BHE Inaugurates Free Science Grad Program

By SANDRA HILLENSTEIN

The Board of Higher Education (BHE) passed a resolution last night setting up a tuition-free graduate program for students in the five municipal colleges planning careers in mathematics or science.

3-Point Program

The program consists of three main points:

1. It will permit those who already hold bachelor degrees to matriculate towards a tuition-free second degree in either mathematics or science.

2. Students who decide to teach in the mathematics or science fields and already possess a Bachelor of Arts degree will be able to take the extra courses necessary for the license tuition-free.

3. It approves of the pilot-program now existing at the College, which permits graduate students to judge the justness of our claims than the book store manager? The Dean is "backing people not as intimately associated with the situation" as Mr. Garretson, the spokesman said.

The employees are requesting "some sort of hospitalization insurance," over-time pay (they point up the fact that it would "cost the students nothing, because our wages are derived from the store's income and not any College fund) and pro-rated vacations, holidays, and sick-time for those who work throughout the year.

The renovation of Council will be practicable, said Nagler, for the present twenty-five to thirty representatives for only the spring semester.

Under the new plan four representatives from the Engineering School and five representatives from the School of Liberal Arts.

Dean Harold R. Abelson (Educat.) went far back of the statements last week "without thinking." Dean Engeler supported the resolution and stressed their demand for creation of an impartial committee to view their grievances, claiming the responsibility for running the book store rests with the Administrations.

Manager Supports Employees

Mr. Ronald H. Garretson, book store manager, has declared himself in sympathy with the employees and is supporting their demands.

"Who," the employee spokesman queried, "is in a better position to judge the justness of our claims than the book store manager? The Dean is "backing people not as intimately associated with the situation" as Mr. Garretson, the spokesman said.

Lavender Five Freeze-Out Knights

To Snatch Met Conference Crown

By BERNIE LEFKOWITZ

It was four degrees outside the Wingate gym last night, but when the Beavers got warmed up it was hotter than hell inside. When the College's basketball team settled down to business they put the "flying Figure 10" on the Met Conference championship by routing Queens, 88-65.

In fact with 10:11 left in the first half the Beavers trailed, 15-11. But the Knights' prosperity ended abruptly when Hector Lewis began clearing the boards with regularity; Julio Delatorre and Marty Gravenman started driving and scoring. The Beavers led, 26-20, at the half.

The College was just starting, Mel Goldberg opened the last stanza wth "jumOSH for the Knights. In the next four minutes the Beavers retaliated in force. Martin scored two tips, Joel Acker hit a jumper and Marty Gravenman drilled three one-handed. The Lavender was warming up.

Executive Committee Plans Representation by Schools

By ROSE MARIE DAVOLI

A plan to "increase representation" in Student Council was mapped out at a meeting of Student Government Executive Committee, Friday afternoon.

The program would revamp the present system of representation by providing representatives on the basis of the school, in which they are enrolled (School of Education, School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, School of Technology), rather than upon the existing class representation basis.

If the plan is approved by Council tomorrow evening it will be submitted as a referendum to the College Community.

SG President Steve Nagler explained this reorganization "increased number of SG members from the present twenty-five to thirty-seven.

Under the new plan four representatives from the Engineering School and five representatives from the School of Liberal Arts.

Dean Harold H. Abelson (Educat.) went far back of the statements last week "without thinking." H Poll Seeks I AM Curfew

A written poll at a recent House Plan Convention revealed the desire of Plan members to have the curfew on the Finney Student Center extended an hour to 1 A.M.

Delegates to the Convention, which took place on Wednesday, suggested formation of a Party Improvements committee and a Community Service committee, establishment of a central information service concerning off-campus facilities, sponsoring of inter-house programs, and the addition of several facilities in the House Plan Lounge.

The purpose of the Convention was to bring members together to be informed about House Plan's history and to obtain the views of members about problem areas (off-campus halls) and areas for expansion.
Matmen Lose to Kings Point—Wollin, Woods, Izower Tally
BY STUART ALEXANDER BADEN

The College's Wrestling Team could not seem to snap out of its slump, Friday, as it lost to King's Point by a score of 15-13. It was the third consecutive loss for the matmen whose record is now 3-4.

The loss was a heartbreaker for the Grapplers who were the only team to beat the Mariners last year.

Led by Fee
After being four points ahead at two-thirds mark, the Beavers lost their lead, as well as the meet, being mauled in two of the last three matches and only tying the third.

The only pin of the meet was scored against the College's Ben Heller by George Munich in 4:22.

Munich is a senior who has not lost a meet in his entire collegiate wrestling career.

Cagers...

Beavers in the game in the first half, popped two foul shots to stretch the Beaver advantage to 60-51.

