

Social Activities Planned by Four Class Prexies

By BARRY MALLIN

The four class presidents have set the wheels in motion in order to insure students a full social calendar this term. Senior Class President Howard Sherman has announced that the annual Farewell Ball will be held on Friday night, June 8, in the Grand Ballroom of the Plaza Hotel.

The first Friday night dance, a Sadie Hawkins style affair, will be sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Coeds will be able to choose their partners every third number. A meeting of the '58 Class will be held on February 23 in a lecture room in Shepard. The purpose of the meeting, according to Schaar, is to have students meet their class officers and the alumni from the class of '48 ("Big Brothers" of the Soph Class). "Sound Off" He would also like to have students "sound off" on what they want for their class this semester, so all Sophomores are urged to attend.

Social events for the Freshman Class are still tentative, but Class President Jerry Sobel is working on Roller Skating, Beach and Theatre parties for his class this term. An inter-class dance in April, co-sponsored by the Frosh, Soph and Junior classes, is under consideration by the three presidents.

Senior Class Tea, a Mystery Ride and a Bowling Party also among the events being planned for the class.

Plans for the Junior Class are in the budding stage. Mike Sobel, president of the class, said arrangements for Theatre, Ice Skating parties are being made, but details are not set.

Howard Schaar, president of the Sophomore Class, has reported that a Mystery Bus Ride and a Bowling Party are being set up during the latter part of the term.

College Sponsors Skiing Parties for Sundays

A series of Sunday ski trips for students at the College has been arranged by Mike Rizzo of the Student Government Social Activities Agency. The first trip will be held this Sunday, February 19.

The trips will be made to various ski lodges within a 150 mile radius of New York. Buses will leave the city at 5:45 AM and return between 6 PM and 7 PM. Round-trip transportation tickets will cost $4.75. Ski and pole rentals will be $2; boots, $1.50; lift, $1. Students may bring their own food or buy it at the lodge. Free skiing lessons will be available at the lodge.

Students wishing to go on any of the trips must deposit the transportation money in Room 326 Finley between 12-2 PM on Thursday preceding the trip. Information concerning the place of departure will be given at the time of the payment.

The agency is planning to sponsor a series of films demonstrating how to ski, and depicting the locations of the trips. A complete film schedule has not yet been arranged.

The Time . . .

The time: Summer, 1954.

The place: Moscow, USSR.

The man: Andrew Meisels, then Editor-in-Chief of Observation Post, who was chosen by the students to go to the Soviet Union and report what he saw in that then virtually closed country. The trip and the series of articles he wrote for Observation Post on his return made City College history.

Whether you're a freshman or senior, its never too late or too early to join OP. Our office is in Room 326 Finley Student Center, and from our windows you can see the world.

Hillel Sets Up Labell Award For Excellence in Dramatics

The Hillel Council has established a Memorial Award in honor of the late Doris Labell who died January 11 from injuries sustained in an automobile accident near the College last May. The award will take the form of a certificate presented to the student doing the most outstanding work in dramatics.

According to Rabbi Arthur Zuckerman this type of award was chosen because of Doris Labell's outstanding work in dramatics.

Rabbi Arthur Zuckerman
Announces Award

Dramatics for Hillel and Dramsoc. A Chanukah Menorah is also purchased in her honor and will be used for special occasions and festivals. The funds for both memorials are to be received from contributions.

Rabbi Zuckerman also announced a lecture series on "Ethical Systems in Contemporary Society" to be held at the Finley Student Center. President Buell G. Gallagher will deliver the first lecture on "Ethics of Christianity in Contemporary Society," in the Chapel of the Reuben H. Goldmark wing of the Center on March 1.

Following next is "Ethics of Humanism in Contemporary Society" by Professor Daniel F. Bronstein (Chmn., Philosophy) on March 22. Other lectures are scheduled for later in the term on the ethics of Judaism and the ethics of Marxism in contemporary society.

