Holman Decision Rapped by Alumni Associations

By RAY HAMILTON

The City College Alumni Association has vigorously protested Board of Higher Education's dismissal of Nat Holman, calling it "wrongful." The Board of Directors of the Association, representing over 500 alumni, unanimously passed a resolution on Saturday, which read: "Even if we accept the facts as found in the investigation of the Trial Committee, we see no justification for the action of the Board as a net result as may be proper in any prosecution that may be taken to rectify this injustice."

American Principles

The City College Club, an independent alumni social group, also strongly objected to the BHE action in a letter to The New York Times on Tuesday. They said the decision was "a contradiction of American principles, which actually imperils the structure of our American principles of fair play and order." "The action of the Board has broken the spirit of the alumni. The City College Club sincerely hopes that the Board will rectify this gross injustice and accept the majority report of its trial committee," they continue.

Student Support

"We confirm our faith," the letter concludes, "in the integrity and honesty of Prof. Nat Holman, and we look forward to the day when he will again be served." The letter was signed by: John Cernosimo.

18-Year Vote

Teensagers yearning to vote should be heartened by a news arrival on the campus.

During Academic Freedom Week next month this newspaper will be conducting a survey of college students on the issue of extending suffrage to 18-year-olds. In an attempt to secure the very first results of this study, the campus will be divided into four sections, with each student voting in the section he or she resides. The students will then be asked to answer the following question: "Should the right to vote be extended to 18-year-olds?"

The survey will be conducted on the campus during the week of April 1, and the results will appear in the next issue of the OBSERVATION ORT.

Eligible Voters

Under the old law, only those 21 years old or older could vote. The new law, which goes into effect on November 4, will allow those 18 years of age to vote.

The survey will be conducted by the student body on the campus. The results will be tabulated and published in the next issue of the OBSERVATION ORT.

Great Hall Rich in Colorful History: Spectacular Opening

How many times have you sat in the Great Hall taking final exams and cursed the lack of light in the great hall? Well, matter your troubles are over. If latest reports are reliable. They are all the welcome conditions that a lighting job is going to be done on the Hall, and that students will be able to recognize.

All this talk of renovating the Great Hall raised a few questions about this well-known aspect of our college lives, and at least a few questions can be answered.

Do you know what the figures on the College seal represent? Next time you see one, remember that it is named “The Graduate,” after the central figure of the mural in the hall representing the graduate in the United States, and its pipe extend far above the hall floor. The painting was done by Elbert A. Hubbard as commissioned by the Class of 1879. It is one of the finest paintings by an American artist, and is completed, and was the center of the Quadrangle not as a banner and buy—

City Mermen Finish Sixth In Eastern Competition

The swimmers travelled to Lehigh University to compete in the thirty-first annual Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association Championships and finished sixth in a strong field.

Pittsburgh, the winning team, racked up 94 points to Lehigh's 70. Rutgers followed with 33, NYU with 31. Delaware and CCNY finished fifth and sixth, with 30 and 27 points respectively.

Vincennes failed to make the trip and Howie Schloemer, the man City depended on to pull the team to its high, failed to repeat his 220- and 440-yard freestyle victories of last year.

In the 200-yard backstroke event at 2:25, Howie finished 10 yards ahead of Schloemer in the record time of 2:25.0, which broke Schloemer's ECISA record of 2:25.7. Howie finished in 2:25.

The Lions won the team honors that followed. In the 440-yard freestyle relay, a team of Tony Sousa, Kellogg and Ben Trasen took fifth in the Eastern Relays. The 440-yard freestyle relay team of Trasen, Steve Kosten and Stan Wurchel placed third to Lehigh and Pittsburgh.
