

SG to Sponsor Greeting Card Sale, Dec. 12

City College greeting cards will be put on sale beginning Monday, December 12, according to John Sherwood, director of the project. They will be sold at booths placed throughout the school for three days. The remaining cards can be purchased in the ticket bureau, Room 153, Finley Student Center.

Dollar a Box

The cards will be sold in boxes of ten for $1 per box. One of the five prize winning photographs in the recent Student Government sponsored contest will be placed on the front of the card, and on the back of the card will appear the City College seal. Three of the photographs were taken by Morton Berger. The other two were taken by Ralph Dannheisser and Ralph Simon. Eisner Hall, the Student Center, a view of Shepard Hall from St. Nicholas Terrace, Wagner Hall, and a view of Shepard Hall from the Henry Hudson Arch (138 Street) are the scenes which will appear on the greeting cards.

SC Sponsored

The Student Council Service Agency, sponsoring the project, expects the cards to be bought not only by students but also by the faculty and the alumni. "The cards are a service to the student body and are especially appropriate this term because of the opening of the new campus," Gloria Kingsley, SC President, said.

Blood . . .

Registration for the Blood Bank is falling behind the daily quota according to Chi Lambda and APO volunteers who are operating the registration booths.

Any member of the City College student body, faculty, or student staffs can draw upon the Bank in time of need.

SC Secretary Resigns; SG Exec. Seeks Funds

By MIKE SPIELMAN and RALPH DANNHEISSER

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of Student Government last night, Iris Goldstein announced her resignation as Student Council Secretary. An emergency meeting has been called this afternoon to recommend a successor, and to discuss means for procuring additional funds for SG.

The reasons for Miss Goldstein's resignation were partly the pressures of school work, and also an attempt to protest the present restrictions put on the SC Secretary.

Miss Goldstein feels that the Secretary is burdened with so many menial chores that she couldn't concentrate enough on the policy and decision making aspects of her job.

Also, at last night's meeting, the Executive Committee decided increased funds would be necessary or else some of the services provided by SG would be greatly curtailed.

The money is needed for the hiring of paid secretarial help for SG. Gloria Kingsley, SC President said that, "Paid help is essential to the SG in performing its proper function—serving the

Additional $33,000 Asked To Complete Finley Center

An additional $33,000 over the original Finley Student Center budget of $200,000 must be raised in order to furnish the Center completely according to a report of the Board of Directors. The Board submitted the report to the City College Fund on November 22 and asked for a $33,000 grant from the Fund.

The City College Fund is an alumni fund-raising group which has already made a $200,000 gift to the Center. Of this amount, $180,000 has been expended so far on furnishings and equipment for the Center.

Dean James S. Peace, Direc-

Agency. In addition, he said plans for the incomplete snack bar and the music listening room will be held up.

On the possibility of the request being granted, Mr. David Newton, Associate Director of the Center, said "Officially, I don't know, but I would venture the guess that the Fund could not increase its original commitment of $200,000 for two reasons.

"First," he said, "until thorough evaluation is made of the furnishings and equipment at the center, and how it can best be used, we cannot be specific about additional requests for funds. "Also," he added, "the Fund is not a bottomless pit. It has contributed heavily this year to the College community."

If the Center is not granted the additional $33,000, an evaluation of the needs of the Center will be made before the remaining $20,000 of the Fund gift is allocated. Under consideration by Dean Peace is the installation of an inter-com system between the administrative offices in the Center.

As a security measure, Dean Peace is also considering installing paging loudspeakers in the corridors of the Center. The loudspeakers would be advantageous in securing the building, he explained, in the event of another incident such as the attack on a student on the third floor of the Center last October.

Dean James S. Peace.

To Hear Decision

Director of the Center, will try to meet with President Buell G. Gallagher today to learn the alumni group's decision on the request.

If the request is not granted, about forty rooms in the Center will be only partially furnished, according to Joe DeMaio, Director of the Finley Managers student body to the greatest extent."

According to Arnie Deutchman, Class of '58 Rep., SG services such as mimeographing, final exams, schedule of teachers, and efficient publicity service, would be affected.

