Dave Polansky To Remain But Status Is Indefinite
By BENNIE LEFKOWITZ

Dave Polansky, coach of the basketball team for the past two seasons, will remain at the College.

He had been mentioned as a strong candidate for the head coaching position at Columbia University, Polansky told the Observation Post yesterday afternoon.

And a NCAA post-season tournament berth during the last two campaigns.

Strong Attachment

He has said often that "for better or worse I have too strong an attachment to the College to leave.

With Nut Holman resuming his coaching duties after a two year leave, Polansky's future status is indefinite. He will be re assigned probably to his previous post of freshman coach.

When Holman's return was confirmed, Polansky agreed to "accept any position the Hygiene department assigns me." Final assignments will be announced in September.

 Ranked High

According to the New York Post story, Polansky ranked high among the "survivors" of a preliminary screening of 15 to 20 candidates. The Columbia job was left open when Lou Bossini accepted a NYU offer to coach in the Heights.

Pennies...

A penny to two cents drags is the admission price for the "Pennies" which will be held Saturday evening in the Grand Ballroom of the Finley Student Center. Girls arriving before 8:15 PM will be admitted free to this event sponsored by Phi Epsilon Pi and Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternities, Mal Ladd and Helene Getzoff will chaperone. Music will be supplied by the Playboys.

Gold Conducts Leader Group

Jerome S. Gold (Student Life) will conduct a House Plan Association Leadership Program Saturday in the Finley Student Center. This year the program will consist of small group discussions and practical experiments in group dynamics and related fields to help house leaders to understand and solve the problems they meet in working with their groups.

We have such people as Lawrence Brown, "that it is of utmost importance that house leaders have the opportunity to learn the latest techniques of effective leadership. This will benefit both the individual and the group."

Dean James E. Peace
To Straighten Mess

In a statement yesterday, Bisnoff called the insurance broker for the plan, Lawrence Brown, "inapt" and charged him with "misrepresentation."

"Lawrence Brown," Bisnoff said, "was not a representative of our firm and until we receive the checks from him we will be unable to straighten out this mess."

David James E. Peace, Student Life editor, announced last night that a special business procedure which was "confused" has been cleared.

"Brown is not a representative of our firm and unless we receive the checks from him we will be unable to straighten out this mess."

Brown has been discharged and his checks have been returned.

College HIP Registrants
May Not Be Protected

Students enrolled in the College's Health Insurance Plan may not be protected.

According to Bob Bisnoff, Chairman of the Service Division of the Administrative Committee and of the Student Board, "The entire matter has been handled with inefficiency this year."

"I have tried to contact him for the last six weeks to determine the status of students enrolled in the plan," Bisnoff said, "but I have been unable to get him to give me a satisfactory answer."

George S. Drach, Vice-President of the American Casualty Company, when contacted at his own office in Reading, Penna., said, "Brown is not a representative of our firm and until we receive the checks from him we will be unable to straighten out this mess."

Brown has been discharged and his checks have been returned.

Academic Freedom Week Program
To Feature Controversial Speakers

Academic Freedom Week begins tomorrow.

During the next seven school days, a series of speakers will appear at the College to discuss various aspects of academic freedom and diverse controversial issues.

Tomorrow, Ayn Rand, author of "The Fountainhead" and "Atlas Shrugged," and Robert B. McKay, Columbia Law School professor and member of the Academic Freedom Committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, will present their views on "Free Speech in the Courtroom." They will appear at 12:30 PM in the Finley Center Grand Ballroom.

On Friday, William Albion, New York State Secretary of the Communist Party, will speak in the Ballroom at 3 PM on "The Program of the Party in the United States." Albion was convicted under the Smith Act, but the decision was later reversed by the Supreme Court.

Dan Wakefield, writer for "The Nation" and author of an article reviewing the Warren B. Austin case, will speak on the Feinberg Case, and the Austin Case Monday at 3 PM in the Ballroom.

The following day, Robert Gidwitz, executive secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, will speak on "The Conscience of the Dear and of the Sciences" at 3 PM in Room 211 Finley.

