Six Panels Open College Conference

By JACK LEVINE

The College community will focus on the basic concepts that "the College in Developing Values in Thought and Action?" will revolve around the theme "What are the Responsibilities of the Student to the College?"" The panels will spend the first part of the afternoon reviewing various views on the problem under discussion and then throw open the discussion to the audience. The conclusions reached at the meetings will be presented at the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

The fourth panel, "What contributions can other student groups make to the enrichment of values?" will be addressed by the fifth panel in Room 315 Main. The discussion is expected to focus on relations in the classroom and personal relations between students and faculty members.

The last topic: "What is the source and nature of the values that the classroom teacher can or should develop in his teaching?" Possible values for discussion would include intellectual, aesthetic and moral values. The second topic, "What active role can and should the student play in inculcating values?" will, it is hoped, be the panel stimulating thought and discussion on "what we go to college for and what we live for." It will meet in Room 105 Main.

The other topic, "What other activities will the College community participate in through different groups and organizations?" will be addressed by the sixth panel in Room 318 Main. The discussion is expected to be concerned with the activities of student organizations and the extent to which they contribute to the enrichment of values.

Student Government may or may not contribute to the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

The second panel will examine the question, "Shall the classroom teacher inculcate values?" in Townsend Harris Auditorium. The discussion group will consist of all students and faculty members. The second panel will examine the question, "Shall the classroom teacher inculcate values?" in Townsend Harris Auditorium. The discussion group will consist of all students and faculty members.

The College community will focus on the basic concepts that "the College in Developing Values in Thought and Action?" will revolve around the theme "What are the Responsibilities of the Student to the College?"" The panels will spend the first part of the afternoon reviewing various views on the problem under discussion and then throw open the discussion to the audience. The conclusions reached at the meetings will be presented at the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

Graduation Tix Scarcity Seen

There is little chance that students other than those being graduated, and their families will be able to attend the graduation ceremonies at Lewisholm Stadium on June 15, at which Dr. Jonas Salk will be given an honorary law degree by the College. Dr. Salk is the developer of the new polio vaccine.

Dr. Arthur Mallon (Education), who is in charge of the arrangements for the graduation ceremonies, said that "the seniors can be expected to ask for as many tickets as they can get because of the presence of Dr. Salk."

A request was submitted at the alumni council meeting for a "group of ten continuous rooms, including an option" at the Student Union House Plan. The letter, submitted by the House Plan Council, pointed out that House Plan consists of over sixty regularly meeting groups, which constitute one-third of all groups using the Center.

Therefore, the Council feels, "Our request is a reasonable one, which will enable us to continue functioning, as we have been, without depriving any other campus group of its rights." Quick action was asked so that organization for the coming term may proceed, and House Plan members "will know where their organization stands."

Mr. Edward Glodower of the Alumni Association, reporting for the Program Committee, announced that the results of the recent forum on Student Union Board Meeting:

Ask $35,000 Budget Cut;
House Plan Seeking Space

By RALPH DANNHEUSER

A proposal to cut approximately $35,000 from the Student Union budget was submitted to the SU Board of Directors at a meeting Monday evening. The report, prepared by the Board’s budget committee, called for a $45,000 reduction overall, down from $159,000 to $114,000.

The original budget of Dean Lewis, Director of SU, had requested $159,000. The content was reduced by Dr. Lewis to $132,410 before February 22.

The revised budget suggested by the committee is divided into two parts: 616.50 on February 23.

Major cuts were made in arrangements for cleaning and watchman. The allotment for cleaning was reduced by $7,460 and that for watchmen by $5,400. One supervisor’s position at $5,000 was abolished.

Bob Mayo, budget committee chairman, said that Dean Lewis, in his budget, had assumed that all available funds had to be used, whereas the committee’s budget committee only "necessary expenses."

The request was submitted at the meeting for a "group of ten continuous rooms, including an option" at the Student Union House Plan. The letter, submitted by the House Plan Council, pointed out that House Plan consists of over sixty regularly meeting groups, which constitute one-third of all groups using the Center.

Therefore, the Council feels, "Our request is a reasonable one, which will enable us to continue functioning, as we have been, without depriving any other campus group of its rights." Quick action was asked so that organization for the coming term may proceed, and House Plan members "will know where their organization stands."

Mr. Edward Glodower of the Alumni Association, reporting for the Program Committee, announced that the results of the recent forum on Student Union Board Meeting:

Six Panels Open College Conference

By PAUL WEISSLER

The College community will focus on the basic concepts that "the College in Developing Values in Thought and Action? will revolve around the theme "What are the Responsibilities of the Student to the College?" The panels will spend the first part of the afternoon reviewing various views on the problem under discussion and then throw open the discussion to the audience. The conclusions reached at the meetings will be presented at the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

The fourth panel, "What contributions can other student groups make to the enrichment of values?" will be addressed by the fifth panel in Room 315 Main. The discussion is expected to focus on relations in the classroom and personal relations between students and faculty members.

