SC Votes Office Space To S. African Committee

The South African Student Appeals Committee (SASA) has been given permission to use the Student Government office and its facilities by a vote of Student Council yesterday.

SASA is an organization devoted to obtaining equal rights and opportunities for the colored students of South Africa. It is presently waging a campaign against the South African government's policy of apartheid.

The Committee is supported by such organizations as the National Students Association and the College Committee for the United Nations.

SASA is at present attempting to raise funds for the defense of twenty-one persons accused of treason by the South African government. The basic cause for their indictment is their opposition to apartheid.

Student Government President Mike Horowitz said that the question of providing space for SASA at the College has not as yet been legally settled.

Unopposed Candidates

A motion which would require candidates running unopposed for major Student Government offices to receive the majority of the votes cast for that office was defeated by Student Council last night.

The system, as proposed by Peter Steinberg, representative of the Class of '61, would enable a student to vote either "yes" or "no" for an unopposed candidate and would necessitate the candidate's receiving more affirmative than negative votes.

The present system requires that unopposed candidates receive seventy-five votes.

Steinberg indicated that the defeat of this motion demanded the withdrawal of his nominating petition for SG Secretary. As of last night, that position was uncontested.

The vote followed a long debate in which several alternate suggestions were offered. According to SG President Mike Horowitz, any student who would wish not to see a candidate in office has ample opportunity to see that he's not elected—he can run against him.

Dance...

A square dance sponsored by the class of '61 will be held this Saturday at 8:30 PM in the Grand Ballroom. Everyone is invited to attend. Tickets will be sold at the door at one dollar per person and $1.75 per couple. Students who bring their tickets stubs from the basketball game, "Male Animal," and the Music Department Concert will be admitted at half price.

Fire Exercise Set for 11AM

An evacuation of all College buildings will take place at 11 AM today in a fire drill.

The drill, announced by Dean Leslie W. Engler (Administration), will be signalled by the ringing of the College fire gongs. At this time the students and faculty members will follow the exit instructions posted in the individual classrooms.

The end of the drill will be signalled by the ringing of regular classroom bells.

Food will not be served in the cafeteria of Snack Bar during the exercise.

In the event of inclement weather, the fire drill will be postponed to next Thursday.

Pres. Delays List Vote Calls For Investigation

By STEVEN LUDWIG

General Faculty consideration of membership lists has been postponed temporarily to permit a sub-committee to investigate the issue and report.

"I have asked the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities (GFCSA) to look into it

"because it seems to me we ought to get something upon which the General Faculty is not as sharply divided as it now appears to be—the more widely a thing is approved, the better the foundation upon which it rests."

GF Divided

The President was referring to the last meeting of the General Faculty, on November 20, at which the group voted forty-five to forty-four against maintaining the lists system which had been in effect on a trial basis for a year.

The General Faculty meeting scheduled for today will take place January 15, 1959 at 3 PM in the Faculty Room of Shepard Hall. At that time the GFCSA report will be presented.

GFCSA met last Thursday in the first of its series of meetings on the issue and it is scheduled to meet again today.

GFCSA has considered the lists question before, in 1956 when the General Faculty first submitted the matter to its sub-committee. At that time GFCSA recommendations for what was termed by Professor Mark Brunswick (Music) as a "more liberal" system were defeated by a large margin.

No Proposals

"At that time," President Gallagher said, "GFCSA didn't have specific proposals for me and did not have the benefit of records of General Faculty debate on the matter."

Three members of GFCSA have ex-officio votes:

Dean Daniel F. Brophy (Students); Professor Bernard Levy, Director of the School of General Studies; and Professor Robert Love, Director of Evening Session Baruch School.

Fete Scheduled For December 23

The Pre-Vacation All-College party will take place in the Main Ballroom, the Cafeteria and Buttenweiser Lounge of Finley Center on Tuesday, December 23. The rest of the Center will be closed on that day.

"One factor that prompted the Finley Center Managers agency to close the Center's offices were the excesses that have taken place at Christmas office parties in the past," said Rita Ashkenas, Assistant Chairman of the Finley Center Managers Agency.

This term Dean Leslie W. Engler will hold court on Tuesday, December 23, for the purpose of dealing with those students who bring liquor on campus.

