Marxist Forum...

A forum will be presented by the Marxist Discussion Club today in room 427 Finley. The speakers will be Max Gordon, editorial writer for the Daily Worker, Eric Haas, representing the Socialist Labor Party, and Morris Zuckoff, candidate for Comptroller from the Socialist Workers Party. Mr. Gordon is representing Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, People's Rights Party candidate for City Council, who was barred from speaking on the campus by President Buell G. Gallagher. The topic to be discussed is "Issues Facing and the Role of Socialist Third Parties in New York City."

Council Drafts Rebuttal To O'Malley Accusations

Student Council last night approved a letter rebutting the charges made by Richard O'Malley, in the American Mercury magazine. The vote was 14-1.

The letter, composed by Howard Schumann, Student Government Secretary will be sent to the editors of the American Mercury today.

Again, the charge is incompatible with the facts.

"Finally, we say to Richard O'Malley and the editors of the American Mercury, freedom presupposes responsibility, responsibility that cannot be neatly categorized but is essentially that which mature men must feel in their daily relationships, that of the truth, and of attempts to speak always in the name of clarity, realism, and understanding. Neither the letter by Richard O'Malley nor the Editor's Preface indicate an awareness of these responsibilities."

Howard Schumann
Sends Vituperative Reply

The letter begins: "We vigorously uphold the principles of free speech and free debate. Every man has the right to speak his mind according to his convictions, but no man has the right to strangle the truth, to make false and irresponsible accusations, or to demean an entire institution."

The reply goes on to deny the charges made by O'Malley that the College is "a hot-bed of left-wing activity." O'Malley asserted that the major organizations on campus are "controlled by extreme liberal groups who have blocked attempts to establish a conservative organization."

The rebuttal continues: "... Liberalism is a procedure for arriving at conclusions which assumes that men may never be certain as to the possession of truth. It is therefore incumbent upon the Liberal to keep open channels for criticism of all truths including his own. It goes without saying from the above definition that Liberalism is the very antithesis of Communism or any other form of totalitarianism."

'Not Only Liberals'

"Another fabrication is Mr. O'Malley's charge that only communists, socialists, and liberals have appeared at the College. Many times, during Academic Freedom Week and throughout the regular year, conservative speakers of all types have participated in lectures, debates and forums. To name only a few: Roy Cohn, George Sokolsky, and Congressman Coudert.

Gallagher Meeting Faculty For Guest Speaker Parley

President Buell G. Gallagher announced yesterday he will call a meeting of the General Faculty for November 14 at which he will present a report and recommendations on "visiting speakers."

Although the President declined further comment on the purpose of the meeting, it appears from the context of disclosures at yesterday's press conference that the meeting may result in the General Faculty taking a stand on the ruling barring campus speaking privileges to those convicted under the Smith Act.

Can't Go It Alone.

Referring to his efforts to have the Smith Act ruling repealed, Dr. Gallagher said, "I have now reached a point where I cannot promise results from my continuing efforts to get this ruling changed. I cannot single-handedly have this ruling rescinded," he said.

Dr. Gallagher said he became convinced of this at a meeting of the Administrative Committee of City College on October 21. He asserted he had gone before the Administrative Council of the Board of Higher Education (BHE) and requested that the ruling be rescinded, but had been referred by them to the Administrative Committee.

Ruling Reversal Proposed

Dr. Gallagher's proposal was that "the four presidents no longer hold in effect" the Smith Act ruling which served to bar Daily Worker editor John Gates from the campus in March of this year.

There was no actual vote by the Administrative Committee, Dr. Gallagher said, "but the discussion made it clear" that feeling was against his proposal. "I find I cannot press this matter to a successful conclusion single-handedly," he claimed.

It was Dr. Gallagher who issued the proposal to the Administrative Council in March which bars from the campuses of the municipal colleges people who have been convicted or who are under indictment under the Smith Act. Dr. Gallagher suggested the proposal at that time, he claims, in order to prevent "a worse thing." "The gambit of last March was successful in preventing a major catastrophe, but was not successful in removing a minor evil," he said. A proposal had been made to ban all Communists from the campuses.

Asked if he would follow the letter of the ruling, Dr. Gallagher said, "I am not going to commit a Faubusism by refusing to obey rulings now in effect."

