BHE Finds Nat Holman Guilty! Reverses Trial Committee Decision

Queens Group Spurns Action On Ad Curbs

A resolution prohibiting any student publication from printing advertisements sponsored by organizations on the Attorney General's "Subversive List" was upheld Tuesday by the Queens College Student Faculty Committee.

The controversial resolution, passed two weeks ago calls for

Two week suspension of college publications violating the Council's edict. The move on Council's part was precipitated as a result of The Crown's printing a paid advertisement for the Labor with League, a group on the Attorney General's List. The resolution was passed by a vote of 10-2 after some 200 students had filed petitions recommending action.

Ordeal . . .

Throughout the almost five dragging and weary hours Nat Holman's wife, Ruth, patiently sat at the side of her husband, as the BHE pondered his fate.

When the decision was finally announced Mrs. Holman appeared shocked and incredulous. In subdued tone she spoke to friends who had waited with her throughout the entire ordeal.

Finally, she and her friends gathered their clothing and quietly departed. It is a night they will not soon forget.

Board Accepts Committee Decision On Sand; He Returns Today

Special to the Observation Post

By SELWYN RAAB and RAY HAMILTON

Nat Holman has been dismissed from City College.

He was found guilty of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming a teacher by the Board of Higher Education early this morning. In making the decision to fire Holman, the Board reversed the ruling of its Trial Committee, which after seven months of hearings, acquitted the coach of all charges against him last Wednesday.

After thirty-four years as a teacher and coach, Holman gained national renown as "Mr. Basketball," but the double-championship team he built was shattered in Spring 1951, when eight of his basketball stars confessed to taking bribes and "shaving" points.

Waiting in an anteroom, Holman looked downcast and discouraged after he learned of the Board's decision. He is a man who hates to lose, and the reporters present respected his silence. "Mr. Basketball" was given thirty days to apply for a pension.

Bobby Sand, Holman's assistant coach, was restored to immediate duty at the College, but he lost all back pay for the time he was suspended, from November 18, 1952 to last night, Sand will return to the College in whatever capacity President Gallagher wants to place him.

The attorney for Sand, Bernard Fliegel, said "We wish to express our appreciation for Dr. Gallagher's sympathetic understanding of the situation throughout." Sand's light punishment was attributed by the BHE to his "frank admission of guilt" in sending the Warner letter, his "expression of repentance" and his "co-operation with the Trial Committee."

Porter R. Chandler, the man who filed the minority report on the Trial Committee demanding a guilty verdict for Holman, refused to comment as he left the BHE meeting room at Hunter College.

Harry N. Wright, the president of City College at the time of Holman's greatest glory, was present at the BHE meeting. His successor, President Buell G. Gallagher, commented: "The Board decided after careful consideration on the basis of facts and evidence."

Fifteen of the twenty-one members of the BHE were present at the meeting. The vote was not disclosed.

Last Wednesday, the special trial committee of the BHE made public its recommendation to exonerate Holman of charges of "neglect of duty" and "conduct unbecoming a teacher" as well as non-cooperation with the Board in the investigation resulting from the 1950 basketball scandals at the College. The majority report, signed by committee chairman Gustave Rosenberg and John Morris, after a 7 month hearing, also recommended the suspension of Sand for one year retroactive to the time he was suspended. He was found guilty of "conduct unbecoming a

97% Back Student Vote On SU Fee; Poll Shows

Approximately ninety-seven percent of the student body, is in favor of a referendum to decide whether "there is to be a student union fee" according to a poll conducted by the Student Union Finance Committee.

Out of a total of 802 students polled by the committee, 778 said they believed the student body should be the group to decide on an imposed fee while only twenty-four dissented.

The poll also revealed that eighty-one percent (652) would be willing to pay some kind of fee to support the Union while only 150 students objected to paying any kind of increment.

Commenting on the results of the poll, Ira Klosk, co-chairman of the committee said that the "poll overwhelmingly shows that the student body is in complete accord with the recommendations of the Student Union Finance Committee, namely, that the student body must decide by referendum if there is to be a Student Union fee."

Crime and Punishment

The decision of the Board of Higher Education to fire Nat Holman is a shocking miscarriage of justice.

It appears to us as an act of pure vengeance, of retribution, of seeking a scapegoat on whose shoulders could be heaped the entire mess of scandal which the College's former athletic policy bred.

The very words "neglect of duty" and "conduct unbecoming a teacher" reveal the utter absurdity, the fiction, and the hypocrisy of the BHE verdict. Nat Holman's duty at this College was to win, and that duty he fulfilled superbly.

