Restrictions; it is fifteen cent service!

Future of Jewish Fraternity Will Be Determined by IFC

The fate of a fraternity composed of Orthodox Jewish students will be decided next Friday, by the Inter Fraternity Council (IFC).

According to IFC President Bob Bissnoff, the main stumbling-block to the approval of membership of the proposed fraternity, Mu Lambda Sigma, is the requirement that all fraternity members send representatives to the twice-monthly Friday afternoon meetings of the IFC Council of Presidents.

Those afternoon meetings conflict with the religious convictions of the Orthodox Jewish members of Balfour ’61, the proposer of the fraternity.

"If they can come to our meetings they can't be members of IFC," said Bissnoff, "since the manual of our organization is done through the Council."

One solution that would immediately resolve the conflict would be to change the day on which the meetings are to be held. The possiability of doing this appeared very doubtful to Bissnoff.

"He cited the fact that the other representatives have already registered and planned their programs with the idea of the Friday afternoon meetings in mind."

Bissnoff could see no relationship-ship between the proposed fraternity and the new General Faculty regulating whereby funds will not be allocated to religious groups.

Although, at present, the membership of the new house consists of less than one hundred per cent Jewish, there are no religious restrictions; it is partly a social venture according to Bissnoff.

Driver Class Offered Again

After a highly successful fall semester, driver education classes in the new course required by Student Government this term.

The course, limited to thirty miles per week, is divided into two different programs; one for the novice and one for those who have some previous driving training. Both are used as models for a proposed program of the State Legislature to make driver education an accredited course in state institutions.

For those who have no driving experience there is a fifty dollar program which includes ten lectures and ten hours devoted to observing driving techniques. As usual, number of hours will be spent in actual driving practice. The brush-up program costs thirty-two dollars.

Enrollment Deadline Extended

Or College Insurance Plan

The Spring semester enrollment deadline for the City College's Student Health and Accident Insurance Plan (HIP), will be extended to February 26.

This action comes in response to the petitioning of the Student Board of Managers and was initiated by the Student Body.

The plan is the first such insurance program approved by the City College Administration. It was introduced last September, at which time there were more than 1500 students enrolled.

The original twelve month cover of the plan has been shortened and will protect the parents from February to Sep-ember 1959. A corresponding re-increase in rate from $16 to $10.70 has also been made.

Many students don’t realize that plan protects them for a full twenty-four hours, in and out of the city, said Bob Bisnoff, director of the Health and Accident Insurance Plan.

To emphasize this fact he cited a case of a student, enrolled in

"... & ..."

The Gilbert and Sullivan Sonert will present "Patience" Friday and Saturday evenings in the new Gilbert and Sullivan Author’s Theatre, First Avenue and Fifteenth Street. Tickets are on sale at the Finley Center and opposite Bottweiser Lounge. Prices for Friday and Saturday performance are one dollar and $2.25 respectively.

I Pledge...

Curiously, the government has managed to juxtapose paens of loyalty with financial support of education. Under the National Defense Education Act of 1958 a $900 million Federal-aid program has been set in motion. However an oath of allegiance is included as a perquisite for receiving a payment of one hundred dollars.

The value of loyalty oaths is doubtful. For the traitor, a written commitment is no assurance against future defection and the loyal need not voice what they already firmly believe. This is doubly true in the case of the relatively sophisticated, unprovincial student approaching graduation, who, often four years of study, should be fully aware of the importance by democracy.

Dancing in the Dark

That old bugaboo "student apathy" shan't rear its ugly head round these bye and byes. A group of public-spirited students, outraged that the dance lounge has been moved to a place from which they must now travel for non-aesthetic nourishment, have undertaken a noble crusade: getting the dancing closer to the food or vice versa.

The heart bleeds at the thought of these poor, unfortunate, put-upon youngsters. Cha-cha-ing all the day round saps all the energy needed to stagger down a flight of stairs for vitals. Remember, stalwarts, "It only hurts for a little while... cha-cha-cha!"

Actually we see where these people have a right to be annoyed—that is a rather spacious hall to which they have been relegated.

But somehow it seems a sad commentary on humanity that people will become upset and will institute petitions and, in general, will rally round that flag, boys, when there is such a comparatively minor thing at stake.

Where are these righteous foes of evil when the Ad

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Where are these people who seek the freedom to dance at will—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There is no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, boys, you see the power of poetry. Try it yourself! All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand smoke. Doris of the golden tiara! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a toast of trochee tetrameter.

Oh, my own and dearest Doris! I love you like a Philip Morris With its mild and rich tobacco In its white and scarlet pack-o. I'm dustin from Los Angeles to New York For Philip Morris and you and watches.

Well, of course, the dear girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There is no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, boys, you see the power of poetry. Try it yourself! All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand smoke.

Let's drop rhyme and turn to reason. The reason Marlboro has gone to the head of the filter cigarette class is simply better "makin'"—a flavor that pleases a filter that works. Marlboro—from the makers of Philip Morris.
Letters

ANTI-HOROWITZ

Dear Editor:

I feel that it is a waste of student fees to report utter nonsense Mike Horowitz's trip to Washington as you did in your February edition. What rubbish! Who are we, let Mike Horowitz further his exploits outside the College, there are many more interesting and exciting adventures, than those rugged exploits of Mike Horowitz, boy explorer, who ventures to the wilds of Alaska and the rugged terrain of Washington.

