Activities Fee Raise Needed, State Leaders

By FRED DORETZ and SELWYN RAAS

Student and faculty leaders seem to feel that an increase in the Student Activities Fee is necessary in order to adequately support College activities.

Barney McCaffrey, this semester's Student Council Treasurer, stated that an increase in fees would result in "more and better social functions." He pointed out that many clubs now have to choose between having a social or working on a project, such as a Lincoln Corridor exhibit. "An increase in fees could give the student body the benefits of both."

Philip Brunstetter (Student Life), Chairman of the Student-Faculty Fee Committee, asserted that there is not enough money in fees to cover many activities, especially activities of College-wide importance. He further said that events such as the Inaugural Ball could be subsidized if sufficient money were available. Mr. Brunstetter added that the money could be used to permit a greater number of clubs to avail themselves of College facilities.

According to Mr. Brunstetter there is approximately the same amount in fees this semester as last semester. However, many groups were sharply cut last term because sufficient money was not available. He stated that the purpose of Fee Plan was to give clubs a minimum operational budget which, combined with club dues, would enable the organization to have activities which a small group could not have without this subsidization.

Miss Dolores Schwartz, former treasurer of Student Council, stated that a non-exorbitant fee increase ($.50 or 1.00) would be warranted if the students were assured of getting more activities for clubs.

Howard Lowenstein, treasurer of the Technology Inter-Society, Inter-Fraternity Council, asserted that he did not believe a fee increase is justified at present but he would have to study the matter further.

Cues . . .

• "The Devil's Disciple" will be presented by the Theatre Workshop at the Pauline Edwards Theater on March 13, 14, and 15th.

Tickets for the George Bernard Shaw play cost $.75 for the Friday and Sunday evening performances and $1.00 for the Saturday showing and may be purchased from the Ticket Bureau (Room 120, Main) and at the box office.

The cast includes: Hal Sheiner as Dick Dudgeon, Tauby Heller as Judith Anderson, Richard McKellar as Anthony Anderson, Lois Unger as Essie, and Ed Heffernan as General Bargoynne.

H. Lyle Winter (Speech) will direct the production. The set designer is Aristides Gazetas.

• The Theatre Workshop will hold a "Party for the Devil" in the Faculty Lounge this Friday from 4 to 6. Admission to the party is free.

Political Clubs Sponsoring Forum; Gallagher to Speak

By JERRY ROSEN

President Buell G. Gallagher has agreed to take part in a forum discussion on the subject of Academic Freedom which is to be held on Friday, March 13, at 3:00 PM in the auditorium of Townsend Harris Hall.

Pres. Buell G. Gallagher To Take Part

Gerry Smetana Proposed Forum

This forum which was proposed by Gerry Smetana, president of the Young Democrats, will be attended and sponsored by all political organizations now active at City College.

The purpose of the forum is to permit the students and faculty of this College to express their opinions on issues of academic freedom and other controversial matters related to education. It is probable that a part of the March 13 discussion will be concerned with Section 903 of the New York City Charter under which Hyman Gold and Richard Austin were recently dismissed from their jobs in the Registrar's office.

Dean James F. Peace (Student Life) will act as moderator.

President Gallagher in agreeing to speak at this forum declared that "I will be only too glad to participate in a friendly discussion."

Mr. Smetana who expressed hope that a forum of this type might be held at least three times during the course of each semester, announced that invitations have been forwarded to many distinguished persons, including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Judge Herbert Delaney, to speak at this first session.

Prior to consulting with President Gallagher, Mr. Smetana had spoken to Manny Halper and Alan Jong, president of the Young Liberals; Martin Gruberg of the Young Republicans; and Sanford Rose and Julie Ramos of the Young Progressives of America, (YPA). All agreed that such a forum would be a worthwhile innovation.

All students are invited to attend the forum, which will also include a period during which members of the audience will be able to question the speakers.

Upset Sought by Lavender Cagers Against NYU; Trip B'klyn College

By STEVE MARBURG and HERSCHEL NISSENSON

CCNY and NYU first met in basketball in 1913 with City winning, 23-20, and there has been a long-standing feud ever since, in which the traditional Lavender-Violet clash has meant the difference between a successful or mediocre campaign.

