McCaffrey, Lotter, Vie for Prexy; Tech News Referendum on Ballot

In tomorrow's election, the composition of next semester's Student Council will be decided, with the presidency the only contested major office.

In addition, the student body will be asked in a referendum if Tech News, an engineering publication, should receive financial support from student fee funds.

Both candidates for SC president, Phil Lotter and Barney McCaffrey agree that major issues at a stake are Student Union and improving student government but have taken divergent views.

Lotter, a former SC representative, asserted that he will oppose a mandatory Student Union fee because he feels the average student cannot afford the extra fee. Support for the Student Union, he said, should come from the city and state governments, non-instructional fees, profits from the cafeteria, and the alumni.

His opponent, SC Vice President Barney McCaffrey, has taken the stand that that only if all other sources are exhausted should students be asked to pay a fee, but only if a referendum shows they are willing. If it failed, he declared, then the Union should not open.

The two candidates also expressed different opinions on how student government could be improved.

McCaffrey declared that in order to form a true community government, Council must have the support of the students. One way of achieving this, he said, would be in the area of service to the student body. This would include social events, such as the Charter Day Ball, teas, and social dance programs. He also declared he is in favor of polls to get student opinion on important issues.

Lotter expressed the view that Council should be expanded by greater representation from all branches of the student community. He added that good and treasurer, respectively.

A wider choice exists for the voter in the races for the presidencies of the respective classes. In the Senior Class there is a three-way battle between Meyer Baden, Joan Shaiken and Jerry Vandenberg. Dave Pfeffer, present Junior Class president, student-faculty relations are of the utmost importance and that the latter's "mature views" should be given careful consideration.

Candidates for the three other major SC positions are running without opposition. Martin Gruberg, who lost out in the presidential race last semester, is running for vice president. Gloria Kinsley, '57 Rep., and SC Secretary Jared Jussim are running unopposed for secretary is running for reelection unopposed.

The Sophomore Class will choose either George Le Porte or SC Treasurer Dudley McConnell. Paul Goldberg and Norman Tannenbaum are seeking the position in the Freshman Class.

There is no dearth of candidates for Student Council Representatives. Thirty-three candidates are seeking election to the sixteen openings on Council.

Probation . . .

A recommendation to suspend James Liburd, a freshman, from most extra-curricular activities for one year and put him on probation for three years has been referred to Dean Daniel F. Brophy (Student Life).

The Student Faculty Disciplinary Committee, which made the recommendation, sent its report to President Buell G. Gallagher. He said that since the recommendation did not mention expulsion from the College, the matter was not for him to decide.

OBSERVATION POST

ANDREW MEISELS
Editor-in-Chief

Editorial policy is determined by an Editorial Board consisting of the Managing Board, Jack Levine, Leon Levine, and Ancile Malden

Why Vote?

The necessity to vote should be obvious. If we could not vote for our representatives, we would, without doubt, object strenuously. But we do have the right to vote, and we should exercise it lest we lose it.

The students have the power to steer the course of student government at the College. Whichever way this government turns, should be the direction the students wish it to turn. The success or failure of Council depends on your interest in the election and the sagacity of your vote. The elected officer is the "mouthpiece" of his electors. If the voting is done by cliques, pressure groups and lobbies, then the cliques, pressure groups and lobbies will be represented in our student government. If all the students vote, then the students will be represented.

Your right to vote is inalienable but you would deny this right by not voting. Vote!

Why Endorsements?

Observation Post in its capacity as a newspaper must, of necessity, be intimate with the workings and events in our student government. As a result of this familiarity we feel a special obligation to the student body. We deem it our duty to endorse, after careful consideration and evaluation, the candidates we find most fit to be your servants and representatives in the coming semester.

Student Council has shown this term that it need not be an exalted debating society but can be a highly effective body rendering valuable service to the students. OP has chosen for endorsement those people we feel will best continue a job well begun and will work conscientiously to expedite the wishes of the student body.