Gottschall Testimonial Dinner Honors 25th Year as Dean

In observance of his twenty-fifth year as the College's Dean of Liberal Arts and Science, Dr. Morton Gottschall was honored with a testimonial dinner Monday evening in the ballroom of the Plaza Hotel.

Dean Gottschall was presented with a bronze medal designed especially for the event by Prof. Albert P. d'Andrea (Chairman, Art). A portrait of the dean is sculptured in relief on the face of the medal. On the reverse side is the inscription, "In commemoration of twenty-five years of service as Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Science and a half-century of continuous association with The City College of New York as student, teacher and dean."

Honor Graduate

The Dean was graduated from the College with one of the highest academic averages on record at this institution. He stayed on at the College after graduation to serve as an instructor.

Dr. Gottschall was appointed to his present position of Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Science in 1933. He has served as dean longer than anyone else in the 111-year history of the College. He is also a former president of the College's Alumni Association.

The main speaker at the affair was President Buell G. Gallagher. The dinner was sponsored by the College Fund which provides scholarship aid for undergraduates.

Exec Extends Petition Date Until Tom-w

The deadline for filing petitions for next week's Student Government elections has been extended until tomorrow at 6 PM.

Elections agency Chairman Ed Caprielan in a report to the SG Executive Committee last night, said that the Class of '62 "is the only class with enough nominees to warrant an election."

The Executive Committee vote to extend the deadline was unanimous. SG President Mike Horowitz said, "after the ardent fight that the Technology Intersociety-Interfraternity Council waged last year for the new system of council representation, it is really disturbing to see that so few Tech students were encouraged to run this semester." Horowitz continued that he was "very reluctant" to extend the deadline, but added, "that this is the only alternative."

As of 6 PM Wednesday, the time set for the original deadline, the official results listed thirty-eight names as actual candidates. There were few applications for the major offices, with no candidates running for SG president or

World Travelers To Give Lecture

Two modern-day troubadours will present a unique "lecture-concern program" describing their 27,000 mile journey through Europe and Africa, on Thursday, December 18.

Rohn Engh, an American artist, photographer and folk singer, and Rudi Thurau, a German music student, will present a program of film, slides and songs in seven languages in Room 131 Finley.

Male Animal

The Dramsoc production of Thurber's "The Male Animal" will be presented in the Townsend Harris Auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights, December 12 and 13.

Tickets are on sale on the main floor of Finley Center. The prices are $1.00 and $1.25 for Friday night and $1.25 and $1.50 for the Saturday evening performance.

It is a "comedy with a message" and is fundamentally concerned with the question of academic freedom. The stars of the show are Danny Weisman, Carol Fox, Nat Gilgoff, Bernard Green, Cathy Radin and John Coarssen. The production is under the direction of Jane Pollock.

Supported by Student Fees

Unite for Action

After a long, hectic session, Student Council finally decided to continue to allow unopposed candidates for major offices to be elected by seventy-five votes.

To contend that Student Council represents the students of the College when it may be headed by an Executive elected by one-tenth of those students is, in the least, inconsistent.

Far worse was the lack of maturity and integrity exhibited by Council members during the vote. Five different systems were proposed, but, due to the desire of each member of Council to see his own system put into effect, no decision was reached.

Mike Horowitz pointed out that the principles of democracy demanded a compromise system. But he himself refused to vote for this system, though he agreed that the present system is ridiculous.

It is obvious that the Council members were satisfied with the decision. The overwhelming sentiment was against the prevailing regulations yet they remained—the representatives could not unite for action.

No Takers

Once again the deadline for filing petitions for election to Student Government positions has been extended. Once again the reason is a lack of a sufficient number of candidates to warrant an election.

Particularly shocking is the lack of candidates for the four SG executive offices. Thus far only one candidate has filed for an executive office. There are no candidates for President, or Vice-President. Perhaps this is just an outgrowth of the graduations over the past few years, of a group of experienced and devoted SG personnel. We can not, however, place the blame for the lack of participation on the process of graduation.

The student community must realize the role that it can play through its chosen representatives. Students can exert influence in practically every area of college life through their student government. Students must, in fact, participate in the affairs which directly concern them, or the education process is not complete.

