Hunter Bans Buckley Talk; 'Racist' Barred At Queens

Dean Denies Malcolm X Speaking Privileges

Malcolm X, local leader of the Black Muslim movement, was barred Monday from a scheduled speaking engagement at Queens College by Dean of Students James Kreuzer.

Levelling charges of racism against Malcolm X, Dean Kreuzer notified the Queens College National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) before whom Malcolm X was to appear that the Muslim divinity leader would not be allowed to speak at the Queens College campus.

At college platform is no place for racists, Dean Kreuzer is reported to have said yesterday to Queens NAACP head Joan Nestle.

According to Miss Nestle, Mon-

Chancellor John R. Everett Calls Move 'Personal'

day's decision to bar Malcolm X was the culmination of a week long campaign on the part of the Dean and Queens College President Harold R. Stokes to have the NAACP "voluntarily" disinvite Mr. X.

Council Acts
[The denial of speaking privileges to Malcolm X, was strongly condemned by Student Council at last night's meeting.]

Miss Nestle said yesterday that as soon as Dean Kreuzer had heard of the Muslim Leader's November 14 invitation he advised her that in the opinion of President Stokes he should not appear.

A meeting of the Queens NAACP was called for Monday morning to decide whether to revoke its invitation to Malcolm X. The membership unanimously opposed such a move and informed Dean Kreuzer of its decision at 11:00 A.M.

At 4:00 PM the Dean's decision to bar Mr. X was announced.

'National Review' Editor Refused Facilities

A suit is in progress to force Hunter College to allow the National Review paid use of its facilities for discussion programs, the Civil Liberties Union (NYCLU), sponsors of the action revealed last week.

The Civil Liberties group stated in a press release that it was providing legal counsel for the Review at the request of its Editor, William F. Buckley, Jr. The Board of Higher Education (BHE) is the defendant in the case.

Hunter refused this year to renew a lease with the magazine for the use of its auditorium, because it was, according to a letter from a Dean at Hunter, "a political group representing a distinct point of view of its own."

A subsequent decree contained in a letter from Hunter College President John F. Meng, dated April 24, 1961, stated that "the facilities are not available for political or other public movements or groups in presenting a distinct position or point of view."

Constitution Referendum Will Be Offered By SG

A special Student Government popular referendum to pass on the new proposed SG constitution will be held during the third week of November, if Council discussion is finished in the four-week period.

The new constitution was the main motion before last night's Student Council meeting.

During the four weeks, Council will amend and delete sections of the document. During a three hour discussion last night, SC made technical changes and amendments. SG President Irwin Pronin announced a possible emergency Student Council meeting for next Friday at 4 PM, if discussion at the regular meeting on Wednesday is not sufficient.

About an hour before the close of the meeting, SC Representative Ted Brown introduced a resolution decrying the inaction.

SA Unit Scores Limitations Placed on Academic Freedom

An executive committee of the National Student Association (NSA) unanimously passed a resolution upholding academic freedom at its meeting here Monday.

The resolution condemns certain practices which the Committee regards as infringements on academic freedom and student rights. These include:

- Expulsion of students from college or university for going toward a more democratic environment.
- Restriction of the student's opportunity to hear divergent views by placing bans on speakers.
- Arbitrary actions by college and university administrators against student rights and organizations.

Recent events prompted the committee to formulate the resolution, Fred Bren, a student leader who is Education President of the Regional Executive Committee of the Metropolitan New York Region NSA said Tuesday.

Last week the Administrative Council of Municipal College Presidents voted unanimously to bar Communist speakers from appearing at any branch of the City University pending a study of the problem in view of Supreme Court decisions regarding Communist organizations.

Earlier, the Student Government Association (SGA) at Jackson State College in Mississippi was disbanded by President Jacob L. Reddix because of actions taken by SGA in the field of integration.

Copies of the resolution have been sent to the presidents of the seven municipal colleges.

Wagner, Lefkowitz At College Today

Mayoral candidates Robert F. Wagner (Dem.) and Louis J. Lefkowitz (Rep.), meet today in the Grand Ballroom at 12:30 PM to discuss campaign issues.

If the pattern of previous meetings between the two is followed, the principle topics covered will be housing, education, 'bossism,' campaign contributions, and rent control.

