Four Compete for SC President; Referenda and Soviet Trip on Ballot

Three referenda will appear on the ballot in tomorrow's election.

The student body will be asked whether it favors enlarging the size of Student Council, altering the make-up of the Student-Faculty Fee Committee, and sponsoring resolutions at the National Student Association Congress this summer.

A proposal to raise the number of representatives on SC from four to six per year will be considered. Another plan to abolish the Club Senate's representation on SC will also be acted upon.

Election by Student Council of the student representatives to the Student Faculty Fee Committee has been placed on the ballot. Currently the student members of SFFC are chosen from among the groups that receive student fees (publications, clubs, etc.). A cut from five to three in faculty membership of SFFC has also been proposed.

Resolutions to NSAE

Two resolutions, to be offered at the Seventh National Student Congress in Iowa this summer, have been placed before the student body. Under a by-law approved by SC last semester, the City College delegation will be bound by the action of this referendum.

The resolutions are in support of an NSA-sponsored program of student exchange with the Soviet Union, and in favor of the celebration of Academic Freedom Week as an annual nation-wide event.

$oldsymbol{A}$ First .

For the first time in the history of Student Council, an election forum will be held. In Townsend Harris Auditorium at 12:30 P.M. today, candidates will discuss and outline their views. Students will have a chance to ask questions afterwards.

Vying for Soviet Trip; Pick Final Three Tomorrow

Balloting for the Soviet tour will take place tomorrow at 11 AM. Eight candidates are competing for three places on the tour. The winners will tour the Soviet Union during this summer, if the necessary funds can be raised.

The candidates are, in alphabetical order, Meyer Baden, for- president of the class of '55; and lig, Editor of The Campus; Ju- A collection will be held today Kavanau; Ira Klosk, former to the tour.

A field of four candidates is entered in the race for top honors in tomorrow's Student Council Election. Martin Gruberg, Ira Klosk, Art Pittman and Manny Solon are all seeking the Student Council Presidency to succeed the incumbent, Manny Halper.

Gruberg, a member of the Student Government Executive, is director of the SC Personnel Bureau. Klosk is a former president of the class of '55 and cochairman of the Student Union Finance Committee. Pittman is the current SC Vice President, and Manny Solon is a member of the Exec and former chairman of the SC Rules Committee.

Hank Stern is running unopposed for the SC Vice Presi-

Jared J. Jussim and Stanley Sokol are vying for the position of SC Secretary, while Dudley McConnell is alone in the race for Treasurer.

Voting Tomorrow

Also on the ballot are four referenda, the text of which appears on Page Eight.

Elections will take place tomorrow during the 11 o'clock hour. Alpha Phi Omega will distribute ballots to all the classrooms during that hour. In addition, polling booths will be set up in the corridor outside Knittle Lounge from 11 AM to 3 PM for the benefit of those students who did not vote in class. The blue Student Activities Fee Card must be presented in order to vote.

THC Backs...

At its endorsement meeting last Thursday, the Technology Interfraternity, Intersociety Council voted to endorse Hank Stern for Student Council Vice President. THC also called for a NO vote on all the referenda proposing a change in the present set-up of Student Council or on the Student Faculty Fee Committee.

Editorial Page of th

Why \dots

Observation Post is spending a good deal of your money to present this election issue. Why? It has often been said that very few students are concerned with Student Council elections, and that use of funds in this way is wasteful and unnecessary.

We know that only a small minority of the student body is currently interested in the outcome of tomorrow's elections. At the same time, we respect other valid interests which students have which prevents them from becoming involved, either actively or passively, with the struggles of student government at City College.

Nevertheless, Student Government does have two important functions, which neither the Administration or any Committee may denude it. SC is the one group elected by and responsible to the student body. It should represent and express the opinions of the student community.

Student Council is not a self contained organization, it is the tool of the student body, It will achieve only those goals that its members, you the students, set out to accomplish.

Another vital purpose of Student Government is the direction and performance of services to the student body. These concrete programs fill existing needs of students, and help make Council gain a reputation for direct material benefits.

Observation Post believes in the student community. We feel it exists, and that it deserves a share in making decisions for the College. Student Government, in our opinion, is the instrument of this community in making itself heard, and in carrying out its wishes.

Therefore, we present this issue to you, so that you may have the fullest possible opportunity to listen to both sides, and make up your own mind in the student elections tomorrow.

Observation Post in its capacity as a newspaper must, of necessity, be intimate with the workings and events in the Student Government. As a result of this familiarity we feel a special obligation to the student body. We deem it our duty to endorse, after careful consideration and evaluation, the candidates we find most fit to be your servants and representatives in the coming semester.

The average student, understandably, has little concern for the Student Government. But OP believes he should be concerned. By our endorsements we hope the student body will elect such worthy candidates as to make Student Government truly representative and offer such a host of services to its electors, that they will have to take notice of it. And when they do turn to look at it, view it with pride and admiration.

OP Endorses

SC President

The Presidency of Student Council is a most unusual office. Its authority is sharply limited by statute, but may be considerable in practice. The SC President may be a titular head or a student leader, and it is only his own ability that makes the difference.

