Gallagher to All Students: Be Proud of NY Heritage

By Herman Cohen

In an address before the opening assembly of students at the Twenty-third Street Center yesterday morning, President Buell G. Gallagher confessed a "boredom with the loud voiced agitators who shrilly champion the rights of minorities and who clearly have two genuine desires to see democracy operate."

The new president, who has been on leave since the first week of September, told students that he has been on leave of absence for a couple of years, and that he was on leave of absence for the past three years. He said that he was on leave of absence to study the problems of the University and to find a solution for the problems of the University.

The provincialism which Dr. Gallagher sees in New York manifests itself in loyalty to small sections of the city and loyalty to various anachronisms and places of origin. Democracy's problems, he says, are those of the provinces, he believes, and the young men of the provinces, he says, are those of the provinces.

Over his own humble ancestry and the provincial origins of leaders that have "come the strength of the youth from the provinces." He told of his own experience in which he settled in the back country of Great Britain, his maternal grandfather who was carried out of the White City of Canada, and a moulder of the founding of City College.

The strength of provincialism from its "mature practices" such as mob fights, according to Dr. Gallagher. He is午圆oposed to "the agitators who shrilly champion the rights of minorities and who clearly have two genuine desires to see democracy operate."

Today's college man will plan to stay in school and graduate at least two years of college credits, if at all possible. If he is faced with early entrance into military service and possesses at least two years of college, he will enlist as an Aviation Cadet in the U.S. Air Force and choose between becoming a Pilot or Aircraft Crew member. After a year of the world's best instruction and training, he will graduate from a recognized university and possess one of America's finest flying dynasties. Commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force, he will begin a program of $2500 a year. His future will be unlimited!

How he qualifies:

He is between the ages of 19 and 27, has completed at least two years of college, is in good health, and has been physically examined by a qualified medical officer.

Former athletes of City College are stationed throughout the four corners of the globe in the service of the United States Armed Forces. Many of the old performers are still in touch with the school through Howard Spohr, whom they remember as a guiding hand in athletic affairs. Howard has received letters from a great many of the athletes who once were prominent in the athletic history of City College.

One of these former City College performers who is in the Army is Hal Goldsmith, the captain of last year’s Fencing team. Herbie Holstrom, former player on the City College Basketball team, is stationed with the Marines in San Diego. Herbie is a private and is now playing with his base team. Holstrom was drafted with only one term to go for his Engineering Degree. Holstrom hopes to return to City when he is finished with his basic training in the Marines.

The captain of the 1951 edition of the City College Boxing team, Roger Doran is stationed in Korea with the Marines. Roger presently holds the rank of second lieutenant. During his stint with the Marines, Roger compiled a very impressive record and was ranked highly in the Eastern Boxing Conference. Presently stationed in Japan with the US Army is Bill Loughlin who was captain of the City College Wrestling team from 1947-1948. In 1950, when Coach Joe Sapora was in the hospital, Bill took over as the varsity coach until Sapora was able to handle the squad again.

After graduating from the college two years ago, Teddy Budell enlisted in the US Air Force. Teddy was a key man on the Lacrosse team. At the present time, he is stationed in Texas as an Air Cadet. Ianic, Turkhey is the mailing address of Harry Slatton, a member of the 1946 City College Football team. Harry, now in the Navy, hopes to return to the college as a post-graduate student.

Also keeping in touch with his old alma-mater, is Joe Pereira, a member of the 1950 Baseball team. Joe is in the Army, and is now stationed in Maryland.

Ed Warren, Al Roth, Ed Reman and Herb Cohen, former CCNY basketball players, are in the Army.