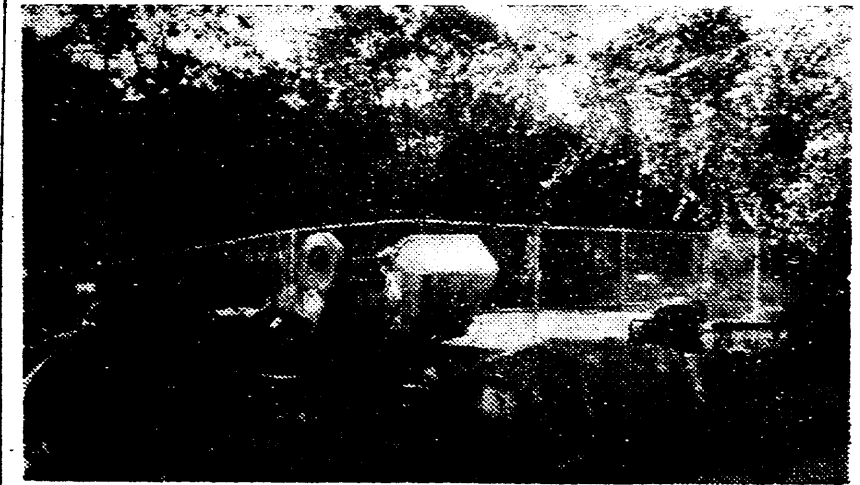

At the meeting, which is sponsored by Lock and Key and the College's Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Attorney General Lefkowitz and Mayor Wagner will each speak for twenty minutes and then answer questions from the audience.

Of late, the Mayor has been urging increased crime control and has attacked the Republican controlled legislature for 'short-changing' the City on aid to education.

Mr. Lefkowitz, also concerned with education, said Tuesday that he will demand the resignation of School Superintendent John J. Theobald if elected Mayor. He has also charged that the Mayor's administration has been a do-nothing one, and that Wagner's fight against the bosses was a phony war.

Court Reform

Sidewalk superintendents may have noted with interest the spreading of gravel on the three tennis courts in front of Cohen Library. The new topping, reputed to be much more durable than the present black-top surface, is part of an improvement program to transform the uneven and broken-surfaced courts into modern ones.

The deadline for completion of the project is two weeks "barrening a spike" said Mr. Kenneth G. Flemming (Buildings and Grounds).

Freedom From Fear

When the Administrative Council of Municipal College Presidents last week temporarily banned all Communist speakers from the city colleges, the danger to academic freedom became apparent. With the disclosure Tuesday of Hunter College's refusal to rent an auditorium to the editor of a conservative magazine, a trend became evident. The most recent act in the "banning" drama—the barring of Muslim leader Malcolm X from Queens College on the ground that he is a "racist"—makes the present position of academic freedom at the municipal colleges ludicrous.

Communists may not speak. Conservatives may not speak. So called "racists" may not express their views. What next? All this to protect the impressionable minds of city college students. Either the municipal college administrators think of their students as simpletons, or else they are yielding to pressure being exerted on them by outside groups who seek truth with blunders.

A college campus should be a testing ground for ideas. Acting President Rivlin has repeatedly emphasized the importance of having diverse viewpoints aired. It is differences of opinion on important issues that makes the College a vital place, he has said. But speaker bans, of whatever form, stifle free expression and hinder the learning process.

The rationale of those who institute the bans is based on either or both of the following premises. One, that students can learn nothing from speakers who are so steeped in their own biased views as to be unable to see the true facts. Or, two, that speakers who would not allow free speech were they in control of government, should not be given the privilege of using public facilities as sounding boards.

The loopholes in these arguments are all too apparent. The first assumes that those who impose speaker restrictions are superior judges of what is the true doctrine and of which doctrines have nothing of value to offer. The second line of reasoning contends in effect that free speech must be restricted for those who would abolish free speech. It uses the methods of those it seeks to destroy.

The basic of the municipal college administrators is near-averse to allow advocates of ideas that might antagonize influential sectors of the outside community to speak at any public college. This is a totally negative course of action, and a sad one, which substitutes academic censorship for academic freedom.

In The Know

Two days. Two important events. Will you be there?

This afternoon Mayor Wagner and Attorney General Lefkowitz will be here to discuss election issues. Tomorrow SG will hold a forum on "Free Speech."