This Wednesday, an Academic Freedom Week Journal is scheduled to be published.

The next day Thursday, a column (Continued On Page Seven)

Brooklyn's 'Kingsman'?

A special committee has been set up at Brooklyn College to investigate the recent resignation of the "Kingsman" editor.

The faculty committee, appointed by President Harry D. Gideonse, will investigate both the resignations of four editors of the campus publication and the resignations of four faculty members of the Student Committee on Publications.

Groups Resigned

Both groups resigned over the issue of editorial restrictions placed upon the "Kingsman." The publication was mandated by President Gideonse to follow a policy of "double editorial." According to this system, any time an editor deemed controversial was printed, an editorial of equal length presenting the opposing view had to be printed.
City Colleges Compelled To Turn Away Students

By RITA ASHKENAS

The municipal colleges will not be able to fulfill their wish to admit approximately 500 additional freshmen next term due to a reduced operating budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year, according to Gustave Rosenbaum, Chairman of the Board of Higher Education (BHE).

"We know," continued Mr. Rosenbaum, "that among the young men and women who would like to turn away there will be those who should be given an opportunity to develop their skills in the interests of the community. The City, the State, and the country can ill afford to lose them," he concluded.

The prime reason cited for the lack of funds is the failure of the State Legislature to grant State funds to the municipal colleges. These funds were requested on the basis that New York City is the only city within the State which is required to finance the entire cost of educating its students in publicly supported colleges.

Though the Mayor's Executive Budget provides an increase for the Board and the colleges of $1,750,000 over last year, none of this money may be used for operating funds as it is already more than needed increases and pension charges.

The amount allotted for Personal Services has been sharply curtailed. Items for which the BHE had requested funds but which are not included in the final budget include provisions for additional freshmen and increased enrollments, intercollegiate athletic activities, and an increase in the number of annual positions in the evening sessions. Of the total budget of $35,309,865, the portion allotted to the College is $11,202,071, $690,599 less than requested, but the greatest amount received by any of the colleges.

Hosts . . .

Hillel plays host to two rabbis this week at Hillel House, 475 West 140 Street. The first, Rabbi Jack C. Cohen, will discuss his new book, "The Case for Religious Naturalism" before the Book Review Club at 12 Noon today. On Friday, Rabbi Eugene Borowitz will speak on "Ideas of God in Judaism" at the meeting of the Major Concepts of Judaism group.

Nationalism...

Professor Hans Kahn (History): a leading authority on world nationalism, will speak before the History Society tomorrow at 12:30 PM, in Room 217 Pinley. His topic will be "American Nationalism in a Revolutionary World." Professor Kahn completed a book "American Nationalism" early this year.

31 Receive Top Academic Prize

A total of thirty-one City College students and recent graduates have been elected to membership in the College's Gamma Phi chapter of Phi Beta Kappa together with a member of the College faculty.

The thirty-one are:

- The faculty member elected is Professor LaVange H. Richardson (Student Life), who is also a member of the Epsilon Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Southern California.

Economics Chmn. Urges An Immediate Tax Cut

A Federal tax cut of ten billion dollars, effective immediately and to remain in effect until recovery is assured, should be "the first major policy step" taken by the government to stop the present economic recession, according to a letter written by Professor Henry Villard (Economics) in collaboration with thirteen members of the Economics Department at Columbia University and printed in Monday's edition of The New York Times.

Unless this ten billion dollar (per annum) tax cut is made immediately, stated the writers, the recession will become so deep and prolonged that even this measure will prove inadequate. "If," they added, "inflation turns out to be a problem in 1959 or 1960, appropriate measures can and should be taken at that time."

Professor Villard elaborated further on his ideas Monday. He said that the income tax cut of $1.7 billion was not enough.

Kibbutz.

The "Kibbutz" (the collective settlement in Israel) will be the theme of the annual honoring the Tenth Anniversary of Independence, Saturday night at Hillel House. The Hillel players will present a skit, "The Sundays," and folk dancing will be taught. Admission is fifty cents for members and one dollar for others.

