

AAUP Group Will Consider Gates Barring

The recent action of the Council of Presidents of the five municipal colleges, barring John Gates from speaking privileges, will be discussed tomorrow by the College's chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP).

The committee will consider a resolution similar to one criticizing the Presidents' action passed on March 22 by the AAUP's Queens College chapter. The meeting will be held at 12:45 PM in Room 200 Shepard.

Protesting "the recent decision of the Provost and the Presidents and the practice of legislating by retroactive ex post facto decree," the Queens resolution asked that the Council of Presidents open the question "for discussion and decision in which the faculties and student bodies, through their elected representatives, have full participation.

"New criteria were set up by administrative fiat," the Queens group charged, "... after strong pressures had been exerted by outside organizations." The situation was handled, it continued, "in a manner too sudden, retroactive, and arbitrary to offer good precedent for future action."

More than 200 faculty members at the College belong to the AAUP, which is the largest organization of college professors in the country.

Also on the agenda for tomorrow's meeting, according to Professor Mark W. Zemansky (Physics), the Chapter's president, will be a treasurer's report, the election of a nominating committee, and instruction to the delegates to the AAUP's annual national convention.

By MARSHA COHEN

The annual Homecoming Day, sponsored by the College's Alumni Association, will be held on the South Campus lawn on Saturday, May 4. The program will begin at 11 AM with a Symposium which will consider the topic, "The Future of City College—The Next Decade." Faculty members, students, and alumni will participate in the "Little White House Conference," over which President Buell G. Gallagher will preside.

Guest panelists will include Dean Harold H. Abelson (Education) '24, Dean William Allan (Engineering), Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts and Sciences) '13, Dean Emanuel Saxe (Baruch School) '23, and Mrs. Pearl Max, Administrator, Board of Higher Education.

This is the first time, according to Mr. Seymour Weisman, Executive Secretary of the Association, that the topic to be discussed will have "a direct bearing on the City College students of the future."

Activities Coordinating Comm. Will Be Proposed by Pollner

By STEVE LUDWIG

A proposal to establish a committee to coordinate student organization activities will be brought before Student Council tonight by Senior Class President, Martin Pollner.

The resolution for the "Club Coordinating Agency" was tabled Friday at a meeting of the Committee for the Improvement of Student Activities, sponsored by Hillel. Pollner said, yesterday, that he had wanted the committee to endorse his proposal and bring it before Student Council, "but since they have seen fit to table it, I've decided to bring it before the Council without their endorsement."

The purpose of the organization, Pollner said, would be "to alleviate discrepancies such as the House Plan Carnival and Student Government Boat Ride being one day apart."

All organizations on campus would come under certain categories according to their constitutional functions. These organizations would meet weekly. A representative of each of these classifications would also meet bi-weekly, with the SG Vice President, and would arrange a social calendar, hear and aid or organizational grievances, and aid in publicity of organizations.

There would be fourteen club category representatives and a representative from Student Government.

Pollner feels that his chances tonight are good. He said, "I know I have the hearty endorsement of the Department of Student Life, and numerous organizations—such as NAACP, Chi Lambda, and others—have expressed approval of my plan."

Alumni Request Prexies To Reexamine Decision

By PETER FRANKLIN

A resolution requesting that "the Administrative Council of Municipal College Presidents reexamine its barring of all Smith Act violators from municipal college campuses" was passed by the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

At a special meeting of the Board last Wednesday, according to Mr. Seymour Weisman, Executive Secretary, the policy statement was approved with one dissenting vote.

The Board asked that "President Buell G. Gallagher assume the initiative in asking the Council to reexamine the ruling barring the Smith Act violators as well as the decision of May, 1950 refusing the courtesy of the campuses to persons under indictment for any reason, or awaiting appeal from a conviction."

The resolution also stated that, "the Council should adopt the policy of allowing each municipal college president, under established procedures, to determine for himself which speakers shall be allowed the courtesy of the campus."

The decision to bar Smith Act violators was based on a statement issued March 13 by the Council.

In a further attempt to reappraise the College's policy, President Gallagher announced yesterday that the members of the twelve man committee formed to "explore speaker policy" will be made public tomorrow.

Psych. Dept. Secretary Hits Right Note in Paris

By GERRY ESKENAZI

The first thing the secretary of the Psychology Department did upon reaching Paris in 1952, was to call up a strange male and ask him if he'd like to make beautiful music with her.

This action, however, was not tantamount to Miss Elizabeth Madden's sense of propriety. A violinist and member of the Amateur Chamber Music Players—an international organization composed of dedicated "week-end" musicians who, because of their regular professions, can't play as often as they'd like—Miss Madden has to play catch-as-catch-can if she wants a duet. She participated in Paris and managed to participate in several musical "get-togethers."

