The package includes the rental fee for the graduation cap and gown, and tickets to the Farewell Ball, Numeral Lights and Class Nite, which includes admission to the Senior Show.

Cuts Proposed in SU Funds; Budget Down to $133,000

By FRED BORETZ

The Student Union budget after student protest has tentatively been cut from $159,000, to $133,000, Bob Mayo, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Student Union, announced Monday. Mayo stressed the fact that the budget is still subject to changes and that he expects further cuts before the budget reaches its final form.

Dr. Alton Lewis (Student Life), Director of the Student Union estimates that a three dollar fee will be required from day session students and a two dollar fee from night session students. These fees are subject to revision in the final budget is announced.

Major changes are expected in amounts allocated for fellows and student assistants. Dr. Lewis is currently investigating these fees in order to divide the fees of the fellows and student assistants between hours devoted to new functions and hours devoted to supplementing present functions. Some members of the Board of Directors do not think money should be allocated to those services that are now being paid for by some other source.

Money proposed for personal services totals $95,071. Of this $2,000 will be used for administrative fellows; $5,850 will be used for administrative student aides; $4,400 for fellows whose duties are other than administrative or instructional; and $13,680 for student aids in the same categories. These figures are subject to cuts and changes.

Mr. Lewis is also reevaluating the number of weeks the Student Union will be in operation and the number of hours of daily operation. Reducing the hours during which the Student Union will be open is another possible source of cuts.

Peaker Hits Housing Laws

One of the basic reasons for the present housing shortage is the policy of maintaining rents close to the depression level," according to Simeon H. F. Goldstein, of the Citizens Housing Council of New York.

The comment was made by Mr. Goldstein in a speech before the Robert A. Taft Young Republicans Club, Thursday.

Abandon "Rent Freeze"

Goldstein maintained that the practice of holding rents on older apartments down to the low pre-war level is causing difficulty in inducing people to move to newer buildings. This is consequently resulting in a decreasing amount of new construction, according to Goldstein.

Although rent control must still be exercised, he said, this policy of "rent freeze" should be abandoned. Mr. Goldstein added that the recent plan for block by block selection for building violations would be effective in helping keep present buildings in liveable condition.

In the future, the city's problem has to be one of detecting violations and enforcing the laws on the violators, rather than one of ineffective laws. This new plan, he said, will facilitate the discovery of violations.

B'klyn College Debating Club Charges Breach of Freedom

By PAUL WEISSLER

A Brooklyn College club has charged that it is being made the victim of an attempt to restrict academic freedom. The BC Debate Council voted Friday to reject a Speech Department ruling which forbids the club to overrule its faculty advisor on policy decisions.

Anne Wacholder, President of the Debate Council, said that Dr. William Behl, a member of the Speech Department, Brooklyn College, the club's faculty advisor, had misused his position. She noted that since Dr. Behl assumed his position at the start of this term, he has forced the club to withdraw from the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Debate Council (MIDC) and refused permission for the group to accept debating invitations. "We have received about ten contracts," she claimed, "and Dr. Behl has turned down all of them. In addition he has been taking all our mail. Formerly mail came directly to club officers. # Redmen Swamp Lavender City Five Ambushed 83-41

By SELWYN RAAB

The only song Lavender could sing last night was the "Blues in the Night" as St. John's easily romped over the Beavers to an 83-41 win on the victor's court.

The Redmen, out for revenge, because of last year's 64-60 overtime loss to City had their hatchets honed for the kill to the delight of an overflowing partisan crowd.

The only bright spot in the otherwise dreary evening for City was Merv Shorr who garnered the scoring honors for both teams with sixteen points. Ed Cunningham led the Indians with fourteen points.

Whatever hopes the Beavers had of pulling another upset this year, quickly vanished early in the second half when St. John's surged ahead to a 46-22 lead. The Indians easily coasted the rest of the way as the Beavers were unable to find a basket with any consistency and frequently lost the ball on bad passes.

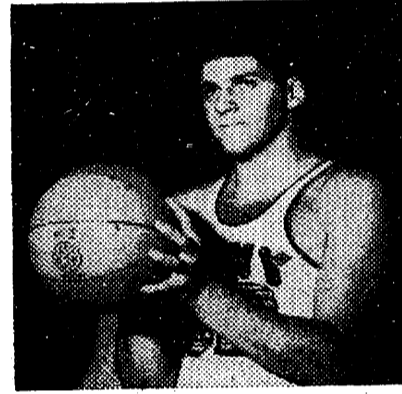

This was the thirty-second meeting of the two teams and the nineteenth victory in the series for the Redmen. City's season record now stands at six wins and seven losses and the victory gave the Indians a win-loss record of 9-9.