Will you be there?

Letters

Dear Editor:

As a student who has had the honor and privilege of being in two of Professor Hans Kohn's classes, I regret with sadness to hear the news that he will be leaving the College after this semester. Although I recognize the reasons behind a universal age-restriction law, I must nonetheless express my heartfelt wish that all possible efforts will be made to grant Professor Kohn an exemption from the law. Let us at least hope that Professor Kohn will be a frequent guest lecturer at the College.

I couldn't end this letter without congratulating the writer of the feature story on Professor Kohn for a well-done and movingly human article. For some reason there was no byline on the story. This was a glaring omission, and one that should be readily corrected.

Les Fraidstern

Class of '62

(Editor's Note: The story about Professor Kohn was written by Barbara Schwartzbaum.)

Dear Editor:

It will be good to see the Grand Ballroom filled to capacity again, today as it hasn't been since Harry S. Truman spoke here last fall. The occasion will be the appearance of the two leading mayoral candidates, Robert F. Wagner and Louis Lefkowitz. Mr. Lefkowitz is scheduled to arrive at least twenty minutes ahead of the Mayor, but the Democratic forces haven't asked for equal time.

In fact, it's doubtful that Mr. Wagner will be in any great hurry to break off his routine of demonstrating his new-found ability to lead the city down the golden path of reform to various segments of the citizenry which will go to the polls next month. Even if there is a building here named after his more illustrious father.

But while there won't be more than a few potential votes in the Grand Ballroom today, speaking appearances at the College do have a certain amount of publicity value, particularly with a large percentage of college graduates and other intellectuals of young age in the city. Candidates and backers of candidates have in the past recognized this value, particularly in recent years, and so the College has been graced during the heat of election campaign by the likes of Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Javits and Mr. Truman, as well as by several candidates like Seymour Davis and Myra Tanner Weiss.

So, look and see, and the College's chapter of the American Association of University Professors must be forgiven or merely following a precedent—allowing the College to be used as part of the rhetoric and election campaigns always is.

 none more than this one. But I think it's time someone complained about the perversion of the traditional idea of important figures speaking on campus with the expectation of engaging in frank, open discussion and debate with a student body seeking enlightenment from those who can offer ideas and knowledge beyond that of the classroom.

The most newsworthy political figures, when appearing here
 during an election campaign, almost never seem to bother to do more than settle for a copy of the speech they would give at a luncheon of the Anti-Vivisectionist League. The snapping flash bulbs, the broad smiles, and the cliché-ridden, emotional jargon completely lacking in intellectual depth or content is thus transported in its entirety to the confines of the College.

In fairness, perhaps political figures who might have a notion to explain their position in any depth are dissuaded by the mobs which come just for a glimpse of the big name, the way they do in East Harlem and Coney Island.
 Or maybe, it's the dingy, drab
 Grand Ballroom with its barren band stand and metal folding chairs, a far cry from, say, the Great Hall in Shepard. That spacious, ornate room used to be reserved for the big speakers, and now is used as a library for engineering students wishing to study during that Thursday class break.

Still, I hope that some group at the College invites Mr. Wagner back next Spring to speak on "The Responsibilities of a Responsible Municipal Government," or Mr. Lefkowitz on "The Graduate's Role in Recent Affairs," the topic originally picked for him until somebody decided a real live version of the TV Debates might be more attractive.
 Maybe then they'll have some time to answer a few searching questions in detail and students might come away with an idea or two, as well as a glimpse of a headline maker.

Sincerely,
 Bruce Solomon.

Student Council criticized the Hunter College Administration
 last night for refusing to allow the National Review forums to use the Hunter Auditorium.

The BHE had, "about a year ago," given the college authority to decide what groups may use school facilities, a Hunter College spokesman said Tuesday.

Buckley charged in a statement made at press conference Tuesday that, "Hunter College, which teaches toleration, has been guilty of a rank act of discrimination."

Mr. Stephen Vladeck, representing the Review at the request of NYCLU, said at the conference that the Union had taken the case because the Hunter ruling seemed "arbitrary, capricious,
 and discriminatory" to them.

"National Review," said Buckley, "no doubt stands to suffer from its indirect association with a College long since identified with the excesses of rampant liberalism. But we are prepared to run that risk in pursuit of our continuing opposition to guilt by association."

