Pupil vs. Teacher...

Doxie Wilkerson, Educational Secretary of the Communist Party of New York State, will debate with Herbert Romerstein, New York City Director of Students For America, today at 3 PM in Room 306 Main. The topic is, "Communism in the Schools."

Professor Wilkerson is also an instructor at the Jefferson School of Social Science. Mr. Romerstein is a former Communist who has testified at Congressional investigating committees and has served as an informant for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is a former student at the Jefferson School, where he was a pupil in one of Dr. Wilkerson's classes.

The debate is part of the program for Academic Freedom Week.

Student Union Board Meeting:

Ask $35,000 Budget Cut; House Plan Seeking Space

By RALPH DANNHEISSER

A proposal to cut approximately $35,000 from the Student Union budget was submitted to the SU Board of Directors at a meeting Monday evening. The report, prepared by the Board's budget committee, called for appropriations totaling $97,667.

The original budget of Dean Alton Lewis, Director of SU, had requested $159,800. This sum was reduced by Dr. Lewis to $132,616.50 on February 23.

The revised budget suggested by the committee is divided into three sections: one comprising anticipated fixed expenses, the second covering needs which are expected to arise and finally $28,375 for "contingencies which might arise but cannot be anticipated at this time."

Major cuts were made in appropriations for cleaning and watchman. The allotment for cleaning was reduced by $7,400 and that for watchman by $15,400. One supervisor's position at $3,000 was abolished.

Bob Mayo, budget committee chairman, said that Dean Lewis, in his budget, had assumed that all available funds had to be spent, whereas the committee's budget comprises only "necessary expenses."

A request was submitted at the meeting for a "group of ten continuous rooms, including an office" at the Student Union for House Plan. The letter, submitted by the House Plan Council, pointed out that House Plan consists of over sixty regularly meeting groups, which constitute one-third of all groups using the Center.

Therefore, the Council felt, "Our request is a reasonable one, which will enable us to continue functioning as we have been, without depriving any other campus group of its rights." Quick action was asked so that organization for the coming term may proceed, and House Plan members "will know where their organization stands."

Mr. Edward Goldberger of the Alumni Association, reporting for the Program Committee, announced that the results of the recent forum on Student Union

5th Amendment Abused By Witnesses—Roy Cohn

By PAUL WEISSLER

Roy M. Cohn, speaking at the College yesterday before an overflow crowd of over 350 people in Room 306 Main, charged that the Fifth Amendment "is now being used as a catch-all phrase by those who want to get away from an unpleasant experience, for every reason except the one in the Constitution."

Speaking with Mr. Cohn was Raymond Fraenkel, Counsel to the New York Civil Liberties Union. In the discussion, "Problems Related to the Fifth Amendment," was sponsored by the Student Government Academic Freedom Week Committee.

Mr. Fraenkel asserted that the motive of a person who pleads the Fifth Amendment is "irrelevant, even if it is unwillingness to involve others." He disputed Mr. Cohn's request for a "strict interpretation of the Amendment" by saying that "it is a perversion of the Fifth Amendment" to refuse permission to apply it in any situation where the person is asked a question that pertains into the area of criminality.

"I'm not against the Fifth Amendment," Mr. Cohn, former dence—that a confession not be driven from a man." He did announce his support for a procedure to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution, so that they would be unable to use the Fifth Amendment. He said that "it is a perfectly legitimate right of investigating committees."

In his opening statement, Mr. Cohn said that Dean Lewis, in his budget, had assumed that

Six Panels Open College Conference Students & Faculty Invited to Attend

By JACK LEVINE

The College community will focus on the basic concepts that underlie its functions at 12 noon today when the Second All College Conference begins. Classes have been suspended from 11:30 AM to 3:00 PM to enable all students and faculty members to attend.

Six panel discussions will revolve around the theme "What are the Responsibilities of the City College in Developing Values in Thought and Action?"

The panels will spend the first fifty minutes in presenting various views on the problem under discussion and then throw open the discussion to the audience's views. The conclusions reached at the meetings will be presented at the Charter Day Ceremonies on May 5, and referred to appropriate groups at the College for implementation.

The first panel will examine the question, "Shall the classroom teacher inculcate values?" in Townsend Harris Auditorium. The discussion group will center its discussion on "Are there values other than course content which the classroom teacher can or should develop in his teaching?" Possible values for discussion would include intellectual, esthetic and moral values.

The second topic, "What active role can and should the student play in inculcating values?" will, it is hoped by the panel, stimulate thought and discussion on "what we go to college for and what we live for." It will meet in Room 105 Main.

Another panel will look into democracy and other values that Student Government may or may not contribute to the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

The fourth panel, "What contributions can other student groups make to the enrichment of values?" will seek to examine the value of faculty advisers to student organizations, and how well student organizations perform their functions. It will convene in Room 306 Main.

