The College's undefeated soccer team has accepted an invitation to represent New York State in the Eastern Intercollegiate Playoffs at Springfield, Massachusetts on Saturday, December 1. The booters will face Springfield College in the first round of the intercollegiate competition, which will determine the Eastern champion and may eventually lead to a national title.

The winner of the City-Springfield fray will meet the winner of the West South ern and Middle-Atlantic representatives to determine the Eastern Champion. Similar playoffs are being arranged in the Western part of the country, and if they are completed in time, the two regional titlists will meet for the National crown.

The Beavers were named New York State Champions Tuesday in a unanimous decision by the New York State playoff committee. The four-man panel included chairman Huntley Parker, coach of Brockport State Teachers College; Dr. Jack H. White, head of the University of Buffalo; Fred Holloway, Cortland State mentor; and Lavender coach Harry Karlin.

Karlin did not take part in the actual voting. "It came as quite a surprise," he said. "I expected to have to go to a committee meeting and fight for it. When Parker called Tuesday, I thought it was about the meeting. Instead, he said 'You're the champs.'

Parker went on to explain that on the basis of comparative scores, officials' ratings, and City's undefeated record, the Beavers were the unanimous choice of himself and the other two committee members, and the vote was not necessary.

The Springfield squad, which completed its season with a 3-0-1 record, will be the nation's champion.
CCNY Alumni Win 17 Seats In Legislature

By JACK LEVINE
A City College education combined with Democratic party backing proved a powerful formula for political success last week. Alumni with Democratic Party endorsement won positions out of eighteen contests for seats in the national and state legislatures.

Their greatest success was achieved in the races for State Assembly. Thirteen members of New York City’s sixty-four man delegation to the lower house of the state legislature were educated at the College. This includes one of the two alumni who were elected to the state legislature on the Republican ticket.

Six Republicans and two liberals were unable to parley their districts into the winnert’s circle.

In Queens, two alumni squared off for the State Senate seat from the seventh district. Republican Irwin Pakulo defeated the incumbent senator, James G. Sweeney. The latter, who is a member of the faculty of this college, was declared one of the two alumni who were elected to the state legislature on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Reuther made known the Federation’s plan to impose reasonable plans for the support of such a voluntary force. “We will solicit and welcome the maximum support from all other democratic American organizations,” he said, “in exercising our government’s right to take the lead in United Nations’ activities.”

In seeking the establishment of such a force, the means . . . we are undertaking to raise as much money as possible for the relief and rehabilitation of (Hungarian workers).”

President Buell G. Gallagher, also speaking at the dinner, expressed the appreciation of the College of all those present and thanked the alumni who have worked for their “support and generosity, so enthusiastically given.”

To many of the veteran boosters, who felt that City had an outside chance for the title, the ease with which it was won was a surprise. Co-Captain Robert Scanlan and Robert Ives noted that they were “surprised.”

“Very happily surprised,” added Co-Captain Wolf Wonit, “I thought we’d really have to fight for it.”

Billy Sund, John Paranos and Frank Beneck, who were all in town, were surprised.

To all in all, it was a big thrill for the whole squad. It may be only the first in a series.

Julie Andrews says:

"Verily, a Professor ’ Higgins among magazines!"

Q. Miss Andrews, had you ever been away from your family before you arrived in this country two years ago?
A. Never, and I still become dreadfully homesick. But I do talk with them several times a week.

Q. By phone?
A. No—by phonograph. We talk into recording machines, and airmail the results.

Q. You never exchange the usual kind of letter?
A. Very seldom, I’m afraid. But we post back and forth bits of particular interest—like newspaper reviews, and favorite articles from The Reader’s Digest.

Q. Just the Digest?
A. Oh, no, there are others sometimes—but the Digest is our magazine. Mummy and Daddy have always read it, and I began when I was twelve, playing music halls. I had to miss school, and my teaching governess went through every issue with me on the run. It was part of my lessons.