We know that there are students qualified for every office involved in the SG elections. We urge every student to examine his own qualifications, and on the basis of those qualifications to run for the office for which he is fitted. Every student has the potential to perform a valuable function in the various phases of student government.

Buttons and Bagels

We must congratulate Raymond for his magnificent display of Lavender spirit. If the Varsity Club managed to make its Stein Fund Button sale a success it was largely due to the efforts of the jovial bagel impressario.

Raymond could be seen selling the Stein Fund Buttons along Convent Avenue. Even on days when there were no bagels being sold, he was vending the lavender pins in front of Shepard. Making use of his gift of high-pressure salesmanship at the College's opening game against Columbia, he managed to talk several good-natured Lions into supporting the College.

Raymond has proven that the Allegaroo spirit is more than just a myth. Here's hoping that this enthusiasm rubs off on some students.

Dear Editor:

I wish to commend the staff of OP for its enterprise. I was recently "quoted" in a feature article on the "beat" generation. Considering the facts that (a) I know very little about the topic (and said so) and (b) I am concerned even less. Your reporter or re-writer man demonstrated uncommon initiative in altering statements so as to make trivia into a feature story.

Now, some people might complain about this sort of thing, but not I. I shall not mention "being misquoted" or "being quoted out of context"—the usual letter-to-the-editor phraseology. You see, I recognize (a) your need to fill your pages on weeks when advertising is scarce (after all, students must get some sort of newspaper for their fee money) and (b) youth's need for creative expression (fiction is one of the more acceptable channels). I believe that liberal arts students (newspaper staffers included) should think, not parrot, should create, not carbon copy. What you did to my insignificant interview of ignorance, by altering, arranging and re-writing statements, deserves commendation. After all, what is art but the juxtaposition of ideas? And what are the liberal arts if one cannot do so without regard to the limiting constraints of standards of propriety (like reporting what you heard as you heard it).

So, by all means continue not to record quotes accurately. Do not be mere robots. Use good taste and knowing re-write men and create a good story. Make it up if one is not handy. And if people have no opinions, ascribe some to them. By the way, please do not bother to send reporters my way. I am giving Promethian [sic] an exclusive on all my newsworthy quotes. You must admit that they do so much better with fiction.

Yours for greater press freedom, vice president.

Lawrence Podell

Hopefuls for class officers are few as well. Candidates for the office of president of the Senior class are two in number, Ken Regenbaum, and Ken Werden. There is no candidate for vice president. Warren Randall and Beatrice Giatzer are running for Senior Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

The Class of '59 should have three Student Council reps from the school of Liberal Arts—there is only one candidate running.

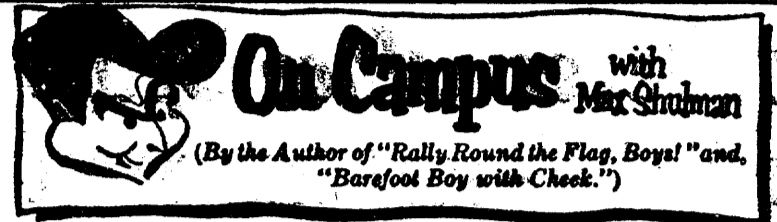

HPoll...

House Plan members will elect executive officers in elections to be held Monday through Friday. Voting will take place in the HP Lounge from 9 AM to 5 PM. Presentation of HP cards is required in order to vote.

An experimental film, "Venom and Eternity," will be shown in the Bridge Lounge, Room 131 Finley, at 3 PM, as part of the Finley Center Festival of Fine Films.

Produced by Jean-Isidore Isou, the film is a "revolt against the motion picture today. It was the winner of the "en marge" prize of the Cannes Film Festival.

THE GIFT HORSE

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, catching night crawlers—but let me interrupt your multifarious activities—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—to remind you that busy as you are—studying, going to class, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—time and tide wait for no man, and the Yuletide will soon be upon us. Busy or not, we must turn our thoughts to Christmas shopping. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment in our busy schedules—studying, going to class, rolling drunks—to examine a number of interesting gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: What do you give to the person who has everything? Well sir, there follows a list of a half dozen gifts which I will flatly guarantee the person who has everything does not have:

1. A dentist's chair.
2. A low hurdle.
3. A street map of Perth.
4. Fifty pounds of chicken fat.
5. A carton of filter-tip Marlboros.
6. A carton of non-filter Philip Morris.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows rising in wild incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have cartons of filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris?" you shriek, your young lips curling mockingly. "What arrant nonsense!" you rasp, making a coarse gesture.

