Promethean Editors Are Suspended; SC Shelves Condemnation of Action

Privilege of Students For Information Cited

A resolution to condemn "summary suspension" before open charges have been made was postponed until Wednesday by Student Council last night.

Rita Ashkenas, Class '61, who proposed the resolution, said that while the President has the right to suspend students, it is the right of such students, it is the right informed of the charges levied against them.

"The Red Queen," she said, "may have been able to shout 'Sentent first, verdict afterwards,' but this is not Wonderland, and a change in the system of suspensions must be effected if we are to keep any semblance of democracy on this campus."

Notification of Action Through Spokesman

Four honor students in English literature were suspended from class yesterday morning for their part in the publication of material termed "not suitable" in the literary magazine "Promethean."

President Buell G. Gallagher ordered the suspensions and confiscation of between 900 and 1,000 copies of the magazine pending a meeting with the students Monday.

The students were identified as the magazine's editor-in-chief, Nancy Rothwax, twenty-one, an upper senior, and three members of the editorial staff, Rokki Beigel, nineteen, an upper senior; Fernando Barreiro, twenty, a lower senior, and Fred Tuten, twenty-one, an upper junior.

In a statement released by a spokesman for the College, Dr. Gallagher said:

"At my request, the Department of Student Life (DSL) has ordered the spring issue of Promethean withdrawn from circulation and the editors responsible have been suspended from classes.

"The suspension will remain in effect until I can meet with the students. The action has been

SG Moonlit Cruise About Manhattan Won't Feature KA-WAC-ER Dance

By PETER FRANKLIN

The Amazon River in deep indigo, jungle drums beating their endless chant, and the excitement of frenzied natives doing a KA-WAC-ER war dance will not be the scene at the Student Government Moonlight Cruise Saturday night.

Actually it will be a very calm and uneventful voyage—just a lot of fun. Jon Early, a young singer who recently returned to New York from Los Angeles where he appeared at the "Cocoanut Grove" and who has appeared with Sammy Davis, Jr., will sing on board ship. Jack Adatto and his Orchestra will provide dance music.

The boat will leave the 42nd Street pier at 8 PM and will return at 1 AM. The vessel is the Hudson River Day Line's "Peter Stuyvesant."

Tickets can be purchased from ticket sellers around campus who are wearing white sailor caps, or in the Student Government office (Room 332 Finley) or the House Plan office (Room 331 Finley) at $2 each.

College students are permitted to purchase only two tickets. Any students wishing to purchase more tickets should contact Dean James S. Peace (Student Life). No ticket-holder will be allowed on board unless accompanied by an uptown College student. The student will have to identify himself by showing his ID card. Bursar's receipts will not be permitted as a means of identification.

A drawing for a Hi-Fidelity phonograph will take place. The Marlboro cigarette-sponsored drawing was supposed to take place at Carnival but was cancelled because of Lindoop.

Quiet...

The Motion Picture Guild will screen one of the most famous documentary film ever made, "The Quiet One," today at 12:30 PM in Room 209 Stieglitz.

Talented Members of Faculty To Perform for WUS Today

By JOAN REINSTEIN

A Faculty Talent Show, a hay ride, and shoe-shining will highlight the World University Service (WUS) drive today at 12 Noon.

Guest star Dean Catherine Hopwood (Hunter College) will play the harp-zither at the Talent Show in the Townsend Harris Auditorium. Other features of the show will be a take-off on the "Passion Pit" (Dance Lounge, Finley Student Center) by Dr. Jeanne Noble, Dr. L. Vange, H. Richardson, Mr. Irving Slade, and Mr. Jerome Gold (all Student Life) who will dance the Lindy and Cha-cha; a "chalk-talk" by Dr. Thomas Spitz (Director of Teacher Placement); singing by Miss Miriam Calhoun (Health Education) and Professor Adolph G. Anderson (Chemistry); and a skit presented by Professors Joseph Taffet (Economics), Irving Branman (Speech), and Philip Weiner (Philosophy).

The Society of Women Engineers will shine shoes and Kappa Rho Tau will conduct a hayride between North and South Campus.

According to Paula Mullin (Chairman of the WUS Committee), the purpose of WUS is to "further kinship between university students of the world. WUS will help provide students all over the world, economically, educationally, and with the proper health facilities so that they can continue their education."

This year's WUS slogan is "To us so little... to them so much."