Sincerely,
Arthur Schwartz

ES Student's Other Life: Army Intelligence Officer

Probable no one in Edward Kraus' evening sessions classes dreams that he leads a double life.

During the day, Mr. Kraus is Colonel Kraus, assistant chief of staff, First Army Intelligence. During the evening, he is a candidate for a Master's degree in international relations in the Graduate Division of the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

After completing his education, he intends to teach. "As soon as I receive my Masters degree from the College," he said, "I expect to start right in working for a doctorate. After that I hope to teach international relations at a college or university."

This forty-nine-year-old student, eligible for retirement from the army in June 1960, leaves Governors Island two evenings a week, honor graduate in a high school at Erie, Pennsylvania, won a scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh. He was in his second year when he decided to make the army his career.

In 1959, Mr. Kraus enlisted as an army private to live the life of a man in uniform. He entered West Point in 1931 and graduated in 1935, in that top third of his class.

He served as an artillery officer on the Mexican border and in the Philippines before World War II. During the war, he was chief of staff of the 3rd Engineers Amphibious Brigade in New Guinea. From 1950 to 1952 Colonel Kraus served on the General Staff in the Department of the Army as chief of the Eastern European Area for Intelligence.

During the following three years, he was in Japan working as plans and operations officer the Joint Staff of the Far East Command. Colonel Kraus knows ten foreign languages and has compiled a Serbo-Croatian grammar. The other languages he has studied are Japanese, Portuguese, German, Latin, Italian, Spanish, French, Tagalog (a Philippine dialect) and Saxon.

He is a chess player, has studied and read theology and archeology and played the flute with the El Paso Symphony Orchestra before the war while he was stationed in Texas.

GOES AND GOES AND GOES ON A GALLON!

Biscayne 1-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 15% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "get" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this '59-b.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy! now—see the wider selection of models at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's!
Hoopsterettes Troubecute and Flounce:

Dominique Key to Victory
Entire Squad Ef orvesces

Success and the women's basketball team were virtual strangers until a little more than a year ago, when a lanky miss with a deadly one-hander introduced them.

For years the Beaverettes went through frosty winters with nary the smell of success, but when Mary Dominique, a shy, 6-2 soph-omore appeared on the scene last January, things changed in a hur-fry. Not only did she unsettle the opposition with a 22 point average, but the other girls caught the idea quickly.

The Hoopsterettes finished the season with an 8-2 mark. The squad before almost the same squad was seven games under .500.

Mary Dominique
Key

Betty Castro, who has suffered through the lean campaigns as well as the seasons of plenty, has contributed 14 points a contest.

In the backcourt Elaine Fineberg and Rose Marie Davoli have been steady performers over the last two campaigns. Although she hardly performs actively anymore, Miss Laura Ham is an instrument in the team's victories as any of the play-

2nd ANNUAL MUSICAL THEATRE TRAINING COURSE Course Consists of:
1. Payroll preparation
2. Union contracts and regulations
3. Box Office procedure
4. House management
5. Office procedure
6. Royalty contracts
7. Production
8. Promotion and publicity
9. Costing

Course of instruction for young students and mature management in box office operations. Patterned after classes given in other branch offices. Each course designed for the development of the individual. Reviews of school work and examination given at the end of each course. Students are admitted to the course at the beginning of each semester. Course is open to all persons who are interested.

Athletes Wanted...
Athletes interested in participating in a sport which gives one the experience of bone-crushing body contact and an intimate relationship with the American Indian, seek out Coach Miller of the College's lacrosse team any afternoon in the Lewisohn Stadium. Reserves any afternoon. Your application will be processed by

Q. Would you advise everyone to attend Tau Delta Phi's Smoker?
A. I think everyone should think for himself!

Stadium Kosher Delicatessen:
Thanks for making our delicatessen your eating place. It's nice to know folks appreciate extra quality and fine service. Our aim is and always will be give a little more than you normally expect.

Prompt service on outgoing orders.

P. S. We cater to Fraternities and Sororities at a discount.

WHY
students go to
BARNES & NOBLE
New York's Leading Educational BOOKSTORE

At Barnes & Noble...

- STUDENTS SAVE MONEY buying books at New York's largest wholesale-retail textbook store. Barnes & Noble serves as a "clearing house" for used textbooks... buying and selling with stores and students everywhere.

- STUDENTS GET TOP CASH for books they sell... even those discontinued at New York universities and colleges. Because Barnes & Noble distributes books throughout the world, students can sell to B&N all books still in use somewhere.

- STUDENTS SAVE TIME at Barnes & Noble. Fast, efficient service is given by a large, increased sales staff. Students' orders are quickly filled from stock of over 1,000,000 used and new books.

BARNES & NOBLE, Inc.
105 Fifth Ave. at 18th St., New York City
Publisher of the College Outline Series