And I reply with an emphatic no! The person who has everything does not have filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris—not for long anyhow—because if he has Marlboros and Philip Morris and if he is a person who likes a mild, mellow, fresh, flavorful cigarette—and who does not? eh? who does not?—why, then he doesn't have Marlboros and Philip Morris; he smokes them. He might possibly have a large collection of Marlboro and Philip Morris butts, but whole Marlboros and Philip Morris? No. An emphatic no!

Now we take up another thorny gift problem: What do you buy your girl if you are broke? Quite a challenge; you will agree, but there is an answer—an ingenious, exciting answer! Surprise your girl with a beautiful bronze head of herself!

Oh, I know you're not a sculptor, but that doesn't matter. All you have to do is endear yourself to your girl's roommate, so she will be willing to do you a favor. Then some night when your girl is fast asleep, have the roommate butter your girl's face—quietly, so as not to wake her—and then quietly pour plaster of Paris on top of the butter and then quietly wait till it hardens and quietly lift it off—the butter will keep it from sticking—and then bring you the mold, and you will pour bronze in it and make a beautiful bust to surprise your girl with!

Remember, it is important—very important—to endear yourself to the roommate, because if anything should go wrong, you don't want to be without a girl for the holiday season.

© 1958 Max Shulman

Your gift problem is no problem if you will give Marlboros to your filter smoking friends and Philip Morris to your non-filter smoking friends. Both come in soft pack or flip-top box; both are made by the sponsor of this column.

Frosh Cagers Win Opening Contests; Polansky Predicts 'Winning Season'

By STEVE SODOMON

The freshman basketball team opened its season last week by defeating Columbia and Hunter. These two victories mark the fastest start of any frosh squad in recent years. "I think we can have a winning season," Coach Dave Polansky said. "We've done well up to now," he added "but we'll have to improve to win the big ones."

The last time the Baby Beavers had a winning squad was in 1954. From this team Bob Silver, Joe Bernardo, Hector Lewis and many other varsity stars developed. Polansky would not say how much varsity potential he thinks there is in this squad. "It's impossible to tell," he said, "it's a matter of desire."

Dave Polansky
"Winning Season"

The coach thinks, however, that he has a lot of good ball-players. He made special mention of Bob Sawyer who he said "drives and changes direction better than anyone on the varsity."

This statement gives some indication of the depth of the squad because Sawyer does not start. The starting five lists Mike Gerber, Alan Sparer, Tor Nielsen, Bob Paulson and Mike Bernstein.

Polansky was non-committal over the forthcoming game with Adelphi. If we can win this one in 'style,' he said, we'll have a very successful season."

According to Polansky, winning in "style" is when you win handily, not because the other team had an off-night but because the Lavender played well. He admitted that he considered neither the Columbia game nor the Hunter game a "stylish" win.

In the first two games the Freshmen showed a well balanced scoring attack. Gerber, Sparer and Paulson all contributed heavily. It was Gerber however, who had the big night against Columbia, scoring twenty points.

Best of Frosh

The Columbia game may have been the tip off on the future of the frosh squad. They proved that they could come back late in the game against good opposition. No recent Beaver freshman team has done that.

The advantages that this frosh team has over former squads are more high school experience and better condition. At least half a dozen boys played for their high school including Mike Bernstein who was captain of the championship De Witt Clinton High School team.

"Possession Basketball"

Polansky teaches the boys "possession" basketball. They learn they can't afford to give the ball away. "Even if we give the ball away once for every two times the other team gives it away we'll lose," he said.

"I'm going to try to get more out of them," he continued. "They're just kids. I hope I'm not working them too hard."

The Freshman team will be trying for its third straight victory against Adelphi Saturday night.

Hoopsterettes Beat Wagner

The College's female cagers romped over Wagner College 48-26 in their opening game of the season Tuesday night.