College's Dramatic Societies Planning Term's Productions

The College's three dramatic societies, New Theatre Studio, Gilbert and Sullivan Society, and Dramsoc, are working on productions to be given this term. New Theatre Studio will present the first production, "The Father," by August Strindberg, on March 8, 9, and 10, in Townsend Harris Auditorium. Tickets will cost $1.

Three one-act plays, "The Ghost Sonata" by August Strindberg, "In the Zone" by Eugene O'Neil, and "Aria Da Capa" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, are also planned for production by the New Theatre Studio this term. Casting for the one-act plays is being held daily this week from 4 to 7 PM in the Townsend Harris Auditorium. On Thursday, the casting will be in Room 012 Wagner from 12:30 to 2 P.M.

In May, "The Pirates of Penzance," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta spoofing the British police force, navy, and British institutions in general, will be offered by the Gilbert and Sullivan Society. Auditions are being held for both the chorus and leads on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in Room 234 Finley Student Center. Students interested in working backstage are also urged to come, since the ability to sing is not a necessary prerequisite to joining. The College's third dramatic group, Dramsoc, is considering a production during Academic Freedom Week of "The Troublemaker" by George Bellak.

Beavers Break Record! Upsala Crushed, 99-84

By BOB MAYER and BERT ROSENTHAL

City College basketball came to life last night when the Beaver hoopsters scored a resounding and record breaking 99-84 victory over Upsala College of New Jersey, in the Wingate Gymnasium.

The Lavender point total eclipsed the team record, breaking the old standard of ninety-six established against Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in 1952 and tied at Upsala last season.

It was George Jensen, the Beavers rugged 6-4 forward, who tossed in two free throws with forty seconds remaining in the game that tied and cracked the old record. Thereafter the small home crowd clamored for the Lavender to reach the century mark for the first time in the school's history, but the Vikings froze the ball, much to the dismay of the audience. At the buzzer, Captain Lew Berson stole an erratic Upsala pass by Bill Ferguson and fired in a thirty-foot set shot to make the final 99-84.

Garber Sparks Team

The hero of the contest, however, was Richie Garber, a crafty 5-6, 145 pound sophomore. He entered the game with the score 71-70 in Upsala's favor at the twelve-minute mark of the second half. Garber proceeded to spark the Lavender by tossing in twelve tallies, mainly on short one-handed jump shots.

Beaver Coach Nat Holman, after the encounter, praised the overall performance of the entire team but added, "when Garber came in, he gave us that little extra spark that we needed."

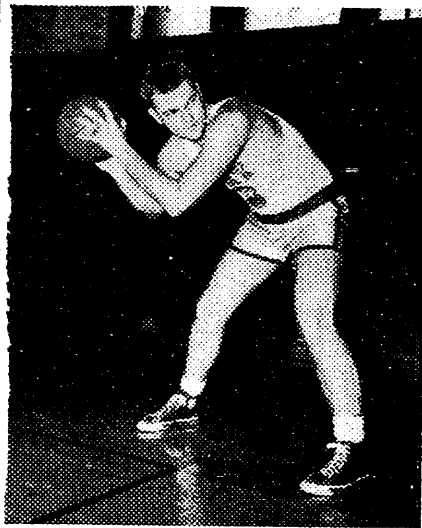

The mentor continued, "the win should give us an added lift for the tough schedule that is ahead of us."

Trailing by one point 71-70, the Beavers reeled off eleven consecutive markers to clinch the triumph. Field goals by Ralph Schefflan, Berson, Garber, a foul shot by Schefflan, a basket by Garber and another by Jensen ballooned the Beaver's bulge to 81-70. The only question confronting the spectators and the channel 13 TV audience was whether City would hit the 100 mark, which they just missed.

Jensen, who played the entire forty minutes, was the top scorer for the victors with twenty-two tallies. He converted ten of eleven free throws and connected for six field goals.

Five other Beaver players scored in double figures: Sid Levy, 6-9 pivot man at nineteen; Schefflan netted fifteen; and Garber, Bill Lewis, who fouled out after six minutes of the second half, and Stan "Bugs" Freedman, all collected twelve.