The last topic: "What is the source and nature of the values that the classroom teacher can or should develop in his teaching?" Possible values for discussion would include intellectual, aesthetic and moral values. The second topic, "What active role can and should the student play in inculcating values?" will, it is hoped, be the panel stimulating thought and discussion on "what we go to college for and what we live for." It will meet in Room 105 Main.

The other topic, "What other activities will the College community participate in through different groups and organizations?" will be addressed by the sixth panel in Room 318 Main. The discussion is expected to be concerned with the activities of student organizations and the extent to which they contribute to the enrichment of values.

Student Government may or may not contribute to the College Community. The discussion will take place in Room 306 Main.

The second panel will examine the question, "Shall the classroom teacher inculcate values?" in Townsend Harris Auditorium. The discussion group will consist of all students and faculty members.
High Noon

Opportunities to view the College on a community-wide basis have been rare in the school's 108 years of existence. Today at noon, student and faculty will have that chance when the College Student-Faculty Committee. This year the Conference will seek to find what values lie behind our actions, and if it finds these values wrong, suggest new ones.

There are many questions of values that might be discussed. Is the College in such poor financial condition as to make democratic, and what should it be? Are democratic values being abused by the Student-Faculty Committee? Is Student Faculty actually a student body? Is there any concept of intellectual and social attitudes? Should it? A full and honest appraisal of these and other questions may lead to some needed changes.

Last year, we reported the first of the first All College Conference almost completely devoid of any concrete proposals. It was a pot pourri of meaningless platitudes. We hope this year the Conference will finally lead to the solution of some of the College's more pressing problems. It should be more than a gathering to air wishful thinking, or a pleasant spring afternoon without the bother of attending classes.

It's Your Money

The Student Union budget committee has submitted a drastically reduced budget to the Board of Directors, a budget which will, it says, get the club what it needs.

Instead of allocating money wildly, the budget committee has taken each request and asked itself the question, "Can the expenditure be justified?" It's a wise budget with well set up to point the weakness of the Director of the Union, Dean Alton Lewis' method of appropriation. Dean Lewis included funds for positions and equipment to carry on a program at that time undetermined.

The budget committee deserves applause for its attention to both efficiency and economy. The money it saves is yours.

We hope that the Board of Directors will show the same consideration for the student body as did the budget committee, House Plan Council, in a letter to the Board, requested that they be quickly allotted ten rooms, so they can plan for the future and be ready in an excellent position to tell HP that, like all other organizations, any room that student houses get will be determined by student interest in them. We urge that the Board do so.

Some Pitch

Tomorrow and Friday an insurance salesman will come to the College with an unusual pitch: no money, down and no monthly payments.

The salesman is the Red Cross and for a pint of blood you can insure yourself and family against having to buy blood for $35 a pint should the emergency arise. It can, you know, happen. In an instant of a day, never take the day for granted, you never take the day for granted, if you never have done everything to avoid its resulting pain and often disastrous expense.

This really is a good deal. One of the best you could ever make. You have your chance now. Don't pass it up.

It's Your Money

The Student Union budget committee has submitted a drastically reduced budget to the Board of Directors, a budget which will, it says, get the club what it needs.

Instead of allocating money wildly, the budget committee has taken each request and asked itself the question, "Can the expenditure be justified?" It's a wise budget with well set up to point the weakness of the Director of the Union, Dean Alton Lewis' method of appropriation. Dean Lewis included funds for positions and equipment to carry on a program at that time undetermined.

The budget committee deserves applause for its attention to both efficiency and economy. The money it saves is yours.

We hope that the Board of Directors will show the same consideration for the student body as did the budget committee, House Plan Council, in a letter to the Board, requested that they be quickly allotted ten rooms, so they can plan for the future and be ready in an excellent position to tell HP that, like all other organizations, any room that student houses get will be determined by student interest in them. We urge that the Board do so.

Some Pitch

Tomorrow and Friday an insurance salesman will come to the College with an unusual pitch: no money, down and no monthly payments.

The salesman is the Red Cross and for a pint of blood you can insure yourself and family against having to buy blood for $35 a pint should the emergency arise. It can, you know, happen. In an instant of a day, never take the day for granted, you never take the day for granted, if you never have done everything to avoid its resulting pain and often disastrous expense.

This really is a good deal. One of the best you could ever make. You have your chance now. Don't pass it up.

