Borough President Jack To Speak At The College

By BARBARA SCHNEIDER

Hulan Jack, Manhattan Borough President is one of four prominent municipal officials who will speak at the College New York City.

The program, a forum, sponsored by the Conference of Democratic Students (CDS), will take place on Thursday, November 21, in the Grand Ballroom at 12:30 PM. The forum will be moderated by members of the faculty.

Franz S. Leichter, Housing Chairman of the Riverside Democratic Club, Paul T. O'Keefe, Deputy Mayor of New York City and Harold Birns, Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Buildings are the other three members of the forum.

In a letter to Gus Bennett, chairman of CDS, Mr. Birns stated, "We hope to get the raise this time," he said. "All four Municipal Colleges have asked for it." Mr. Zwiefach said that there has been some sentiment for requesting a $1.25 maximum, and this may be the final amount proposed in his January report.

"The request for a wage rise has been included in our budget requests for the last three years, and we’ve asked for a raise for next year again," said Mr. Zwiefach yesterday.

High Finance

According to a ruling of the New York City Budget Bureau, students employed part-time by a municipal College can receive a maximum wage of $1 per hour. The College's Bookstore and the student cafeteria do not fall under the jurisdiction of the ruling. Their offer of wages above the city maximum was stopped by the Administration's wish to curb competition between different sections of the College.

A requested increase in the student maximum wage has been recommended in the College's budget report to the Board of Higher Education. The request was supported by the College's Review Committee which is composed of President Buell G. Gallagher and the deans of the four schools of the College.

While President Gallagher was chairman of the Administrative Council of Municipal College Presidents, the Council recommended the $1 increase, but to no avail.

The maximum wage has remained constant for the past few years, but the student's expenses have increased. It is unrealistic not to make the student's salary aid him in meeting that increase. The $1 maximum is an anachronism in the city budget.

President Gallagher and the Administration have recognized the necessity for the increase and have taken the initiative to try salvaging something about it. The Administrative Council of Municipal College Presidents, as well, has done its share in this campaign. The final results of this work is in the hands of the City Budget Bureau. We can only hope that these commendable recommendations will be honored and adequately enforced.

Worthwhile

The formation of a Blood Bank Council, apart from its immediate purpose to run an efficient blood drive, is remarkable for the unique demonstration it provides of the ability of diverse organizations at the College to cooperate fully with one another to help a worthwhile cause.

The present membership of the new-born Council includes House Plan, Inter-fraternity Council, ROTC, Hillel, the Newman Club, Christian Association, Gamma Sigma, and Alpha Phi Omega. All clubs at the College are welcome to join forces, and we urge more to do so.

The scantiness of last year's blood-bank contributions must not be repeated this year. To this end the Council was formed to combat the ineffectiveness that resulted when the responsibility for conducting the blood drive was given to a different organization each term. To this end all the members-organizations must work in unison.

The importance of the purpose for which the Council was established cannot be disputed. The demand for blood in emergencies from both students and faculty at the College have dangerously depleted the supply.

The Blood Bank Council is not a panacea. The success of this semester's campaign ultimately rests with the students. If a large number of students at the College are not willing to give their blood, not enough of this life-giving substance can be made available.
The History Society is presenting Dean Sherburne F. Barber (Liberal Arts and Science) and Professor Michael Knapp (History) to speak on "Scholarship and Fellowship Opportunities in the Social Sciences" in Room 105 Wagner at 12:30 PM today. The Society hopes to present a program of this type periodically, about once each term, in an effort to make the students of the social sciences more aware of the many and varied stipends which they can receive as aid during their pursuit of post-graduate courses.

As the freshm Hunter Joe Sapora beat hout in a loose ball in front of the Beaver nets at 1:10 of the second period, they started chasing the ending goal sooner.

Hunter fast outdived in playing defensive soccer the rest of the afternoon, but the Beavers refused to play their kind of game.

Instead of opening up the middle as they had done in the first period, they started chasing the middle. Passing became sloppy and Heinz Minnepol had decent shots at the net. But the middle was clogged and so they fired them over the players and both shots went far over the nets.

Hunter in the magazine, was playing smart soccer. They had the lead and were concerned with holding it, not adding to it.

