College Is Considering FM Station, Institute of Broadcasting Techniques

By JACK MONET and DAVE GROSS

The establishment of an educational frequency modulation broadcasting station and an Institute of Broadcasting Techniques at the College is under serious consideration by College officials and students. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace (Student Life); Walter Rizkin, GeneralBoard of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The establishment of FM broadcasting at the College is under serious consideration by the College administration and students. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Walter Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.

The station would broadcast music, educational programs, and public affairs. Proposals for the creation of the station and the institute came last night at a meeting of Dean James S. Peace and Representative Rizkin, General Board of Education; and representatives of the Brooklyn College Student Council.
Schedule Winter Festival for Resort In Berkshires During Intersession

A schoolwide three day Winter Festival at Oak 'n Spruce, a Berkshire Mountain resort, has been planned by the Special Events Division of the Student Government Social Functions Agency. The date has been tentatively set for February 4, 5 and 6, during the intersession period. The cost for the weekend will be $35. This includes transportation to and from the resort, three days at the site with two nights lodging, seven meals and a buffet dinner. A registered nurse will accompany the students and each guest will be covered by $500 medical insurance.

Full Program

A full program of daytime and evening activities are also included in the fee. The daytime sports activities will include ice skating, tobogganing, ping-pong, horseback riding, bicycling, and sliding in the Berkshires. There will be a $2 fee for horseback riding and ski instruction. Students will have the chance to go for a plane ride at a nearby airport for a $3 charge. In the evenings there will be square and social dancing, dance contests, a wienie roast, a bonfire. Free prizes will be awarded in various games and a free weekend at the resort will be given to the couple elected King and Queen of the Winter Festival.

The Oak 'n Spruce Inn, located in South Lee, Massachusetts, has accommodations for 175 people. If the committee can assure the resort 100 or more students for the weekend the Inn will be reserved exclusively for the College.

Better Than Florida

Last year's festival, the first one in the College's history, was held at Grossinger's. The price for the three day weekend was $50. Twenty-eight students took advantage of last year's festival. "Anyone planning a vacation to Florida during intersession," Brian Brown, SG President said, "will have a better time going to the College's Winter Festival, prices which are within the means of every student.”

—Helfenstein

PATRONIZE YOUR ADVERTISERS

Budweiser
KING OF BEERS

Andover, Mass., New York, Los Angeles

There once lived a crazy, mixed-up old giant. He lived at the top of a beanstalk and he got his kicks out of a little red hen. Of course, that wasn't bad, because that chicken laid golden eggs.

Now down at the bottom of the stalk lived our boy, Jackson. Our boy was low on loot and his mother ... man, she wasn't making it at all. The feedbag was M. T. So Jackson started thinking of a way to get loot fast: "How," he said to himself, "could I get that frantic chicken away from that character upstairs?" He looked around the hut for something to trade—How about an old piano roll? Mom's biocelkn.

Uncle Looey's spectum banjo? Wait a minute!!! In the cistern was a six-can carton of Budweiser! So he gets the Bud and sashays up the stalk. Well, citizens, there's no use dragging this Budweiser hit out: The giant buys the Bud, gives Jackson the hen, mom's doing great and so will you if you're up to date. Get Budweiser, man ... it's the world's favorite beer!

All cisterns ... and brothers, too, for that matter should discover that there is a difference in beers. This Budweiser ... it is the most.

Budweiser
KING OF BEERS

Andover, Mass., New York, Los Angeles

Are You Eek?

(Continued from Page One)

Maurie K. Kobayashi (Japan), and Wolfgang Weissenman (West Germany), discussed "WUS in World Perspective" following the lunch break.

Mr. Kobayashi summed up thoughts of the panel on the sentiment of foreign students in the three key words of the Japanese students: (1) work, connection (to the powers that control the nation) and tuition large sumaturas (for tuberculotic students) are the key words Kobayashi said.

Glória Kingsley, who co-chaired the conference with Joe De Main, concluded the general assembly with a few remarks on his trip to South America. Miss Kingsley was a part of a five-man National Students Association delegation to investigate the problems of the Latin American students. She said that students in other nations have a "tremendous influence on their society." She emphasized that "The American youth is responsible for the future of the students in these nations.

The general assembly then split up into informal discussion groups to discuss the question of "The Impact of WUS on the American Campus."