Several means of obtaining the added funds were discussed. These included the possibilities of a tax on each individual student, and a graduated tax, according to membership, on the various campus organizations. Also suggested was an admission charge for future Friday Night Student Center Balls.

New System

In other actions last night, the Committee voted unanimously to introduce a new system of chartering College Fraternities. Under the Exec. proposal which, if passed by SC, will be referred to the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, provisional charters would be granted to new groups for a two semester period, prior to becoming permanent. During this time the fraternity would be entitled to use the College's name and facilities.

Suggested by DeMaio

The proposal resulted from a suggestion by Joe DeMaio, President of the Interfraternity Council, who asked the Committee to institute a ten month waiting period for the granting of a charter to a newly organized fraternity. DeMaio felt that this would be a safeguard against "social groups using three Greek letters for a name, smearing the name of the College."

Ousted Hunter Prof. Entitled To Trial, State Court Rules

The Court of Appeals of New York State ruled last week that a Hunter College faculty member, discharged for Communist party membership, was entitled to a court trial of the charges against him.

The case involved Dr. Charles W. Hughes, former Associate Professor of Music at Hunter. He was suspended in April, 1954, and dismissed last October by the Board of Higher Education.

About thirty-five New York City teachers have been dismissed for failing to satisfactorily answer questions put to them in departmental trials. However, in an article in the New York Times last Thursday it was stated that according to legal authorities the decision did not appear to set a precedent for reopening in court the departmental trials and dismissals.

In February, 1953, Richard M. Austin and Hyman Gold, employees in the Registrar's office of Uptown City College, were suspended from their positions by President Buell G. Gallagher. They were suspended, under BHE regulations, because of their use of the Fifth Amendment as grounds for refusing to answer questions of a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

In arriving at their unanimous opinion, the Court decided that the sole question before them was "whether a public school or college teacher of this state, dismissed because of Communist Party membership, has a right after dismissal to a court trial of the same charges." The Court decided in the affirmative.

Richard M. Austin
Suspended in '53

In all cases to date, except that of Dr. Hughes, the teachers have been dismissed on the ground of subordination for refusing to answer questions with regard to alleged Communist Party affiliations.

NSA to Detail Tour Program

A program for potential student tourists to Europe will be held tomorrow by the College's National Student Association (NSA) delegation.

The Association's summer program will be described at the meeting, which will be held at 12:15 PM in Room 204. Klapper. In addition, Louise Shacknow, a student who traveled through Europe on an NSA tour last summer, will describe her experiences.

NSA will run twenty tours next summer through Europe, the Balkans and the Middle East. They will range in cost from $625 to $1000, with the average approximately $875. Last year over 400 students from the United States took part in the program.

WUS to Sponsor Discussions Concerning Campus Activities

By JACK MONET

The World University Service will hold a symposium and workshop on the topic "Campus Life Here and Abroad" on Wednesday afternoon, December 14, Annette Fishbein, Chairman of WUS announced yesterday.

Edward R. Murrow and John Gunther have been invited by WUS as guest speakers, and several faculty members, including Mr. Kaikhosrov D. Irani (Philosophy) and Professor Abraham Halkin (History), have been asked to act as panel moderators for the workshop sessions.

The workshops will hold discussions on the social life, politics, religion, curriculum and student government of universities throughout the world. Free coffee will be served at the affair.

Miss Fishbein also announced the plans for WUS Week, scheduled for December 15 through December 23. Many of the organizations on campus will aid WUS in the fund raising program. Hillel will start off the week with a Maccabean Festival on December 15. Performances will be given by the Hillel dramatics, chorus, and folk dance groups.

On December 16, WUS is sponsoring a joint Day and Evening Session Friday Night Dance.

Miss Fishbein urges all organizations wishing to participate in WUS Week to contact her in Room 115, Finley Student Center.

Edward R. Murrow
Invited to Attend

Interested organizations may also send representatives to a WUS committee meeting which will be held today in Room 115, Finley Student Center. Plans for WUS Week will be discussed at the meeting.

PUBLISHED SEMI-WEEKLY

Toward the Future

A gallery of City College students we have known would inevitably include the fellow whose only after-class activity is the cafeteria, varied by a nap in a lounge. He may wear white bucks, but they carry him only as far as the subway. His chief comment on co-curricular life is a sneer at student "politicians"—although he'll complain when a dance is overcrowded or fees are raised.

