SC Places Merger on Ballot Again; Rejects OP's Plan for Two Papers

Student Council voted last night, 12-8, to place a referendum on the ballot next Friday calling for the merger of The Observation Post and The Campus into a single daily newspaper. The decision came at 8:55 PM at the conclusion of a six hour meeting, which was called to consider the election ballot.

An OP-sponsored proposal that the referendum should include, as an alternative, a daily paper composed of the two existing newspapers, each coming out every other day, was rejected by Council in a 9-11 vote.

Lotter Can Run, Council Declares

By JOAN SNYDER and JACK LEVINE

Student Council reversed a previous decision of its Elections Agency, and declared Phil Lotter eligible to run for the next term's SC President, at its meeting last night.

Herbert Viebrock and Ernie Weber, co-chairmen of Council's elections agency had announced on Tuesday night that Mr. Lotter was ineligible because he was not a day session student. Mr. Lotter attends the College in both the day and evening and carries a majority of his credits in the day session.

Council's ten to seven vote in favor of Mr. Lotter will thus place him on the ballot along with two other candidates for the top spot, Manny Halper and Ira Klosk. College-wide elections will be held on December 18.

SC also voted last night by a fifteen to four count to place Suzan Fuld's name on the ballot as a candidate for Treasurer.

Vote on Referenda

In another action taken last night, Council voted to place several referenda before the student body, next Friday.

By a fifteen to three margin, SC decided to ask the students three questions concerning the possibility of sending a delegation of students to Soviet Russia in conjunction with the proposal made by Swarthmore College for a US delegation to be sent there this coming summer.

The questions are:
1. Do you favor sending delegates from CCNY Uptown Day session? If you do, the participants will be chosen by special elections.

2. Would you want nominations of delegates to be submitted to from:

a) Clubs and fraternities, publications, and Student Council? or
b) Anyone gathering fifty signatures on a nominating petition?
3. Would you be willing to contribute one dollar, fifty cents, twenty-five cents, or not willing to contribute at all? It is estimated that each member of the delegation would be sent at a cost of $1,000.

SC also voted to place a referendum on the ballot to the effect that beginning May, 1954, the four top SC executives (President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer) will serve for the term of one year instead of the semester that they now serve.

Quintet Downs Knights, 71-60

Flushing, N. Y., Dec. 9—Led by the sparkling all around play of Merv Shorr, the Beaver hoopers won their third straight game of the season by defeating a weak, but determined Queens College quintet, 71-60.

Shorr led the Lavender attack with 27 rebounds and 20 points. Captain Jerry Domershick was second high scorer with 13 and Herb Holmstrom followed into the double figure column with 11.

The men from St. Knick left the court after the first half with a scant 31-30 advantage.

The City attack, however, came to life in the third stanza as Holmstrom and Shorr racked up 8

CCNY	FG	F	TP
Domershick	3	7	13
MacGuire	3	1	7
Schorr	8	4	20

Holmstrom	5	1	11
Gurkin	2	0	4
Cohen	0	1	1

points apiece, putting the Knights on the short end of a 54-47 score.

Baskets by Shorr and Domershick widened the gap to 11, within the first minute of the last quarter. Successive baskets by Holmstrom, Shorr, and MacGuire, interrupted only by Queens' Ben Campese's jump shot, stretched the lead to 15 points.

Ed Greely boosted the Knights with two consecutive sets, but City's Irwin List helped put the game out of reach with a field goal followed by a free throw.

The Queens quintet could do nothing against the Beaver two minute freeze that ended the game.

Merger Again

In an almost unbelievably irresponsible move, Student Council has once again put the question of a merger of Observation Post and The Campus on the ballot.

Furthermore, the referendum they have adopted is worded in such a way as to suggest that the only way to give the students a daily newspaper is through merger.

This is an unfounded lie—and no one knows this fact better than the perpetrators of the lie themselves.

Here are the facts. The student body has, in referendum, defeated merger by an ever-increasing majority three times in the past four years, the last time only one year ago. As late as last term, the students overwhelmingly approved an OP-sponsored plan which would give each of the two newspapers sufficient funds to publish on alternate days every day of the week. With the fifty cent raise in the Student Activities Fee, this daily between the two papers can become a reality by next term. As you have probably noticed, OP has already begun a twice-a-week schedule. This plan defeats the only sane argument the proponents of merger ever had.

Why have the students repeatedly, and wisely, defeated the idea of merger? Because they realize the advantages of having room for two opinions in the College press, and the danger of a small group controlling the only true fountain of information at CCNY. Because they realize the advantages of a healthy competition which produces better issues for the entire college community. Because they realize that freedom of the press cannot truly exist where there is only one newspaper. Because they believe in Democracy, in extracurricular as well as national life.