—Gross

OBSERVATION POST

Tuesday, October 16, 1962

Page Two

Don't hide it. Ugliness will be an asset October 25 and 26 when Alpha Phi Omega holds its annual Ugly Man Contest. The parade of frightful shapes will vie for the coveted title of "Ugly Man" and the winner will be determined by the largest amount of money collected in a lead-lined cannister of "Ugly Man" and the winner will be determined by the largest amount of money collected in a lead-lined cannister.
Clark Depicts Suppression of 'White Moderates'; Hicks Tells of Terror in Clinton, Tenn.

It is not the Negro in the South today who is being "beaten into submission by conformity measures but the vast majority of white moderates," Professor Kenneth B. Clark (Psychology) maintains.

Professor Clark told the Psychology Society Thursday, "Conformity Pressures in the South,"

The primary question is not right or left, Negro or white, "Mr. Hicks said, "but the right of American citizens to express dissenting opinions without fear of ruthless suppression." He asserted that he could not feel "impassioned for freedom and for democracy" when he saw people being "tied down" and forced to "keep silent,"

"I don't want anyone to get the impression that we are the only city like this, because there is work to be done," he said.

The situation in Clinton had no parallel elsewhere, he explained, "there are no avenues which can be brought to bear on the issue."

The Inter-Fraternity Council will hold nominations for president tomorrow in Room 217, Finley Student Center at 4 PM.

'Tito Maintains Independence' Claims Government Professor

Tito was able to maintain a position independent from the Soviet Union stated Dr. Ivo Duchacek (Government) in his address to the History Society last Thursday.

"It is not the Negro in the South today who is being "beaten into submission by conformity measures but the vast majority of white moderates," Professor Kenneth B. Clark (Psychology) maintains."
CCNY Social Life Tame for Junior; Prefers Rubbing Noses With Eskimos

Gerald Lazar, a junior, finds life tame rubbing elbows with students again after a summer of rubbing noses with Eskimos.

The adventurous Lazar spent his vacation as a seaman aboard a freighter bound for Greenland. "I'm allergic to grass and flowers," he explains. His duties at sea comprised an eight-hour day. They were spent, however, in the wheelhouse, the chart room and the Low, from which he watched anxiously for icebergs when the ship was in an ice floe area. Occasionally he stood night watch, oerating through the darkness for other vessels.

The purpose of the voyage to Greenland was the supplying of American military bases in the arctic. Icebergs loomed around the freighter off the Newfoundland coast, and Lazar had "visions of the Titanic and Andrea Doria."

Unscathed, Lazar and his crewmates docked at Narsarsuk in Southern Greenland, but had a quieter time than traditional sailors on leave: "There wasn't much to do there—just drinking and fishing." He also had what he recalls an "interesting" date with an Eskimo girl.

After the cold sojourn in Narsarsuk, the ship sailed to Thule, the northernmost port in the world, where snow was piled high during the summer. "The Eskimos would offer anything in trade for cigarettes," Lazar says. He himself was tempted by the animal hides they offered, but "they were cured with urine and they smelled terrible," and he declined because he felt they might cause him trouble when he returned to the United States.

Does Lazar regret leaving life on the high seas for the more prosaic life of a student and Business Manager of Observation Post? "No," he says emphatically. "I was seasick most of the time."

Hillel's Survey Nixes Marilyn, Beau Brummel

Popular conceptions to the contrary, Marilyn Monroe and Beau Brummel are not the "ideal marriage types," according to a poll taken last term by Hillel.

More important traits in the ideal mate, the survey indicates, are love and similar religion. The study was made of students participating in Hillel's Courtship and Marriage discussion group.

The discussions, open to all students at the College, are held every Wednesday at 1 PM in Room 350 Finley Student Center. In the series of discussions by the group this term, the results of the study will be further analyzed and a survey on another topic will be initiated.

---

OP will accept Classified Ads at the student rate of five cents a word.

ENLARGER

Wide Format 27" x 24" 43" x 43" 50" x 50" 60" x 60"

S.O.S.

The following is a list of the Student Government Films Program for the semester. The films will be shown on Friday nights at 8:30 PM in Townsend Harris Auditorium.

October 26. "Where's Charley?," with Ray Bolger. The dancer lightfoots his way through this musical comedy.

December 14. "Arsenic and Old Lace." Two sweet old ladies are a lot more lethal than they look.

A Freshman From India

By Richard Niedenhaus

Richard Niedenhaus, a freshmum, is also a new arrival to the United States. Born in India, he is the son of a liberal-minded father, Niedenhaus, in a group of articles for Observation Post, we present his story!