There's an important future ahead for the men who wear these wings

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the air—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in electronics, aeronautics and allied fields.

Then, too, he must show outstanding qualifications of initiative, leadership and self-reliance.

He is, in short, a man eminently prepared for an important career in the new Age of Space.

As a college graduate, you will be given priority consideration for the Air Force Aviation Cadet Program. While openings are limited, you will be notified and advised immediately of qualification status. Find out if you qualify by measuring the five components on your post card and mail it now.

U.S. AIR FORCE AVIATION CADET PROGRAM

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY

Aviation Cadet Information, Dept. C-20
20740, Washington 4, D.C.

Please send me details on my opportunities as an Aviation Cadet in the U.S. Air Force. I am a U.S. citizen, between the ages of 19 and 26 and a resident of the U.S. or possessions. I am interested in my pilot/Navigator training.

Name________________________
College_______________________
Street________________________
City__________________________
State__________________________
Because of the perpetual parallelism which exists between ancient and modern events, interest in classical languages is being kept alive. The stereotype of the sequenced student who devotes his enthusiasm not merely with ancient society, but with its influence on modern society as well.

The influence of Greek and Rome on our literature, and on our way of life in general, says Professor Drabkin, should not be overlooked. An interested student interested in Western literature, be he equipped with the linguistic and literary background provided by courses such as those offered by the Classics Department.

A great deal of our present cultural achievement, such as poetry and drama, is generally attributed to Greece for its beginnings. Rome not only responsible for the preservation of Greek culture, but made significant contributions in our own right.

Familiarity with classical references is important for a thorough understanding of modern literary and dramatic scholar does not date back to these ancient days.

Students wishing to major in English may enroll under the Language Division of the College of Liberal Arts and Science. If they choose, they are required to take Latin. Because of this Latin requirement, prospective English majors in the past have enrolled under the Social Science Division instead.

Now that the number of required credits in Latin has been reduced from twenty-eight to eighteen, however, the Classics Department has noticed an increase in its enrollment, since the Latin requirement no longer seems onerous. Students may be exempt from some or all of these eighteen credits with respect to the amount of Latin they have had in high school.

Latin is not as difficult to learn as is generally thought, and Professor Drabkin states that students usually successful in mastering it. Once a sufficient proficiency in the language has been achieved by students, they can deal with such authors as Virgil, Horace and Catullus in the original Latin.

Upon leaving college, the classical student will find no lack of employment. Vocations involving classical languages are available not only in teaching in the interpretation of classics for Humanities courses. Those interested in archaeology and in librarianship will also find their knowledge of Latin or Greek quite useful.

Whether or not he plans to enter any of these fields, Professor Drabkin feels that "any student who uses English should possess a knowledge of Latin." English instructors will no doubt maintain that Latin alone is not the answer to some of their students problems.

Meanwhile back at the Coliseum: CCNY students join rush in return to classical learning.

Prof's. Discuss Curric. Plans

The curriculum of each of the College's social science depart­ments will be the meeting of six representative pro­fessors today at 3 PM in the Faculty Room, 200 Shepard.

The main topic will focus on the contributions of each department's prescribed work to students' understandings of the social science fields.

Participating in the evaluation will be Professor Robert Blasdell (Sociology), Professor Kenneth Clark (Psychology), Professor Bailey Diffie (History), Mr. Norman Rosenberg (Government), Mr. Arthur Tiedemann (Social Studies), and Professor Henry Vil­lard (Economics). Students are invited to attend.
Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

T. Boelhouwer
Class of '60
Evening Session

Opponent

Dear Editor:

The first misconception that Mr. Aigner has is that there is a distinctive breed of the beat generation. The beat is true. There is in our searching the physical world as there is in everything else, but we do not forsake ideas. It is through them that we obtain emotion. Poetry is an important part of our world. Does not poetry convey ideas?

