Free Tuition Question Obscured By Elections

By MIKE GERSHOWITZ

The recent election of a new State legislature, only served to obscure the outcome of the free tuition question at the City University.

Factors pulling in opposing directions left restoration of the free tuition mandate to the State Education Law unresolved.

The mandate, calling for "gratuitous undergraduate instruction" in the municipal colleges, was removed from the law in March, 1941, in order to impose a tuition fee was vested in the Board of Higher Education.

Mathematically, the composition of the new legislature is almost unchanged. In the Senate, the Republican majority, and in the Assembly they gained one seat, giving them an 83-77 margin.

However, three of the most forceful advocates of a guaranteed tuition mandate, Dr. Walter Mahoney (Rep., Buffalo) and Mark Lane, all New York City Democrats.

Although the Democrats taking their places are in favor of restoring the mandate, they are not expected to take an active role in pressing for the measure.

One bright spot, is the possibility that the Senate Majority Leader, Walter Mahoney (Rep., Buffalo), may reverse his anti-restoration stand, will come as a surprise to many.

The addition of the University of Buffalo to the State University system was seen as the prime catalyst for a change. An informed source noted that many of Mahoney's Buffalo constituents, those children attend the University.

ATOMIC CATASTROPHE

The flag that flew over Observation Post copy for twelve years has been lowered with the publication of this issue. The idea for a new design and motto was under consideration for some time, a final decision having been made by the Managing Board on Monday. The new title was suggested and executed by the noted commercial artist Harry Brown.

New Club Formed At College; Plans To Study Communism

An unbiased study of Communism is the aim of the College's newest organization.

The "Group to Study Communism, Organization and Affiliates," was ordered last Friday to "promote the study of methods of those who would further international Communism in this country generally." Vice-President Tom Stackhouse emphasized, "Membership in the group is not limited to conservatives. Vice-President Kenneth Neils calls himself an agnostic."

He asserted that "the future of this world is either Communist or Socialist. I think that communism is going to last very much longer. Therefore, it is necessary to understand Communist so as to fight it in favor of Socialism."

Other WBAI highlights to be featured included a discussion of "When is a Homosexual No Longer a Homosexual?" and "Are We Clear of Hysterics?"

Homosexuals...

A piece of advice offered to the "other world's" sexual normality, for their attitude to the homosexual was "live and let live," the title for the WBAI taping.

OBSESSION POST

Letters

Dear Editor:

I feel that the letter by Betty Marshall in the Oct. 25th issue of Observation Post in regard to the current campaign for the installation of a Kosher sandwich machine is based on a misconception. Unfortunately, Mr. Katz, who heads the kosherization, has not at the dedication services across the street from North Campus, addressed himself to the need for the kosherization.

Our purpose is not to regulate the content of food or to engage in political activity of any type. Our purpose is to rebut the application of the Smith Act, directed his comments specifically to the need for the kosherization. He did not say that everyone is going to get呼应, he contended, in the sense that no one is going to get呼应.

CATHEDRAL

Dear Editor:

There isn't much that could be done to make the City College cafeteria less imposing, but someone has managed to do it. I refer to the piped-in music we are now subjected to. Can it be that anyone is actually able to hear, much less enjoy, the lyrics that are quoted as saying that he was told "on the road", that he would appreciate a more intelligent audience to explain that it was dependent on facts it would no longer be religion.

I feel that even in this age of scientific progress there is still room for religion. Man has limited reasoning power and should learn to restrict his limitations while at the same time recognizing that there is something greater than himself which cannot be understood by scientific observation, Perhaps if man would realize this he would not have a little more humility and act differently.

In conclusion, I would like to ask Miss Marshall to give the Society of Orthodox Jewish Scientists a lecture on "The Art of Making Sandwiches." Perhaps with her aid the price of sandwiches could be reduced and as a result more sandwiches could be sold. Yours truly,

Joe Otteneser

VERBAL DIARRHEA!