Of the four candidates for Council president this term, OP has found IRA KLOSK the only man with both the proven record of work and the outstanding ability to lead that will insure a constructive semester for student government.

IRA KLOSK has been president of his class, and as such has shown his ability to run successful functions. He has prepared for the SC Presidency by two years of quiet toil.

This semester, KLOSK was chairman of the Student Union Finance Committee. In this role, he demonstrated his fearlessness and spirit. After detailed study, IRA KLOSK submitted financial reports to President Gallagher paving the way for a Student Union without the imposition of a fee. KLOSK stood up for the right of the student body to vote whether it wanted to pay this fee.

IRA KLOSK has submitted a positive program to increase student responsibility at the College. At the same time, he will continue and expand Student Council's service projects (such as Final Exams, Social Functions and the Ticket Bureau).

On the basis of experience, ability and program, Observation Post urges you to support IRA KLOSK for Student Council President. We feel he is the man who can do the best job for the student body.

Mission to Moscow

Three students will be chosen tomorrow at City College's representatives on a tour of Soviet Russia. Observation Post feels it is vital to have at least one trained observer in the group. Accordingly, our candidate is ANDY MEISELS, a student journalist with a string of credits a continent long.

ANDY MEISELS has held major editorships on OP for 3½ years, including the office of Editor-in-Chief twice. He has worked professionally during the last two summers on newspapers in California and New Jersey. For the past year he has been City College correspondent for The New York Times.

We believe a man of ANDY MEISELS' experience in the field of objective, thorough, accurate reporting would greatly enhance the value of the projected trip. In addition, he speaks a fluent Hungarian, having been born in Budapest, and this should, in all likelihood, enable him to make himself understood in the Soviet Union.

There are several competent candidates who we believe would justify the confidence you place in them through the ballot. But ANDY MEISELS will be a most valuable asset in any combination of three to be chosen.

Secretary

Of the two candidates for Student Council Secretary, one stands out in terms of ability, interest and service rendered. JARED JUSSIM has worked as Assistant Secretary of SC this semester, and knows the ropes of the job he is seeking. He has been an active and respected member of Council, who does his work without seeking the limelight.

If elected, JARED JUSSIM will carry out the competent work being done by this semester's Secretary, Abram Bernstein. For an efficient, smooth-running Council, JARED JUSSIM is your best bet.

'55 President

ALLEN BARD is the best choice for the office of Senior Class President. His past experience in the administrative work of Student Council plus his proven leadership abilities and penchant for getting things done make ALLEN BARD our choice for Senior Class President.

Among his many worthwhile plans, ALLEN BARD has one by which the commission from the sale of senior class rings will go to the class.

As former SC Vice President, ALLEN BARD sat on SFCSA, and this experience will make him better able to function as a member of this group when he becomes President of the Senior Class.

The Class of 1955 can help insure a full, memorable and successful term by electing ALLEN BARD. We can with a clear conscience state that ALLEN BARD is the best man for the Senior Class.

Pfeffer in '56

The junior class is generally an entity in hibernation. Dormant since its freshman term, its activities are usually few until it attains seniority. As class prexy, DAVE PFEFFER may provide as exception to this sorry rule. As an active, intelligent, and informed student, DAVE PFEFFER should serve as a valuable officer of the class of '56.

Vice President

Observation Post is pleased to endorse its Managing Editor, HANK STERN, for Vice President of the Student Government. Over the last three years, he has compiled an enviable record in the attempt to secure real student participation in College administration. Good luck; Hank.

The Referenda

We urge you to vote YES on both parts of referendum dealing with the Student Faculty Fee Committee.

The first part proposes that the students be more fully represented on the Committee. Under the present system the student delegates are "elected" by five different groups: the student body, House Plan, TIIC, the publications and the Club Senate. This term the Club Senate and the classes did not meet to elect representatives, and so there were only three students and five faculty on the committee.

In requiring Student Council to elect four members (the SC Treasurer is the fifth) the students would be guaranteed full and competent representation. The election of members from five different groups on campus does not serve to represent all interests, rather it ensures the representation of only a few special interest groups. A much broader and fairer representation would result if four student members were elected by the Student Council from its non-members.

Vote YES on Referendum Number Two.

A Matter of Taste

In today's Campus, we find all 34 inches of editorial space devoted to denouncing students who run for Student Council office, especially Hank Stern, who is an editor of OP. We will not reply at this time since we need our space to speak constructively of candidates for Council.

We would just like to say we doubt Mr. Stern will appeal to SFCSA for 'justice.' The case will fittingly be left in the hands of the student body.

Tomorrow you will elect another president of Student Council. You will choose a persenting your opinion and carry out projects for your benefit.