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

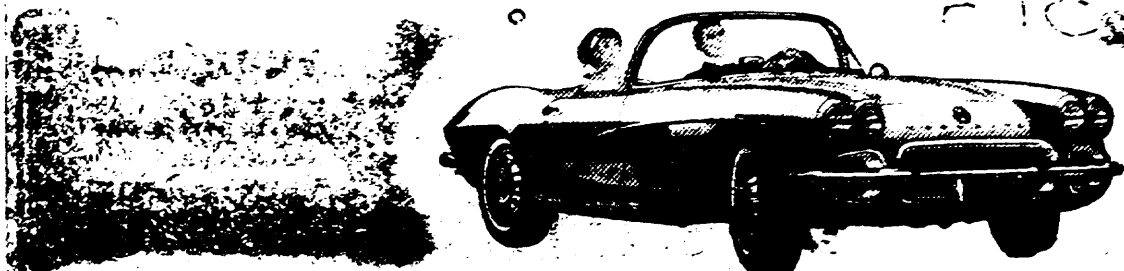

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The amazing air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please, in complete control. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

And Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper. Another extra-cost option well worth considering is the heavy-duty front and rear suspension; it turns a Corvair into a real tiger.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

Soccermen Ride to 5-1 Romp Over Hunter On Windischmann (2), Negovetti (2) Scores

By LARRY BORTSTEIN

No, the party's not over yet.

Those who expected to see a worn-down, dispirited Lavender soccer team at Hunter yesterday met with faint success as the Beavers, scoring in every period, rolled to a 5-1 victory over Hunter's Hawks.

Henry Windischmann, whose pair of goals had the Beavers ahead by a 2-1 count at half time, and Tony Negovetti, who added a pair in the third quarter, led the rout. It gave the Beavers a 3-0 league record.

Earle Scarlett scored the last goal for the Lavender.

For just one fleeting moment did it appear that the Hawks, who surprised Brooklyn College last Saturday, 2-1, would send the Beavers to a second straight loss.

This came in the early moments of the second quarter when Gary Kuti, who played like a veritable one-man army, kicked a rolling ball past goalie Andy Houtkruyer.

Windischmann, with an assist from Sylvan Sidi, had sent the Lavender to an early lead, at 12:06 of the opening quarter. But Kuti's goal, which came during a period of Hawk-dominated action, seemed to place the Hawks in a favorable spot for the kill.

The Beaver defense rose to the fore at this point and held the Hawks at bay, before Windischmann scored the lead goal only six seconds before the half time break.

Windischmann broke in on Hawk goaltender Mike Magenheim, who deflected the shot towards Saul Lichtine, his left full-back. Windischmann wrested the ball from Lichtine and booted it home.

Magenheim was hurt on the play and was replaced for the second half by Vin Cassieri.

Another replacement, this one for the Beavers, was Negovetti, who started the game on the bench, as Coach Karlin experimented with his line-up.

Negovetti, who moved in at center forward for the second half, drove Hunter's first-year coach, Frank Solymosi, into a near state of frenzy.

"Only a substitute, and he scores two goals," wailed Solymosi. Someone forgot to tell him that Negovetti had been a starter all season and now leads the team with six goals.

Negovetti's first goal came as part of a volley of shots at Cassieri. His second goal highlighted one of the day's stellar plays. Scarlett sent a booming kick to-

Sapora Grooming Wrestlers For Start of Thirtieth Season

Coach Joe Sapora was never one to go overboard over his wrestling team's chances for success, and this year has been no exception.

Putting his team through rigorous workouts daily in the lofty confines of Goethals Gym's wrestling cage, the diminutive Coach Sapora, beginning his thirtieth year at the reins, has seen all too few glimpses of high-calibre performance.

But, there is hope—or a semblance of same to be found in the enthusiastic group of hopefuls that has reported to Sapora in the past week. The coach, a former champion in the midwest, has an idea he'll find enough material out of that motley group to go with such veterans as Phil Rodman, Barry Goldlust, Jerry Robinson, and Bob Hamilton.

"Our schedule is usually tough so we'll naturally have to throw our inexperienced boys in right away with boys who've done a lot more wrestling," he said yesterday.

The schedule opens at Columbia Saturday afternoon, Dec. 1.