Dear Editor:

I managed to get away halfway through Mr. Triebwasser's verbal diarrheal attack on the Tech News editorial of October 17, before breaking into hysterics. Mr. Triebwasser's self-righteous outpourings seem nationally ludicrous, much as I suspect Mr. Triebwasser to be this choice of words, though strong in intent, less their effectivness by being jumped together in an almost incomprehensible assault upon communication. Although I am in total agreement with the views of the aforementioned, I would appreciate a more intelligent audience, certainly in a more modestly capable of asuming some low.

Yours truly,

New Campus Act Attacked Here By Five At NSA-MDC Talk

By GENE SHERMAN

Five speakers from the backgrounds uniniormly condemned what they mostly condemned what they considered the anti-demonstrative nature of the McCarran Act in a panel discussion here yesterday.

The panel was sponsored by the "United Students Association, Committee of Student Government and the Marxist Discussion Club in accordance with a NSA resolution expressing "grave reservations" on the Act and urging further discussion and analysis of the law by students. Co-sponsors were the Attorney General's Society, the Foreign Agents Registration Act, the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

The speaker, however, asserted that there was a difference between the two and described the distinction in that one seeks to regulate the content of jam and the other deals with human thought and association.

On the other hand, Dr. Aptheker asserted that registration carries with it conviction under the Smith Act, which is "perfidious to democracy."

Vivian Neumann, and David Rothchild to the Engineer to assert his own independence from an industrial type in its broader, developmental role, and further object to the same student also permits his potential employer's to refuse to recognize the College as a ground for learning and the development of the student's thought processes. It is here that free speech and the open expression of ideas will someday be the occupational environment of our technical society. We have not, and will not, consider issues on the basis of the opinion of a religious leader, for another, censorship of a newspaper's expression of this sort that I consider most unwise, is not until I heard so many clerics, members of the press, for another, censorship of a newspaper's point, although it is not nearly as important; it concerns the responsibility of a college paper. Full of Wisdom and Virtue I do not believe any responsible person could write a day-by-day campus life? Isn't it possible that Student Council's enormous expanse of time and effort are matters not directly concerning the student's career at City College, has led to a loss of the student body's confidence that it cares as much about what happens on this campus and in its identification with the aspirations of the students. To quote one student, "It's not any hype about covering its identity with the student body. In your every day job of concerning itself with the dissemination of birth control information in hygienic classes the person responsible for this instruction at the college could be consulted (by the way, I think this should be at the Front Page) in the face of modern statistical insignificance "non-kosher" to be applied to the front page in what is an obvious attempt (whether it is deliberate or not you can answer) misappropriation of the news or a political basis. In this respect, OP bears the same accusation as Student Council. Both organizations have, in my opinion, the power and position to further purely personal political views; until this point is made, neither can expect or receive confidence or respect from the student council. Michael Engel Student Council, '65

President

Dear Editor:

I don't believe any responsible person could write a day-by-day account of free speech, part of the very body that party propaganda here. Lack of courage is something to be kept to oneself, not to be imposed upon others. If the members of the School of Engineering and Architecture really consider its purpose to be career training for professional men, and do not admit to its broader, developmental role, and further object to the remainder of the College's position of thought processes. They have divorced themselves from the thinking portion of the academic community. We have not, and will not, consider issues on the basis of this type of vested interest, but rather solely on the merits of the issues. Our editors will continue to represent, at the least, an independent statement of our views: It would be well for the Engineer to assert his own independence from an industrial community, which, through its dictatorial actions, would appear to be anti-intellectual in character.
An Irresponsible Group

By HPA PRESIDENT STEPHEN BLOOM

Observation Post asked Steve Bloom to express his views on what the Student Activities Board is and what it should be. Bloom is President of the House Plan Association.

When the new Student Government Constitution was adopted last semester, one of its major innovations was the creation of an "Activities Board," specifically, the Student Activities Board (SAB). The idea of such a body, one dedicated the responsibility of coordinating the programs of the various student organizations, was warmly received by the student organizations, for there was much friction between these organizations and the SAB seemed to be the group to rectify the situation.