But Student Council has taken the outspoken and repeated decision of the students and thrown it back in their faces. They have made themselves unworthy of the name "representatives." They have played politics with the popular will. They have made the student referendum into a primitive sort of lottery, where if they don't get what they want they try and try and try again, ignoring the good of the College, ignoring the wishes of the students, ignoring the trust which has been given them to represent and not to rule.

What is behind this latest scheme? Here are the facts. The editors of The Campus have, for reasons known only to

Thus, for the fourth time since OP's founding in 1947, merger will appear on the ballot in SC elections. Three times it has been defeated by large majorities, the latest vote being 2299-980 in December 1952. Last term, a referendum calling for two newspapers every other day was approved by 1611-1187 in student referendum, but the Student Faculty Fee Committee refused to appropriate enough money to the papers for this plan to be carried out.

The decision to put merger on the ballot will be appealed to the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, announced Andrew Meisels, Editor-in-Chief of OP.

The motion to place merger on the ballot was made by Harry Pollak, president of the senior class. Harry Pollak and Meyer Baden, Editor-in-Chief of The Campus, spoke for it, while Mr. Meisels and Phil Lotter opposed the motion on Council's floor.

SC Presidential candidates Manny Halper, Ira Klosk and Mr. Lotter all announced last night their opposition to merger. SC President Gerry Smetana also opposed the plan, which was supported, however, by all the other officers of Council.

themselves, decided that they would like to combine with OP and rob the College of the benefit of two newspapers. Exactly why they want to do this we do not know, though, judging by the quality of their issues this term, we have a slight idea as to what they hope to gain. In their attempt to force merger, moreover, these editors have enlisted the aid of the worst and lowest elements of Council, the hacks, the opportunists, the "punks," the ignorant, the cheats who term after term sneak into representative positions they do not merit.

By taking this irresponsible step, these conniving SC members have branded the entire Council as irresponsible. Despite the futile attempts at sanity by SC President Gerry Smetana, these hacks have succeeded in overthrowing Democracy at City College by trickery and deception.

But who are these people? What is their claim to representing you? We ask you to judge for yourselves. Here are the facts.

Let's look at the record.

The Record

Here are some of the politicians behind this merger plan:

MEYER BADEN

DEFEATED by the students. Came in sixth out of six when he ran for Student Council two years ago. Since then, he has become Editor-in-Chief of The Campus. Elected to SC six weeks ago by the '55 Class Council to fill a vacancy.

MELVIN COPELAND

A member of the supposedly impartial Elections Agency. Copy Editor of The Campus, on the Managing Board. Did not run for Council this term, was chosen by the '55 Class Council to fill a vacancy.

IRIS GOLDSTEIN

DEFEATED by the students. Came in ninth for SC Rep in class of '56. Named to SC by '55 Class Council to fill a vacancy.

SAMUEL HIRT

DEFEATED by the students. Came in seventh when he ran for SC rep last semester. Business Manager of The Campus, member of the Managing Board. Two weeks ago, proposed that SC appropriate $80 to buy ads in The Campus to publicize itself. Elected to SC by '55 Class Council after elected rep resigned.

HARRY POLLAK (maker of merger motion)

EXPELLED from Student Council in February 1953 by 21-2 vote for being elected fraudulently. DEFEATED by student body for class president, SC Treasurer, SC President, and NSA Delegate. Has been a member of Council for eight semesters, due to Club Boards, which were abolished by referendum last term. Elected '54 president last term, alternated for Herb Robbins on SC. A member of The Campus Associate News Board.

ELIZABETH RONIS

EXPELLED from Student Council in February 1953 by 21-2 vote for being elected fraudulently by Political Club Board. Never elected by the student body until last term, when she was elected SC Secretary.

HERBERT VIEBROCK

DEFEATED by the student body when he was opposed for Treasurer of SC two terms ago. Despite this, he became a member of all four groups, the SC treasurer is on, SC, Exec, SC Fee Committee and Student Faculty Fee Committee. This term, he was unopposed when he ran for Treasurer, and thus elected. Co-chairman of the impartial Elections Agency.

Our Stand

This is the gang that is trying to kill a newspaper. Study the list carefully, and consider it when you vote.

We are, of course, against merger. We are against it for the same reasons that you, all of you who have wisely defeated it time after time, are against it.

We do not see the point of a new referendum at the present time, so soon after three such decisive mandates by the student body.

We call upon the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs to overrule the running of this careless lottery, to remove this irresponsible referendum from the ballot.