Dr. Gallagher expressed his thanks for "the way in which the student governments, both Day and Evening Session and Uptown and Downtown, have exercised restraint and not agitated the issue. This was done at my request in the hope that in a relaxed atmosphere I would be able to get the Smith Act ban changed."

Flynn Causes Controversy

The Municipal College Presidents' ruling was discussed at the President's weekly conference yesterday as a result of controversy arising over his barring of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, People's Rights Party candidate for City Council in the Twenty-Fourth District who was convicted under the Smith Act in 1953.

Miss Flynn was invited by the Marxist Discussion Club to speak today on "Issues Facing and the Role of Socialist Third Parties in New York." The President denied Miss Flynn the right to speak on campus, upholding the Council of Municipal College Presidents' ruling which bars Smith Act violators. Max Gordon, a member of the editorial board of the Daily Worker, will speak today in Miss Flynn's place.

Mayor, NAACP Leader Speak Here Tomorrow

Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Mrs. Daisy Bates, President of the Arkansas National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will deliver consecutive addresses tomorrow in the Grand Ballroom of the Finley Student Center.

Mayor Wagner will speak at 3 PM on election issues. Mrs. Bates will follow him with a talk on the Little Rock situation at approximately 4 PM.

Gets 'anti-bias' Petition

According to Marvin Adler, Chairman of the Public Affairs Forum, Mayor Wagner will probably speak on the three main issues of the mayoralty race, juvenile delinquency, housing and schools. Mayor Wagner will be presented with the Student Government sponsored Sharkey-Brown-Isaacs petition during the question period. The petition supports the principles, and calls for immediate action on the "anti-bias" bill. The Republican candidate for Mayor, Robert K. Christenberry will speak at the Baruch School at 10 PM tomorrow.

Mrs. Bates, an integrationist leader during the Little Rock crisis, was invited to speak here by the Evening and Day Session NAACP. According to Dr. Jeanne Noble (Student Life) the nine Negro students attending the Little Rock Central High School have been leaving each morning from Mrs. Bates' house and return there every afternoon. Dr. Noble continued that "the College's chapter to the NAACP has expended a lot of time and energy to obtain time from her crowded schedule." Slides taken in Little Rock three days after the entrance of the 101 Airborne Division, by Dr. Noble on her visit last September 23, will introduce Mrs. Bates' talk.

The second Friday night dance of the term, to be held tomorrow at 8:30 PM in the Grand Ballroom of Finley Student Center, will feature the music of Bob Karin and his band. Photo-identification cards must be presented for admission.

Austin Briefs Deadline Met

The deadline for submission of briefs in the Board of Higher Education trial of Professor Warren B. Austin was reached last night with only the defense brief on file.

The counsel for the BHE, Mr. Michael A. Castaldi, will submit prosecution briefs through the mail which Dr. Charles H. Tuttle, Chairman of the BHE Trial Committee, expects to receive this morning.

Both sides will now have a week's time to submit counter briefs, which will be studied by the trial committee. The committee will then make recommendations to the BHE. Dr. Tuttle hopes that "this can be done as expeditiously as the interests of justice will permit."

Extensions had been granted to both sides, based on claims that they had received trial transcripts too late to submit presentable briefs.

Dr. Austin is being tried on charges of "conduct unbecoming a member of the staff" and violation of the Feinberg Law.

Postnotes...

• House Plan will hold its Halloween party today in the Houseplan Lounge, 325 Finley, between 12:30 and 2 PM. Refreshments, dancing, prizes and seasonal games will spark the proceedings. Fellas, bring your ghouls.

• The Class of '61 is sponsoring the Student-Faculty Tea to be held tomorrow, in Buttenweiser Lounge, Finley Student Center, from 3-5 PM. The officers, Student Council representatives, and Class Council representatives of the class will be on hand to greet students.

Round Two

President Gallagher admitted yesterday that all his efforts to have the Board of Higher Education rescind the ruling barring speakers convicted or indicted under the Smith Act from appearing at the College have been unsuccessful.

The action necessary to scrap this absurd edict must be taken through the Administrative Committee of City College, a group composed of nine members of the BHE. A revocation approved by that committee most probably would be passed through the Administrative Council of municipal college presidents and rubber stamped by the BHE.

The Council of municipal college presidents can hardly stand in the way of Dr. Gallagher's request to have the ruling repealed, since they expressed their intention to let each president decide how speaker policy was to be handled on his own campus as far back as the time of the original decree in March.