The opening session saw the squad battle on practically even terms throughout. A final seven-point spurt in the last two minutes enabled the Beavers to enjoy a 52-46 halftime margin. In

Resnick Quits Director Post

Joel Resnick, Director of the Manager's Agency of Student Government, said last night that he was resigning from the position. The Manager's Agency handles SG's responsibilities in the operation of the Finley Student Center.

A successor to Resnick will be chosen at today's SG Executive Committee meeting.

Resnick, an engineering major, explained that he would not be able to direct the Agency because of the heavy academic work load he will have to carry the next few terms in order to graduate within four and one-half years of his entrance into the College. For the past four terms, Resnick said, he has not been carrying a full program.

Resnick was vice-president of SG last term, and has been active in many phases of SG and other co-curricular activities. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Student Center.

SG President Jared Jussim expressed regret over Resnick's resignation. "He is a man of brilliant mentality and able diplomacy, and would have filled the position excellently," he said.

Resnick was appointed Director last Tuesday. He succeeded last term's Director Joe DeMaio, who resigned from the same position last Tuesday.

New SG Group Plans To Say It With Music

Dancing lessons will be given by the Student Government Dancing Committee in the new Dance Lounge, just opened in Room 131 Finley Student Center. Students will be able to use the lounge, except for dancing from 12 to 2 PM every Thursday, when the lessons will be given by SG. One dance will be taught each Thursday, with the mambo slated for the first lesson (Feb. 16) this week.

Music is being provided by a "high fidelity" juke box, at a special student rate of two plays for a dime, five for a quarter. Most of these machines outside of the College give only one play for a dime. Fifty percent of the profits will go to the company which installed and maintains the listen to Bartok, Beethoven and Bach," she continued.

Another student, Brenda Tennen, was somewhat more enthusiastic over the music. When asked for comment, all that Miss Tennen could manage was "Eee!! It's GREAT"

Coed Carol Fahey, on the other hand, thought that it was a wonderful thing for CCNY students to have a place to go when they feel like dancing.

Mr. David Newton (Student Life), Assistant Director of the machine, while the other half will go to Finley Student Center's operating budget.

There has been some objection to the 100 songs on the juke box. Most of the students interviewed feel that there are not enough mambos, cha-chas, and merengues on the machine, and Dave Daly, chairman of SG's Dancing Committee agreed with them. He hadn't expected to find rock 'n' roll listed among the selections, but he did, and felt that it did not belong in City College.

One petite coed, Lorraine Sheiner said, "What is the school coming to? I absolutely abhor rock and roll, and I think it's for the riffians. . . . Let them sit and Student Center, was pleased with the innovation on the whole, but personally felt that "if rock and roll is eliminated it would be a pleasure." The records were installed in the machine by the company, and it will have to make any changes in the selection available.

Many of the country's leading colleges have similar lounges, and now that City has one, Mr. Newton feels that it will be "one of the answers to the perennial problem of student socializing in the cafeteria." He added, "With the new Dance Lounge, the students who eat will find seats in the cafeteria more easily available. I hope this trend continues."

De-lighted

I was delighted to see your lengthy review of "The Mikado," and to note that you appreciated, as did I, the quality of the musical direction. I should like to call to your attention that not all of the excellence, musically, was due to the student director. The conductor, Robert Lehmeier, was largely responsible for the ensemble work and the excellent diction. Mr. Lehmeier is an adult with no ties whatever to CCNY, who donated his services (the type of service which should be provided by the music department, but which is not). His participation came about through the fact that both of us belong to the G & S Society of New York, and I was present at the first rehearsal he conducted. You could see the chorus perk up when he took over. I am sure that the cast will agree that his contribution was of great importance.

I should like to add that the stage direction, which was completely in the hands of students, was much better than I had expected. This direction, too, ought to be supervised by members of the appropriate department at the college: I am thinking of the future, when the current student director will have graduated.