"What are desirable Student-Faculty relationships in reference to values?" will be discussed by the fifth panel in Room 315 Main. The discussion is expected to focus on relations in the classrooms and personal relations between students and faculty members.

The last topic, "What is the source and nature of the values secured by engineering students?" was added several weeks ago at the request of several Technology students by the steering committee. The panel will meet in Doremus Hall, Chemistry.

Graduation Tix Scarcity Seen

There is little chance that students other than those being graduated, and their families will be able to attend the graduation ceremonies at Lewisohn Stadium on June 15, at which Dr. Jonas Salk '34 will be given an honorary law degree from the College. Dr. Salk is the developer of the new polio vaccine.

Dr. Arthur Mallon (Education), who is in charge of the arrangements for the graduation ceremonies, said that "the seniors can be expected to ask for as many tickets as they can get because of the presence of Dr. Salk."

Meyer Baden, president of the senior class, said that the seniors will receive about six tickets each.

Some will be for the seats on the field and others for the stadium stands. If some seniors do not require the full amount of tickets, the extras will be divided among those who want more.

There will be about 2,400 students participating in the ceremonies, the students being graduated in June and those who were graduated last January and August.

High Noon

Opportunities to view the College on a community-wide basis have been rare in the school's 108 years of existence. Today at noon, student and faculty will have that chance when the Second All College Conference begins. This year's Conference will seek to find what values lie behind our actions and, if it finds these values wrong, suggest new ones.

There are many questions of values that might be discussed at the Conference. Is Student Government actually democratic, and what should be its aims? Are democratic values being abused by the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, which has only two members elected directly by the student body? Does our college education provide us with the proper intellectual and social attitudes? Should it? A full and honest appraisal of these and other questions may lead to some needed changes.

Last year, we found the report of the first All College Conference almost completely devoid of any concrete proposals. It was a pot pourri of meaningless platitudes. We hope today's Conference will finally lead to the solution of some of the College's more pressing problems. It should be more than a gathering to air wishful thinking, or a pleasant spring afternoon without the bother of attending classes.

It's Your Money

The Student Union budget committee has submitted a drastically reduced budget to the Board of Directors, a budget we feel is more in line with what will be needed for SU.

Instead of allocating money wildly, the budget committee has taken each request and asked itself the question, "Can the expenditure be justified?"

This newly-prepared budget serves well to point up the weakness of the Director of the Union, Dean Alton Lewis' method of appropriation. Dean Lewis included funds for positions and equipment to carry on a program at that time undetermined.

The budget committee deserves applause for its attention to both efficiency and economy. The money it saves—is yours.

We hope that the Board of Directors will show the same consideration for the student body as did the budget committee. House Plan Council, in a letter to the Board, requested that they be quickly allotted ten rooms, so they can plan for the future. The Board is in an excellent position to tell HP that, like all other organizations, any room that student houses get will be determined by student interest in them. We urge that the Board do so.

Some Pitch

Tomorrow and Friday an insurance salesman will come to the College with an unusual pitch: no money down and no monthly payments.

The salesman is the Red Cross and for a pint of blood you can insure yourself and family against having to buy blood for $35 a pint should the emergency arise. It can, you know, and does. Disaster never takes a holiday. Needing blood for yourself or a member of your family, next week or next month, may loom dark in your mind but you cannot escape the possibility. When tragedy strikes it often gives no warning. It would be a double tragedy if you had not done everything to avert its resulting pain and often disastrous expense.

This really, is a good deal. One of the best you could ever make. You have your chance now. Don't pass it up.

Gallagher Ousted by Seniors; New Administration in Power

The Senior Class Council has announced the ouster of Buell G. Gallagher from the Presidency of the College. This action has been taken in accordance with the revolutionist activities of Senior Day, to be held tomorrow. Along with President Gallagher, other administrative officials of the College have also been dismissed.

Meyer Baden, Senior Class President, replaces Dr. Gallagher. By process of "selected breeding," Irwin Kahn will replace Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts and Sciences). Among other administrative personnel to be replaced by the senior class members will be: Dean Abelson by Norma Haber, Dean William Allen (Technology) by Bob Weiss, Dean Leslie W. Engler (Administration) by Allen Marks, Dean Daniel F. Brophy (Student Life) by Irwin Tashbook, Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) by Bob Schore, Dean Shelbune F. Barber (Liberal Arts and Sciences) by Isabel Kersen, Mr. Jerome K. Wilcox (Librarian) by Sheldon Luskin, Mr. Aaron Zweifach (Business Manager) by Ronald Hirsch and Mr. Robert L. Taylor (Registrar) by Richard Dorn.

Observation Post Business Manager Martin Stahl will replace Central Treasurer Irving Slade.

Other administrative posts will be taken over by seniors along with some departmental chairmanships. The new officers will take over when possible at 9 AM or at 12 noon. Teachers have been requested to allow seniors to take over classes where possible. There will be a Student Faculty tea in the Faculty Lounge between 3-5 PM, where seniors will officiate.