Gallagher Ousted by Seniors; New Administration in Power

The Senior Class Council has announced the ouster of Buell G. Gallagher, Senior Class President, who must leave the College. This action has been taken in the revolutionist activities of Senior Student Faculty tea in the Faculty Lounge between 3-5 PM where seniors will officiate. At 12 noon in President Gal­lagher's office there will be a discussion for the All-College Conference in "The Nature of the School." The Senior Package consisting of tickets for Senior affairs and cap and gown, will be available until Friday, and will cost $80 for those seniors who are carded and $7 for those without one. Monday, May 2 is the last day for filing applications for admission to the Alumni Association. Nominations will not be accepted after May 20 at 5 PM.

Postnotes...

- Applications are now being accepted for the positions of manager and assistant manager of the Used Book Exchange for the coming Fall term. They should be submitted to Jerry Madder, Union Book Exchange, UBE, the School Office, 100 Army Hall before Wednesday, May 12 at 5 PM.

- A special meeting of the Gamma Iota Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi next Wednesday at 6:45 PM in Room 146 will be held for the purpose of elections. Another meeting will be held Thursday, May 5 at 12:30 PM in Room 200 Main. Mr. Mark Starr, a lecturer at Yale, Harvard and Columbia Universities will speak on the topic: The Role of Unions in Community Welfare.

- Applications for admission to Lock and Key, the Senior Honor Society, are available in Room 120 Main until Thursday, May 5. Current seniors and seniors as of September 1955 are eligible to apply.

Cohn...

(Continued from Page One)

President Frank H. Cohn, Jr. said, "There are many positive and negative inferences from the use of the Fifth Amendment. It has been many times that one can be in a court of law where there are no infer­ences," but an employer has the right to pursue the man to de­termine whether he still desires the service of the injury. "The most important thing," he added, "is that a person must not be driven to the point where he has lost his right.

Mr. Cohn, in response to a student's question, said that since the Fifth Amendment creates this new situation, it is very important that if he were to answer the question, he would be involved in an "invasion of privacy." He added that "good faith" is the only criterion for use of the Fifth Amendment.
Panel Groups

The following are outlines of the panel discussions that will be held today for the All College Panel 1

1. Shall the classroom teacher inculcate values?—Morris Auditorium
   1. Intellectual values: the critical use of, examination of opposing viewpoints, discussion vs. lecture in the classroom.
   2. Moral values: specific rules of conduct, honors system, democracy and indoctrination

2. What active role can and should the student play in inculcating values?
   1. Room 306 Main: "What do we go to college for?"
   2. What do we live for?
   3. How can we reach conclusions about either or both?

3. The students role, collectively or individually, in developing these ideas in the minds of students.

Panel 2

1. How can Student Government best promote democratic values?
   1. Room 306 Main: "What are the democratic values of the college community as a whole?"
   2. What democratic values does Student Government actually promote?
   3. How can the students properly and effectively contribute to the promotion of democratic values?

2. What contributions can other student groups make in the enforcement of student values?
   1. Panel 3: "What other student values should Student Government promote?"

3. Personal relations between teachers and students.

Panel 3

1. Discussion of the differences between technical training and a college education for the engineer.
2. Values in relation to engineering courses.
3. Values in the liberal arts courses engineers receive.

GIVE BLOOD

College PRINTING & TYPING Service

TYPING

Size per minute 100 words for first 4 pages 25c A.M.-P.M.

Panel 2

1. Discussion of the differences between technical training and a college education for the engineer.
2. Faculty advisors and student groups.
3. Personal relations between teachers and students.

Panel 6

What is the source and nature of the values secured by engineering student?

1. Discussion of the differences between technical training and a college education for the engineering student.
2. Faculty advisors and student groups.
3. Personal relations between teachers and students.

GIVE BLOOD

Hey, There! More Lucky Drodles!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

ARE YOU LOOKING for a completely enjoy­able cigarette? Then get a clue from the Drodle above, titled: Smoke ringsblown by riveter enjoying Luckies. Fasten on to Luckies yourself. Luckies are such great shakes because they taste better. And they taste better for excellent reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—toes up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, whenever it's light-up time, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

Better taste Luckies...

Lucky Strike
CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER!

GIVE BLOOD

Panel 1

By a unanimous vote of the Government Department, Dr. Donald C. Biascald has been elected professor and chairman of the department, President Buel G. Gallager announced yesterday.

The professor will assume his position on September 1. He is presently a visiting professor of political science at Wellesley College.

Dr. Biascall served with the State Department from 1941 to 1941. His positions included: economic analysis of foreign affairs specialist, and technical expert on international security. He is also the author of a number of books and articles on political science and governmental problems.

Dr. Biascall has taught at Columbus College, Williams, the Universities of Florida, Illinois, and Wisconsin, and at Roberta College, Istanbul.

AIEE-IIE-ACME

Will feature a talk by Prof. H. W. Evans, (Chemical Engineering), on the Brookhaven National Laboratory Research, tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Room 306 Main.