In any case, I am sure that we are both happy that G & S has come of age at the college.

What's in a Name?

By Bruno Wassertheil

The sad thing about it is that the Student Center is still located in the North Campus cafeteria. After all the reconstruction, expense and waiting, the heart of student social activity of both campuses still lies there. Why?

Some of the answers are easy. Atmosphere is one. The sound you hear are student sounds: laughing, talking, eating, singing, playing of guitars. There are no interruptions from a public address system that make you feel you're living in 1984 or sitting in a ball terminal. The only uniforms you see in Shepard Hall are those ROTC men; there's not a Burns guard in sight. Self-bussing is thing unknown.

Location counts too. The cafeteria is still only a step from the College's administrative offices, libraries and transportation facilities. From the point of view of accessibility, the South Campus cafeteria might as well be in the middle of the Gobi Desert.

The cafeteria's South Campus counterpart is not so much brother as a step-child. Every day, after a few hours of operation the steel doors close on two of the three cafeterias there. At 7 PM much to the dismay of both Day and Evening Session students, the Center's "main" cafeteria shuts up shop. With it, ninety percent of the Center's activity creaks to a halt. Walking around the Center at night is like taking a tour of a mausoleum.

The cafeteria is the traditional nerve center of students at the College. This fact must be appreciated and the situation remedied. Why the cafeteria hours at the South Campus are so abbreviated remains a mystery. Surely it can't be lack of funds. You, I and about 6,000 other Day Session students alone have already shelled out more than $36,000 since last September for the Center's operation. For this we were to get a Student Center operating from a blast and instead were handed a half-finished building with less than half the services we paid for.

The two truly popular items in the Center—the Pool Room and the Friday night dances—were as popular in the late unlamented Army Hall and the Wingate Gym.

Originally, the Student Center was to have been called the Student Union—the commonly accepted name throughout the country for a building used for student activities and recreation—by the College for reasons which will not be mentioned now, the name was changed to 'Center.' There were other changes too. The student body lost much of their hold over the buildings they were paying for to operate. Perhaps with this, the feeling about the building was changed also. No longer being something of, by and for the students, it lost an important element of its attractiveness.

As it stands now, the Student Center is neither a student center nor a center of any kind and unless there is some drastic revision in its operation, it never will be.

Music . . .

Auditions for membership in the CCNY Orchestra and Band will be held this week at the rehearsals of each organization. The band meets every Tuesday from 2-5 PM; the orchestra every Thursday from 2-5 PM. Both groups rehearse in the auditorium of the Reuben H. Goldmark Wing of the Student Center.

Those who are unable to attend rehearsals at the times stated are advised to consult Professor Jack Shapiro (Music) in Room 226 Finley this Thursday between 11 AM and 2 PM. Appointments for interviews at other times may be made by calling the Music Department, AD 4-2000, extension 284.

Membership is open to all CCNY students, faculty members, and employees.

Riflers Beaten By Manhattan

The Beaver nimrods dropped below the .500 mark for the first time this season when they bowed to Manhattan College on Thursday, February 9, at the winner's range.

The Lavender record is now 5 wins and 6 setbacks.

Posting a team score of 1416, the Jespers proved to be too strong for the Beaver sharpshooters who notched only 1382.

Perennial team high scorer Sal Sorbera paced the marksmen attack with a score of 282. John Marciniak rebounded from his poor showing against Brooklyn Poly, placing second with 278.

Lavender Fencing Team Defeats Fordham, 22-5

The Lavender fencers brought their season's record up to three wins and three defeats by soundly trouncing Fordham University, 22-5, Saturday in the Wingate Gym. The defeat was the fourth of the season for the Rams.

Fordham seized an early lead in the first round when their number one foilman Bob Gottlieb defeated Joel Wolfe.

