Gallagher Hits Columnist For ‘Misrepresentation’

President Buell G. Gallagher accused his former column, Koppett, of distortion and inadequate research, and charged that it had adopted a one-sided view of the Campus Debate League.

Gallagher pointed out that the column had not presented the views of the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Activities, and that it had failed to present the views of the full membership of the Debate League.

He said that the column had been written in a spirit of “intolerable competition,” and that it had failed to give a fair and impartial view of the debate.

The column was written by Alfred Koppett, a former columnist for the Voice of the Student Body.

Debating Team Ties for Fifth

The College’s Debating Society tied for fifth place in a debating tournament held in New York City last weekend.

Thirty-five colleges were represented at the tournament, and the topic debated was, “Resolved: That the non-Agricultural Industries of the United States Guarantee Their Employees an Annual Wage.”

The College’s Debating Society was represented by Dr. Wayne A. Nicholas (Speech), Dr. Michael Kupperman (Philosophy), and Dr. Alfred Stieglitz (History).

SFCSA Structure Altered; Action on Lists Postponed

A compromise plan for student representation on the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Activities was adopted last Friday by the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities. The plan will go into effect next term, on a one-year trial basis.

In other action, the SFCSA departed from the regular student representation to the College by voting to have the President of Council serving by virtue of office. Qualifications for the office of SFCSA president remain the same as under the SFCSA plan, and include extension to extracurricular activities.

Professor Richard Kraus (History), Chairman of the SFCSA, pointed out that the new plan combines “features of both previous plans.”

He explained that the new plan is designed to “represent the worst features of both previous programs,” and that it is also a compromise. The new plan will go into effect next term, on a one-year trial basis.

Fast Shuffle

Last Friday the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities pulled a fast shuffle with a student referendum and a decision of the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Activities and gave the students a raw deal.

The students for once were playing a strong hand. Their decision to have the student members of SFCSA elected directly by themselves even met with the approval of the decision to have the student members of the Student-Faculty Committee on Student Activities. This is the first time, in our memory, that student views on the issue, in its entirety, it seems that just the opposite is true. The bulk of the pressure representatives still remain on the body and really well deserved. We can only hope that the students for once were playing a strong hand. Records Here
Not In Groove

Although "Rock and Roll" has hit the peak throughout the nation, the Friday night dancers must still swing to the rhythms of "American Bandstand." In an effort to modernize, the Student Center Ball Division created Social Functions, which are asking students to donate up-to-date platters to its antiquated phonograph record collection. Records may be left in the office of the Student Center Ball Division or in the office of Professor Philip H. Brunstetter (Student Life). The phonograph records are broadcast over the loudspeaker system in the Finley Grand Ballroom during the breaks of the ten-piece dance band. These records, unfortunately, consist almost entirely of passables—samba, fox-trot and caracoles.

Student Council, the Student Center Ball Division of the Social Functions Agency, expressed the hope that "students would get into it" and "start the records rolling."

Marty Wertlieb Wins Eastern Sabre Crown
Beaver Sabremen Take Team Championship

By NORM ZAFMAN

Two outstanding achievements in the sporting history of the College were made last Saturday when Marty Wertlieb became the first Beaver fencer to win the Eastern Intercollegiate sabre championship; and when Wertlieb with teammates Elliot Mills and Manny Fineberg captured the College's first sabre team championship. The competition, held at the Hotel Concourse Plaza in the Bronx, was the biggest fencing event of the year to date, with twelve leading Eastern Colleges competing for team and individual honors. It was the fifty-ninth annual meet sponsored by the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing Association.

Only once before did a Beaver sabre team come close to matching Saturday's triumph. In 1941, the College shared first place honors with Harvard when the two teams finished in a tie. In the epee and foil divisions, the Beavers tied for seventh and eighth places respectively, while Navy capped the epee title and Cornell took first in foil. The three weapon championship was won by Navy with sixty-four total victories. Individual honors in epee and foil went to Kim Hoitson of Princeton and Joseph Crisanti of Cornell, respectively.

Entering the final round of the sabre team competition, the Beavers were deadlocked with Columbia, the defending champion, at twenty-two victories each. Two successive Lavender victories then broke the tie and brought the coveted crown to the College. The two wins came in the first two bouts when Mills and Wertlieb defeated the Carmine's Marvin Stein and Jerry Kaufman, each by a 5-3 score. Mills, a junior, was handicapped by a serious back injury acquired during practice session last week. Wertlieb qualified for the individual finals in the number one pool with nine out of eleven victories, while Mills, with a 7-4 second was tied with NYU's Bernie Balaban for third qualifier of the number one pool. However, in a fence-off, Mills defeated Balaban, 5-2, and qualified. In the six-man finals that followed, Wertlieb swept through five straight victories to become the 1956 Eastern Intercollegiate Sabre Champion.

In the sabre team totals, the College finished with twenty-four wins, while Columbia was second with twenty-three. Navy and Princeton were next with twenty-two each, but Midshipmen copped third place when facing against a courted, and the Tigers had higher tally. NYU followed fifth place with twenty-one wins.

Coach Edward Lucia, who finishing his third year at College, said he "was not surprised at the team's success," added, "it was a balanced team. To win it was necessary to have three men who could each hold his own share of bouts. Mills did not let us down in spite of his back injury, and Fineberg, who is a sophomore, was our ace in the hole, coming through with critical victories. Of course, it was a real honor to have the champion on our team."

City Mermen Take Seventh; Johnsen Stars

Swimming against top-flight competition, the College's men placed seventh in the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Championships held last Friday and Saturday night at New York University's Quiglej Memorial Pool.

Pittsburgh won the crown for the fifth consecutive time with record breaking 139 points. They completely dominated the meet with victories in ten of the thirteen races held in the two-day competition. Lehigh placed second with 71 points, followed by Rutgers with 33 markers. City tied 11 points.

Jim Johnsen, the Met 220 and 440-yard free-style champion, provided the lone bright spot for the Lavender with a second place in the 200-yard Individual Medley. In the 220-yard free-style final Johnsen placed a disappointing fourth. The 300-yard Medley Relay team of Richie Silverstein, Sol Stern and Sheldon Manspeizer concluded the Beaver swimming, finishing fifth in the relay competition.

Despite the team's poor showing in the ECSC, Coach Rider expects a strong showing from his team next year. The nucleus of the team, Johnsen, Manspeizer, Stern and Silverstein will be returning, and the coach also hopes to get help from several newcomers.