If there is to be blame placed for the scandals which sank City College's reputation, and we think there should be, it is to be placed on a system which never asked Nat Holman for anything more than a team that won games—a system founded, nurtured and condoned by hundreds of College administrators who are now quick to point an accusing finger at Nat Holman.

Nat Holman cannot, in justice, be made to bear the burden of the College's wrongs, nor will mere decisions by the BHE succeed in placing the onus on him. After two years of talk, trial and tears, Nat Holman's integrity still remains unblemished, his record above reproach.

In losing this decision, Nat Holman seems, without question, to have been the victim of a "bad call." The audience will blame the referees, not the coach.

Violets Beware

Tonight is the night, Beavers. NYU, conqueror of the City hoopsters for the past two years, is ripe for the kill this time. Domershick, Shorr, Gurkin, Rowe and List will be facing the Violets for the last time. It's a pick-em game, but the presence of City rooters can turn the tide in favor of the Beavers. Allagaroo, and NYU, too. See you at the game...

It Can Happen Here

Two weeks ago a dangerous and alarming resolution was passed by the Student Council of Queens College.

Suddenly investing itself with the power of censorship, the Council decided that in the future any student publication that printed an advertisement from an organization that was listed as subversive would be suspended from publishing for a period of two weeks.

This unprecedented action was taken after The Crown, one of the two undergraduate student newspapers, had published an advertisement from the Labor Youth League, an organization listed as subversive by the United States Attorney General. The advertisement purportedly evoked a storm of criticism from the student body.

Apparently Student Council at Queens College has also fallen victim to the wave of demagogic hysteria which is threatening to engulf the nation.

In an ostentatious effort to portray itself as the true fighters of communism, the Council is inadvertently and materially aiding the very forces it is attempting to thwart. By adopting the totalitarian tactics of the Kremlin, it is depriving an organization of its constitutionally granted privilege to speak through the medium of the press.

We are certain that if the Queens Student Council reviews its action and allows the student body to decide the issue through a referendum—a proposal the Council already has turned down once—an unwise and undemocratic decision will be averted.

East Meets West At Films Institute

By JOAN SNYDER

A tropical beauty who seems to need no training in technique is enhancing the College's Institute of Film Techniques.

Already a film star (of the Philippine Islands) Erlinda Cortes is an actress turned producer and director—at least, potentially.

A brief vacation in the United States has stretched into a study of film and television methods. At the College, one of her classmates in film production is a compatriot: he's a signal officer on leave from the Philippine Army. He originally roused her interest in the Institute as part of a drive to raise the level of films in the Islands.

Back home, Erlinda relates, there is only the trial and error method of learning about television and films. The vivacious brunette learned her acting tricks by watching Hollywood productions constantly, studying actresses she chose as models.

The method paid off. Erlinda has starred in 24 Filipino and 4 English language movies. One of her roles was in "American Guerilla in the Philippines," with Tyrone Power. She would have paid to work in that, she declares—her interest being Hollywood ways, not Mr. Power.

In another film, she blossomed in leopard skin robes against a lush background. However, she demonstrates that she is a well-rounded actress in every production, being able to sing, dance, play drama, and even take to the water a la Esther Williams. She's even attained the traditional actresses dream—the part of Shakespeare's Juliet.

Her popularity is high in the Islands. In 1947, she received the National Women's Clubs award for best performance of the year. She finished eighth last June in a newspaper poll of the favorite Filipino stars.

Fanatics Said To Worsen Plight of Puerto Ricans

The problems of Puerto Ricans in the United States may be intensified by the terrorist violence in the House of Representatives on Monday, said Professor Warren Brown (Sociology), a member of Mayor Wagner's Committee on Puerto Rican Affairs. Five Congressmen on the floor of the House were shot from the gallery by three Puerto Rican nationalists shouting slogans of "freedom for Puerto Rico."

However, he didn't believe "that the responsible citizenry of our country will hold the people of Puerto Rico or our Puerto Rican citizens responsible. Antagonism by "some persons" will be expressed in demands that Puerto Ricans do not enjoy full citizenship, and that they may be barred from the mainland. Prof. Brown continued.

Calling the terrorism "futile," he explained that the present structure of government in Puerto Rico, a commonwealth, could be changed only by its own legislature, and not by the United States Congress. The island has complete domestic autonomy.

Prof. Brown, having made a study of the personality of the Puerto Rican community in New York City, termed its people "good citizens" who have adjusted to working conditions. He further described them as having "a feeling for life, a love for life, and an enjoyment of life to its fullest extent."

But, although "Puerto Ricans are no different from any other American group, they have been humiliated, because they are newcomers with dark skin," he

Previous courses in professional education need have been taken by applicants for the program. ...er."