The Lavender succeeded in making only twenty-five percent of their shots while St. John's sunk almost fifty percent—thirty five out of seventy-nine attempts from the floor. St. John's not only outshot the Beavers but also completely dominated both boards. City was successful in picking off only one rebound in the entire first half as the Redmen used their height and weight to good advantage.

It was evident at the outset that the Beavers were in for trouble when the Indians forged to a 14-3 lead as Mike Parenti and Ed Cunningham sparked the Redmen with driving layups. The Lavender with Shorr hitting from the inside and Simmons from the outside, managed to close the gap to six points—26-20 before the Redmen, again led by Cunningham, rolled ahead at half-time 36-22. St. John's reeled off ten straight points before Merv Shorr hit with his jump shots at the buzzer ending the first half.

Freedom Week Organized; Arranged for End of April

Initial plans for this term's Academic Freedom Week were formulated last Friday afternoon at a meeting of more than twenty-five students who volunteered to organize the week's program.

Gil Robinov, Director of the Student Government Human Rights Division and Chairman of Academic Freedom Week, announced that the theme for the week of April 21-28 would be "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Expression Thereof" and

Each of the College's clubs and societies are being asked to work on the week's program and sponsor activities which will emphasize the theme of Academic Freedom.

Every student and faculty member is being invited to help in formulating these plans at the next meeting this Friday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 PM in Room 130 Main.

Academic Freedom Week was held at the College for the first time last year. One of several forums conducted on problems related to Academic Freedom was on the subject of "Should Communists be Allowed to Teach?" Other highlights were an address by President Buell G. Gallagher in the Great Hall and the presentation of the Academic Freedom Award to Professor Mark Brunswick (Music).

Cagers Play Host to Rider in Final Home Contest; Face St. John's Tues.

The City College basketball team will play its final home contest Saturday, facing Rider College of Trenton, NJ, at 8:30 PM in the Main Gym.

Before the current campaign got under way the Lavender figured to have an easy time with the Roughriders, but on the strength of comparative scores during the season, Rider rules a slight favorite to win.

The Jerseyites lost to Upsala, 69-76, while City dumped the Vikings, 96-88, but in meetings with three other mutual opponents the Broncos have a decided edge. They whipped Bridgeport, 77-65, while the Purple Knights handed CCNY a 71-61 defeat; Rider turned back Montclair, 75-52, on the Montclair court, while the Lavender defeated the Teachers, 92-84, in the Main Gym; the third mutual opponent was Adelphi, which the Broncos downed, 75-70. Adelphi had previously trounced the Holmanmen, 107-78.

Leading the Roughriders is Captain Leo Chester, 6-foot 2-inch sophomore. Chester will start at guard along with Ed Piotrowski, at 5-foot 11-inch soph. The starting center will be John Grube, a 6-foot 5-inch freshman, while Ed Adams and Dick Krol, a pair of 6-foot sophomores, will be at the forward posts.

The Roughriders, coached by Tom Leyden, have a potentially high-scoring outfit, as evidenced by a 121-82 triumph over Lincoln (Pa.).

In a preliminary game, starting at 6:30, the Beaver freshmen, coached by Dave Polansky, will face the Baruch center five, led by George "Red" Wolfe. These two friendly rivals guided CCNY's hoop fortunes for the past two seasons, Polansky as varsity mentor and Wolfe as freshman coach. Wolfe also guided the 1953 soccer team to the Met Conference title.

An unparalleled situation will occur next Tuesday in St. John's University's DeGray Gymnasium. For a change a New York City rival will be seeking revenge against City, instead of vice versa. Last year the Beavers stunned St. John's with a 64-60 upset victory, and the Brooklyn Redmen do not intend to be caught napping again.

The Indians have compiled an 8-7 record this year, having beaten Roanoke, Fairfield, Holy Cross, Villanova, St. Francis of Brooklyn, Brooklyn College, Wagner and Fordham. Coach Al "Dusty" DeStefano's club has bowed to Temple, North Carolina State, Dayton, Niagara, St. Louis, Ohio State and Manhattan.