Q. Do you still read it on the run?
A. Oh, yes—waiting for assignments, waiting for buses, even waiting for curtain cues. I hope I never have to be without it. When I wish to be amused, the Digest amuses me; and when I need to be scolded or instructed, I can always find an article that talks to me like—

Q. Like a Dutch uncle?
A. No, much more delightfully—more like Professor ’ Higgins in "My Fair Lady" showing a new world to Eliza Doolittle.

In November Reader’s Digest don’t miss:

Springfield Team Boasts 9 Wins in Tough Sked

By BERT ROSENTHAL

When the College’s soccer team plays Springfield College of Massachusetts in the first inter-sectional soccer playoff game at the New Englanders’ Brook-Attack field on Saturday, December 1, they will be facing a squad with an almost identical record.

Springfield finished their season with nine wins and one tie in ten games. Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) held them to a 1-1 deadlock. At present, the Beavers have an 8-0-1 mark, with one game left against Pratt on Saturday.

As a member of the twenty-eight team New England Soccer League, Springfield defeated six league foes. Two other conference schools, Trinity College of Connecticut and Brown University, are currently unbeaten in loop competition.

Trinity was not selected for the playoffs because their school policy forbids them to participate in any post-season tournaments. Brown was not considered for the playoffs because they have lost to two Ivy-League teams: Pennsylvania University and Yale University.

Springfield Coach Irving R. Baudh, in his ninth campaign at the helm of the New Englanders, calls his aggregation, “one of the best I’ve ever coached.” He added, “It is the best squad with just about all individual stars. The other good teams I’ve coached have had individual performers.”

All-American Leads Defense

Right Fullback Richard Tiamg, a second team All-American back in 1955, and a first team All-New England selection, is the bulwark of the defense. Bob Baker will probably fill the other fullback post. Daniel Sullivan, Richard Haran, and Donald Daring, (from right to left) will start at the halfback positions.

High scorer Richard Hungerford, spearhead of the Springfield attack, with sixteen goals, will open at center forward. He will be flanked on the right by Leo Konieczny and Thomas Stammers, and by S. K. Kesinahat and co-captain Paul Stammeyer on the left.

Co-captain William Moore, who has permitted only 1.0 goals per game, will be in the net for the next two periods. Moore registered four shutouts. He blanked Westleyan College, Boston University, Hofstra University, and Williams College.

OK, Yeah?

The N Y State Championship soccer team will face the JV-Freshman squad in a decisive battle at 3 PM next Tuesday in Lewishon Stadium. The game is being described as an all-out affair, and JV goals Marty Doherty has announced “I will shut out the varsity.”

Fordham Tops JV-Freshman Soccer Squad

In a valiant effort to equal the exploits of their varsity counterparts, the College’s JV-Freshman soccer squad tackled the Fordham University varsity at Rose Hill yesterday afternoon. With several of their key players missing however, the Beavers were no match for the Rams and went down to a 3-2 defeat, their first loss of the season.

Coach Harry Karlin was the most visibly affected by Tuesday night’s announcement.

“When I heard the news, my knees began to shake and I almost sat right down,” the Coach said, “I was really overjoyed, not so much for myself as for the boys. They really worked hard for this.”

Reserve netminder Marty Doherty, the boys really worked hard,” he added.

Kisses & Wobbly Legs All Part of Championship Play

By LEW EGGOL

Some were surprised, others expected it; most took it with quiet enthusiasm, yet the coach had to spontaneously kiss the nearest girl. But to every member of the team this we’d never get into any playoff. I was almost sure the judges would bypass us for an upstate team,” the pensive player said.

Much of the team’s pessimism stemmed from the fact that the Beavers compete in a weak (without question) league, and might be passed by, despite an unbeaten season, for an upstate team such as Army, Brockport State, or Ithaca.

TRIP COUPON

I am interested in making the trip to Springfield, Mass. by Student bus.