In her present job at the College for three years, Miss Madden quick snack, join several members of the Music Department in an impromptu string ensemble.

Until recently she was also the only member of the CCNY orchestra who did not belong to either the faculty or student body. However, lack of time forced her to curtail this activity. Sunday mornings, though, she gets up early and performs in the 92nd St. "Y" Orchestra.

"Music brings out the highest qualities in man," according to Miss Madden. "It forms a language between those people who participate in it."

week with Morris L. Ernst, retained by the Student Government to appeal the Council's ruling. Dr. Gallagher also revealed that ten members of the committee have already been selected and that the first meeting is tentatively planned for Saturday.

The committee will consist of six students and four faculty members, three alumni, Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) and Dr. Gallagher. The students on the committee will be two representatives each from uptown and downtown Day Session, one uptown Evening Session and one downtown Evening Session representative.

At a Hunter College Student Government meeting last night, President George Shuster defended the ruling of the five presidents by stating that, "This state recognizes no right of student groups to invite to campuses speakers of their choice."

Curtain Time

The story of a half-mortal, half-fairy, Stephen, and his quest for love with a full-fledged fairy, Phyllis, is the theme of Gilbert and Sullivan's comedy, Iolanthe, to be presented by the G&S Society, Friday and Saturday evenings, April 26 and 27 at 8:30 P.M.

The operetta will be performed at Joan of Arc Junior High School, 93rd Street, between Amsterdam and Columbus Avenues. Tickets, priced at $1 for the Friday performance and $1.20 for Saturday's, will be on sale tomorrow, 128 Finley.

There have been times though, when the "itch" got her before the vernal equinox did. Packing her lunch box and violin case, she'd hie off to the Townsend Harris auditorium and, after a

SPRING COACHES

Harry de Girolamo

By Norm Weiner

This is the last of a series profiling the four spring coaches. Working on the articles were Larry Cadoff, Peter Franklin and Marv Glassberg.

"Chance often plays a very important role in our lives and quite often we are destined to engage in the unexpected," professes Beaver track coach Harry de Girolamo. The Lavender mentor bases his theory on the fact that although he has coached the squad since 1955, his first contact with track did not occur until after he had been teaching here for eight years.

Coach de Girolamo first became involved with the sport in 1944 when Professor Raymond Purcell, then head of the Evening Session Hygiene Department, suggested that de Girolamo form an evening track team. This idea, coupled with coach de Girolamo's determination, has resulted in City's having the only night session track team in the country.

Even after he replaced Harold Anson Bruce as varsity track coach in 1955, de Girolamo continued to coach the evening squad, a dual role he still plays.

Although the hygiene professor was considered a speedy runner while at West Orange High School in New Jersey, he abandoned all track competition in order to play baseball and football. In the two years he played on the West Orange nine, he occupied, at various times, the second base and center field slots. During the gridiron season he played at quarterback and end—a true "double-threat" man.

After graduating from high school, Coach de Girolamo went to New York University where he eventually received his BS, MA, and PhD.

The hygiene instructor who began teaching at the College in 1936 is now in the process of completing his twenty-first year here. "It certainly doesn't seem that long," comments de Girolamo, "but I guess the time flew by because I enjoyed teaching and coaching so much. One thing that will always stand out in my memory is the superb performance of the boys on the undefeated cross-country team last fall."

Professor de Girolamo has for a long time been active in recreational activities and has helped his community a great deal in doing so. The mentor was assistant to the Director of Recreation at West Orange from 1936 to 1948 and formerly was a member of the Board of Directors for a girl scout camp. At the present time he is on the Policy Committee of the United Community Services of the Oranges and Maplewood, a social welfare group.

Rain-Drenched Beaver May Shake Hex Today

After three cancellations the Beaver baseball team will journey to Wagner College today, where they hope to inaugurate the season. The squad's original schedule called for enough days between games, but now that the first three games were postponed, the baseballers must contend with six opponents during the ten day vacation.

After travelling to Princeton tomorrow, Coach John La Place and his squad battle Manhattan at home on Saturday.

Sunday is a much needed day of rest, for three away games with Fordham, NYU, and Army ensue. Hofstra and St. John's visit Babe Ruth Field the following Saturday and Monday.

The track team attempts to start on the right foot when it encounters Hunter in Lewisohn Stadium, tomorrow at 3. The gates to the Stadium will remain open in expectation of as fine a turnout as the lacrosse opened produced.

The runners next jaunt Adelphi on Tuesday, April 12, will finish their vacation competition as entries in the CTC lays. —Glassberg