Within two weeks after my arrival in the United States, from India, on July 28, 1956, I came to City College. Having never been in contact with the living city, I was determined to experience and enjoy all that New York has to offer. As I got off the subway at 137th street, and saw the magnificent skyline, I felt the urge to explore the new world.

The up-climb was particularly reminiscent of my student days in my own home town, Visakhapatnam, Andhra State, South India, where I was educated four years ago came back vividly. It was similarly situated. A long wait was necessary in the process of fruition—to become an engineer. No wonder then, when I met the concerned person, my talk seemed incoherent.

One, of the dreams of quite a few students, was to visit the zoo. The administration would have to be convinced that this was a worthwhile activity. It was not easy. After several attempts, I finally managed to convince the administration that the visit was necessary.

Back home, I used to walk to and from the college. The weather was hot, and the air was humid. The journey was long, and I had to endure the heat. The journey was not easy, and I had to endure the heat. The journey was not easy, and I had to endure the heat. The journey was not easy, and I had to endure the heat.

Today the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities will meet to consider the question of the second list. Their astounding decision last semester to take away protective measures from the lists was a blow to me.

From the first, we have challenged the right of the Administration to keep tabs on us. The principal reason for our resistance is to protest against the list. Why do they need membership lists? To give information in the future to the courts? Surely it is within a student's right to refrain from being an employer only to those activities he feels are public. Is it then that we do not have a right to privacy?

As the Administration seems to be of the opinion that the student's time is spent on Thursdays in clubs, they are planning to pass a law to make students wear the club's pins. It is a baseless law, and it is unfair. The students have the right to refuse to wear the pins.

The truth is that they have no right to want students to have any club or be entitled to them. No reason, that is, transcends importance that it makes up for the effects of club membership falling off woefully and for the desire of a college, free experimentation, eroding into timidity. This generation's experiment may be next generation's transgression, as the Administration surely knows. It is a baseless law, and it is unfair. The students have the right to refuse to wear the pins.

To Celebrate City College's First Decade

The celebration of the tenth anniversary of the City College Foundation will take place. The students in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Pierre.

Among the more than 350 people attending the event will be Bernard M. Baruch, class of 1899, City College president; Abraham D. Beame, class of '26, and the oldest living alumni of CCNY. The celebration will continue next term's production—a series of plays and musical numbers.

Letters...

Minority Opinion?

Having read the letter which appeared in the October 2 issue of Observation Post, I feel compelled to write certain remarks pertaining to the general attitude of your editorial board. By the suspension of Arthur Steier of Brooklyn College, the author of the letter advises the editors to be circumspect in seeking to uncover the facts as to whether the action is reasonable. I am afraid that the propriety of this thought is the wish that I wish to discuss.

In my three years at City College, I cannot recall an instance in which results have not concerned the authorities of this college. The unfortunate result of this obsession has been to create in the minds of the students the illusion that our college is run by a group of power-hungry ego-maniacs whose sole objective in life is to subvert student prerogatives and undermine the welfare of the student body.

Secretly or otherwise, the administration is trying to create a false impression that the students have no rights. This is the essence of this obsession. In my opinion, the students should be allowed to express their views freely without fear of retribution.

Gentlemen, it is about time that you realize that you cannot pass a law to control the army and expect tolerance. And is the university administration in the United States immune from these laws? I am afraid that the former implies regulation of the body and the latter, of the mind.

By this I do not mean the Prussian type of regimentation with its emphasis on authoritarianism, blind obedience to authority, and cheap demagogues sell their wares elsewhere. If we are to maintain our vigilance against such ideas, we must be prepared to meet their challenge head on. It is a challenge to our right to liberty and freedom. I am afraid that the former implies regulation of the body and the latter, of the mind.

Music...
You Can Win a Cash Award—and Scholarship Money for Your College in

Reader's Digest

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy—nothing to write
...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

In's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country...and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with the actual order of each article you select. If the six articles you select are in the order of their actual popularity, you will win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may win:

* $5000 cash 1st prize plus $5000 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* $1000 cash 2nd prize plus $1000 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* Any of TEN $500 cash prizes plus $500 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* Any of TEN $100 cash prizes in book credit from your local college bookstore.

And if your entry is the best from your college you will receive an extra $5000 for the scholarship fund of your college or...

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES

1. Read the descriptions in this adver- tisement of the articles that appear in October Reader's Digest. Or better, read the complete articles. Then select the 6 that you think most readers will like best.