OP Endorses SC President

The student body can be justifiably proud of the fine job done by Student Council this semester. Today, Council is a dynamic force, a far cry from its dilatory predecessors. But the job is far from complete. SC can not afford to rest upon the firm foundation it has built. It needs a forceful, inspired and imaginative president to continue leading it forward.

Tomorrow, two candidates will ask you, the student body, to make them President of your Student Council and in so doing place them at the helm of the new program which has been started. The choice is not a difficult one. BARNEY McCAFFREY has a proven record of outstanding work plus the ability to successfully lead Council forward for a constructive semester. He has demonstrated his leadership ability as Executive Secretary, Treasurer, and Vice President of SC and has presented a positive and progressive program to the student body. His efforts to obtain equal representation for the student body on the Governing Board of Student Union indicates that he will not forget to fight for student rights.

Phil Lotter who is opposing McCAFFREY, may be a likeable fellow. But he lacks the executive ability and experience required of a leader. His spotty record does not merit the trust he asks you to give him.

Council is now at a crossroad. It can continue going forward or once again it can sink back into the depths from which it has emerged. The decision rests with you—consider it carefully. We are certain that you will pick the man with the most experience, the man with the proven record, the man best qualified to continue the progress of Council—BARNEY McCAFFREY.

The Unopposed

Three of the candidates running for major office are unopposed, but, fortunately, are eminently qualified. Martin Gruberg, candidate for vice-president, has a name synonymous with hard work for Student Council. We are certain that the energy and ability he has shown in working for Council in the past will go far toward keeping the vice-presidency a meaningful post.

Gloria Kingsley, running for secretary, has also figured prominently in working for the College, both in Council and in numerous school clubs and activities. SC Secretary must be conscientious and well-informed. Miss Kingsley has demonstrated that she is both.

The Unopposed and the Unqualified

One of the candidates running unopposed makes "No Vote" an attractive alternative.

Jared Jussim, candidate for treasurer, is completely unsatisfactory. His immaturity, lack of imagination, and ill-considered opinions have made him a Council liability in the past, and would make him a stumbling block ne as built semester, both on Council and on the Student-Faculty resident ee Committee.

We urge you not to vote for the post of treasurer.
the student protest vote is superior to tacit approval of an unqualed candidate.

'55 President

We have, in the past, had our disagreements with MEYER BADEN. When he was Editor-in-Chief of The ampus, we were, by necessity, often at odds.

But never, not even when our competition was most ated, did we doubt MEYER BADEN's innate integrity, s basic competence or his admirable willingness to give his time to serve the student body.

This term, MEYER BADEN is running for the office Senior Class President. We consider him eminently qualified for the position. We think his leadership ability, s open-mindedness and the refreshingly new quality of s ideas will be an asset to the class of '55. We have ven him our unqualified support, and we urge you to te for him.

An Expensive Precedent

This term, a new figure appeared on the College's ournalistic horizon in the form of Tech News.

On the basis of all precedent, Tech News would have d to support itself for a full term before it could reve student fees, or it would have had to prove—by stunt referendum—that its existence was desired. It was student referendum for example that Observation Post me into being just seven years ago, and we saw nothing noble or sacrosanct about Tech News as to make it an ception to this time-tested rule.

But the fee committee didn't see it our way, and Tech News was granted over a thousand dollars of your money. They didn't bother asking you because, well, you were only footing the bill.

Now Student Council has, quite rightly, put the entire matter into your hands.

When the Tech News first applied for funds, Observation Post opposed the newspaper's creation. Although it presented no threat to us, since our own fee allocations would not be changed, we felt that the newspaper's existence would tend to make an unreal and dangerous split between the Schools of Liberal Arts and Technology. We felt that there was no need for Tech News, that the two existing newspapers were well equipped and perfectly willing to cover tech activities. We said that if engineering students wanted to move into the field of journalism, there was plenty of room for them on OP or The Campus.