The two teams meet tonight in the Heights Alumni Gymnasium, 181st Street and University Avenue, Bronx, in the thirty-eighth game of the series. The score at present stands NYU 19, CCNY 18.

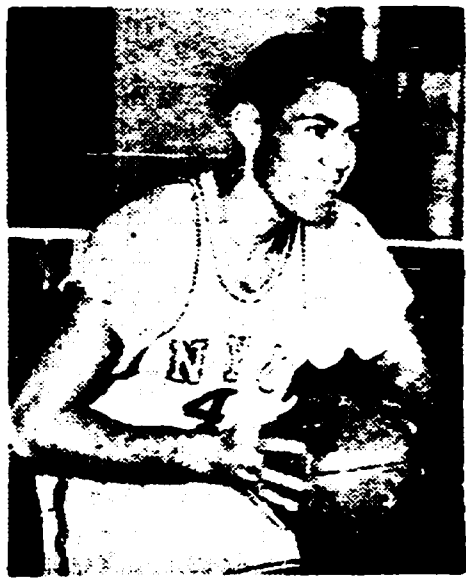

The Beavers have not forgotten last season's 84-47 drubbing at the hands of Howard Cann's club, and they will be out for revenge tonight. The possibility of beating the once highly-touted Violets is very real, for NYU has seldom played good ball this year. Their record is 8-11, and they have dropped 11 out of their last 14 starts, including the last four in a row.

Hot and Cold

When the Cannmen snapped out of their doldrums they whipped such teams as Boston College, St. John's West Virginia and North Carolina, while bowing to Temple, Seattle, Utah State, LaSalle, Notre Dame, Dayton, Manhattan, St. Louis and Fordham.

However, for all their troubles, the Violets still have Boris Nachamkin. Boris, who stands 6-6, is averaging over 21 points per game and is also the team's top rebounder. To Artie Diott will probably go the task of trying to stop Nachamkin. At the forwards, NYU will go with captain Mark Solomon, 6-8, and 6-4 Ed Doherty. The starting five will be rounded out by 6-0 Hal Weitz and 6-0 Tom DeLora at the guard slots.

NYU was hampered a few weeks ago when it was announced that speedy Ralph Naimoli, a fine back-court man, had previously played basketball at Villanova and was consequently ineligible this season. The Heightsmen were granted a

Invite All Faculty Members To Inaugural Ball March 14

Not only will the coming "Inaugural Ball" provide students with a convenient place to bring their Saturday night dates, but it will also give the College's hard working faculty a long awaited excuse to put their marking books aside.

The event, co-sponsored by OP and Student Council, is to be held in the Great Hall, on Saturday, March 14, at 8:00 P.M.

Leo Dryer and his Waldorf Orchestra will provide the bulk of the entertainment, which will include a singing and dancing exhibition, and a precision drill by the renowned Pershing Rifles. The military fraternity will also form a guard of honor for President Buell Gallagher who will address the assemblage later in the evening. Dean James Peace (Student Life) will be master of ceremonies. A complete schedule of events will appear in a later issue of OP.

The ticket price—a mere two dollars per couple—includes free refreshments. Tickets may be obtained in Lincoln Corridor and Room 20 Main. Early purchase of tickets is urged as only 1,000 can be sold, and they're going fast.

Free checking service will be provided by the Beta Delta Mu fraternity. Formal dress is optional.

SC to Consider Austin-Gold; Five Assistant VP's Named

Resolutions calling for action in the Austin-Gold case will be submitted to Student Council tonight, it was announced by Arthur Pittman, chairman of the SC Civil Liberties Committee. Council will also consider the new regulation that club membership lists must be submitted to the Department of Student Life, and a request that meetings of student-faculty committees be opened to the student body.

Five students have been appointed Assistants to the Vice President of the Student Government. They are Allen Bard, who will handle Organizational and Class Councils; Betty Ellner, SC Committees; Harry Pollak, student-faculty relations; Gerard Smetana, Special Events; and Bart Zwitlock, service programs. Ray Hamilton was nominated by the Executive for the newly created position of Executive Secretary. If elected by Council, he will be paid $150 to handle clerical work for the student government for the rest of this semester.