From the start of the contest the Beaver superiority was evident. At halftime the girls from Manhattan were leading their Staten Island adversaries 21-14.

Vida Gintoff, and Betty Castro paced the Beaver hoopsterettes; Vida having scored the opening two points went on to tally 18 more before the game was over, Betty accounted for 16 points.

Ellen Derr was the high scorer for the Islanders with 16 marks.

Beaver coach Laura Ham was optimistic about the team's showing, especially the superior offensive performances turned in by Vida and Betty, and the defensive play of Elaine Feinberg and Eleanor Krohne. Professor Ham wasn't completely satisfied however, "the team was suffering from first game doldrums," she commented, "they should be playing smoother in the next match."

They'll have plenty of time to practice anyway; the next contest is scheduled against Molloy on February 3, only two months away.

Coach Lucia Choreographs Routines; Lends Personal Touch To 'Omnibus'

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

Fencing maestro, Professor Ed Lucia, has lent his personal touch to the December 21 Omnibus TV show, "Dancing Is a Man's Game." Mr. Lucia is choreographing the fencing routines for dancer Gene Kelly. The program will highlight the "relationship between sports and dancing."

Explaining his dual interests, Coach Lucia said that "fencing and music are part of my family's heritage. I studied music in school and entered physical education by the back door."

Edward F. Lucia
Baton and Foil

Professor Lucia studied composing and theory at the Juilliard School of Music and under such private tutors as Anna Kamenska of the Sorbonne and Madame Gurarini of the Royal Conservatory of Music.

After completing his education the Men's Lyric Chorus, a radio group, from 1936-42, and the New York Opera Bouffe from 1937-40. Coach Lucia conducted and directed However the Lavender mentor did not discard the foil in favor of the baton. "All the time," the coach said, "I kept fencing and learning."

When World War II broke out Professor Lucia volunteered for the Navy and because of his fencing skill "was ordered to instruct personal combat at its Newport, Rhode Island training center." Lucia's specialty—bayonetting and judo.

At the war's end Lucia went back to show business and worked for the American Theatre Wing. He was also choreographer for several Broadway shows including "Peter Pan" and "MacBeth."

"A knowledge of music can be very useful in learning to fence," he said. "Manny Feinberg was my leading sabreman last year and was on the Silver Medalist team. I taught fencing to him in terms of music, applying tempo, rhythm, and harmonic structure to the sport. Feinberg was an excellent musician and this ability enabled him to pick up fencing rapidly. I always try to use music as a mutual meeting ground for the arts."

Indoor Track...

Coach Harry DeGirolamo has announced the start of the 1958-1959 Indoor Track season. Students interested in joining the outdoor track team next spring will find this early conditioning an asset.

This year's season will feature several AAU Handicap meets and two informal collegiate meets here at the College on January 10, and February 24.

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU!*)

1. If the salaries were equal, would you rather be a college professor than a movie star?

YES NO

5. Do you believe it unwise to eat at irregular hours, even though you're hungry?

YES NO

2. Would you rather borrow money from a bank or institution than from a friend?

YES NO

6. If you actually saw a "flying saucer" land, would you run for your life?

YES NO

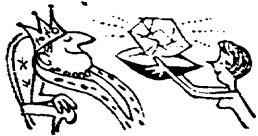

3. Would you rather have tests sprung on you than be warned about them in advance?

YES NO

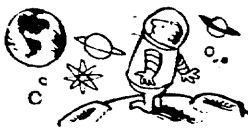

7. Would you be inclined to follow the latest style in clothes regardless of how it looked to you?

YES NO

4. Do you think it's foolish to daydream?

YES NO

8. Would you feel badly if you thought nobody at all knew where you were?

YES NO

9. Are you confused by the clamor of conflicting claims so many filter cigarettes are making these days?

YES NO

The fact is, thinking men and women don't let themselves get pushed and pulled by all those filter claims. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. And they know only VICEROY gives it to them. A thinking man's filter, a smoking man's taste. Makes sense.

Should you smoke VICEROY? If you think for yourself—chances are you do already!

*If you have answered Yes to two out of the first three questions, and No to five out of the last six... you think for yourself!
