SC Refuses To Consider Cuba Notion; Acts on OP

By TIM BROWN

Student Council declined last night to discuss a motion supporting President John F. Kennedy in his actions in the Cuba crisis.

The motion had been introduced by Council member Richard Schweidel.

In another action, Observation Post was "urged" to remove the slogan "Voice of the Student Body" from its flag. The motion, made by Council member Alan Blume and carried by a substantial margin, was a modified form of one which would have "mandated" the newspaper's compliance with liberal arts policies.

SC Refuses To Consider Cuba Notion; Acts on OP

Unrestricted Number of Cuts Requested For Upperclassmen

A petition asking unlimited cuts for students is being circulated at the College.

Lilliam Hamwee, initiator of the campaign, said that it was going to be submitted to the College if it was not requested to sign her letter on the subject to the Colleges.

MIDDLEBROOK

Barber recalled being offered a scholarship by College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and that unrestricted cuts would be all right "if upperclassmen." He added that "each instructor interprets the regulation in his own way.

Comedians...

All musical comedians are invited to an open casting for "Once Upon A Mattress," to be held tomorrow at 5:30 PM in Room 239 Finley.

Three Ass't. Deans At College Perform Wide Variety of Duties

Barber

"All I know is that one day the dean called me into his office and told me that ... the job was mine." This war-the-way Sherburne F. Barber said.

MIDDLEBROOK

"I believe in the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, and the neighborhood of City College," said Samuel Middlebrook.

COLFORD

Assistant Dean William E. Colford, head of the curricular guidance office, doesn't understand why students find the curricula here so confusing.

Pres. Supports Blockade, Attacks NDEA Penalty

The United States' blockade of Cuba was termed "not fully justified, but absolutely essential," by President Buell G. Gallagher yesterday.

The president, at his semi-weekly press conference, asserted that Russian reforms of the Stalin era had been "internal" and that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was "carrying along the same thing that went under Stalin" in international affairs. He termed Soviet action in Cuba "imperialistic.

The old version required all loan applicants to sign both a statement of abilities and a statement of membership in a Communist organization.

The new version requires all loan applicants to sign both a statement of abilities and a statement of membership in a Communist organization.
Voice of the Student Body

Whose view do our editorialists represent? Whose view should they represent?

Answers to these questions have provoked something of a controversy at the College. "Liberals" advocating freedom of the press are pitted in combat with "conservatives" championing self-restraint, if not outright censorship.

We think that the matter is relatively simple. The opinions expressed in this column represent nothing more nor less than a majority view of this newspaper's Editorial Board. A statement to this effect is printed whenever possible and should cause little consternation. OP does not now, nor has it ever, claimed to express more than this.

Certainly OP has a responsibility to the College community and to the students. This, however, does not entail any attempt to represent their views within the limits of the editorial columns; it does mean that we are obliged to present all of the news in as accurate and unbiased a manner as possible.

To propose that we attempt to represent the ideas of the student body is highly frivolous and dilatory. Succinctly stated, we have no means by which to determine what that view is. Further, one would also have to establish the existence of a formulated view and the propriety of attempting to set it forth.

Thus we have fulfilled our responsibility as we see it. If we claimed to represent the students and did not, we would be open to justifiable criticism. But it is difficult to see how in the expression of our views, we have created "a public image of the College which will ultimately be harmful to the future professional opportunities of the graduates." Such a usurpation of the responsibilities of a free press by a publication that demands the rights of a free press can only be remedied by a change in the structure of the publication.

If your newspaper were to be bought and sold on campus without in any way drawing upon the aid of students, then criticism such as presented here would be invalid. If the editorial staff of your newspaper were to be selected by direct or indirect student vote in such a manner as to assure its observance of the responsibility to, and the opinion of, the student body, then again such criticism of your actions be invalid.

Until such times, however, we, whose professional opportunities are perhaps being most injured by your actions, can only hope that our point has been well taken, and that you exhibit self-restraint in future matters of this nature.

Ken Rosenberg
President
Technology Council

Dear Editor:

When a college newspaper presents its title with the words, "Voice of the Student Body," it assumes a responsibility not only to the students of the college, but to the nationwide public image of that college. In light of this fact, opinions expressed on matters concerning all students by the editorial staff of this newspaper should be formulated with a high regard for the opinions of the entire student body. Technology Council believes that OP, in its recent editorial entitled "Progress," has not fulfilled its responsibility to, and in so doing, has used the students' money and the students' name to create a public image of the College which will ultimately be harmful to the future professional opportunities of the graduates. Such a usurpation of the responsibilities of a free press by a publication that demands the rights of a free press can only be remedied by a change in the structure of the publication.

If your newspaper were to be bought and sold on campus without in any way drawing upon the aid of students, then criticism such as presented here would be invalid. If the editorial staff of your newspaper were to be selected by direct or indirect student vote in such a manner as to assure its observance of the responsibility to, and the opinion of, the student body, then again such criticism of your actions be invalid.

Until such times, however, we, whose professional opportunities are perhaps being most injured by your actions, can only hope that our point has been well taken, and that you exhibit self-restraint in future matters of this nature.

Ken Rosenberg
President
Technology Council

...for a life of pride and purpose

Among the young people being graduated from college in these times, there are some who think and feel—perhaps a little more deeply than the others—about the world we live in, the future we face. They ask, "How can I make my career rewarding?" and "How can I take personal responsibility for a life of pride and purpose?" And many of today's most successful young people are finding a fulfilling answer to these questions as officers of the Aerospace Team of the United States Air Force. They can tell you that no career could better combine the opportunity for achievement—and the deep inner satisfaction of knowing that they are helping preserve the very future of America.