OP Editorial:

Fair Play?

Four honor students who have spent countless hours producing a College magazine are today no longer part of this College. They don't know why, they don't know for what length of time; all they know at the present is that their education has been halted.

No charges were leveled; no hearing was conducted—only a curt note from President Gallagher yesterday informed the students they were suspended and that their magazine was being confiscated due to "the publication of material that is not suitable in a magazine bearing the name and seal of the City College and subsidized by student fee fund."

A penalty as grave as suspension, with its possible ill effects on a student's post-graduate career, should be a decision that is given a little more time than a hurried note just before a trip to Switzerland.

Regardless of what President Gallagher found "unsuitable" in the issue of Promethean, the suspension of its editors without a hearing is a flagrant violation of due process. The denial of this constitutional right at the College will ultimately prove more detrimental to the name of the College than any "objectionable material" possibly could.

In the past several years there have been a number of suspensions of publications at the College, all handled in a hasty arbitrary manner.

Clearly, there is a need for a radical revision of the suspension system at the College. It is the duty of the General Faculty to establish a procedure which will make

Statements of Candidates for Major Offices

Mike Horowitz Prexy Candidate

The absence of competition in the race for the student government presidency can have a positive connotation only if student interest is focused instead on the two vital referenda currently up for consideration.

As your next Student Government President I stand unequivocally for the two proposals and ask that you support them too. (With respect to the proposed raise in the Student Activities Fee from $2-$3 . . .)

I consider it indispensable to the continued existence of the many campus clubs and organizations and to the continued necessary expansion of our student activities program. Due to the decline in the value of the dollar $2 is no longer sufficient to support seventy-five clubs, twelve publications, and a Student Government, in a manner befitting their value to the College.

If you were a pre-med student your chances of getting into a medical college from CCNY have been considerably enhanced thanks to the academic luster added to the name of the College because of the excellent quality of our Biological Review. The same holds true for all of our scholarly publications which are well received throughout the country.

If you were one of the hundreds who has met or will meet his spouse at a House Plan activity or a Friday Night Dance you hardly need be told of the value of the very College Students-Activities Program which is jeopardized by the shrinking value of the inadequate $2 fee.

If you are among the thousands whose moral and spiritual maturity has come about along with intellectual growth thanks to membership in a campus religious organization then your support of the fee raise ought not be lacking.

If you are active in the Stamp Club or the Student Government, the Gilbert and Sullivan singers, or the Government and Law Society, then you should know that $2 can no longer foot the same share of your legitimate expenses that it once could.

Lastly, if you were one of those who has taken part in no extra-curricular activity at school the case is still strong for the fee raise. For, if campus organizations had the wherewithal to expand current programs or if Fee Plan could support newly-forming interest groups then you might be attracted to the student activities program. In any case, attendance at a college which features a varied and successful extra-curricular program brings credit to you as a graduate of that institution. Let us do ourselves right and support the fee raise.

Harold Gotthelf Veep Candidate

With the change in the role of the Vice President from the direct control of agency directors to coordination of Council Committees, Student Government needs an executive with insight into the functions of Student Council, and who has the respect and support of the members of Student Government. Also, the Vice President must have the ability to work together with the President and have the respect and support of the President in executive affairs.

The coordination of Council committees has been virtually non-existent in recent councils, and this has led to slothfulness of wasteful superfluous efforts. Next semester, Student Council has an opportunity for far more effective legislative action since a major officer has direct responsibility.

I believe I have the support of most of the persons in Student Government.

Paul Kahan Veep Candidate

I have frequently been at odds with the members of Student Government regarding ideological problems. The responsibilities and duties of the vice-president are not concerned primarily with these problems of ideals but predominantly with the problems of practicality.

The present organization is weak, not weak on paper but weak as regards functioning efficiency. It is my hope to make Student Government from a "Paper Tiger" into an efficiently operating unit.