The Redmen will play two more contests before facing City on Tuesday. Tonight they tangle with Niagara, an NIT entrant, in Madison Square Garden, and on Saturday they face St. Joseph's in Philadelphia.

The Brooklynites' high scorer is Mike Parenti, a 6-foot 7-inch soph, who is averaging 17.3 points-per-game. Parenti is the starting center. At the forwards will be Ed Cunningham, a 6-foot 4-inch senior (10.0 ppg), and Bill Chrystal, a 6-foot 5-inch soph (17.2 ppg). The guards will be Captain Marty Satalino, a 6-foot senior, and Dick Grogan, a 6-foot 3 1/2-inch junior. There is a possibility that Walt Brady, a 6-foot sophomore, will get the call over Grogan.

The Journal of Social Studies is soliciting term papers and essays suitable for publication. There are openings on the magazine for new staff members. Those interested in joining should place their names in Box 243.

March 1 is the deadline for material to be submitted. The magazine will appear later this term.

Matmen Face NYU on Sat.; Balot Returns

Still seeking their first victory of the season and bent on revenge after last year's "disastrous debacle" the CCNY wrestlers will play host to New York University this Saturday afternoon.

Undefeated co-captain Norm Balot, who missed last week's Kings Point 24-5 setback because of a pulled left shoulder muscle will return to action Saturday in his accustomed 157 lb. class.

Steve Karides, who normally wrestles in the 147 lb. class, but who substituted for Balot against the Mariners and disclosed his left elbow, has been lost for the season. Taken to Knickerbocker Hospital immediately after the injury, Karides was released Monday.

Coach Joe Sapbra, very disappointed after the Kings Point affair is optimistic over his team's future. The grapplers have two bouts remaining on their schedule, which has seen them lose five consecutive matches: Saturday against the University Heightsters and Friday, February 25 versus Brooklyn Poly. Sapbra, experiencing his worst season as wrestling mentor, plans no lineup changes for the NYU meet, except possibly in the 177 lb. weight class where Ira Zingmond may replace Ezra Kulko.

Miss Wacholder cited an example of what the club felt was unreasonable restraint upon their activities. For years, she said, the BC Debate Council has entered the Fordham School of Education Novice Tournament. Dr. Behl claimed that he did not have time to investigate the tournament. He gave the same excuse for his refusal to permit the club to remain in the MIDC, she said. "He's said, 'I can't coach you, so how can you go,' when we asked about debates," she added.

Sources close to the Debate Council stated that if the club's present faculty advisor, Dr. Behl, resigned, the Speech Department would not appoint a new one. Without a faculty advisor the club would not be permitted to operate. Miss Wacholder noted that Dr. Behl has threatened to resign in order to force his policies on the club. # Health Guidance Bureau Hires Readers for Blind

By MIMI TEITELBAUM

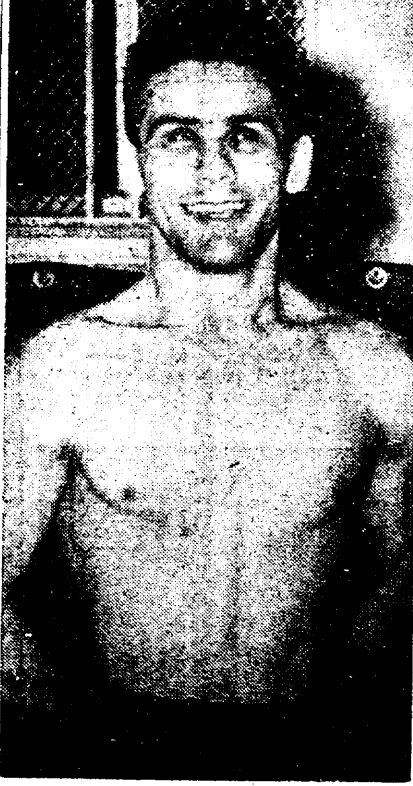

A number of College students hold on-campus jobs that not only net them pocket money, but also aid other students in continuing their studies. These jobs consist of reading text-book assignments to blind students.

The blind students take notes during the readings, as well as in all their classes, with the aid of a Braille writer. This consists of two perforated metal bars resting on a board. The students, using a sharp stylus, perforate a sheet of heavy oaktag beneath, causing the raised symbols of the Braille code to appear on the other side of the paper.