2. On the entry blank at left, write the numbers of the six articles you select. List them in the order you think they will be in order of popularity—most to least popular. Your selections will be judged by comparison with a national survey that ranks in order of popularity the 6 articles that readers choose best. Fill in and mail the coupon. All entries must be postmarked not later than midday, October 25, 1956.

3. This contest is open only to college students and faculty members in the U. S., excluding employees of The Reader's Digest, its advertising agencies and their families. It is subject to all federal, state and local laws and regulations.

4. Only one entry per person.

5. In case of ties, entries postmarked earliest will win. Entries will be judged by 0. E. McIntyre, Inc., whose decision will be final. All entries become property of The Reader's Digest: none returned.

6. All winners notified by mail. List of cash prize winners mailed if you envelope is self-adressed, sealed and properly postage.

YOU CAN WIN:

* $5000 cash 1st prize plus $5000 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* $1000 cash 2nd prize plus $1000 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* Any of TEN $500 cash prizes plus $500 for the scholarship fund of your college or...
* Any of TEN $100 cash prizes in book credit from your local college bookstore.

AND...YOU CAN WIN:

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy—nothing to write
...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country...and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Reader's Digest will like the best.

You may find...you know more about people than you think!
Playoffs May Determine How Good Booters Are

The question of how the College's soccer team compares with squads around the country may finally be answered this year. The National Soccer Coaches Association is busy making preparations for a series of playoffs that will either determine or disprove the metropolitan Conference is not too high. However, if continuing to post impressive scores, they certainly will be in running for the nomination. The Beaver squad's regular season will probably come to an end on West Point. Army faces a stiffer schedule than do the Beavers, and the ratings are based on both home and defensive play. Scoring an undefeated season may not be enough to gain state title for the Beavers, the caliber of play in the Metropolitan Conference is not too high. However, if continuing to post impressive scores, they certainly will be in running for the nomination. The Beaver's chief competition will probably come from Brockport State. Army faces a much tougher schedule than do the Beavers, but the squad has not yet had the opportunity even if it does record an undefeated season. A decisive win over the Continentals this past Thursday could obviously improve City's chances.

Will the competition from Brockport State determine the makeup of the Eastern representatives in the further eliminations. Coordinator Harry Karlin is hopeful that his squad will be selected for the playoffs. He feels that such a tournament will enable the team to prove that its consistently fine record is not due solely to the low caliber of the Metropolitan competition. The scoring for the Beaver squad's regular season will probably come to an end on November 23. On that date, New York State representatives will be matched against the strongest Eastern teams. The New Jersey-Pennsylvania area will battle with the best Southern team. The winners of these matches will meet December 2 to decide the Eastern champions. Meanwhile, other games will decide the Midwestern and Western representatives in the further eliminations.

Beaver Coach Harry Karlin is now more hopeful than ever that his team will be selected for the playoffs. He feels that such a tournament will enable the team to prove that its consistently fine record is not due solely to the low caliber of the Metropolitan competition.

Harriers Rout Brooklyn; Cop First Five Positions

BY HARRY MALIN

A heavily favored Beaver cross-country team scored an easy 15-40 victory over Brooklyn College in its first dual meet of season at Van Cortland Park Saturday. The team now sports a 3-0 record as a result of this triumph and last week's triangular win over Hunter and Queens.

City registered the lowest possible score when it captured the first five places in the meet. Randy Crossfield led the field all the way and finished the first mile course with an impressive time of 29:10. Rick Hurford also completed the race in under thirty minutes, placing second with a clocking of 29:40. He views the new squad as the only Brooklyn's second season in cross-country competition, the score was not an indication of our real strength. We're going to have to do a lot better from now on if we hope to keep up our winning record. I've been worried about my fourth and fifth runners because they are extremely important in meet races. Daughtery and Gravenor, though, have shown a great deal of promise and they should be very valuable in backing up my first three runners, Crossfield, Hurford and Taylor.

Fine Style

"But," continued de Girolamo, "the team is still coming along in fine style. I've been worried about my fourth and fifth runners because they are extremely important in meet races. Daughtery and Gravenor, though, have shown a great deal of promise and they should be very valuable in backing up my first three runners, Crossfield, Hurford and Taylor.

Make friends with Winston! WINSTON heads the class on flavor!

LIKE A CIGARETTE SHOULD!

Try America's favorite filter smoke! You'll like the full, rich taste. You'll like the Winston filter, too. It does the job so smoothly and effectively that the flavor really comes through - so you can enjoy it! For finer filter smoking, get Winston!
Cagers Begin Workout With Polansky as Coach

Eleven minus one equal to twenty seven! Sound strange? There were the significant statistics given that seven; seven players in all coach Nat Holman reported yesterday.