His type is so common that almost every semester Student Council must go begging for people to run for office. This situation is all the more bewildering on a campus whose students are supposedly alert citizens, attuned to national and world affairs. Such students cannot logically ignore the activities at their own College, which in large measure reflect—and may shape—those of the outside world.

When ideas are stunted or student independence repressed on college campuses, the nation will inevitably be the poorer for it. Men and women who learn in college to form convictions and fight for them will be real additions to a world sorely in need of courage. Although Council does not deal directly with outside politics, such conceptions as membership lists and investigations of teachers are brought up and examined.

In addition, concrete benefits for the school may be achieved through Student Council. Its members to a large extent may decide the future of new organizations, the facilities for clubs, and even that matter so important to College students—fees. In debate, Council members learn more about the intricacies of logic and oratory than two years of Speech can possibly give.

By the way, they get a good deal of pleasure out of having a part in running the school. A good, alert Council can be a tonic to school activities. In one semester not long ago, an inexpensive driving program was begun, a prom started, and long strides taken toward improved student-faculty relations.

City College will be judged by outsiders largely on the basis of its Student Government. Its members discuss crucial national matters every summer with other college leaders at the National Student Association Congress. The Administration at the College gets its impressions of the student body mainly through its elected representatives. We cannot afford to let positions go to the unworthy through default.

We have always believed that City College students are capable of governing themselves with intelligence. It remains for the students to recognize the importance and the privilege of self-government. The time has arrived for Student Council aspirants to start circulating petitions in order to run next month. We urge all students who are concerned with the future of their College to do so.

A Good Opportunity

As an example of the power for good that Council members may have, the SC Executive has been asked by the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Affairs to review its chartering procedures. A tightening of the standards used in chartering new campus organizations could lead to financial benefits for the students—or, at least, might avoid deficits such as we have this semester.

We are particularly concerned with "newspapers" aimed only at specific groups, such as Education majors. No campus group is more costly than a newspaper, as Tech News has proven by costing $860 of the $1200 required by student organizations this term. The gap may have to be filled by a rise in student fees.

SFCSA has suggested breaking down the charter requirements so that a group which is granted a charter may be judged ineligible to produce a newspaper with Student-Faculty Fee Committee funds. This seems a reasonable idea. We have maintained that most news made in the College is not restricted to any group, and that information of special interest to various schools may be put out, inexpensively, in mimeographed form.

In recognizing these financial facts of life, the SG Executive would prove itself vigilant of the best interests of the student body.

'Dogcart College' Idea Spur to Student Debates

By MARTY SIEGEL

These days not even the oldest janitor or elevator operator at the college remembers the boys of the Clionian Society. Clionia, the oldest College club is presently known as the Debating Society. It was formed in 1851 by lower classmen in an effort to create a college atmosphere and dis-prove the opinion that City was a "dogcart College." The opening meeting was attended by only ten students. This situation continued for another year because the upper classmen refused to join an organization founded by freshmen.

To add to Clionia's membership problem, a rival debating society was formed the next year. It was called Phrenocosmia. The first meeting debated the proposition that "political themes are fit subjects for the pulpit." The winning side's stand is not on record.

Two years after it was formed Phrenocosmia had ten members. Of these ten, eight were officers. The balance was made even more uneven when one of the rank and file quit the club and took the book containing the minutes of each meeting with him. Because of this nothing is known about Phrenocosmia after this time except that it was "publicly disgraced" at its annual dinner in 1956.

The president came to the affair drunk and lowered the level of the whole party. He was later made to apologize. One of the clauses in the apology was that he must "refrain from boasting of the offence."

In 1853 the Board of Education adopted a set of rules regulating the clubs. Their number was limited to two, they could be dissolved at any time, faculty advisors had to be present at all the meetings and they were not allowed to meet at night. The clubs refused to accept these rules and left the campus as a protest. They won out when the rules were withdrawn in 1857. During the fight Clionia changed its motto from "Brothers skilled in debate" to "We fight as brothers."

One of the most important of the Clionian Society's functions during most of its existence was the compilation of its library. This library contained only books that were banned from the College Library. Some of the titles were "The Decameron" and "Tom Jones."