How can you become an Air Force Officer?

If you are a college senior and not currently enrolled in ROTC, Air Force Officer Training School provides an opportunity to qualify for a wide variety of career fields. The graduate of this three-month course receives a commission as a second lieutenant. As the Air Force continues its technological advance, officers with college training will move into positions of increasing importance.

For full information—including the opportunity to earn graduate degrees at Air Force expense—write: Air Force Officer Training School, 10272 Georgia Avenue, Silver Spring, Md. 20910. For those in college, write: Air Force Officer Training School, 1636 North St., Washington, D.C. 20324.

U.S. Air Force

FOR AMERICA'S FUTURE AND YOUR OWN... JOIN THE AEROSPACE TEAM.
Colford...

(Continued from Page 1)

One step toward the future, Dean Colford continues to keep in touch with the students.”

Under The Trees

The Dean’s life-long interest in Hispanic studies is expressed when he says, “Spanish is my life and Portuguese my mistress. And I love them both.” Dr. Colford studied in Madrid with the great Spanish philosopher Miguel de Unamuno. “We spent many hours in conversation under the trees,” he recalled. One of Dean Colford’s prized possessions is an inscribed photograph of Unamuno which hangs on his office wall. Dr. Colford said, “I agree with his philosophy: ‘Soy americano de España y español de América.’” Colford became a teacher at the College upon graduation in 1929, while working for his MA and PhD at Columbia. —Herrnstadt ments circulated through the crowd. One report, telling that a Soviet ship had turned back, was greeted by loud applause.

Cuba...

(Continued from Page 1)

A spokesman for the ad hoc committee sponsoring the rally termed it successful and announced that further picketing would be held later this week.

Middlebrook...

Middlebrook’s statement reflects his attachment to the College, interest in Transcendental literature and ability to turn a good phrase.

Dr. Middlebrook’s duty, as an Assistant Dean of Liberal Arts and Science, is the “care and feeding” of 900 staff people at the college, but teaching, he says, is “his delight.”

A gentle, courtly man, with a far-away look in his eye, Dr. Middlebrook is a new father. Humanities editor to the sons and daughters of his first students here, he hopes to stay until the 1987 coming of the class of 1987. "Only then," he adds, "shall I make room for my important juniors in the Department of English."

Middlebrook’s interest in the 19th century New England literary school, led him to build a house beside a pond in Massachussets.

Buses May Unite N&S Campuses

Have you got that I’m-too-tired-to-walk-up-North-blues? Do you get enough exercise in the brain department and don’t need any physically? Phil Lotter and Ronnie Irizarry may be able to solve your problems.

Lotter, an Evening Division graduate student, and Miss Irizarry, Evening Session President, have been mandated to investigate and institute a bus service from the IND subway station to “all points on Campus” by the Evening Session student government. The buses are to run during all class hours between the stations and North and South campuses.

Tickets for the “ jitney” will be sold at the proposed price of $1.00 per week.
Karlin Heads NY Committee On NCAA Soccer Tourney

It has been suggested that the College's soccer team will be selected as the New York State area champion for the national championships even if they don't merit the nomination. But no. though Beaver Coach Harry Karlin is chairman of the New York State area selection committee this isn't likely. Fortunately or otherwise, the selection is based on a point system. Teams are rated according to the quality of the opponents they have defeated and the margin of their victories, with the highest rating getting into the championship tournament.

Coach Karlin did say that "top teams eliminated from the playoffs by a narrow margin are eligible for an 'at large' category." A rating by the number of games played. The team with the most points wins. Actually this still wouldn't qualify the Beavers for the championship tournament. They would have to beat the New England champs (probably Bridgeport), to get to the finals. At this stage it becomes obvious how Coach Karlin has guided this soccer team to a 69-10-4 record. He is a genius!

---

Beaverlings Lose To Adelphi, 3-1

The College's freshman soccer team bombarded Adelphi's goal with thirty-three shots. The Adelphi freshmen took seven shots. But the final score was 3-1 in favor of Adelphi, yesterday at Lewiston Stadium.

The Beavers dominated the entire game, but the Panther cubs seemed to have all the luck, making the shots the Beavers missed every time.

Adelphi's goalie, Ken Sutton, seemed to be everywhere around the goal and when he wasn't there the wind or some little trick of fate would take away the Lavernder goal. The Beavers' lone goal was kicked by Emilio Courret.

---

OBSERVATION POST THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1962

DUPLICATE BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Monday, Oct. 29, 6:15 PM - Room 440 F
WIN MASTER POINTS

The Sisters of Alpha Sigma Rho Society

would like to congratulate

Diana & Ronni
Evalyn & David
Phyllis & Peter
Ruth & Neil
on their pinnings.

Pall Mall Presents-
GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

Don't let this girl's costume fool you. She's not really a mad scientist. She's a girl—a real, live girl. It's just that she has to prove something—to herself and to her family. She has to prove that she has a brain and that, if she can do it—and win. But she really doesn't want to compete with men. In her heart she wants to attract men and eventually marry one. The girl Watcher should not let this situation disturb him, however.

If the girl is watchable, she should be watched, no matter what her motives or ambitions may be. The same thing is true of a cigarette. If it's smokeable, it should be smoked—and Pall Mall is the most smokeable of all!