Up to the present time the Administrative Council has been against removal of the measure. Thus far, they have given no reason for their obdurate stand and have failed to provide a satisfactory basis for their approval of the ruling.

It seems that Dr. Gallagher cannot get past the Administrative Council alone. He has called a meeting of the General Faculty before whom he will report his recommendations concerning "visiting speakers."

We do not see how the General Faculty can do anything but back Dr. Gallagher in his fight to lift the shroud of censorship that has hung over the spirit of free inquiry at the College since last March.

We would also like to see Student Government and other organizations on campus draft resolutions to the Administrative Council asking that the ruling be removed.

A united front should show the Administrative Council where the feelings of the students, faculty and administration lie, so that the next time Dr. Gallagher goes before them, that august group will have no choice but to revoke the ruling.

Un-American Activity

It is singularly remarkable that two stories about the College's soccer team have appeared in a metropolitan paper in the space of one week. For, previously, basketball was our only sport that received any sort of recognition in the press.

Yet, here we have the New York Post giving space to this activity that just a few years ago was lost in a mass of "Other College Sports Results." Perhaps the Beaver Footers, more than any other metropolitan college soccer squad, are the reason for this new interest.

Talk with the players and they'll say students are repeatedly coming to them and exclaiming, "I never knew soccer could be so interesting." Quite a feat, considering that even in sports, narrow provincialism exists. To make people aware of contests other than baseball, basketball or football takes some doing.

So there must be something to it. The fans are catching on—in the Post article mention was made that the biggest crowd for a soccer game in Lewisohn Stadium history was present at the recent Lavender-Rensselaer Polytech game.

It is more, however, than just the intrinsic excitement of the sport that's responsible for the increasing amount of student interest in the game. It takes skill to execute plays, to win games—skills the soccer men of the College have demonstrated time and time again. The Footers have been the Met. Conference champs for the past four seasons. Not only do they deserve recognition, but student support, too. The effect a crowded Stadium, with all its accompanying cheers, has on the team cannot be minimized. They want to have the students out there and will play that much harder when "Allagazoo" rings in their ears.

THE PARTY WEEK END: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

With the season of party weekends almost upon us, my mail of late has been flooded with queries from young inmates of women's colleges wishing to know how one conducts one's self when one has invited a young gentleman for a weekend. This morning, for example, there were more than 30,000 letters, each containing a lock of hair. I gave the hair to a bombsight maker and the lanolin to a dry sheep of my acquaintance, and I turned instantly to the question: How should a young lady deport herself when she has asked a young gentleman to be her guest at a party weekend?

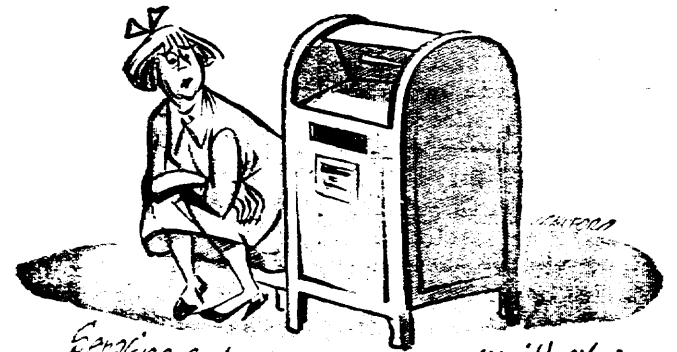

Well, my dear girls, the first thing to remember is that your young gentleman is far from home and frightened. Put him at his ease. You might, for instance, surprise him by having his mother sitting in a rocker on the station platform when he gets off the train.

Next, what kind of corsage should you send your young gentleman? Well, my beloved maidens, orchids are always acceptable.

If you find, my esteemed fillies, that your local florist has run out of stock, do not be dismayed. Make a corsage out of paper. But pick good, stiff, durable paper—twenty dollar bills, for example.

Remember at all times, my fond wenches, to show your young gentleman courtesy and consideration. Open doors for him, walk on the traffic side of the path, assist him to the punch bowl, zip his parka, light his Marlboros. (What, you ask, if he doesn't smoke Marlboros? Ridiculous, my precious nymphs! Of course, he smokes Marlboros! Don't you? Don't I? Doesn't everybody who knows a hawk from a handsaw?? What other cigarette gives you such a lot to like? Such filter? Such flavor? Such flip-top box? No other, my sweet minxes, no other. Marlboro stands alone, and any man worthy of you, my estimable damsels, is bound to be a Marlboro man.)