In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the debating societies lost much of their membership to the fraternities. Both clubs finally merged and the new group was called the "Debating Society."

During the late 1800's both societies published magazines but only one of them lasted into this century. This was the "Clionian", which was last published in 1935. It is unknown though, whether it was published by the debating society. Those connected with the society through 1935 say publication was discontinued the year before.

The debating societies performed the double function of keeping the students interested in world affairs and in extracurricular activities. A reading of a list of the topics discussed gives a picture of changing conditions at the College and in the world. One question still remains: Who published the "Clionian" in 1935?

Student Chases Cockroaches, Australian Ones in Particular

One student at the College chases cockroaches to study rather than to stamp. At present Eli Horowitz is working on the home-grown variety but if he receives the Fulbright Scholarship for study in Australia he has applied for, he will have new roach subjects.

The Australian cockroach, or Periplanta Americana, is the scourge of the farmers in the northern region of Australia, according to Horowitz. It has no natural enemies and it multiplies at a terrific rate. Horowitz wants to study its life cycle and parasites in the hope of finding means to destroy these pests before they can procreate. After a year of study, Horowitz plans to return to the United States and publish his findings.

At present, Horowitz is working in Microtechnique with Professor Joseph Copeland (Biology) in preparation for his projected studies. Because of the dearth of Australian cockroaches in this country, Horowitz has been working with any and all insects he can find. He is imbedding them in Bioplastic, a new technique which makes the specimen permanent and easily studied.

Why do more college men and women smoke

than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance—cellulose—found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Broadcasters Send Out Dance . . . Call For 'Sexiest' Voice'

By BRUNO WASSERTHEIL

Starting tomorrow, four students will start on a search—wearing blindfolds. At the stroke of noon, some top members of the Beaver Broadcasters will begin to hunt for "the girl with the sexiest voice at the College."

To insure strict impartiality and to be shielded from feminine pulchritude, wiles and winks, the judges, while doing their work, will remain completely blindfolded.

Any girl at the College is eligible to enter the contest. The prize to the winner will be a regular fifteen-minute broadcast over the College's radio station, WVCC, operated by the Beaver Broadcasters. From 12 Noon to 2 PM tomorrow and next Thursday, auditions will be held in Room 211 Shepard. Contestants will be allotted five minutes during which they can just talk or read any selection they choose. Tape recordings will be made of their performances so they can be played back and compared to help the judges come to a decision.

The winner of the contest, according to Aaron Janowski, program director of WVCC, will be announced on the opening broadcast of the radio station this semester on Thursday, December 15. All broadcasts will emanate from Rooms 343 and 344 Finley Student Center. The station formerly had its studios in the Department of Speech Office in Shepard.

Bob Lifton, chief engineer of WVCC, says that the broadcasts will be heard in five buildings on the South Campus: Finley Student Center, Downer, Stieglitz, Park and the Gate House. The new transmitter, built by members of the Beaver Broadcasters, is twenty times more powerful than the one used last semester.

The judges consider themselves connoisseurs of the subject they will weigh. Although they will decide on the quality of vocal vibrance alone, the contestants must be warned that as soon as the winner is announced the blindfolds will come off.

But Can She Talk?

A ten-piece band will feature the Student Center Ball Friday in the Finley Student Center Grand Ballroom. Dance begins at 8:15 PM. This is the first time a band of this size will play in the Ballroom. Admission by identification card only.

Cagers . . .

Bill Lewis, six-three junior, has earned one starting forward post by virtue of his persistent hustle, a deadly jump shot, and his ability to snare rebounds.

The fifth starter will be burly six-four 220 pound senior George Jensen, the Lavender's number one rebounder.

The other senior on the team is Ted Brimat, a five-nine "spitfire" in his third year of varsity competition, including one season at Hunter College.

Fifteen Man Squad

Jim Sullivan, six-two, and two backcourt players, Al DeMaria and Stan Friedman, both five-eight, are the other juniors on the squad.