In addition to these manual Braille writers, many blind students possess automatic models, which are similar in appearance to typewriters.

The Health Guidance Bureau, which provides for student readers to the blind, consists of six representatives, one from each of the schools of the College. It was established in 1946, when many disabled veterans enrolled at the College. The Board gives advice and help to all students who are handicapped. In addition to the blind, those who rely on the Board for guidance are students with diabetes, heart trouble, epilepsy, deafness and polio.

Arrangements are made for obtaining the position of reader through the Bureau's office, located in Room 13A Harris. Blind students needing readers apply there at the beginning of each term and arrange their hours with students wishing to read to them. The Bureau, under the direction of Dr. Margaret Condon, keeps records and handles the financial arrangements. The readers are paid on an hourly basis, from funds supplied by the New York State Education Department.

Murrow . . .

A second showing of the Edward R. Murrow-J. Robert Oppenheimer interview will be presented Thursday at 12:30 PM in Room 126 Main. The film is being sponsored by Observation Post, the Senior Class, Campus and the Student Council Educational Practices Agency.

All students are invited.

Unknown College Department Keeps City's Wheels Turning

A search for a screw-driver may lead the way to one of the most highly-mechanized and least-known departments on campus—the College Repair Shop.

Located in Room 7 Main, the Repair Shop houses a vast assortment of machinery, among which are lathes capable of turning out anything from a thumbtack to a crankshaft.

In his office adjoining the Repair Shop, Mr. James F. McLaughlin (Physics) holds forth on the shop and its personnel. Mr. McLaughlin brings out the fact that the men who work in the shop actually comprise a staff of skilled mechanics in addition to being laboratory assistants in the Physics Department. Their official title is that of "College Science Technician." They are entitled to tenure and are paid from the budget of the Physics Department.

From 8 AM until 10 PM, the Repair Shop works full blast at keeping physics, chemistry and engineering students supplied with equipment. The shop also cooperates with instructors by building the special equipment that is needed for lecture and laboratory demonstration and use.

One such assignment was the winding of a spool of wire which had to be so thin that it could be seen under a special magnifying instrument during the operation. Other items are peculiar to The College and cannot be purchased outside. Instructors themselves will devise an experiment, design the component parts, and the piece of machinery will be built by the staff of the Repair Shop.

Tape Recorders to Fuses

Their versatility is often proven through courtesies extended to the other departments. These men must be able to fix a tape-recorder or install an out-size fuse at the drop of a heavy duty lathe or a milling machine. Both such instruments are to be found, among many others in the shop . . . along with an abundance of screw-drivers.

Review

Night of Evil

By Joan Snyder

Theodore, the one-man chamber of horrors, took over Pauline Edwards Theatre stage on Saturday night to display some of his crudest wares.

The beetle-browed monologist too often revolted instead terrified. His horror is of the hatpin-through-the-eye variety—his strange amours smacked of the New York Enquirer. (Prowl about the darkened platform or writing behind his purple de Theodore acted out macabre tales with relish.

He lip-smackingly related his parents' fortunes with an oil-dog elixir that utilized decomposed human bodies. In a more tender mood, he reminisced of an affair with an Amazon who accepted him only after he had pretended to be stuffed.

In these dark fantasies, though he trampled gleefully as usual on the cadavre of good taste, his saturnine wit showed to good effect. But one of his sketches—something about an operation—was pointless and unforgettably sickening. "Get the hook," one of the audience suggested—an injunction that might have proved valuable.

Bandinage between the performer, who looked too slight to fermenting with such wild delusions, and the audience, was uproarious. Theodore hunched within his worn proletarian outfit and glared with mock (presumably) loathing at his hecklers. His verbal manifestations of hatred cannot be repeated via the College press. Occasionally the tumult stopped the show.

Maniacally gleeful, savagely somber, or simply ghastly, Theodore sometimes lit on an effective blend of horror and humor. But he would have done well to know when to stop.

of a faculty advisor's powers, "we are risking suspension," she said. "We would rather be suspended than work under the conditions that now exist—and we are doing nothing now. We have had no debates so far this term," she explained.