A poster contest on student activities will be held through March 20, said Gerald Cohen, Council's Public Relations chairman. All students are requested to read the rules on the bulletin board inside Room 20. Prizes up to $30 will be awarded to winners.

Psychology Groups Hear Talk By Author of 'Invisible Man'

"Man must discard whatever is illusory in the process of achieving humanity," said Ralph Ellison, author of the experimental novel "The Invisible Man," addressing an overflowing audience at 11 A.M. Monday in Room 404, Townsend Harris Hall.

Speaking before a group composed of Prof. Kenneth Clark's Adult Personality Class (Psychology 60Q) and Prof. G. M. Smith's Abnormal Psychology Class (Psychology 55C), Mr. Ellison informally discussed his novel in relation to the "important things a human being needs to be an effective personality."

"An individual has to have the desire to live, then has to plunge himself into life, and throughout life, has to learn from experience," said Mr. Ellison.

At the completion of his talk, the thirty-nine year old Ellison invited questions from the audience. The former professional photographer concluded his comments by comparing the writer and the psychologist.

"Amazing variety and practical wisdom"

says DR. ANDREW W. BLACKWOOD
Temple University, Philadelphia, Penna.

"The Reader's Digest helps a busy man to understand life in these United States, in the United Nations, and even in Soviet lands. With amazing variety, and a world of practical wisdom, each monthly issue helps the reader to interpret life on earth today, with more than a few glimpses of tomorrow."

Each month, Reader's Digest editors comb through more publications than any one person could read in two years, and select whatever seems of outstanding interest.

Each article is carefully condensed to preserve both its content and flavor. The wide range of subjects stimulates new interests, encourages a further search for knowledge.

In a real way, Reader's Digest helps continue the education of millions of readers in America and all over the world.

In March Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in The Earth Is Born—latest scientific theories on how our earth began, how it will end; We CAN Win the War in Korea—William Bullitt's analysis of how we can end the bloody stalemate; Fred Waller's Amazing Career—how a self-made scientist is bringing breath-taking realism to movies.

Chudnoff, Diott, Gold to End Careers; Beavers Confident of Squaring Series

...however, when Ted Elshoff, the first-ranking reserve, was given a month's extension of a draft notice.

Jerry Gold, Jack Chudnoff, and Artie Diott will be playing for the Beavers for the last time.

CCNY's basketball team maintained its record of never having lost to another city college by defeating a scrappy Brooklyn College five, 61-57, last Saturday night on the leasers' court in Flatbush. The contest was the eighteenth in a series which started back in the 1904-05 season and was the closest since the 1944-45 game which City captured, 57-54.

Whether it was the poorly lighted court or just plain tiredness after a tough St. Francis clash, the Beavers suffered through one of their poorest shooting nights of the campaign, comparable only to the games with Adelphi and Manhattan, both of which Dave Polansky's team dropped.

The Kingsmen, aware of their 6-17 record against City College, were really "up" for this tilt, and, but for a tremendous CCNY height advantage, probably would have gained their first victory.

The one department in which the Beavers excelled was rebounding; they cleared the boards 97 times. City's big three, Merv Shorr, Artie Diott and Ronnie Kowalski pulled down 51 rebounds among them, with Shorr's 28 setting a new CCNY record in that department, breaking the old mark of 27 held jointly by the aforementioned three.

The tightness of the contest is emphasized by the fact that there were 7 ties and eleven changes of the lead. City was not in front until late in the first period when a layup by Shorr gained a 15-14 lead. This bulge was short-lived as a layup by Brooklyn's Stan Katzman returned the edge to Coach Tubby Raskin's team.

NYU Hoop Coach

Howard Cann

The lead jockeyed back and forth until the 8:40 mark of the third quarter when a brace of foul shots by Diott gave City an edge which was never relinquished.

Jerry Domershick scored 17 points to gain high-scoring honors for the night along with the Brooks' George Sussman.

NYU Fencers Touché CCNY

The fencing team lost its sixth consecutive match of the season last Saturday, bowing to NYU, 13-2 on the Beavers' strips. The open squad was the most successful, coping five of their nine bouts.