Three members of last year's winning frosh squad and two other sophomores complete the fifteen-man squad. The most impressive have been a pair of set shot artists Richie Garber, five-five and a half, and Joe Bernardo, five-nine. The other newcomers are Pete Marsh, six-eight, Joel Ascher, six-four and top rebounder of the frosh squad of last season, and Marty Doherty, five-eight.

Veteran Team

The Adelphi aggregation has mainly an all veteran squad, with three seniors, six juniors and only two sophomores. The Panthers compiled an outstanding 16-5 record last season, and are coached by the veteran George Faherty.

Among the better returning lettermen are co-captains Harvey Halfond, six-one, and Gil Scott, an even six footer. Halfond has a good set shot and is very fast, while Scott is a speedy backcourt man with a good jump shot from around the circle.

The other probable starters are six-six Bernie Ehrlich, the team's number one rebounder; Marty Funk, a six-five junior; and Larry McDonough, a six-three junior, who is a constant ballhawk on defense.

The Lavender freshman mentor Dave Polansky is experiencing difficulty in selecting a starting five because of a leg injury to Alex Deia, who Polansky counted on as his starting center. John Pardo, another six-four man, will most likely open at the pivot position. Tony Breaux, six-two, and Julio Delatorre, six-foot, a pair of real racehorses who can drive and jump well will comprise the forwards. Five-eleven Steve Marks, and five-eight Bernie Mennis should form the backcourt duo.

The probable varsity lineups:
CITY Pos. ADELPHI
(3) G. Jensen S. Marty Funk (4)
(15) Bill Lewis F. L. McDonough (14)
(9) Syd Levy C. B. Ehrlich (11)
(22) R. Schefflan G. H. Halfond (15)
(7) Lou Berson G. Gil Scott (7)
City Reserves: (6) Marty Doherty; (8) Stan Friedman; (13) Al DeMaria; (14) Pete Marsh; (16) Richie Garber; (21) Jim Sullivan; (23) Joel Ascher; (31) Joe Bernardo; (35) Arnie Weinstein; (45) Ted Brimat.
Adelphi Reserves: (5) Harvey Halfond; (7) Myron Gordon; (8) Bill Wellens; (9) James Bedell; (12) Joe Sternheim; (16) Karl Soderstrom.
Officials: Jammy Moskowitz and Nat J. Volpe.

'Kouts' Met Scoring Leader; Wostl Ties for Second Place

Johnny Koutsantanou, the College's outstanding soccer competitor, who has gained several All-American, All-New York State, and All-Metropolitan conference honors, and had captured the Met League scoring championship last season, added another title to his repertoire by regaining the league scoring crown.

Kouts' eight goals during the recently completed campaign placed him three ahead of runners-up Wolfgang Wostl, his teammate, Denis Fekete (Queens), Gabe Schlisser (Hunter), Bob Siefert (NY Maritime), Ray Miklas (LI Aggies) and John Deans (Pratt).

The largest outburst by the flashy center forward came in the Beavers opening game against Pratt Institute, when he rammed home three tallies. Two markers against Adelphi, and one in each game against the Long Island Aggies, Brooklyn and Hunter, completed his total, and upped his individual lifetime record to thirty-one; a City College career standard.

Decisive Goals

Wostl had held undisputed possession of second place last year by netting eight goals, which placed him behind "Kouts" thirteen. In the Lavender's 1-0 early-season triumph over Kings Point, Wostl caged the lone score; and he garnered the game-clinching tally in the thrilling 3-2 victory at West Point.

After a slow start Morris Hocherman, the Lavender's hustling inside right, tied for fourth position with Bob Perez (Hunter), Gabe Diaz (Hunter), Jon Schulmeister (NY Maritime), Joige Villalba (Kings Point), and Blaise Bookis (Queens), as he tallied four goals in City's last three contests.

Defenseman Nets Two

Scoring statistics are somewhat deceiving in soccer because the five forwards do the bulk of the scoring. Halfback is mostly a defensive position, while fullback and goalie are completely defensive. Thus, only one Beaver other than a forward tallied this season. That was Bob Hayum, the Lavender's erstwhile co-captain, who netted an extraordinary total of two goals.

Three Others Score

Vahe Jordan, who missed the last three encounters because of pneumonia, accounted for two tallies during the campaign. Stan Spielman, who played excellent ball in the last few games, and Billy Arnheiter, who started the year at outside right, rounded out the scoring for the 1955 Beaver aggregation by tallying one goal apiece.