I would say that we need something that will call them actively to live. Do we have to hang by our necks to the present principles on which they may have. If, however, we recognize our total depravity and if we believe in ours at the cross, the fear of death is eliminated. God has given us the freedom to determine what we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Don't Jaywalk

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

T. Boelhouwer
Class of '60
Evening Session

Opponent

Dear Editor:

The first misconception that Mr. Aigner has is that there is a distinctive breed of the beat generation. The beat is true. There is in our searching the physical world as there is in everything else, but we do not forsake ideas. It is through them that we obtain emotion. Poetry is an important part of our world. Does not poetry convey ideas?

I would say that we need something that will call them actively to live. Do we have to hang by our necks to the present principles on which they may have. If, however, we recognize our total depravity and if we believe in ours at the cross, the fear of death is eliminated. God has given us the freedom to determine what we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

ARE YOU SURE
YOU DON'T NEED
A MANS DEODORANT?

Mennen Spray Deodorant for Men keeps working all day long—working to pre vent odor, working to keep you fres
her. The men at Mennen have har tasted of either).

Dear Editor:

Wandering

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

Beat Generation—II

By Jay Carr

Editor's Note: The views expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the O.P. Staff.

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

DON'T JAYWALK

Dear Editor:

Wandering

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

Beat Generation—II

By Jay Carr

Editor's Note: The views expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the O.P. Staff.

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

DON'T JAYWALK

Dear Editor:

Wandering

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

Beat Generation—II

By Jay Carr

Editor's Note: The views expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the O.P. Staff.

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

DON'T JAYWALK

Dear Editor:

Wandering

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1

---

Letters

Beat Generation—II

By Jay Carr

Editor's Note: The views expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the O.P. Staff.

Dear Editor:

Upon reading "Beat Generation," I started wondering why these people believe in nothing but sensual experience, why they have discarded morals and ideals. It seems to me that their viewpoint is logically defensible only if they are convinced that, at the end of the sixty or seventy-odd years allotted to them, they can expect nothing but death. For if this is their belief, what need is there for them to concern themselves with others, save for the purpose of gratifying their physical needs?

I think that their members are aware of the void that they have created, for they are "searching desperately for any answer to the question, "What is worthwhile?" They are not in constant waxing of the Mona Lisa and entering toilet bowls in sculpture exhibitions. I believe that this life is merely an introduction to a life in which we will make of our lives. The choice is ours.

Sincerely,

J. Hayes
Lower Junior 1
Casey's Last Bat

The 1958 baseball season opened yesterday. Many months of spring training preceded the first game. The 1958 Academic Freedom Week will begin at the College tomorrow. Unfortunately our preceding games, which have counted, have featured the hitting of foul balls, and the member of the National Committee of the Communist Party, the College as a candidate for political office ...

get a pinch-hitter to bat for Thompson's point of view. deemed him sufficiently sterilized to present his views betentedly squinting at the plays with the eye-sight of the participants in this one in order to keep it from being a shutout. By attending the events scheduled for Academic Freedom Week the student body can demonstrate that it has not lost interest in the fight for its basic liberties.

Polansky made the biggest decision of his career this month when he squelched all rumors that he would assume the Columbia head coaching post. Such a position implies infinitely over the years. "I will coach anywhere the Hygiene Depart­

Post" reported that he was high on the list of possible candidates to OP. All notes must be brought to Room 336, Finley, by Monday of the week in which you want it to appear.

Class of '59

Converne in CHS Representatives tomorrow at 12 Noon in Room 108 Finley.

Baskerville Chemical Society

Presente-Pres. of Baskerville Chemical Society tomorrow at 12 Noon in Room 315 Shepard.

Ecology Society

Screening of two films including the "Hop and "House of Wax" and book discussion meeting at 12 Noon in Doremus Hall.

Biology Society

Screening the film "Journey to the West" from the Book of the Dead and "House of Wax" and book discussion meeting at 12 Noon in Room 126 Shepard.