At 12 noon in President Gallagher's office there will be a discussion for the All-College

Cohn...

Fraenkel discussed the possible inferences from the use of the Fifth Amendment. "It has been well settled," he said, "that in a court of law there are no inferences," but an employer has the right to question further to determine whether he still desires the services of the invoker. "The important thing," he added, "is that a person must not be dropped automatically" or he has lost a guaranteed right.

Mr. Cohn, in response to a student's question, said that "one who pleads the Fifth Amendment creates the justifiable inference that if he were to answer the question, he would involve himself in some illegal activity." He added that "good faith" is the only criterion for use of the Fifth Amendment.

Robots...

Are CCNY's engineers robots?

Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineering society, is hoping to prove they're not, by inviting all tech students and faculty to submit art works to them. The works will be exhibited in the Technology building on Engineering Day, May 7.

Candidates...

All petitions for Student Government candidates must be submitted by April 29. They should be brought into Room 20 Main.

For the first time this term, freshmen elections will also be included on the ballot. Therefore, freshmen candidates must also submit their petitions by April 29.

Arts Students Getting Higher Salaries: BHE

Liberal arts graduates have never had better employment opportunities than the present, according to a report by the placement directors of the four municipal colleges. The report was released through the Board of Higher Education.

The report indicates that beginning salaries this year range from $50 a week (many of these positions are valued apprenticeships in such fields as social work and accounting) to $90 for some engineering positions. Well-qualified students find some of the highest paying work in the fields of science, mathematics, and sales.

Each year, the report continues, CCNY, Hunter, Brooklyn and Queens colleges graduate 7,000 students. Analyzing the current job market, the placement directors find that the demand for teachers, engineers, secretaries, science specialists, mathematicians, and accountants far outdistances the supply. There are also excellent opportunities in business administration, sales, social work, library science, and dietetics. Graduates trained in the less technical fields need more imagination in finding their niche in the work-a-day world, but once started their long-range prospects are often better than those of their technically trained classmates.

'Nine' Meets Manhattan In League Game Today

Repulsed in their effort to gain first place in the Metropolitan Conference Baseball League, 7-2 by St. John's last Saturday, the Beaver batsmen will try to improve their fourth place standing when they meet Manhattan today at Babe Ruth Field at 3 P.M.

The Jaspers, currently the cellar-dwellers of the league, will be shooting for their first victory. Their five setbacks have been to Hofstra, 14-4; NYU, 9-4; Wagner, 2-1; St. John's, 5-1; and Brooklyn, 6-1. City has also bowed to the Violets and the Redmen, but has defeated the Dutchmen and the Kingsmen.

Righthander Joe Galletta, who picked up his second league win by hurling seven innings of one run ball against Brooklyn last Thursday, is likely to be coach Dr. John LaPlace's starting hurler. John McCoy, a veteran pitcher of coach Dave Curren's all-right handed staff is scheduled to pitch for the Jaspers. Backing up McCoy in the bullpen will be letterman Jim Clark, and three sophomores, John Hinfey, also an outfielder, Marty McGuire and Gerald Markey. Gerry Germann, veteran backstop, will handle the mitt and mask for the Kelly Green.

Shortstop and captain Bob Grady and 1954 All-Met shortstop Bob Coccodrilli, now playing second base, comprise the Jaspers keystone combination. Vince Donnelly, eighth best batter in the circuit last season with a .333 average will start at the hot corner. Sophomore Bob Ronan rounds out the inner defense, guarding the initial sack.

The Jasper's outfield posts will be manned by John Murray, a converted catcher and Manhattan's leading hitter to date with a .380 mark, junior Dick Malloy and sophomore John Mercurino.

Beavers Seek Revenge

Catching Galletta's serves will be captain Jim Cohen. John Ryan, Mike Kucklinca, Raoul Nacinovich and Ed Lubitz from first to third, respectively figure to start in the infield for the Beaver diamondmen. The outfield chores are scheduled to be handled by Pete Troia, right-fielder, Vince Ciccone in center and leftfielder Lou Bernero.

SU...

(Continued from Page One) policy will be disregarded. It was pointed out that the originally proposed questions had been altered through an error, before the forum took place.

A new method has been devised, whereby questionnaires on the types of program desired will be sent to fourteen campus organizations. These include: Day and Evening Session House Plan, Day and Evening Session Student Government, General Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, the day and evening divisions of Hillel, the Newman Club, the Christian Association, Technology Inter-Society Inter-Fraternity Council, and Inter-Fraternity Council.

Netmen...

Winners of four straight matches, the Beaver netmen will place their unblemished record on the line this afternoon against the Fordham racqueteers. The match will be held at the Fleet Tennis Club, 150th Street and Gerard Avenue at 3 P.M.