Skating . . .

The College's first ice skating party of the season will be held by the Class of '59 this Friday at 8 PM at the Wollman Memorial Ice Skating Rink in Central Park. Tickets may be purchased only at the rink for 50 cents per person. Skates can also be rented for 50 cents for the entire evening.

Pivotmen Hold Key to Knights 1955-56 Basketball Fortunes

The lack of an efficient pivotman, which usually spells doom for many collegiate basketball quintets, remains the big question mark for a Queens "five" that is abundant in talented forecourt and backcourt performers.

Jim Lawler, a six-foot, five-inch, 230-pound slow-moving senior and Werner Norton, a six-foot and one-half inexperienced sophomore, hold the key to the Queensmen's fortunes this season, according to coach Robert H. Salmons. An All-American candidate at Murray State Teachers College where he teamed with the inimitable Joe Fulks, Salmons is starting his ninth year as varsity basketball mentor at the Flushing school.

Right now the Queens standouts are Don Hill, a six-foot, three-inch junior forward, with a highly effective jump shot, and captain and court general, fifteen guard Leo Saldinger. They

Cagers Receive Initial Test At Adelphi College Saturday

By BERT ROSENTHAL

The College's inexperienced basketball team will be tested for the first time this season at the Garden City, Long Island proving grounds on Saturday night at 8:30 PM against a highly-rated Adelphi quintet. They will be unleashed by the noted cage scientist, Prof. Nat Holman, who will be making his thirty-fifth test as City College coach. The City freshmen will engage the Adelphi frosh at 6:45 PM in the preliminary game of a gala doubleheader program.

Coach Nat Holman Starts Thirty-fifth Season

Whether the Beavers will prove as explosive as an H-bomb or as meek as a dud, has been of major concern to all hoop followers at the College, since the squad started its experiment process on November 1. Because of the many graduation losses and the ineligibility of many of the most promising crop of freshmen hoopsters in five seasons, most "experts" are pessimistic. However, only time will tell.

Time Will Tell

Holman will undoubtedly unveil a starting array composed of three juniors and two seniors. Ralph Schefflan, a six-one junior, who averaged 6.3 points per game last season will be at one guard position. Schefflan, who gained a first-string berth at mid-season of last year following the graduation of Jack McGuire, possesses a prolific one-handed jump shot, is a good driver and is very fast.

Captain Lou Berson, one of the Beavers "Mighty Mites" will open at the other guard berth. The diminutive five-seven and a half senior, is a hard driver, possesses a fine set shot and has the necessary attributes of a court general.

The pivot position will be filled by Syd Levy, a gangling six-nine, 200 pound junior who saw limited action last season. He has proven to be a much improved (Continued on Page Three) ments against Pratt.

Art Simpkins, a six-one solidly built rebounder, who also starts as full back on the Knights strong soccer team, is a highly regarded performer and a likely starter.

The remainder of the squad includes Fred Machlus, smallest man on the team at five-six; Carl Hoeherman, a six-one junior; Art Goldberg, a six-two junior; Don Jaffe, a six-three senior; Tom Fenninger, a six-one and a half sophomore; and Bob Dady, a six-three sophomore.

were most impressive in the team's 95-60 defeat by the Beavers during the last campaign.

A leg injury to third-year regular George Reda, a five-ten senior, which will sideline him for three or four weeks, has thrown open one starting guard post.

Two highly touted sophomores, five-eleven Bob Bass, the outstanding scorer on the frosh squad of 1954-55 with a twenty-two per game average, and five-ten George Harvey, who netted sixteen a contest for the freshmen, are pressing several veterans for opening game assign-

HI! JOIN ME FOR A LUCKY DROODLE?

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution, see paragraph below.

HERE'S A DROODLE THAT PACKS A PUNCH. It's titled: Lucky smoke rings blown by prizefighter with tooth missing. It packs a moral, too: Why knock yourself out looking for a better-tasting cigarette when all you have to do is light up a Lucky? Luckies taste better, first, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is TOASTED to taste better. So light up a Lucky. It's the winner — and still champion — for better taste!