When Dave Budin converted two foul shots and Garzani made a lay-up and a charity toss, the lead was shaved to one point, 59-58. Bob Silver added a foul try to make the score, 60-58.

Beardsor Sparks Drive

Then Beardsor went into action. He was fouled with two minutes left. In a one-and-one situation he hit both shots. Ten seconds later he drove the length of the floor for the basket and was fouled in the process. His penalty throw increased the Beavers' lead to 65-58 and insured the triumph.

Three of Polansky's teams have won met championships. Clinching the title again this year allows them to retain the trophy permanently. The College's season record is 7-8.

Science Professionals

Of the Future

Originate Club

The nucleus of a Science-Education Society for people planning to teach science, or interested in scientific education has been formed.

Professor Harold H. Spelman, Dean Advisor for the College's Biology group, announced that the Society, or Scientific Education Reevaluation, according to Albert Kovetz, one of the organizers, has caused a free world to re-evaluate its educational system. Reports from all branches of the field show that our scientists are also educators. The society has been instrumental in getting an educational office created at the University of Illinois.

In a special event, the Violet Freshman Team established a new national freshman record in the medley relay by covering the required distance in 4:16.

The Mermen who finished the season with a 2-5 record were previously scheduled to meet Lafayette next Saturday but the meet was cancelled. However, they will compete in the Metropolitan Intercolligate Championships on February 28, and March 1.

TAXI DRIVING, at best, is a checked career. Some days, nothing seems to click—including the meter! Traffic crawls, motor stalls, horns blow, bumpters meet. What a moment to reach for a Lucky and discover (horrors)! you're fresh out. That's when the most genial drivers turns into a Crabby Cabby. And why not? He's missing the best taste going... a cigarette that's light as they come. Luckies are all light tobacco—good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em yourself. And step on it!

WHAT IS A SATURDAY EVENING POST?

WILLIE LEONARD,
The College's basketball team clinched the Metropolitan Conference championship with a hard-fought, 67-60, victory over Brooklyn at the loser's gym Friday night, and learned a lesson in "discipline" besides.

As Beaver coach Dave Polansky observed, "We didn't make many mistakes in that second half. We controlled the ball and patiently worked it in and out of the bucket all we had the shot." Polansky added with a grin, "Did you see the way Hector Lewis passed off to the weak side? He played the best game of his life.

"And Bennardo shooting fouls at the end? He was tremendous. Everybody was just great."

What the coach failed to mention was that two of his strategic moves had turned the tide. With the Beavers ahead by two points, midway through the first half, Polansky substituted Len Walitt for Joel Ascher, who had been playing the pivot. A couple of plays later Julio Delatorre replaced Marty Groveman in the backcourt.

In the revamped lineup Lewis moved into the bucket. He played the position as if he owned it. The "sky-man," as NYU's Cal Ramsey calls him, feinted Brooklyn defender Bert Abramowitz out of position with apparent ease. He hit jump shots with murderous accuracy and cleared nine rebounds. All in all Lewis tallied 21 points, drilling 8 of 11 from the floor.

A 6' junior, Delatorre more than held his own against the brilliant Brooklyn playmaker, Nick Gaetani. Scoring six points in the last three minutes, Gaetani finished with a respectable total of 18 (only four short of his 22 point average), but not quite as heavy as that outside, but enough to ice-up the bhusen burners nonetheless.

Snow Job...

Chemistry classes were hampered yesterday when several windows were left open in a Baskerville Hall lab over the weekend. Students found the room covered with a blanket of snow, not quite as heavy as that outside, but enough to ice-up the bhusen burners nonetheless.

Lavender Five Captures Met Champion Crown...

Groverman had already tallied nineteen.

The Queens men were left alone under the Beaver backboard with the rest of the ballplayers in the forecourt. With 4:30 left in the game the Beavers had a slim round twenty point bulge, 70-50.

By this time the Lavender reserves were getting their chance. Sid Birnback, Ed Magreb, Stan Friedlander, and Glenn Parker saw action.

This was the scene at the end: Delatorre, Birnback, Parker, Friedlander and Magrab. Hector Lewis was sitting calmly in the stands. Polansky, quietly enthused, said, "This is a significant win as we have four tough games ahead. This should be a great springboard for us."

The coach continued, "All of the new boys played well. It was a creditable performance."

With a final league mark 5-1, the Beavers can now permanently retire the championship trophy. The overall season's record is 8-5. Groverman led the Lavender scoring with nineteen points. Lewis had sixteen and Delatorre twelve.

Riflers Seek Better Half

The College's rifle team, with a mid-season record of 8 wins and 2 losses in league competition, is looking forward to the second half of the season with confidence.