Cassady's Society

Presente a screen the film "Journey to the West" from the Book of the Dead and "House of Wax" and book discussion meeting at 12 Noon in Room 126 Shepard.

Book Club

Plans its "Make a Deal" screening tomorrow at 12 Noon in Room 108 Finley.

Romantic Society

Presente Mr. Harry Greenwood of Bronx, Regional Director speaking in Room 197 Wagner and his decisions with the film "Deep," and "House of Wax" in Room 126 Shepard.

English Society

Presente Professor Bruce Wright speaking in Room 200 Steiglits at 12:30 PM.

Geological Society

Presente Dr. R. J. Jones of Columbia University speaking in Room 440 Finley on "Your God is Too Conceited Next Friday at 8:30 PM in Townsend Harris Auditorium.

Christian Association

Sells a happy portion of the Baskerville Chemical Society, Press to Room 6 Finley for "Psy 4 in Too Town Hall.

MJS Presents Jazz Concert

The Modern Jazz Society (MJS) will present an intermediate jazz concert next Friday at 8:30 PM in Townsend Harris Auditorium. This is the first attempt at presenting the development of modern jazz in the metropolitan Colleges.

In the past, the MJS has presented professional artists, recognized as representatives of their various "schools." The purpose of the new undertaking is to present competent young jazzmen developing their own ideas.

The four groups who will be appearing represent the College's Day and Evening Sessions, Brooklyn College and Hunter College. Among the performers are Ray Draper of the College's Evening Session, who has made jazz tuba recordings for Prestige Records; Larry Haslow, son of Latin Primer, and Dorensdale Band; Buddy Harlow, and Bob Capers, leader of the Jazz Messiahs (they "beaver being down to earth with a reounding bouny").

Tickets, "for all those cool cats 50 tickets (although only 40 will be sold) at $1 in Room 315 Shepard, and will Screen the Festive Hall and the Society's screened.

Gilbert and Sullivan Society

Performs tomorrow at 6 PM in Room 107 Finley.

History Society

Performs Professor B. R. Dinkin's cartoon "American Building in a Revolutionary War Era" in Room 316 Finley at 12 Noon.

IVCP Fellowship

Meets tomorrow at 12:30 PM in Room 109 in 216 Harris. The President of the Class of 1958 will be guest speaker.

Mathematics Society

Performs Eugene L. Lake speaking on "Counting the Cubes and Squaring the Circle" in Room 109 in 216 Harris.

Meteorological Society

Meets tomorrow in Room 308 Shepard to screen a film and discuss future events.

Modern Jazz Society

Meets tomorrow in Room 327 Finley at 12 Noon and will perform the following: Frederick Merkle, April 25 Jazz Concert.

Motion Picture Guild

Presente Tuesday at 12:30 PM in Room 109 in 216 Harris to plan its program for the Fall term.

Outdoor Club

Meets alight for the weekend's walk tomorrow at 12 Noon.

Philatelic Society

Meets tomorrow in Room 308 Shepard to discuss the decision of the Student- Faculty Committee on the forthcoming.

Psychology Society

Performs Professor B. R. Dinkin's cartoon "American Building in a Revolutionary War Era" in Room 316 Finley at 12 Noon.

Science Education Society

Performs Professor J. D. Morris, Chairman of Biology Department speaking on "Science in Education" in Room 304 Finley.

Vestor

Meets tomorrow at 12:30 PM in 104A Fairleigh.

Physics Society

Performs Professor P. S. Rose on "Science in Education" in Room 304 Finley.

Festival Films

Films of last year's World Youth Festival which took place in Moscow will be shown May 1 at 12:30 PM. Historical Section of the Morris Raphael Cohen Library. Jacob Rosen, who attended the Festival, will deliver a talk after the showing of the film and will answer questions.
What does this fruit have to do with this cigarette filter?

THE VICEROY FILTER IS MADE FROM A PURE, NATURAL MATERIAL FOUND IN ALL FRUIT

—and it gives you Maximum Filtration for the Smoothest Smoke!