But this is your newspaper. It is for you that we have worked and fought since the founding of OP six years ago. It is you who will benefit by the saving of two newspapers. We ask you, we plead with you, to sign the coupon on the front page and return it to the OP office, Room 16A Main as soon as you can. We believe that we are fighting in your interests. Help us in this fight.

Quartet to Perform Today

By ANDREW MEISELS

Listening to chamber music seems to be a popular pastime with City College students. The string quartet, in residence at the College has been "packing them in," in the words of first violinist Professor Jack Shapiro (Music), at each of six regular concerts given per semester, the latest of which will be presented today at 12:15 in the Townsend Harris Auditorium.

The City College String Quartet, a quartet "in residence" since each of the members is on the College faculty, was formed this fall because, according to Prof. Shapiro, "we enjoyed playing together and felt that a group of this type would give students a chance to experience one of the less obvious forms of recreation."

Concert Rooms

The concerts are given in small rooms, with the quartet sitting in the middle and the audience around them. "We don't like to think of them as an audience," Prof. Shapiro commented, "but as fellow listeners."

This attempt at informality has raised problems. The rooms in which the quartet performs are far too small to accommodate the great numbers of students who want to come in and listen. "We have to close the doors to keep them out," Prof. Shapiro said. "We'd get a larger room, but we're afraid that this would destroy the very atmosphere of informality which draws them in."

Members Experienced

All the members of the quartet have had professional experience in the field of music. The members, in addition to Prof. Shapiro are: Mrs. Lucille Wolff, second violinist; Melvin Berger, violist and Prof. Otto Deri, who plays the 'cello.

At its concert today, the quartet will play Beethoven's String Quartet, Op. 18 No. 6 in B flat Major, and Quintet for Piano and Strings by Schubert. The concert is open to all. "Come and listen," Prof. Shapiro urges. "We'll be glad to have you, if we can fit you in."

Carnival Queen Begins Reign on Barry's Show

Barbara Spiro, CNY's latest queen for a year, smiled. "I was a bit surprised and shocked . . . but happy," she said.

The Brooklyn-born, nineteen and a half year old Carnival Queen appeared on Barry Gray's radio show last Saturday night after Carnival. "I enjoyed being interviewed by Mr. Gray very much," she said.

Barbara graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in Brooklyn in 1951. She is now a Forest Hills resident.

She entered the Carnival contest at the urging of a friend. She received the sponsorship of House Plan Post '56, but didn't think she "hardly had a chance."

When it was all over, Queen Barbara was asked for a statement. "It was hard to realize that one of us (the five finalists) had won the title," she said. "We had all been so close. But if I had lost I don't think it would have made much difference. I would be just as happy."

To date Barbara has appeared in two film shorts: one by 20th Century Fox MovieTone News and the other for Universal Films. This last has not been released yet.

She is a Retailing major at the Baruch Center, where she is vice-president of the Retail Society. In her spare time Barbara plays the piano; she enjoys athletics, good books, likes to go dancing . . . and she's engaged.

Dramsoc May Rule Out Silent 'Dream' Candidate

The eligibility of Barbara Waters, class of '56, to enter the "Dream Girl" contest has been questioned.

Miss Waters has submitted her picture to the Exec of Dramsoc for consideration as a "Dream Girl" but she "doubts" whether her picture will be considered.

The rules allow any matriculated female undergraduate at the Main Center, who is not a member of any theater group, to enter a picture.

Miss Waters has refused to answer questions concerning her standing on several of the qualifying counts. "Why should they doubt me," she demanded.

OP Pick

OP has extended its sponsorship in the Dramsoc sponsored contest to Miss Waters. The election, which will be held on Monday and Tuesday in Lincoln Corridor, is being run in conjunction with the forthcoming production of Elmer Rice's "Dream Girl."

Five finalists are to be chosen by the Exec and their pictures are to be placed, accompanied by coin boxes in the Corridor. All proceeds are to go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Hillelites Greet Festival With Merriment

Traditional ritual and festivity was observed by Hillel throughout the Hanukkah holidays, which after eight days, ended last night.

Religious rites were held every day of the holiday with ceremonial blessings, lighting of candles, prayers, and songs. Hillelites, who conducted the ceremony, went on to sing songs.

Party
The joyous festival had its apex of gaiety last Thursday when Hillel regaled itself with a Hanukkah party. Singing, dancing and "drehdelling" were the order of the day. A play was performed by an Intercollegiate Zionist Federation of America group. The merrymakers were not forgot; a host of vicarious: "latkes" (potato pancakes), apple sauce, cider, dates, figs and other semi-tropical goodies were served up by a women's B'nai B'rith chapter.