Since the time we first made our stand clear, five issues of Tech News have appeared, on a rather erratic basis and at a rather fantastic cost. They have written nice feature stories about tech fraternities; they have complimented themselves on their existence numerous times, and their issues have been clean and rather neat on the whole. But, alas, they have done nothing to make us change our minds about the importance, need or indeed, the desirability of their existence.

But we ask you to make up your own minds. We ask you to judge on the basis of what Tech News has produced, what its potentialities are and whether it's worth the money you are paying for it.

The decision is yours to make. The important thing, as far as we are concerned, is that you should make it.

I Worked, I Think, I Promise

Statements Submitted by the Candidates

OP is printing statements of only those candidates who are opposed for major offices.

SC President

Phil Lotter

There is one promise that I will make to you.

Come what may, I'll fight to prevent a mandatory $5.00 fee per student, for the use of Student Union. I for one would not be able to afford it.

As to qualifications, I've been active in Student Government since 1947, and I do mean 1947, and have had diversified experience in practically every branch of Student Affairs.

I've been on Student Council, the NSA Delegation, Treasurer of House Plan, and Carnival Committee, in addition to many clubs, including the Varsity Club.

I've been Sports Editor of Main Events over a period of two years and am presently on the staff of the Campus.

I've also participated in athletics, playing on the Colleges Metropolitan Championship Soccer Team for the last two years, in addition to being on the Executive Board of the Athletic Association.

In setting up my All-College Government, more participatory representation will be given to such organizations as Hillel, Christian Association, Newman Club, House Plan, and especially to the Tech School, whose problems are quite unique.

I'm asking you to vote for me, not because I'm the underdog in the race, but because I am by far the more qualified candidate.

★ BARNEY McCaffrey ★

In order for the Student Council to be a potent force in the formation of a college community government, it must have the support of the students. One way of doing this is in the area of service to the student community. Included in this would be an expanded social functions program. A Charter Day Ball, held in a large hotel, would head the list. A continuance, and wherever possible expansion of, the films, teas, and social dance programs. In the way of offering special services, auto driving lessons at a discount will again be offered. Plans are being made to extend this to dance lessons.

In other areas a Camping Agency will be set up, as well as an agency where clubs can get together to plan activities and discuss problems. A method of conducting accurate regular polls to find student opinion on important matters should be put into effect. A cultural program featuring important speakers from various fields is being planned. Concerning the proposed Student Union I feel that it should be used as an encouragement for already existing organizations to expand their activities, so that all students at the college will become involved in extra-curricular programs.

Knittle Lounge, a senior-faculty baseball game, a theatre party to a College production or a Friday afternoon tea.

As editor-in-chief of The Campus and Chancellor of Lock and Key, I believe I have demonstrated that I have the ability to carry out such a program. As Student Council representative from the Class of 1955 for the past three semesters I have become familiar with the functioning of the Iron Curtain Films . . .

Color films taken behind the Iron Curtain by Andrew Meisels, Editor-in-Chief of Observation Post, will be shown today in Room 126 Main at 12:30 PM.

The movies include scenes taken in Moscow, Minsk, and Budapest. Mr. Meisels will narrate the films and will answer questions about his student-sponsored trip to the Soviet Union and satellite countries.

'55 President

★ MEYER BADEN ★

If I am elected president of the Class of 1955, I plan not only to carry out traditional class functions, such as the Farewell Ball, Numeral Lites, a Senior Show, publication of the Senior Yearbook (on time), Class Nite, a Senior Dance and employment advisement, but I also plan to conduct at least one senior function every week—whether it be a dance in class. Further, the president of the Senior Class has a vote on the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, which group makes important decisions that affect not only the Senior Class but the entire college. I believe that my experience on The Campus and in Student Council will enable me to use this vote wisely.