- From the same soft, pure material found in the rich pulp of nature's healthful fruits, modern filter scientists have created the greatest cigarette filter ever designed... the Viceroy filter. For the Viceroy filter gives you the maximum filtration for the smoothest smoke of any cigarette. More taste, too... the pure, natural taste of rich, mellow tobaccos. Yes, Viceroy gives you more of what you change to a filter for!

VICEROY PURE, NATURAL FILTER...
PURE, NATURAL TASTE
Baseball
(Continued on Page 2)

The College's Track Team is still at the starting line after two false starts. Its first meet against Adelphi this past Wednesday was post- poned because of rain. It was later re-scheduled for March 22. The team's second meet against Hunter this past Saturday was also postponed, this time because of wet grounds.

The College's lacrosse team opened its season by bowing to Harvard, 8-5, in the continuation of a rivalry that dates back to 1902.

Lacrosse...
(Continued from Page One)

Speakers... (Continued from Page One)

Library Forum
Slated In Center

A program on librarianship will be presented tomorrow in the Finley Student Center.

WUS...
The College's World University Service (WUS) seeks the services of talented faculty members. Magicians in particular are needed to perform in the WUS Faculty Talent Show to be held on May 8. Faculty members interested in participating should contact Dr. Jeanne Noble in Room 115 Finley Student Center.

Soccer... There will be a meeting of all prospective candidates for next Fall's Varsity Soccer squad tomorrow at 5:30 P.M. at the Finley Student Center.

Cookie Post
Nine Drops Four Games Over Spring Vacation; Beavers Edged by Wagner, 2-0, Yesterday

Beavers Set Torrid Pace Still .000 After Easter

By BERNIE LEFKOWITZ
The College's baseball team lost no ground over the Spring vacation.

"At the start of the season the Beavers had an 0-1 record (.000 average)," said Coach Leon Miller. "Well, The Lavender lost to Hofstra, left: Beavers had an 0-1 record (.000 average) opposite a lusty .375 batting; Manhattan, Columbia and NYU."

"But there was still some hope left," continued Miller. "No. 1 hopeful item: Joe Maraio, an 18 year old, sophomore leftfielder soaked up a .375 batting average, delivering six hits in 11 at-bats and going four for 11 in Metropolitan Collegiate Baseball Conference play.

"No. 2 hopeful item: Bob Esnard, the rightfielder who is hitting .400 in the Metro conference. He also contributed a brilliant one-handed catch with his back to the fence against Columbia. He made the catch when the Lions were threatening with two men on."

"Finally: Pitcher Larry Mlynar, who has been tagged with two losses, but has given up only two earned runs in 16 innings.

"No. 4 hopeful item: The Lavender pair heat the Panthers with two men on.

Tennis Team Defeats Adelphi; Sweep Doubles In Inaugural

The College's tennis team opened its 1958 season by overpowering Adelphi 6-3 at the losers court Wednesday. The outstanding doubles match was played by Larry Kroll, Hasan Mahecha, Yrnberg, and Helgans. Kroll then followed with a walk. The runners advanced to second and third. Martz Kneer, playing second and co-captain Don Demas doubled, and co-captain Bob Helgans singled. Ron Weiss then forced Demas at second to end the game.

"In the ninth inning, again with two men out, Bob Esnard walked and went to second on Joe Maraio's fly. Weiss reached first on an error. Bob Helgans bunted to short, threw in to shortstop Bob Esnard to end the inning.

"The other throwing error occurred in the fourth inning when Sea Hawk catcher Joe Costello tripled in the only inning in which the College posted a score."

"The thrower error occurred in the fourth inning when Sea Hawk catcher Joe Costello tripled in the only inning in which the College posted a score.

"Still .000 After Easter

"In a very close first set by 7-5, and 6-4, the Big Red defeated Joe Feron, 0-7, 3-6, and obtained a 2-0 lead. Sixteen games, three of the first five matches were won by the team. The Beavers battled "A marathon and a half" to make the score 2-0 for the team all season. Helgans, after a fine running catch in the fifth, the only inning:..."