Bacteriological Society

Will discuss articles of the "Loop" and prepare for pub. Session, tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Doremus Hall. Business meeting will follow.

Basketball Chemistry Society

Will present Mr. F. Wyman's "Practical Problems in Chemistry" tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Doremus Hall.

Cudescoc Society

To compete with the Biological Society of Ithaca tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Jasper Oral.

Cucumber Club

Will hear Canon John Pyll of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine speaking on "The Church and Politics" this evening at 7:30 PM in St. Luke's Church on Columbia Ave., and 15th St.

Christian Association

Will have a "Surprise Meeting" tomorrow at 12 noon, in the St. James Presbyterian Church, at 16th and 15th.

Class of '51

Class Council will meet tomorrow at 12 noon in Room 214 Main.

Class of '57

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '58

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '59

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '60

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '61

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

CLUB NOTES

AIEE-IIE-ACME

Will feature a talk by Prof. H. W. Evans, (Chemical Engineering), on the Brookhaven National Laboratory Research, tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Room 306 Main.

Bacteriological Society

Will discuss articles of the "Loop" and prepare for pub. Session, tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Doremus Hall. Business meeting will follow.

Basketball Chemistry Society

Will present Mr. F. Wyman's "Practical Problems in Chemistry" tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Doremus Hall.

Cudescoc Society

To compete with the Biological Society of Ithaca tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Jasper Oral.

Cucumber Club

Will hear Canon John Pyll of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine speaking on "The Church and Politics" this evening at 7:30 PM in St. Luke's Church on Columbia Ave., and 15th St.

Christian Association

Will have a "Surprise Meeting" tomorrow at 12 noon, in the St. James Presbyterian Church, at 16th and 15th.

Class of '51

Class Council will meet tomorrow at 12 noon in Room 214 Main.

Class of '57

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '58

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '59

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '60

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.

Class of '61

Class Council will meet to elect a Representative to SC, on Friday, March 11.
SU... (Continued from Page One) policy will be disregarded. It was pointed out that the originally proposed questions had been altered through an error, before the forum took place.

A new method has been devised, whereby questionnaires on the types of program desired will be sent to fourteen campus organizations. These include: Day and Evening Session House Plan, Day and Evening Session Student Government, General Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, the day and evening divisions of Hillel, the Newman Club, the Christian Association, Technology Inter-Society Inter-Fraternity Council, and Inter-Fraternity Council.

Netmen...

Winners of four straight matches, the Beaver outfields will be comprised of Mike Ciccone in center, Vince Donnelly, eighth best hitter, guarding the initial sack. Beavers Seek Revenge.

Beaver batsmen will try to improve their fourth place standing when they meet Manhattan today at Babe Ruth Field at 3 PM.

The Jaspers, currently the cellar-dwellers of the league, will be shooting for their first victory. Their five setbacks have been to Hofstra, 14-4; NYU, 8-4; Wagner, 2-1; St. John's, 5-1; and Brooklyn, 6-1. City has also bowed to the Violets and the Redmen, but has defeated the Dutchmen and the Kingsmen.

Right-hander Joe Galletta, who picked up his second league win by hurling seven innings of one run ball against Brooklyn last Thursday, is likely to be coach Dr. John LaPlace's starting hurler. John McCoy, a veteran all-right handed staff is scheduled to pitch for the Jaspers. Backing up McCoy in the bullpen will be letterman Jim Clark, McGuire and Gerald Markey.

Backing up McCoy in the bullpen will be manned by John Murray, a converted catcher and Manhattan's leading hitter to date with a .380 mark, junior Dick Malloy and sophomore John Mercurio.

Joe Galletta
Possible Starter

pitcher of coach Dave Curren's all-right handed staff is scheduled to pitch for the Jaspers. Backing up McCoy in the bullpen will be letterman Jim Clark, and three sophomores, John Hines, also an outfielder, Marty Grady and 1954 All-Met shortstop Bob Cocodrilli, now playing second base, comprise the Jaspers' key combination. Vince Donnelly, eighth best bat in the circuit last season with a .333 average will start at the hot corner. Sophomore Bob Roman rounds out the inner defense, guarding the initial sack.

The Jasper's outfield posts will be manned by John Murray, a converted catcher and Manhattan's leading hitter to date with a .380 mark, junior Dick Malloy and sophomore John Mercurio.

Beaver diamondmen. The outfield chores are scheduled to be handled by Pete Trua, rightfielder, Vince Ciccone in center and leftfielder Lou Bernero.

Put a SMILE in your SMOKING!

You'll SMILE your approval of Chesterfield's smoothness—mildness—refreshing taste.

You'll SMILE your approval of Chesterfield's quality—highest quality low nicotine.