Sources at Brooklyn College, who asked not to be quoted, said that they had been told that a factor responsible for the restrictions against the club might be due to the common membership of some club members in "Common Sense," an uncharted publication distributed outside the gates of Brooklyn College. The publication, which is written by BC students, has opposed the election of student government representatives by the clubs. It has called for direct elections of students to the "Student Senate" and "Executive Council" (student governmental bodies at BC) of the student body. These sources claim that Administration officials are strongly opposed to direct elections.

Fencers Slash Brooklyn 18-9; Epeemen Standout

The CCNY fencing team defeated Brooklyn College 18-9 last Saturday at the loser's gym. The triumph, the fourth in a row for the Beavers, brings their season record up to four wins and two defeats. Victory was almost certain after the first round in which the college won eight out of nine bouts. Despite a Brooklyn rally in the second which closed the gap to 13-5, a victory by Charles Piperno early in the third round clinched the match for the Beavers.

For the first time this year it was the epee team that led the attack for the Lavender, winning seven out of nine bouts. Norm Zafman scored a triple victory while Joel Wolfe and Jonas Ulenas each won two. Coach Edward Lucia was especially pleased with this showing by the epeemen, who in the past were the weakest part of the team.

The College foil team remained undefeated this year by nipping the Brooklyn foilsmen 5-4. Piperno won three bouts with Al Gordon and Morton Glasser scoring the remaining two wins. Aubrey Seeman, the College's number one foilsmen, was removed after the first round due to illness. Despite his loss, the foilsmen continued to show the strength they hope will bring them the Iron Man trophy, awarded to the top foil team in the East.

In the sabre division the College won by the score of 6-3. Captain Dick Susco set the pace by scoring his third consecutive triple victory. Martin Wertlieb scored two wins, while Elliot Mills won the remaining bout.

The fencers will finish their season's intercollegiate matches this Saturday when they travel to Jersey City to meet St. Peters College. The Beaver's are hopeful of completing the season with a 5-2 record.

Sport Notes

NIMRODS

The College's rifle team won its eleventh match of the campaign Friday, defeating Queens College, 1384-1225, at the Long Islanders' range.

Sal Sorbera was high scorer for the Beavers with 283 points, followed by teammates John Marciniak and Robert Sullivan, both with 277.

On February 16, the squad journeyed to East Orange, N. J., where they defeated a strong Seton Hall team by a 1395-1374 margin.

Sorbera again led the Lavender in scoring with 288 points, while Hank Sikorski took second honors with 281. However, top man in the meet was Gus Dirienze of Seton Hall with a marksmanship of 288.

The Nimrods record for the season now stands at 11-3.

Grapppler's Losing Streak Over; Beat NYU 24-8

The College's wrestling team ended a five match losing streak by defeating NYU, 24-8, before an enthusiastic crowd last Saturday in the Tech Gym. The victorious Beavers won six out of eight matches.

Sal Sorbera gained three points for the Lavender grapplers by defeating Manny Isaacs, 3-2, in the 123 pound class. Al Taylor, a surprise starter for Coach Joe Saporta's squad, pinned John Reda of the Violets, with a double arm bar at 1:59 of the opening period in their 130 pound contest. The Beavers made the score 13-0 after the 137 pound bout, when Vince Norman, who has been improving steadily, pinned John Grossi at the seven minute mark. The third consecutive pin was registered by another er Beaver, Spencer Nussbaum as he needed only 57 seconds to floor Vince Denato with a well executed half-nelson. The score at the conclusion of this event read 18-0.

NYU finally broke the scoring ice by winning both the 157 and 167 pound matches. Fred Starita, substituting for Capt. Norm Balot, was pinned by Violet star Dave Litwick at the four minute mark. Then Dave York added three points to the Violet score by defeating Bernie Stolls 5-4, in one of the most exciting matches of the day. Ezra Kulko put the Beavers in front 21-8 by defeating John Jackson, 6-0, in the 177 pound class. The final match of the day saw Jim Zoubandis defeat Dick Kleva.