Polansky was their new mentor Dave Polansky, as the College's basketball squad opened practice in preparation for its fifty-second season of intercollegiate competition.

The returning veterans were led by co-captains Syd Levy, six foot six and half inch senior center, and Bill Lewis, 6-3 senior center section of the country, and Joe Forward. Two other members of last year's first team who answered the call for practice were John Bohilpeiss, second highest scoring member of last year's season's quintet with a fourteen point game average who was chosen (with Levy) in a pre-season poll by Dell Magazine to be among the top fifty players in the Eastern section of the country and Joe Benucci, a 2-2 sophomore. Seniors Jim Sullivan, 6-2, Marv Doherty, 5-8, and Al DeMarra, 5-5, and juniors Bob Silver, 6-3, and Stan Friedman, 5-8, Joel Andris, 5-4, and Pete Marcsh, 6-4, the other returning lettermen present.

Polansky's lesson of the day was held at the Beaver helm for Poland who tutored the squad for five years, from 1953-1954, and amassed a twenty won, forty lost record.

---

Booters Rip Queens, 7-0; Tally Five in Final Period

By BOB MAIER

The title-bound Beaver booter express clicked on all cylinders Saturday as the soccer men rolled to a 7-0 victory over Queens College at the losers' Flushing field. A combination of precise passing, hard shooting, and solid defense gave the Beavers their third victory of the season and moved them into undisputed possession of first place in the Metropolitan Conference this season.

After a sluggish start which brought forth a scoreless first forty-five minutes of last year's 3-2 tie with the Knights, the Lavender exploded for five goals in the final period.

Wolf Westl Gets Three Assists

Novak Masanovich led the Beaver defensive unit with three goals, two coming in the last quarter. Fred Bonnet, Wolf Westl, and Billy Sund also scored in the late up-rising.

Masanovich's four goals gave him a total of nine for the season, ranking him at the head of the lists.

The 1954 squad, which posted the season's high for the Lavender, scored twenty goals, but their attack was slower than in any other year. The Lavender attack was also slower than in any other year.

Masanovich's Switch to Attack Has Opponents on Defensive

Last year Novak Masanovich was an unheralded defensemen on the College's soccer team. This year City opponents are wishing they had stayed there.

Masanovich is currently pacing the Beaver booter's offensive attack. In the squad's three games to date he has tallied one goal from his center forward slot, and is threatening Johnny Koutsanouris's all-time scoring record of thirteen.

Coach Harry Karlin explains that with the graduation of Koutsanouris and other members of last year's team, he had to make some new scoring ace, Wolf Westl, left. Be收受

Standing at the goal, a point position, is a standing position, a difficult maneuver which is vital for a center forward. A man who always liked to

It was at Girard he learned his role in the offense, and now he is one of the top scorers in the country.

Novak Masanovich A Chosen for the Second Time

Novak Masanovich, the former Masanovich, is being named several other men at center forward, but they just didn't seem to click. Novak filled the bill because he could kick powerfully from a standing position, a difficult maneuver which is vital for a center forward. A man who always liked to

---

Sports Notes

- Two seniors on the College basketball team, Syd Levy and Ralph Scheflen, have been named to the 1954-1955 edition of Dell Basketball Magazine as being among the top fifty players in the Eastern section of the country.
- Players are still needed for the women's basketball team. Interested students should see Miss Laura Ham in the Park Gym any time between 3 and 5 PM.
- Varsity basketball practice will be held every afternoon between 4 and 6 PM in the West Gymnasium. The freshmen will get to work the same time as the Tech Greenlanders.
- Freshman basketball coach George Wolfe has announced that a game with the Rutgers freshmen on February 23 has been added to the 1954-55 schedule.

---

IT'S FOR REAL!

by Chester Field

SECRET YEARNINGS!

Oh, why must I be civilized instead of being me? I'd like to be a beard and kike each pretty gal I see I'd like to be that beard next door it's been my favorite dream And when and how's how I'd like to be upon the floor and screen!

MOOREL: When you want to let go, enjoy the real thing.

Relax and enjoy a Chesterfield King! The King of them all for flavor that's real For deep satisfaction you honestly feel... Made to smoke smoother by Accent Beg... borrow... or buy 'em, but try 'em today!

Take your pleasure big... Snuff for real... smoke Chesterfield!