The minority report, signed by Peter Chandler, found the former basketball coach guilty of neglect of duty but made no recommendations to the board, "a majority of the committee having voted to exonerate."

Both Holman and Sand, as well as Professor Frank S. Lloyd, former chairman of the Hygiene Department, were suspended on November 18, 1953 on the basis of preliminary evidence gathered by the BHE. Lloyd retired before trial began and the charges against him were dropped. The hearing, whose prosecutor was Milton Wollen, assistant corporation counsel of the City of New York, came to an end last December 1, but the decision was not revealed until last Thursday because of the great amount of material to be considered.

The decision to suspend the former assistant coach and economics instructor, Sand, was based mainly on his letter to Ed Warner, one of the players later implicated in the scandals. This letter discusses a possible trip to South America by the team in the summer of 1950 and offers the "financial return" to the player as an inducement to participate.

College, a new resolution was passed stating that printing of advertisements for groups on the Attorney Generals List is "detrimental to the welfare of the College."

According to Deborah Fierer, associate editor of The Crown, one of the undergraduate newspapers at Queens, the resolution was passed after very little discussion and the SFCSA is waiting for a mess to develop rather than trying to prevent it.

Art Pittman, CCNY Student Council Vice President commenting on the resolution said that simple decency should be the primary criterion for rejection of an advertisement. It's not merely a paper's right, but a paper's duty to accept all advertisements without regard to alleged

'Glass Menagerie'

By Bruno Wassertheil

Editor's Note: The preview of a play is not generally reviewed. A preview is intended to give the players, directors, and stage assistants a practical tryout before the play officially opens. In this case, however, the preview viewed on Tuesday was of such excellence that not to write of it and urge attendance on the nights of the regular performances, would be an unpardonable omission.

A superb presentation of Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" is currently being offered in the Great Hall by Theater Workshop.

Directed by Professor Frank Davidson (Speech), no tyro in directing plays, and performed by a splendid cast, the production is a credit to the College.

The play relates the story of a domineering mother, once a grande dame of the Old South, her adventure loving son and crippled, introverted daughter; their desires and conflicts.

Presented in theater-in-the-round fashion, somewhat unique at the College, the players from all sides are cognizant of their roles and play them with sensitive finesse.

Zara Anelian is masterful as the mother, Amanda Wingfield, who browbeats her son, Tom Wingfield, excellently portrayed by Sam Schact. Leila Paul Reiss, as the daughter, Laura Wingfield, gives a beautiful, moving performance. Seymour Metzger is adept as Jim O'Conner, the "gentleman caller."

Theater Workshop shows it is not at a loss for creative presentation. The lighting by Esther Small is outstanding. Credit goes to Miss Small and Ed Heffernan for the set. The music, appropriate and well timed, is in the charge of Steve Waring. And those who scurry changing stage property during blackouts between scenes must be noted; their scurrying is worth the while.

Regular performances of "The Glass Menagerie" will begin tonight at 8:30 PM in the Great Hall, and will be repeated there Friday and Saturday evening. Tickets may be obtained in Room 220 Main, and are gratis.

Lavender To Face Violets

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

The College's basketball team gets its long-awaited chance to look pretty before the television cameras tonight in the annual encounter with the Violets of New York University. The contest will be played on the neutral Fordham University court and will be televised by WPIX (Ch. 11) beginning at 9 PM. The CCNY and NYU yearlings will meet in a preliminary game at 6:30.

Lavender captain Jerry Domershick is averaging just over 17 points a game, under the 17.7 mark he set last year. To set a new standard Jerry must garner 48 points in the remaining two contests. Merv Shorr is hitting at a .167 clip and is only 6 points behind Domershick in total scoring.

Mentor for Thirty Years

NYU is coached by Howard (Jake) Cann, who has been coaching at the Heights school for over thirty years. Cann has also been selected as this year's coach of the East team in the annual East-West game. Cann will have a chance to see one of the members of his squad in action tonight in City's Jerry Domershick.

Nachamkin Big Threat

The all-time NYU scoring record is almost certain to be broken tonight. Boris Nachamkin, the Violets' 6-6 center, is only one point behind Sid Tanenbaum's career mark. Since Boris is aver-

Doherty, along with Nachamkin, should grab most of NYU's rebounds. The other Violet starters will be 6-1 Dom DeBonis, 6-1 Ted Elsberg (the team captain), and 6-0 Hal Weitz, possessor of a fine set shot.