ALL NEW! LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

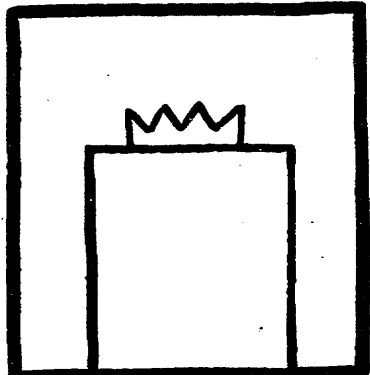

A STUDENT'S BEST FRIEND is Lucky Strike. At any rate, the greatest, up-to-date college survey shows that college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands—and by a wide margin. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Luckies taste better anywhere, any time, as illustrated in the Doodle

Hoopsters Defeat Rider 68-43; Merv Nets 25

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Take comparative scores for what they're worth. The City College hoopsters definitely proved that such comparisons mean absolutely nothing when they "upset" an invading Rider College quintet 68-43 in the Main Gym last Saturday night.

The triumph enabled the Beavers to even their season's record at seven wins and seven defeats and lowered the Rider mark to eight victories against fourteen losses.

Established as slight favorites, according to pre-game relative statistics and compilations by the "experts," the Roughriders were never in contention after the first few minutes of play. Two field goals by Merv Shorr and Ronnie Kowalski, coupled with a pair of free throws by Herb Jacobsohn, against the Jerseyites zone defense forged the Lavender into a quick 6-0 lead.

Led by Leo Chester, their six-foot two-inch sophomore guard, who tallied fifteen points, mostly on long outside set shots, the Broncos rallied to tie the score passing the Rider outfit with his driving maneuvers. Shorr amassed an evening's total of twenty-five markers and did his usual workmanlike job under the backboards by snaring twenty-four rebounds.

Jacobsohn, with six field goals and an equal number of foul tosses was second high scorer with eighteen points, and chipped in with ten rebounds. Kowalski and guard Dave Simmons also helped out with some fine boardwork, each garnering eleven vital rebounds.

Coach Nat Holman was highly pleased with the fine defensive performance turned in by the team.

In the preliminary contest, the Beaver yearlings swamped a Baruch Center aggregation, 72-52 for their eighth victory.

With the Beaver Five trailing 77-37 Coach Nat Holman substituted an entire new team consisting of: Syd Levy, Len Walitt, Greg Moses, Lou Berson, and Bill Lewis, in a vain effort to stem the St. John's tide.

In the preliminary, the Beaver Frosh bowed to the St. John's Freshmen 78-71. Joe Lascher led the way for the Beaver novices with twenty-one points, while Al Maffia and Joe Wilson both had sixteen points each for the Pa-pooses.

Schloemer Sets Record As Mermen Down NYU

By JOE MARCUS

Howie Schloemer made his last appearance in the College's natatorium an unforgettable one last Saturday afternoon by setting a new pool record of 5:03.9 in the 440-yard freestyle.

This sparked the aquamen to a 52-32 victory over New York University and enabled the swimmers to clinch at least a tie for the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Dual Meet Championship.

Mermen Grab Lead

The Beavers jumped off to a five point lead in the opening event by winning the 300-yard medley race with a team composed of Arnie Farber, Shelly Manspeizer, and Jimmy Johnson. Then Schloemer and Roy Schlacter increased the Lavender lead to 13-1 by placing first and second respectively in the 220-yard freestyle, with Bob Zufall of the Violets third. The 50-yard freestyle race was won by John Jandras, of CCNY, with a time of 25.9.

Tony Sousa with a time of 1:46.2 copped the 150-yard individual medley with teammate Richie Silverstein second. NYU then registered eight points when Tom Walters and Pete Cangialos placed first and second respectively in the diving competition. Marv Gettleman, the lone Beaver entrant, placed third.

Sophomore Johnson took first place in the 100-yard freestyle event for the Lavender forces with a 56.6 clocking, while teammate Schlacter placed third. Continuing to dominate the meet, Beaver backstrokers finished one-two in their 200-yard event. Don Strossberg annexed a third for the wilted Violets.

Shelly Manspeizer, the lone City entrant in the 200-yard breaststroke event, sped home the winner, while Bill Etzel and Arthur Margulis took second and third places for the University Heightsters. Schloemer then set the record for the 440-yard freestyle.

momentarily at 10-10. From that junction thereafter it was all City College as the Beavers outscored, outrebounded, and outran the smaller and inexperienced visitors, whose team was comprised of five freshmen and four sophomores.

Shorr, the "baby tank," bulled his way through the Purple and Gold's defense for a two-pointer and a 12-10 advantage which the Lavender were never to relinquish. The bulge mounted to 34-22 at intermission, and ballooned to as much as twenty-seven points in the second half. Repeatedly ha-