From then on the Beavers dominated the strip. They took the lead and remained ahead for the rest of the meet, winning the fatal fourteenth bout before the end of the second round. The big winner for the Lavender was sabreman Elliot Mills who again won each of his three bouts. The left-handed junior has a phenomenal streak of eleven consecutive victories, including triple wins against Princeton and Yale.

Sabremen Marty Weittlieb and Manny Fineman each won two bouts, while Norman Graubert took one, giving the Beavers an 8-1 sabre-victory.

In the epee division the Lavender trio scored an 8-1 victory. Norman Zafman and Jonas Ulenas each swept three matches, while Tony Urciuoli went two for three.

Only in the foils did the Rams give the Beavers any trouble, and the trouble was Bob Gottlieb. He defeated Beaver captain Mort Glasser, 5-3, and Joe Wolfe, 5-0.

A third Lavender foil loss came in the final round when Fordham's Bill Driscoll defeated substitute Bruno Scherz, 5-3. Nevertheless, the Beavers triumphed 6-3.

Summaries:

Foil: Wolfe (CCNY) defeated Mendel 5-1; Glasser (CCNY) defeated Driscoll 5-3; Tannenbaum (CCNY) Mendes 5-3 and Gottlieb 5-4; Goluberg (CCNY) defeated Mendes 5-3; Gottlieb (Fordham) defeated Wolfe 5-0 and Glasser 5-3; Driscoll (Fordham) defeated Schenz 5-3.

Sabre: Mills (CCNY) defeated Szuter 5-0; Baccinni 5-2, and Coll 5-0; Weittlieb (CCNY) defeated Baccinni 5-3, and Coll 5-1; Fineman (CCNY) defeated Coll 5-4 and Szuter 5-1; Baccinni (Fordham) defeated Fineman 5-0.

Epee: Zafman (CCNY) defeated Stoessel 5-2; Berman 5-1 and McNulty 5-2; Ulenas (CCNY) defeated McNulty 5-1; Stoessel 5-1 and Berman 5-4; Urciuoli (CCNY) defeated McNulty 5-3 and Stoessel 5-2; Berman (Fordham) defeated Urciuoli 5-4.

kip Courses Via Special Examination

Students can be exempt from taking some required courses by passing a special examination before the start of fall recitations, under a system instituted at the college last semester by the Faculty Council of the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Students can gain a maximum of nine extra credits through the plan. The credits can count toward the graduation requirement if the student requests them to, but primarily the plan is instituted to "provide extra credits which can make college education much richer and of more value to the student," Dean Burnburne F. Barber (Liberal Arts and Sciences) said.

The examinations can be taken by students who have an average substantially above C in the school of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Students in the School of Technology may also be permitted to take the exemption tests. Applications for the tests will be available in the Office of Curricular Guidance, Room 111 Shepard, after Thursday, March 15. These forms must be returned to the office in early April. The names of students eligible to take the examinations will be announced about May 15, and the results will be given in September. Seven of the ten students who took the examinations last semester were exempt from courses.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young manager handles finances for $40,000,000 business

General Electric is made up of more than 90 product departments that operate as individual "businesses" — each conducting its own legal, financial, manufacturing, engineering, marketing and research activities.

One of the most important of these businesses is the Technical Products Department that makes broadcasting and communications equipment and semi-conductor devices. Responsible for managing the finances of this $40 million business is Robert H. Platt.

Platt's Work Is Important, Responsible

In the next ten years, the Technical Products Department is expected to reach the $100 million mark — more than doubling its present size. This is a big job. And it requires Platt to keep tabs on everything from tax, cost, and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements, credits and collections, and internal auditing.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Experience gained in the Business Training Course and as a traveling auditor gave Platt a variety of financial experience. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, the country.

ROBERT H. PLATT joined G.E. in 1941 after receiving his B.A. at Colgate University. He served 2 years in the Navy, attaining the rank of Lieutenant J.G. He is also a graduate of G.E.'s Business Training Course.

Mermen Win 8 Events, Drown Brooklyn, 55-28

Winning the first eight events, the College's swimming team romped to its second straight decisive victory Saturday, downing the Brooklyn College mermen, 55-28, in the Wingate pool.