Al Goldberg Treasurer Candidate

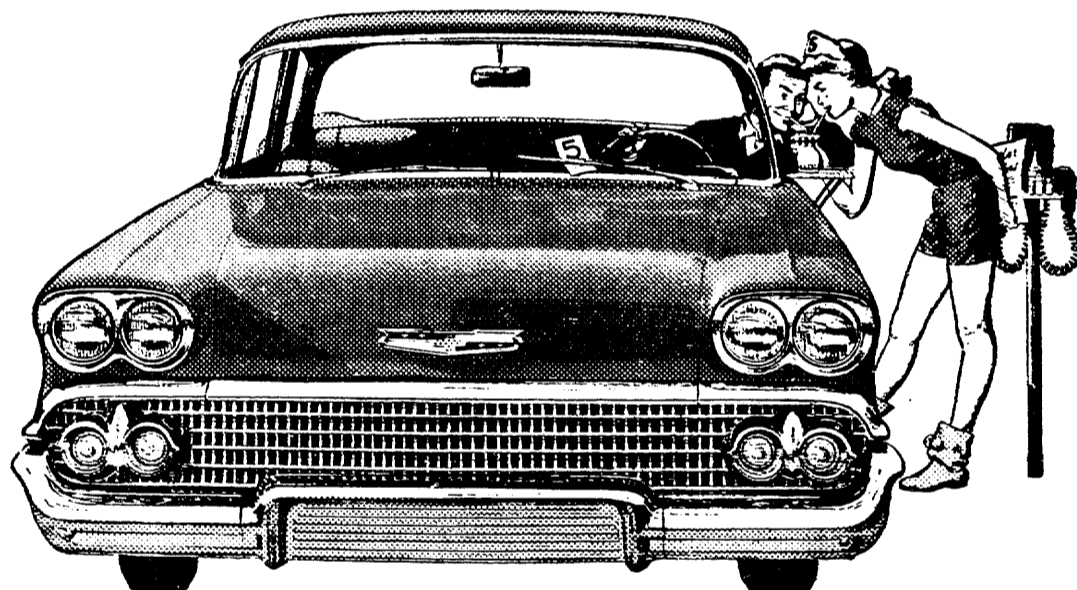

At this time when fees are spread so thin, and every cent has value there is a need for a person both qualified and experienced to decide the disbursement. My record on the fee commission is one which I feel, as do those who have worked with me, that I am capable of taking over this major office. The better use of funds to serve small groups is something which cannot be overstressed. The increase in the number of groups on Campus requires a reappraisal of the fee system so that the greatest number of students may be served.

Renee Roth Secretary Candidate

As Chairman of the Internal Affairs Committee of Student Council this past term I gained considerable experience through working on reports and learned a good deal of the inner workings of Student Government. If elected, I will utilize the experience I have gained in order to make the office of SG Secretary as an effective one as possible.

Although it appeared last Friday afternoon that there would be numerous vacancies on Student Council next term, the last minute flurry of petitions for Council positions provided candidates for all classes except '61.

Two referenda will come up before the student body at the election:

Resolved that: The Student Activities Fee are increased from $2-$3.

Resolved that: All representatives for Council be elected in the fall for one year as follows: the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes would have three representatives from the School of Technology and three from the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, two from the School of Technology, and one from the School of Education. In the Spring the incoming Freshman would elect three representatives from the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences and three from the School of Technology for one term.

There will be no classroom voting this year. All balloting will be done at the polling booths opposite Knittle Lounge in Shepard Hall and at the Main Entrance to the Finley Student Center. No ballot will be validated unless it has a stub from the Bursar's Card attached to it.

Issues...

Dr. Robert Johnson, research director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will speak on "Unresolved Issues of Desegregation" today at 12:15 PM in Room 217 Finley. A question period will follow. Dr. Johnson will probably discuss the topic of forced segregation versus gradual segregation.

Candidates Form Slate To Vie for SG Posts

By MYRA JEHLN

A group of candidates running for office in the Student Government election have announced they are uniting on a common platform under the name of the Student Democratic Slate (SDS).

The announcement was followed by the resignation of Marvin Markman, Chief Justice of the Student Court, to be run on the newly formed slate.

The former Chief Justice said "it is necessary to give the students an opportunity to vote for a definite program rather than, as previously for uncommitted individuals."

Markman explained he had resigned despite his conviction that Student Court has a vital role to play because he feels "that we need a continued forward looking and democratic Student Government." The issues which Markman says will be brought before the student body upon election of his slate are:

1. End membership lists
2. End the Smith Act ban—no political tests for political speakers
3. $1 minimum wage fee for all student employees
4. Investigation of fee allocations before a fee increase
5. A united SG representation by class and not by school.

impossible for students to be suspended without a hearing.