Joan Shaiken

The reasons why I am running for Senior Class President are different from what you might expect. For three and one-half years, I've given a lot to the college—but have gotten much more! I am running for office because I've developed a good deal of pride in my college. I would like to add my bit of effort to the work of building a better student activities program at OCNY.

Specifically I would work towards the following ends: building a strong Class Council to do the planning and decision making. Groups such as THO, IFC, and HP would be personally informed of the meeting and asked to urge their senior members to attend. Representation from all student units of the college is necessary for an effectively functioning class. Encouraging the planning of many different activities to suit the varied interests of the seniors. The Class Council and general meetings of the Senior Class would make the decision as to policy in regard to an "package deal." No one individual would have the power to decide on such matters.

As Senior Class vice-president and prom chairman this semester, I have become acutely aware of the problems facing us this coming term. I sincerely hope that you will elect me Joan Shaiken, as your Senior Class president to help make your last six months at the college truly memorable ones.

I Worked, I Think, I Promise

Statements Submitted by the Candidates

OP is printing statements of only those candidates who are opposed for major offices.

SC President

Phil Lotter

There is one promise that I will make to you.

Come what may, I'll fight to prevent a mandatory $5.00 fee per student, for the use of Student Union. I for one would not be able to afford it.

As to qualifications, I've been active in Student Government since 1947, and I do mean 1947, and have had diversified experience in practically every branch of Student Affairs.

I've been on Student Council, the NSA Delegation, Treasurer of House Plan, and Carnival Committee, in addition to many clubs, including the Varsity Club.

I've been Sports Editor of Main Events over a period of two years and am presently on the staff of the Campus.

I've also participated in athletics, playing on the Colleges Metropolitan Championship Soccer Team for the last two years, in addition to being on the Executive Board of the Athletic Association.

In setting up my All-College Government, more participatory representation will be given to such organizations as Hillel, Christian Association, Newman Club, House Plan, and especially to the Tech School, whose problems are quite unique.

I'm asking you to vote for me, not because I'm the underdog in the race, but because I am by far the more qualified candidate.

★ BARNEY McCAFFREY ★

In order for the Student Council to be a potent force in the formation of a college community government, it must have the support of the students. One way of doing this is in the area of service to the student community. Included in this would be an expanded social functions program. A Charter Day Ball, held in a large hotel, would head the list. A continuance, and wherever possible expansion of, the films, teas, and social dance programs. In the way of offering special services, auto driving lessons at a discount will again be offered. Plans are being made to extend this to dance lessons.

In other areas a Camping Agency will be set up, as well as an agency where clubs can get together to plan activities and discuss problems. A method of conducting accurate regular polls to find student opinion on important matters should be put into effect. A cultural program featuring important speakers from various fields is being planned. Concerning the proposed Student Union I feel that it should be used as an encouragement for already existing organizations to expand their activities, so that all students at the college will become involved in extra-curricular programs.

Knittle Lounge, a senior-faculty baseball game, a theatre party to a College production or a Friday afternoon tea.

As editor-in-chief of The Campus and Chancellor of Lock and Key, I believe I have demonstrated that I have the ability to carry out such a program. As Student Council representative from the Class of 1955 for the past three semesters I have become familiar with the functioning of the

'55 President

★ MEYER BADEN ★

If I am elected president of the Class of 1955, I plan not only to carry out traditional class functions, such as the Farewell Ball, Numeral Lites, a Senior Show, publication of the Senior Yearbook (on time), Class Nite, a Senior Dance and employment advisement, but I also plan to conduct at least one senior function every week—whether it be a dance in class. Further, the president of the Senior Class has a vote on the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, which group makes important decisions that affect not only the Senior Class but the entire college. I believe that my experience on the Campus and in Student Council will enable me to use this vote wisely.

Joan Shaiken

The reasons why I am running for Senior Class President are different from what you might expect. For three and one-half years, I've given a lot to the college—but have gotten much more! I am running for office because I've developed a good deal of pride in my college. I would like to add my bit of effort to the work of building a better student activities program at CCNY.

