Wagner Endorses Chancellor Plan; Alumni Group Requests Modification

Coordinating Post Proposed by BHE

The plan to place the administration of City College and municipal colleges in the hands of a chancellor has been "strongly endorsed" by Mayor Wagner. Requested by Dr. Joseph B. Cavallaro, president of the Board of Higher Education, the plan will necessitate an appropriation of $10,000,000 to cover the first year of operation of the new office.

It was indicated at City Hall that Mayor Wagner, who is on a leave of absence as president of Queens College, would not be able to hold the new post.

The Mayor expressed the hope that the Board of Estimate would grant Dr. Cavallaro's request at its Tuesday meeting.

Mr. A. Bloostein will discuss government service opportunities in room 217. Mr. Sidney Baldwin will discuss merchandising in room 427. Mr. Walter Anderson will discuss government service opportunities in room 320.

The plan will make a new position for the chancellor, a new position for the city colleges, and a new position for the Board of Higher Education.

Awards Given In Journalism

The winning writers of the first Annual Journalism Award at the College were announced by the Alumni Association Tuesday. Three of the awards were captured by The Campus, one by the Observer, and one by the Voice of the Student Body.

In the competition open to the seven undergraduate newspapers vying for honors in the Grand Ballroom, The Campus won the first place award for Editorial Writing, The Observer for Meritorious Reporting, and The Voice of the Student Body for Meritorious Editorial Writing.

The first Career Day in the history of the College will be held tomorrow at 3 PM in the Grand Ballroom. The Placement Office, is specifically aimed at Liberal Arts students, will give an over-all picture of employment opportunities.

Discussion Topics: The speakers, topics, and rooms are as follows:

At first glance, the proposal for the creation of a chancellor to administer the five municipal colleges seems to be a good idea. According to Dr. Joseph B. Cavallaro, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, the chancellor would coordinate and represent the colleges in their affairs.

Mayor Wagner has also stamped his approval on the plan and has asked the Board of Estimate today to approve his $100,000 recommendation for the operation of the post in its initial year.

But before such a step is taken, we would agree with the Alumni Association that a second and more critical “glance” is not entirely in order. The Alumni object to the proposal on the grounds that it does not provide adequate safeguards for the autonomy of the individual college presidents or protection the integrity and distinct character of each of the municipal colleges.

The College has already lost ground in its quest for complete academic freedom this year because of the influence of one of our sister schools—the Queens College barring of John Gates. Scholarships, Loans and Grants

By Shelly Halpern

This is the second of a series of articles designed to inform the student body of the many scholarships, grants and loans available to them.

Interest in a particular academic field can result in a scholarship for some lucky student. Similarly, a cultural or national affiliation may be one of the criteria for the granting of scholarships. Unfortunately, many students are not aware of the wide range and diverse specifications of many of the withdrawal funds for which they may be eligible.

The stipulations of many of the scholarship funds include a test to determine the financial need of the student. Some scholarships require that there be a continuous income to balance the withdrawal funds. In some of these funds only the income may be invested, insuring a reserve of the original bequest, while in other funds both the principal and interest can be used. A third group of uninvested funds, and once the funds are exhausted, the scholarship is defunct.

Students interested in studying abroad may be interested in the Downer Memorial Scholarship and the Naumburg Study and Downer Memorial Scholarship. Administered by the Chemistry Department and amounts to $250.

Outstanding chemistry students, preferably of the Jewish faith, are eligible to receive one of the Morris Raphael Cohen Scholarships. Outstanding freshmen have a chance to win the Borden Freshman Prize, a cash award. The Cadesceue Society Award and the Professor William Stratford Prize present awards for excellence in the natural sciences and vertebrate zoology, respectively. Proficiency in the introductory economics course and in the History of Philosophy are required in order to balance the withdrawal funds which comprise the Ketchum Prizes.

Cash prizes, granted in honor of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, '38, are bestowed upon outstanding seniors undertaking postgraduate study in medical science.

Engineering students also come in for their share of the grants. The efforts of outstanding teachers are rewarded with the Elisa Ford Memorial Prize, the Maxwell Henry Memorial Award, the Charles A. Marltis Award and the Frederic O. K. McLaughlin Memorial Award, all cash awards. Further information on these and other awards may be obtained from the office of Mr. Irving Slade, Central Treasurer, Room 153 Finley.

Ref Late, Stickmen Wait Give Adelphi 12-0 Gate

BY MARY GLASSBERG

Yesterday's City-Adelphi lacrosse game was a lopsided affair in starting but it was over before a minute of the first period had elapsed.

Once the referees arrived and the contest began, The College's stickmen bolted and Adelphi's weren't slowed down until the initial frame concluded. By that time the Brown and Gold were on the short end of a 7-0 score. City netmen didn't score a single point in more than 12 minutes to finish as 12-0 victors.

Fun Begins

The Brown and Gold rallied at 6:47 when Ron Rose received a pass from co-captain Mike Volpe and fired a bullet into Panther netminder Tony Dapilato. City netmen fired a reply, but hopes to be ready for the flyer soon next fall.

Olsen Wins 6; Trackmen Cop

Paced by Len Olsen, who captured six events, the Beaver track team romped over Adelphi 81-60 last week. Olsen won the 130-yd. high and 200-yd. low hurdles in times of 18.6 and 30.1 seconds. He also took the javelin, shotput, hammer and discus throw with marks of 130 ft. 4 in., 37 ft. 7 in., 98 ft. 6 in. and 102 ft. 4 in., respectively.

Caught the one-mile run, Dave Graverson also finished second in the 2-mile run, the javelin, and the discus throw.

Randy Cranfield tallied first, second and third in the two-mile run, the one-mile run and the hammer throw respectively.

Late BC Rally Ties Beavers In Game Marred by Errors

The sight of victory for the first time this season must have been too much for the Beaver baseballers—they let a four-run lead slip from their grasp and had to be content with a 6-6 standoff against Brooklyn College yesterday at McCombs Dam Field in the Bronx.

Not that the Lavender didn't try hard enough to win it. They exploded for four runs in the very first inning and seemed to be well on their way to their initial triumph of the season (they tied in two of their last three) as the eighth inning rolled around with the Beavers in command, 6-4.

Kingman Tie

But the visitors from Brooklyn weren't finished. After Hermann, the second Kingsman hurler, held double, Walt Edge, BC left-fielder hit a mile-high fly to Ron Welcome in left field. After doing a fancy two-step under the ball, Welcome just missed the ball with his outstretched glove and the boys from across the river had none on second and third.

This set the stage for Marty Grosman, hard-hitting Brooklyn catcher, and he didn't disappoint his coach. Grosman singled up the middle to score the anxious baserunners and the score remained at 6-6 till the end—the game was stopped at the end of nine innings because of a Parks Department ruling that no inning start after 6 PM.

Stew Weiss, Beaver moundman, pitched excellent ball for six innings, but was just too knocked out to make it for the seventh. Although Weiss allowed three runs during his tenure,
