game Department, but no longer hold down their old posts. They have been faced with a sea of strange faces. No, no, it cannot do this to him. Even though we lose one of the best teachers of Coaches that this school has ever had.

It is a curious coincidence that at a time when his underlings no longer have a home, he is being demoted at a rate faster than that at which they could dissipate a five game lead, Nat Holman has decided to take a trip to Europe.

Obviously, we would say that Mr. Holman will return after a few of absence and once more hold the hoops team, at the same time as the 1952-54 season.

We doubt, however, that Nat will be back. Not because they may signal attached to his name. For there isn't. He will not cook up a picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. He will not bake up a picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. But on the credit side of the ledger it probably will not be returned to his coaching duties. How, then, we even think of returning the old mentor to his former post, we could be surrounded by a sea of strange faces. No, no, it cannot do this to him. Even though we lose one of the best teachers of Coaches that this school has ever had.

But still, no matter what we may think of the man, we cannot take his vision with us. He has a fine vision, thirty-three years, he has a deep impression upon the College.

The figure he is in the little section of the story. His brave from the States, dreaming only 118, 118 inventory in the NCAA twins and the NIT four times. The fundamentalism of 1950 was perhaps the greatest thing that ever happened to basketball. Dr. Fuld is still AAU coach, he will pass the5. He is still AAU coach, he will pass the5. Boothers Open 52 Campaign This Saturday

Soccer again marks the opening of a new year here at the College. The team will take on the Alumni, September 27.

The Beavers can only improve on last year's record in one way by having a perfect record. In compiling a brilliant 8-1 mark (losing only to Rutgers last year's edition of the soccer team swept through the opposition to win the Metropolitan Championships.

Winning the title this year, however, should prove slightly more difficult. Graduation has been a crippling factor in reducing the team's offense. Such star performers as Billy Galan, Tom Simon, Joe Penabed, and Eddie Ewbank are among those lost.

Johnny Koutsantanou is ineligible for any competition this year. But on the credit side of the ledger is the return of the last year's two co-captains, Picky and Ken McCarthy, and many other veterans.

Along The Sidelines

With Ed Lipman

The top spot in any field is seldom filled. One who has been in that same post quite consistently must serve face at any cost. If he does so, food's status goes, he realize when the time has come to move out of the picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. He will usually ask his resignation. Only if he does not, he is dumped uncerimoniously out into the cold, cruel world. His fine record is an ignoble fate for a man of great stature.

But the great and near great in the educational field are different. They are usually being demoted at a rate faster than that at which they could dissipate a five game lead, Nat Holman has decided to take a trip to Europe. And Holman does not belong at City College anymore. He will not be back. Not because there may be stigma attached to his name. For there isn't. He will not bake up a picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. He will not bake up a picture and he resigns "voluntarily." If he does not then his presence is no longer deemed desirable by his employer. But on the credit side of the ledger it probably will not be returned to his coaching duties. How, then, we even think of returning the old mentor to his former post, we could be surrounded by a sea of strange faces. No, no, it cannot do this to him. Even though we lose one of the best teachers of Coaches that this school has ever had.

But still, no matter what we may think of the man, we cannot take his vision with us. He has a fine vision, thirty-three years, he has a deep impression upon the College.

The figure he is in the little section of the story. His brave from the States, dreaming only 118, 118 inventory in the NCAA twins and the NIT four times. The fundamentalism of 1950 was perhaps the greatest thing that ever happened to basketball. Dr. Fuld is still AAU coach, he will pass the5. He is still AAU coach, he will pass the5. Six Beavers in Olympics; Wittenberg 2nd on Mats

City College was well represented at the recent Olympic Games at Helsinki, Finland. No less than six participants from this College made the trip with the United States Olympic Team.

Five members of the United States Fencing Squad were coached by the present varsity head of City College, Mr. James Montague. They were Dr. Daniel Bukantz, who competed for City College in 1933 and won the intercollegiate title that same season; Albert Axelrod, who captured the 1948 squad which captured the title; Nat Lubell, member of the Beaver team of 1937; Hal Goldsmith, a member of last year's team; and Jimmy Strauch, winner of the National Epee Title in 1943. Strauch competed on the United States epee squad which reached the quarter finals in the Olympic tournament, while the others were members of the Foils Squad which also reached the quarter finals. Bukantz was able to reach the final rounds of the individual foil championship.

Opposed to Team Scoring

It is a rarity when one can point to an individual and say that he suffered a comedown by only coping four out of five Olympic wrestling matches, to finish second in the individual competition. It is rarer still, when this can be said about an ex-City College man. In fact, it can only be said of one CCNY Grad, Henry Wittenberg. City's only former Olympic Champion (he won in 1948), Henry feels that the stress on the nationalistic aspect of the Games is a distortion of their original purpose. It leads to such things as subsidization of athletes by individual countries, which alters the amateur nature of the games. He criticized the ease with which Gold Medals may be obtained by performers in team games. Hank said, "A player who may get into a game, only for ten or twenty seconds, and who may contribute nothing towards the victory, can receive the same award as does the athlete who takes part in a sport which involves individual competition."

Hal Goldsmith, after competing in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki, was assigned to the Sixth Infantry Regiment stationed in Berlin. Hal entered the service immediately after graduation, as a second lieutenant, since he was a member of the ROTC Program at City. He is serving as a Platoon Leader.