Though the holiday is ended, the spirit of the festival seems to have infused Hillel since it is having a "Post-Hanukkah Hop" Saturday night, December 19, at the Drill Hall. Tickets for the affair will be sold at Hillel House, 75 West 140th Street.

Lafayette Tests Hoopsters Sat.

The City College Basketball team will leave New York State for the first time in two years this Saturday when they travel to Easton, Penn., to face a veteran Lafayette squad. The Beavers are hoping to repeat last year's 83-59 victory over the Leopards.

Six returnees bolster the squad which is seeking to improve on last year's 13-12 record. At center the Leopards have Leo Miller, who stands 6-6 and displays a deadly jump shot from the pivot. The forwards are Rick Weissenborn and Charlie Eyer, while the starting five is rounded out by John Alviggi and Charlie Quigg. Alviggi was the team's high scorer last year and displays a deadly set along with a driving layup. Eyer started off last season like a house of fire but the Beavers' defense held him in check.

Strong Bench

Lafayette has a strong bench and in their opening games this season Coach "Butch" Van Bredakoff has been able to substitute freely. Malv Kauldin, who measures 6-6, is the leading replacement for Miller, while other top substitutes are Cary Ahl, Ed Knapp, Joel Weidman and Todd Walker. George Young, Bob Werner, Don Kerch, Cornelius Alexander, Jim Powers and Ervett Peters round out the Leopard array.

In their New York debut last week the Leopards put up a good fight before bowing to a strong St. John's University "five." In the contest Lafayette displayed good passing and accurate outside shooting.

Capsule Comments

By JOE SAPORA

I am very satisfied with the fine performance that the team turned in against Hofstra College. They are one of the strongest squads in the East. The performances of Norm Ballot and Stan Kaplan were very pleasing. Jim Zoubandis put up a good fight before bowing to a very strong competition.

The match against Princeton University should show how good the boys are. I expect us to put up a good match.

Men Behind the Scenes

By JERRY STREAR

It is fitting that we conclude this series of articles with some comments by the Faculty Manager of Athletics, Dr. Arthur DesGrey, a man who has played a major role in restoring dignity to the athletic picture at City College.

Appointed to his post in 1952, during an intensive corrective investigation of the existing athletic program, Dr. DesGrey has worked to lay the groundwork for the present system. "I feel assured," he said, "that with the combined efforts of the faculty and student athletic committees, the general faculty, the student body, and the alumni, a creditable program of intercollegiate athletics will continue to grow and reflect renown upon our institution."

An assistant professor, DesGrey includes these as some of his important duties: scheduling and arranging for athletic contests, purchasing team equipment, preparation of the yearly budgets for sports and the operation of the AA Office.

Asked whether de-emphasis of sports is the answer to a faulty athletic picture, he commented, "I have a strong conviction that de-emphasis is not a panacea for a widespread athletic malady. In my opinion, a plan of reorganization similar to that adopted by our general faculty at City College offers a practical solution. The plan has been in operation at the college for a year-and-a-half, and in that short span of time much has been accomplished through constructive supervision without jeopardy to the athletic program."

Dr. DesGrey was appointed to the Hygiene Department in 1933 and has taught at the Bernard Baruch Center and at the College of Liberal Arts. He received his BA and MA in education at New York University, and in 1945, he was awarded his Doctor's Degree from the same institution. In 1946, he was appointed assistant Faculty Manager of Athletics at City College.

Fulladosa Now City Splasher

By Jerry Saltz

Co-captain of the City College swimming team, Vic Fulladosa, splashed his way into the ranks of the mermen at a tender age.

"When I was 10 years old," Vic explained, "I was thrown by some friends off an Atlantic Avenue dock in Brooklyn. At the time I could just barely swim a few feet. From then on, I was never afraid of the water."

Vic, in his third season with the City natators, has swam in the 50 yards freestyle, 150 yards individual, and 200 yard breast-stroke competitions. He won four of the six dual meets in which he swam last season, and in the Metropolitan Championships held at NYU, he placed fourth in backstroke and fifth in the individual medley.

Outside of school competition Vic has been very active as a swimmer for the Tenth Street Boys' Club.

A physical education major, in his senior year, Vic expects to be serving Uncle Sam after graduation, but he hopes to obtain a Masters Degree in physical education after his Army hitch.

Aside from his interest in swimming, Vic also enjoys strumming on his guitar. "Last summer," Vic jovially related, "I used to be the talk of the life-guarders at Rockaway Beach."