We strongly emphasize the need for setting up a system which would make it mandatory for the Student Faculty Discipline Committee to hold hearings on possible cases for suspension. The Committee, which would have investigated all the circumstances would then be in a position to mete out punishment.

Speaking on academic freedom, President Gallagher said: that there are "no restrictions on academic freedom—none of any kind" on this campus.

His words must ring hollow in the ears of the suspended four as the implications of the of the difference between academic and extra-curricular freedom sadly dawn on them.

Let's Vote...

It is time once more to turn our attention from the diversions of snack bar, pool room and south campus lawn to indulge in serious considerations.

The student body is now confronted with the task of selecting its representatives in Student Government. It is unfortunate that this privilege must be assigned the name of "task," but previous election turnouts indicate that it is regarded as such by many students.

Although a minority of students are directly connected with SG's machinations, the functions of SG significantly affect the entire voting constituency. The importance of these functions is realized only by the handful of students who do vote on election day.

The very fact that SG is the one group at the College elected by and responsible to the student body should be enough to kindle interest in it. SG expresses the opinions of the College community.

The direction and performance of services to the student body is a vital purpose of SG. Without its concrete programs, existing needs of students would not be taken care of.

We sincerely hope that students will take full advantage of the information provided by us in this special election issue. In order to be a part of the College community, it is necessary to take part in issues directly concerning it. We hope that every student, regardless of his beliefs, will vote in this SG election.

Vote Horowitz...

Mike Horowitz is running unopposed this term. Last term Steve Nagler beat him to the presidency and the term before Bart Cohen emerged victorious over Horowitz in the presidential race. These are the only two students in the school who are perhaps better qualified than Horowitz to hold the top position in SG.

Realizing this, it seems as if an era has come to an end. A few short years ago Student Government consisted of solid, clever, astute, finaglers who knew SG backwards and forwards—politicians, if you please, who knew their way around. Since the administration of Bill Brown, Student Government has gotten younger and younger and more and more inexperienced. At present, Student Government consists of a few slick politicians whose sole purpose in being in SG is to further their own particular lust for power, and number of well-meaning, but inexperienced novices.

Horowitz is the residue of the old guard. He has a good deal of the experience and knowledge that his predecessors had, but he lacks the spirit and fire which characterized the administrations of Cohen and Nagler. We doubt that Horowitz will be as competent as Cohen in instilling in Council a feeling of accomplishing vital work; we also doubt that he will be able to lead Council with as firm a hand as that of Steve Nagler. Nevertheless, we feel Horowitz will do a good job.

In his intention to build up Student Government rather than to continue to spread its power, he is the best man for the position. He has more experience than anyone around and he appears to have the ability to control SG in a period of inner construction.

Vote Gotthelf...

Precisely because in the past semester many of the Vice-President's duties have been curtailed he will now be able to move into spheres of Student Government where leadership has been lacking.

Working with the personnel of SG and coordinating the Council Committees will now be the main functions of the Vice-President. The importance of motivating these people to produce constructive work can not be overemphasized. For this position our only possible choice in this election must be Harold Gotthelf. Whatever his faults may be, Gotthelf has the ability of getting along with his co-workers, and encouraging them towards productive ends.

Gotthelf has shown this ability in his work as Chairman of the Civil Liberties Committee and as Vice-President in Charge of Personnel. These positions have kept him in close contact with people he will be working with next semester. Their respect is essential to the success of his term in office, and is something which he has gained in past semesters.

Although considerable disorganization in his reasoning processes has been one of Gotthelf's major faults in the past, this term has seen his evolution from an inarticulate, clumsy speaker into a coherent leader.

A diligent worker and an ardent believer in the importance of student self-government Gotthelf's contribution as Student Government Vice-President should prove to be a sizeable one.

The Referenda... Activities Fee Increase... Yes

The activities fee we have to pay is negligible in comparison to the service we receive. The costs of maintaining a proper extra-curricular program have risen at a geometric rate in the past, while there have been slight increases in the student activities fees.

The lack of funds available to campus organizations has been decried for several terms now, and the situation becomes worse with each succeeding term. Consequently, organizations are limited in their programming. For instance, the Campus and Observation Post are forced to publish approximately once a week towards the end of the term because of a shortage in fee allocations.

An increase is not needed only to increase the facilities and programs, but simply to maintain the existing standards.

We feel the students were somewhat blinded last term by the prospect of having to fork over a buck. An increase in the students activities fee is necessary at this time.