Soccer Save

Everytime they gained possession of the ball they kicked upfield or out of bounds. Tony Papa, the Beaver goalie who replaced Andy Houtkruyer in the nets, was called upon to make only two saves the entire second half. Houtkruyer was injured early in the third period when a Hunter player accidentally hit him in the face. He was helped off the field but the injury is not believed to be serious.

Hunter Coach Mike Yahia was overwhelmed after the game. "We waited a long time to beat City and I'm really excited."

Ironically enough, Yahia was a player on the 1953 Brooklyn squad which was the last team to beat the College. The score in that game was also 1-0.

Smarter Soccer

"We might not have outplayed City today, in the sense of controlling the ball," he said, "but we played smarter soccer. City could have beaten us if they would have continued playing the same way they had played in the first period. Somehow I in a little army we had to beat City. They have such a fine team and they were headed for the NCAA. Now I'll have to find out if the committee wants."

A disappointed Beaver coach, got assurance that they wouldn't deserve a bid to the NCAA.

Harry Karlin, said after the game that "The boys showed that they didn't deserve a bid to the NCAA."

"I thought that they'd be better, complimented Hunter goalie Steve Barrow, "but they played us and they thought they functioned better."

"Maybe City has a better offense than Trout but they're not a bettor team. They panicked today."

Beaver played a fine game in the nets, but were called upon to make too many tough saves.

Houtkruyer, the Hunter goalie, said, "he did, but they blasted their shots instead of placing them. Maybe it just moved them to take tough shots."

Whatever it was, the College's undefeated streak is over. For the first time in six years the Metropolitan teams can sit back and say "Thank God that's over."

Runners Can't Stop For Cold Weather

When the cold weather sets in, people head for warm surroundings. Even the animals in the forest prepare for the winter. Birds fly south, bears hibernate, and groundhogs prepare for the opening of the winter runners.

The runners, who are wearing a "Minnepolos" after track unit, was the College's Indoor Track Team. Candidates are being accepted for next year and for assistant managers' positions. If you are interested, applied to Coach For the losses in Lewishman Stadium any afternoon except Friday from 4-6 PM.

Apply to the College's Indoor Track Team. Candidates are being accepted for next year and for assistant managers' positions. If you are interested, apply to Coach Joe Sapora's way of describing his team's chances for a successful season.

"I'm optimistic, even though I've had so many bad breaks with the team," he said. "But coach Sapora's way of describing his team's chances for a successful season.

The coach does not regard the loss of Tommy Holmes, who is according to Sapora "guaranteed our season." Sapora will have to look mighty good to find a replacement for the likes of last year's heavyweight champion Mitt Gitelman, and for Jerry Horowitz too.

Aside from losing these two, the graspers will be without the services of Paul Rosen, who had dropped off the team this year. But Sapora's red troubles came from the loss, due to serious illness of his light and light-heavyweight runners.

At the light end of the scale there is 137 pound Ronni Alter, who is according to Sapora "one of the best wrestlers I've ever coached since I've been here."

Tommie Holmes, who tips the scales at 167 was the fourth twinkle in the eye of the four-time intercollegiate wrestling champ. "Tommie was a varsity man last year, and has vastly improved this wrestling year."

"I don't know about the rest of the team, Sapora went on. "The undeclared team is of unknown quality."

At the light side there is Jerry Kaplan, who is taking over for Wolfin who has moved up to Mexico and picked up some kind of virus there. Alter had to drop out of school entirely for the fall term in order to incure complete recovery. He should be ready by February, Levkov, while he hasn't been forced to have one in Wingate Gym, may replace him next year.

Coach Joe Sapora

Optimistic About Season.

"There's no getting around the fact that with the team, Sapora explained. "Those two guys took a trip down to Mexico and picked up some kind of virus there. Alter had to drop out of school entirely for the fall term in order to incure complete recovery. He should be ready by February, Levkov, while he hasn't been forced to have one in Wingate Gym, may replace him next year.

Scoreboard

A brand new scoreboard has been installed in Lewishan Stadium. Although it will only give period by period scores, an electric scoreboard similar to the one in Village Gym, may replace it next year.

The present scoreboard is chocked by bad.