Specifically I would work towards the following ends: building a strong Class Council to do the planning and decision making. Groups such as THIC, IFC, and HP would be personally informed of the meeting and asked to urge their senior members to attend. Representation from all student units of the college is necessary for an effectively functioning class. Encouraging the planning of many different activities to suit the varied interests of the seniors. The Class Council and general meetings of the Senior Class would make the decision as to policy in regard to a "package deal." No one individual would have the power to decide on such matters.

As Senior Class vice-president and prom chairman this semester, I have become acutely aware of the problems facing us this coming term. I sincerely hope that you will elect me Joan Shaiken, as your Senior Class president to help make your last six months at the college truly memorable ones.

Iron Curtain Films . . .

Shorr Scores Record 37 Points As Lavender Tops Hunter, 89-77

Paced by the record-breaking scoring performance of Captain Merv Shorr, the College's basketball team rolled to an easy 89-77 victory over Hunter College last night on the loser's court. In the opening game, the Beaver freshmen trounced the Hunter cubs 75-55.

Shorr scored thirty-seven points, breaking the old mark of thirty-six, which he set against Montclair State Teacher's last season. Hitting for eleven field goals and fifteen fouls, the Beaver's "baby tank" was virtually unstoppable.

The record-breaking shot was an easy layup, which he scored with less than four minutes left to play. When he fouled out three minutes later, the crowd of some 800 enthusiastic spectators gave him a standing ovation.

For a while, it looked as though the Lavender was going to pick up its third straight loss instead of its first win. Hunter, hitting phenomenally, from all angles, jumped to an early 18-9 lead, and it was not until the twelve-minute mark that the Beavers forged ahead for good. It was a jump shot by Shorr that gave City its never-to-be relinquished lead. Coach Nat Holman's team led at the half, 45-39.

In the second half, City spurred to a 64-46 spread, as the entire team began finding the range. From then on, the Beaver's lead varied between nine and nineteen points.

A full-court press by the Hawks cut a nineteen point lead to eleven, but a free throw by Ronnie Kowalski after the final buzzer gave the Lavender their final twelve point margin of victory.

The team as a whole played its best game of the season, and much of the sloppiness which characterized the earlier losses to Adelphi and Columbia was eliminated.

Other outstanding performances were turned in by Herb Jacobson, Jack McGuire, Bernie Cohen, Dave Simmons, and George Jensen. Cohen, hitting superbly from the outside in the first half, scored twelve points, while McGuire, a spark plug all evening until he fouled out late in the game, tallied eleven points.

Hunter was led by Bob Schwabe, Larry Joseph, and Ira Schwartz, who scored eighteen, fifteen, and thirteen points respectively.

It was the first win for the Beavers in three games, while the Hawks suffered their first defeat in five starts. Hunter had previously beaten Cooper Union, Towson State Teachers' Brooklyn Poly Tech. and Yeshiva University.

The frosh also played their best game of the season and out-scored their Hunter counterparts by ten points in each half. Alton Waldon, John Kenneally, and Joe Bennardo led the scoring with fourteen, thirteen, and thirteen, respectively. Top-notch performances were turned in by Bob Silver, Bruce Schwed, and Joel Ascher.

Mermen Sunk by Columbia Schloemer Sets New Mark

The College's swimming team was narrowly nosed out yesterday by Columbia, 44-40 at the Lions' pool.

Howie Schloemer was City's big gun winning the 220-yard freestyle event and the 150-yard individual medley. Schloemer had never competed in a medley before, and was a surprise starter for the Mermen. He edged out Dave Orrick, the Lions' fastest swimmer and biggest point getter, and in the process clipped almost six seconds from the previous CCNY standard of 1:46. His time of 1:40.1 broke CCNY's Vic Fulladosa's mark set last season in the Metropolitan Championships.