NYU Mediocre

NYU has compiled an 8-9 season's record, having beaten Fort Schuyler, American U., Syracuse, Utah State, Miami (Ohio), Pittsburgh, Manhattan and Army. However, the Hall of Famers have been easy pickings for Holy Cross, Duquesne, Manhattan, Fordham, Notre Dame, Georgetown, West Virginia, Niagara and St. John's. The losses to Duquesne and Manhattan came in the Holiday Festivals Tournament during the Christmas season.

In comparing scores, the Beavers seem to have a slight edge. NYU beat Manhattan by 12 points and lost to the Kelly Green by 16. Fordham drubbed the Violets by 27 and St. John's did it by 4. City, on the other hand, bowed to Manhattan by 1, to Fordham by 2, and downed St. John's by 4.

On Saturday night the Beavers will conclude their season by playing host to Brooklyn College in the Main Gym. This game will also be televised on Ch. 11 at 9 PM.

The Kingsmen have a poor 6-10 record and on Monday night absorbed a 104-36 shellacking at the hands of Manhattan. The Maroon's big trouble is lack of height, 6-5 Ira Stevens being the only man over 6-2. Brooklyn, however, features a new coach in Placido Gomez, who is filling in for Morris (Tubby) Raskin, currently on a leave.

The probable lineups:

- (20) Doherty ... F ... Domershick (22)
- (21) DeBonis ... F ... Shorr (23)
- (28) Nachamkin ... C ... Kowalski (21)
- (24) Elsberg ... G ... McGuire (35)
- (14) Weitz ... G ... Jacobson (37)
- NYU Reserves: (3) Katz, (16) Miller, (37) Scarpinato, (39) Seltzer, (42) Cooper, (44) Lowenthal.

Student Body To Choose Delegates To Visit Russia

A special election next month to select the members of the City College delegation that will tour the Soviet Union some time this Summer will be held by Student Council. This trip is in accordance with the referendum passed by the student body last semester. Any day session student at the College who is not a graduating senior is eligible, provided he has a C plus 10 average or better.

There will be two separate elections, the first, in the nature of a primary, will take place April 12-15 when all but eight candidates will be eliminated. Of these eight, three will be selected in a second run-off election to be held at a later date.

The procedure for nominating candidates is divided into two classifications. Nominations can either be made on an organizational basis or on an individual basis. Further information as well as the necessary application forms can be obtained in the Student Council office, Room 20 Main.

The deadline for filing of nominating petitions bearing the correct number of signatures is March 29, 1954. All applications must be accompanied by a written essay of not more than 250 words on the topic: "Why, as a student at CCNY, I want to tour the Soviet Union." The essay, according to the Temporary Student Council Agency on the Soviet Trip "is for the purpose of giving the student body a minimum basis for judging the candidates."

A Correction

In an editorial yesterday, Professor Kenneth B. Clark (Psychology), chairman of the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, was incorrectly referred to as an Assistant Professor. Actually, he is an Associate Professor.

It was also stated that Dr. Clark has been a member of SFCSA for twenty-two semesters. Strictly speaking, this is inaccurate. He has been a member of SFCSA since the day it was founded in Fall 1947, only fourteen semesters ago. Before that, he was a faculty member of the predecessor of SFCSA, a Main Center subcommittee of the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities, which included student guests. His tenure on this committee dates back to Spring

Advisors Wanted ...

Applications for membership on the Student Council Student Advisory Agency are now available. They may be picked up in Room 20 or Room 120 Main and are due by Friday, March 19.

The agency conducts a program of freshman orientation, and was formerly called the SC Freshman Advisory Committee. In the fall semester, 1700 freshmen are expected to enter the College, and advisors are needed, said Lila Lasky, agency director.

Miss Lasky will supply more information to those interested every afternoon except Wednesday between 2:00 and 5:00 P.M. in Room 136 Army Hall.

Text of BHE Decision

The Board heard counsel for Professor Holman and Mr. Sand and also Mr. Mollen, Assistant Corporation Counsel. The Board then went into Executive Session, and immediately adopted unanimously a resolution expressing gratitude to the Trial Committee for its devoted, painstaking and long service.

The Board then proceeded to discuss at great length the Committee's report and ultimately, with one revision, the Board adopted the recommendations of the minority report with respect to Prof. Holman and found Prof. Holman guilty of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming a teacher on specification number one, neglect of duty on specification number two, and neglect of duty on that part of specification number four that dealt with his failure to report the Hassman Schmones bribe to President Wright and to the investigating committee. With respect to Harry Sand, the Board approved the recommendation of the Trial Committee finding Mr. Sand guilty of specifications one and two.