Everyone agrees that Student Council has a very minor rule declined into an activity of interest to only a few students. It

This bad state of affairs is not due to any student action, in my opinion, but to the policy of the College administration that delegates all decision - making authority to the hands of a tight network of faculty and administration committees. The students have absolutely no say in the formation of College policies, other than a sharply limited half-say on student activities

The remedy for this condition is two-fold. Not only must Stuits actions, and perform worthproval of the student body, but the College administration must also cooperate in sharing its authority with student representa-

I have run many times for office in student council; on all of son who, for six months, will these occasions I have gained have the responsibility of repre-strong newspaper support. The reasons are simple enough: I have been able to bury my pride in the interests of winning in shaping College policy. Dur- an election. I have compromised, ing the years, it has still further asked, twisted my real opinions till I almost forgot what they really were. For this is the only type of candidate which the newspapers will indorse.

> Last term I was elected Vice-President by over seven hundred votes. I considered it a vote of the students, not a vote induced by the newspapers. And so I attempted to use a rusty conscience, to act independent of the Room 20 or newspaper pressures. This, of course, is political suicide. The newspapers, especially one, advised me as much, the Roberts Rule of Order boys picking a candidate who had sufficient funds to conduct the necessary high-pressure campaign.

It's late, and we're all a little These are my views, whether tired. Win or lose, it is a nice feeling to run as an honest man. Manny Solon

At the present time the reputation of the Student Government and Student Council is very low. This is a result of student government being in the hands of a few self-styled "student leaders."

These so-called "student leaders" have been running student government for the last few years as a source of personal gain and amusement. These people don't think of what is good for the student body, but rather if their petty interests will be served.

But there is a way to break the hold of this group on student government. That is for the students to reject these hand picked candidates and vote for students who will represent

There only can be constructive changes made in student government if we have an SC president who is willing and able to work with faculty, administration the student body.

Candidates' Statements Secretary

Stanley Sokol

Student Council's main function, it's reason for existing is not being fulfilled. This function is to coordinate and supervise the extra curricular activities of the school. That this is not being done is evident by the ager of the Used Book Exapathy the student body shows towards almost all events. This apparent apathy, I believe is not so much a lack of interest, as a division of interest.

Student Council should eliminate the Club Senate monster and institute a system similar to the old one. The fault in the old system lies not in the organization of the system but in the administration of it. There all organizations with similar interests form mother organizations. These mother organizations then send their representatives di-position of assistant to the Secrectly to Council, where they, the representatives of each fice of Secretary where I can group, can work out their con- lead the proper execution of flicting problems together.

The amount of representatives allowed to each mother organization would be on the basis of the students it represents. Such a system would assure the most support possible for any action which Council may take. Organizations, such as TIIC would hus have a fair voice in the student government.

branch of the Student Government, the in all things concerning the student body. Student Council, shall be:

1. Six representatives per class serving for a term of one year, three to be elected each spring and three each fall. (Replaces: four representatives for each class serving for a term of one year, two to be elected each spring and two each fall.) NO-YES-

PRO:

More representatives on Student Council will enable more work to be done. There are very few members of SC now, often meetings are conducted with fewer than ten people present.

Also, more SC positions will enable more views to be represented, and give students a better chance to elect new people, rather than politicians, to Student Council office.

CON:

The short ballot is an important part of the democratic system. If the student body has too many names to choose, each one becomes meaningless and the vote loses its rational basis.

Another point is that if Council is too large, there can be no order at its meetings and chaos results.

Furthern are, in a large council, vacancies often occur which are not filled by student election. This makes the Council unrepresentative and undemocratic.

2. There shall be no voting representatives who are not elected directly by the student body with one exception. Class council shall fill vacancies of seats in their respective classes. (This eliminates the four club representatives that were formerly elected by the Club Senate.)

YES-

PRO:

The Club Senate has had only one meeting in a year because it never got a quorum. Club members and officers have little interest in being represented on SC.

A group of this nature, when its members are apathetic, is the breeding ground for so-called "punk politicians." We have seen, in the old Club Board system, how a small clique can gain control, and then hand out four seats on the Student Council.

CON:

have representation on any group which have primarily an advisory function; to commonplace, and has no more merithas control over their affairs. It is vital that make sure that the students don't spend Flag Day or Pickle Week.

II. Composition of the Student - Faculty Fee Committee

A. The composition of the student representation on the Student-Faculty Fee Committee shall be five students consisting of the Student Body Treasurer and four students elected by the Student Council from non-Student Council members.

NO-YES-

PRO:

A situation where the faculty and administration allocate to student organizations the monies collected from the students is, to say the least, undemocratic. Under the present system this term, only three student members were on the ree Committee. Thus five faculty members and only three students had a vote in how the students money was to be spent.

Under the proposed structure, the students would be assured of full representation by qualified students in the distribution of their money. The proviso that four students shall not be from Council ensures the representation of all interests.

CON:

The present structure of the Fee Committee provides for representation from clubs, publications, engineering societies and House Plan—the groups most interested in the allocation of Fee funds—as well as one delegate from Student Council.

The proposed revision would place the selection of student representatives solely in the hands of Student Council. SC cannot be relied upon to choose people who would truly represent the interests of all the groups that would be deprived of more direct representation.

B. We recommend to the appropriate faculty body that the number of faculty representatives on the Fee Committee be reduced from five faculty members to three faculty members. The faculty members are to be selected by the appropriate body.