Representation By Schools... No

Observation Post has gone on the record in the past as being staunchly against the plan providing for representation by schools on Student Council.

Such a plan will only serve to widen the gap already existing between the schools. The Council would be broken into factions and would inevitably split into several separate Councils. The only manner in which the student body can be properly represented is as a whole, and not as members of individual schools.

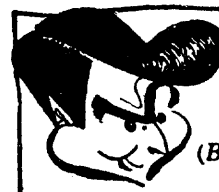

The fact that more students from the School of Technology have submitted petitions for Student Government offices than in past terms shows that it is not necessary to set up a separate branch of Council in order to get them interested in coming forth—all they need is a bit of prodding.

THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are wooed and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Rimbaud Sigafoos, who finished at the very top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machinery wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $20 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

...Engineering Grads are Wooed and Courted...

I know what you are thinking: "Cherchez la femme!" You are thinking that Mr. Acme, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

Friends, you are wrong. It is true that Mr. Acme does have a daughter, a large, torpid lass named Clavdia who spends all her waking hours scooping marzipan out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in some years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Clavdia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North.

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he enjoys that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box?

No, friends, no. Rimbaud is not allowed to smoke on the job, and when he finishes his long, miserable day, he has to buy his own Marlboros, even as you and I, in order to enjoy that estimable filter, that incomparable flavor, that crazy flip-top box.

Well, friends, you might as well give up because you'll never in a million years guess why Rimbaud works for the Acme Ice Company. The reason is simply this: Rimbaud is a seal!

He started as a performing seal in vaudeville. One night on the way to the Ed Sullivan show, he took the wrong subway. All night the poor mammal rode the B.M.T., seeking a helping hand. Finally a kindly brakeman named Ernest Thompson Sigafoos rescued the hapless Rimbaud.

He took Rimbaud home and raised him as his own, and Rimbaud, to show his appreciation, studied hard and got excellent marks and finished a distinguished academic career as valedictorian of M.I.T.

Rimbaud never complained to his kindly foster father, but through all those years of grammar school and high school and college, he darn near died of the heat! A seal, you must remember, is by nature a denizen of the Arctic, so you can imagine how poor Rimbaud must have suffered in subtropical New York and Boston, especially in those tight Ivy League suits.

But today at the Acme Ice Company, Rimbaud has finally found a temperature to his liking. He is very happy and sends greetings to his many friends.

Deans Discuss School Courses

The second half of the Student Government Curriculum Evaluation Program will be held tomorrow from 3 PM until 8 PM.

This part of the program will deal with the curricula of the individual schools of the College. Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts and Sciences) and Dean William Allan (Technology) will preface the discussions of their respective schools with short talks designed to answer beforehand some of the questions which are asked by most students.

Department chairmen will also be on hand to help clear up problems about the specific departments.

Besides the topic of changing courses and credit values in the various schools, the program will deal with the ways in which students can air their views on the curriculum, and the effect of the instructor's attitude upon the course he teaches.

All interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

Council...

Miss Ashkenas added that a condemnation was certainly not the answer to the problem, but only a first step. "The second," she said, "is a set of carefully formulated rules of procedure to be sent to the General Faculty."

Among the reasons given for postponing the issue were a request from the suspended editors of Promethean that Council not agitate until after their meeting with President Gallagher on Monday, and a desire on the part of some representatives to know the exact charges pressed against the editors of the magazine.

Suspension...

taken because of the publication of material that is not suitable in a magazine bearing the name and seal of the City College and subsidized by student fee funds."

The spokesman said that the meeting between Dr. Gallagher and the students could not take place until Monday because the President left the country yesterday afternoon, and will not return to the College until Monday. Dr. Gallagher, who is United States chairman of World University Service (WUS), is attending an international conference of WUS in Geneva, Switzerland.

Yesterday morning, the President attended Charter Day ceremonies at the Baruch School.

The four suspended students reportedly were notified of their suspension by members of the DSL while selling copies of the magazine at various booths in the College at approximately 10 A.M. yesterday.

The students and Professor Marvin Magalaner (English), the magazine's faculty advisor, declined comment on the suspensions and the character of the material in the magazine.

Fifteen hundred copies of the magazine went on sale Tuesday. Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) reported that between 900 and 1,000 had been "withdrawn from sale" by his department.