If you will follow the simple instructions stated above, my good lasses, you will find that you have turned your young gentleman into a fast and fervent admirer. There is nothing quite like a party weekend to promote romance.

I am in mind of a party weekend some years ago at Miss Porfritt's Seminary for Genteel Chicks in West Linotype, Ohio. Serafina Sigaloo, a sophomore at this institution, majoring in napkin folding, sent an invitation to a young man named Fafnir Valve, a junior at the Joyce Kilmer School of Forestry, majoring in sap and holes.

Anyhow, Serafina sent an invitation to Fafnir, and he came, and she showered him with kindness and cuff links, and then he went away, and Serafina sat anxiously by the mailbox, wondering whether she would ever hear from him again. Sure enough, two weeks later she got a letter: "Dear Serafina, Can you let me have fifty bucks? Yours, Fafnir."

Whispering with ecstasy, she ran to the bank and withdrew the money and mailed it to him. From then on, she got the same request every week, and as a result, she became very well acquainted with Ralph T. Involute, teller of the West Linotype Bank and Trust Co., and their friendship ripened into love, and today they are happily married and live in Stamen, Oregon, where Ralph is in the extruded molasses game and Serafina is a hydrant.

Every weekend is a party weekend when you smoke Marlboros, whose makers bring you this column throughout the school year.

Booters Triumph, 4-0; Goalie on 'Inactive List'

By MARV GLASSBERG

A mediocre offense, an excellent defense and a very lonely goalie was the story of the Beaver Booters 4-0 triumph over Hunter yesterday at the loser's field.

A definite lack of teamwork was evident on the City forward line. Too often a fast surge into Hunter territory was broken up by the Beavers themselves, the man with the ball preferring to dribble around instead of passing off.

Maintain Possession

As a result, City maintained possession and was able to play its unique brand of "half-court soccer," but did not shoot at the goal with any regularity.

The defense, however, was one solid wall. Saul Fein, John Paranos, & Co. corralled every ball that reached the mid-field line and boomed it back to the Beaver attackers. The Hawks made less than ten meek forays into Lavender territory and all were stopped. Thus, Wally Wolke, City goalie, was placed on the "inactive list" by his teammates—he had no saves to make.

Minnerop Breaks Ice

The Lavender, unable to work their passes effectively, began their long-range boots at the outset. Fred Bonnet faked a kick on a rebound shot and Manny Loebli blasted the ball over the goal-post. Then Paranos raced in and forced Hunter goalie Ed Koehler to dive for his vicious boot.

Finally, at 19:50 of the initial inning, Heinz Minnerop crossed a kick into the upper right corner of the nets that eluded Koehler's reach and City led, 1-0.

At 13:20 of the second stanza, Gabe Schlisser tallied on the contest's most picturesque play. Fein kicked the ball in from the sidelines to Marco Wachter who passed to Schlisser, cutting towards the goal, and Gabe crossed the ball into the upper right corner.

Schlisser Scores Again

Schlisser registered his second goal and the Beaver's third at 18:05 of the third frame when he took a rebound, faked, pivoted and sent a liner into the cords.

Wachter got the last tally at 9:55 of the final frame when his shot went between the left post and Koehler, who stood frozen in his tracks.

Hot . . .

The soccer game against Temple University will take place Saturday at Lewisohn Stadium as originally scheduled. The field was unavailable for the past week due to installation of a steam-heating system for the Stadium.

Hoopsterettes Gird for Campaign

By STU BADEN

Under the reins of Coach Laura C. Ham, the Women's Varsity Basketball Team is preparing for its December opening.

Professor Ham, who has been at the college twenty years, became Coach of the hoopsterettes in 1955.

Since then, the coach's main problem has been one of co-ed apathy—not enough girls have come out for the team.

Perhaps the reason so few girls show interest in the team is lack of knowledge of the rules. Play differs from men's basketball rules in that six players instead of five participate. Three are forwards and remain up-court. The others are guards and play in their own backcourt. Neither group may at any time cross the center line.

The forwards, naturally, do all the scoring, while the guards take care of the defense work. No girl may dribble the ball more than two times without passing or shooting. The rules also differ in that there is no body contact.

This year there are eight returning letter-women. The co-captains are forwards Betty Castro, a junior, and Helen Wong, a senior. Both girls are physical education majors.