The triumph was truly a team effort as seven different Beavers won individual events.

The Lavender opened up a 5-0 lead when Sol Stern, Shelly Manspeizer, and Jim Johnson captured the 300-yard medley relay in 3:10.6, four tenths of a second slower than the pool record.

The gap was widened to 13-1 when Larry Premisler and Joe White finished one-two in the 220-yard freestyle. The Beavers gained another point on the Kingsmen when Richie Silverstein edged out Brooklyn's Larry Raisfeld and Lieb Kudysch in the fifty-yard sprint.

Johnson, the Beaver's captain, then swam the 200-yard individual medley in 2:27.3, a new pool mark.

The diving event was won by the College's Joe Weissman. Marv Gettleman placed third behind Brooklyn's Dick Saffran, and the Beavers led, 30-11.

In the 100-yard freestyle Silverstein hit the finish line first but was disqualified for failing to touch the wall on one of the turns. City's Roy Schlacter was awarded first place.

Johnson then suffered one of his few defeats of the season

The cagers lost to Brooklyn College, 92-70, Friday night, in the Wingate gym. The Beavers held a 24-23 lead after eleven minutes of play, but from then on it was all Brooklyn. Nick Gaetani played a beautiful game for the Kingsmen, scoring twenty-five points and continuously stealing the ball from the Beavers.

Matmen Rip Poly, 24-8; Fifth Pin for Al Taylor

"Brute force" was the formula used by the College's wrestling team as they overpowered Brooklyn Poly's matmen, 24-8, Saturday in the Goethels Gym. The victory raised the Beavers record to three wins and three losses.

Leading the Lavender grapplers was 130 pounder, Al Taylor and heavyweight Jim Zoubanis. Taylor, the New England AAU's 136½ pound champion recorded his fifth consecutive pin of the season, when he stopped John Bulavko with a half nelson at 2:27. Of Taylor's five pins, four have come in the first period.

Zoubandis, now fully recovered from the shoulder injury which hampered his effectiveness last season and the early part of this campaign, gained his third successive triumph, decisioning Dick Burns, 13-5, in an exciting and furious bout.

Sophomore "Sonny" Golia and Al Wolk, were the other Beavers who also pinned their Brooklyn opponents. Golia beat George Laeske with a half-nelson at twenty-seven seconds of the third period, and Wolk halted lanky

Charles Fritsche at 5:45, also on a half-nelson.

Lavender captain, Sal Sorbera New England 125 pound champ and the ever-improving Vince Norman accounted for City's other points.

Sorbera, back in action after two default wins, outpointed Bill Clarkson, 5-0, and Norman defeated Jerry Lewis, 9-2.

Tennis . . .

Tennis coach Harry Karlin will hold the team's first meeting of the year Thursday, at 12:30 PM, in Lewisohn Stadium. Anyone interested in joining the squad is invited to the meeting. Members of last season's team are also expected to attend.

The College's Jerry Lopatin and Joe White finished first and second in the 400-yard freestyle for the Beavers' eighth consecutive first place, giving the Laven-

Girl Hoopsters Lose to Rider

The girls basketball team came a good deal closer than their male counterparts, but dropped a tight 38-37 game to Rider College at the winner's Trenton, New Jersey, court Thursday.

Sandy Weinberg and Lee Irwin both hit double figures for the Beaverettes. Miss Weinberg scored fourteen and Miss Irwin eleven.

The girls are now 1-3 on the season, which is not bad at all, when one looks at the boys record.

Helen Wong, Marie Cuttler and Betty Castro accounted for the remaining twelve points. Sue Lanzert, Jewel Gold and Natalie Bowen saw action at the guard positions, but alas, were not permitted to score, due to the rule which prohibits guards from shooting in women's basketball. However, Miss Cuttler, who netted two points, beat the rule by playing both forward and guard. Clever girl, Miss Cuttler.