With respect to Professor Holman the Board voted that Holman be dismissed as of the date of his suspension without pay unless within thirty days he files an application for service retirement.

With respect to Mr. Sand the Board voted in view of Sand's cooperation with the investigating committee, his frank admission of guilt, and his expression of repentance, that his suspension without pay be continued until March 3, 1954, and that he be restored with a reprimand, to such duties as the President of City College may designate as of

Student AA Views Key Athletic Plans

The Student Athletic Association is an organization which has jurisdiction over all phases of City College's athletic policy, large or small, ranging from scheduling and the athletic budget to changing the requirements for varsity letters.

The SAA is composed of thirteen students from both Uptown and Downtown, day and evening sessions. The president is Stuart Greenberg, an Upper Senior, with three years of varsity experience, one year of freshman football ('way back when), two years on the Athletic Association board, and three years in the Varsity Club.

"Our function," said Greenberg, "is to initiate athletic policy which we feel is needed. In doing so, we make recommendations to SFCIA (Student Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics) and there we discuss it and vote with SFCIA on policy."

The Student Athletic Association is at present considering plans for a Metropolitan Student Athletic Association. The idea is to form a conference along the lines of the Ivy League (Eastern Intercollegiate League) comprising schools in and around the metropolitan area.

"This set-up will be for athletics; not just for basketball, but for all sports, major and minor. The league would also comprise both large and small colleges," stated Greenberg.

"If arenas or other athletic areas are to be rented out for these events, such rental would be subject to and under the strict supervision of educational authorities."

"If such a league is ever initiated we intend to comply with all codes of amateurism to the fullest extent. This healthy atmosphere will also enable the league members to conduct a full variety athletic program."

The SAA is currently concerned with finding managers for the varsity baseball, tennis and lacrosse teams. Greenberg has made an all-out appeal for managers for the aforementioned teams. Those interested should apply in the Athletic Office, Lewisohn Stadium.

'Defeat NYU' Flagpole Fete

There will be a good old-fashioned "Beat N.Y.U. rally today at 12:30 in front of the flagpole."

Anything can happen at these rallies and usually does. So don't be surprised if a live Beaver attempts to climb the flagpole in honor of the occasion. Stuart Greenberg, President of the Student AA is sponsoring the gala event. The ball players will be present and the cheer leaders will lead the All...A...Gaa...Roos.

As an extra added attraction a coffin will be paraded around the flagpole by members of the Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity. In the coffin will be a lone wilted Violet. A repeat performance will take place on the Fordham gymnasium court before the start of the game.

Swimmers To Try For Initial Crown

The swimmers will be out to capture their first Metropolitan Conference title in seven years on Saturday night at the NYU pool. The Beavers, having taken the Met Dual Meet laurels, are strong contenders for top honors.

Medley Relay Important

Coach Jack Rider feels that a Beaver victory depends primarily on the combined efforts of freestylers Steve Kesten and Ben Trasen, and backstroker Tony Sousa. Trasen and Sousa are entered in Medley relay and this event may prove to be the decider.

Howie Schloemer is favored to retain his title in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle events. The battle for second place in these races will probably be between Kesten and Brooklyn College's Jerry Tiernan.

Kings Point Rates High

Roger Ryan of Kings Point is the standout in the 100-yard freestyle fracas. Wait Leffler and Bob Tannert, both of NYU, and Trasen will battle for the other positions. Dan Matejka and Bob Byrnes of Kings Point will vie for the 200-yard backstroke crown with Sousa, Bill Cawley of Manhattan and Freddie Bedell of NYU furnishing the chief competition.

In the diving events, Bob Lev of NYU, City's Lou Ruffino and Ken Adams of Fordham will fight it out. The Lavender is favored to win the breast stroking contest with Vic Fulladosa and Bob Kellogg placing one-two.

The Beavers aren't counted to do well in the 50-yard freestyle and the Violets appear to have their hip pockets. But in the words of Howie Schloemer, "We intend to take it out of their pockets and throw it into the pool."

How the stars got started...

Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan, leaders of America's most excitingly-different dance band, met in 1939 as struggling young arrangers. Ed had studied trumpet and drum at college, worked up to arranging for "name" bands: Bill had studied in Paris, won a spot with Tommy Dorsey. After 13 years of pooling new ideas, they formed their own band. It clicked!

Eddie Sauter says:

"I'VE TRIED MANY BRANDS, BUT I GET MOST PLEASURE FROM CAMELS YOU WILL, TOO!"

Bill Finegan says:

"WITH ME, CAMELS CLICKED INSTANTLY. THE FLAVOR'S HOW I LIKE IT, THE MILDNESS JUST RIGHT."