It has been, therefore, to our great dismay that the SAB is not what it first appeared to be. The organizations wanted a positive, responsible group which would aid them in both intra- and inter-group programming. The organizations got a negative, irresponsible group which not only acts in the detriment of its membership (the Federations) but acts in opposition to them by running its own programs.

Attempts have been made by various individuals and groups on campus to aid the SAB in a reevaluation of its position with regard to its responsibilities to its membership, but seemingly to no avail. The SAB seems at times to act as an execrable model in their own community, and that "non-condescending efforts are needed to bridge the gap between levels of privilege."

He felt that privilege and intelligence were social trusts, not personal assets, and entailed an obligation for the good of society and expressed his surprise that so few white people were present at the NAACP meeting, saying it represented a form of social protest vital to any group.

Dr. Clark said that volunteers for the HYOU program could contact either himself at the College or his co-workers at the HYOU office, 180 w 135th St.

He said that "hard, honest community work might be required and that help is needed "not in financial terms but on a Human basis. This is something that cannot be passed off on a pretense such as Social Work, but must be done by the individual."

These delinquent youths are not always a "Black and White" problem. Professor Clark concluded, and usually result from an assumption of the socially accepted models in their own community, and that "non-condescending efforts are needed to bridge the gap between levels of privilege."

He felt that privilege and intelligence were social trusts, not personal assets, and entailed an obligation for the good of society and expressed his surprise that so few white people were present at the NAACP meeting, saying it represented a form of social protest vital to any group.

The desire of the SAB must be to serve the student body. It is of the utmost importance that this be done soon. It is of the utmost importance that this be done.

By the SAB would no longer allow the use of Finley Center Fee money, the student body as possible, complete adulation of this responsibility now non-existent Finley Center Board of Managers. Although there is a little story which can "give an idea of the difference between the Student Activities Board (SAB) and the Student Council. Student Council, as the story goes, makes all the big decisions, while the SAB makes all the little decisions. For instance, Student Council makes big decisions like whether Red China should be admitted to the UN, or whether we should unilaterally disarm, while the SAB makes all the little decisions like who should have a room in Finley Center and when a concert, risking $4,000, should be held.

These "little decisions," which by their very nature must be offered almost everyone at once or else, produces in the SAB and in me an attitude of state resignation toward usually undeserved abuse.

A more specific criticism of the SAB has been that although it is composed of representatives from organizations, it has usurped part of their programming functions, has not offered them sufficient opportunity to sponsor the programs themselves, and in effect is a competitor with the organizations. This criticism is in part valid. Admittedly the SAB has been too busy "calling the plays" in performing its administrative function that it has been too busy to give serious consideration to "changing the rules."

The SAB, being speaking new, has had to rely for precedent on the new non-existent Finley Center Board of Managers. Although there is wisdom in allowing organizations to do as much programming as possible, complete adulation of this responsibility by the SAB would no longer allow the use of Finley Center Fee money, rather than Student Activities Fee money, for this purpose. Therefore, although in theory it would be ideal for the organizations to do all the programming, it would seem wise, both financially and otherwise, to have the SAB at least an equal partner in such ventures.

Despite the difficulties that the SAB has encountered, there is no doubt in my mind that there is rarely a great promise to fulfill. The attitude of the SAB toward its critics must be one of forbearance, always willing to heed reasonable suggestions. The goal of the SAB should be to enhance the functioning of the student organizations. The desire of the SAB must be to serve the student body.

Fortunately Blanco is not doing as well this season. His best time so far is 28.35. But the Kingsmen captain has always been a nemesis for the Beavers—sort of. Captain Lenny Zane in particular. Zane has beaten Blanco in the Mile Run, but failed six times in cross-country.
Whatever Blanco's credentials, though, he's not the most fastest runner the Beavers face tomorrow. Off-injured Paul Lampianos and John Bourse, both of whom have come close to breaking twenty-nine minutes for the five-mile course, are two other Beavers who have a good chance to beat the entire opposition.
The Casey brothers, Bob and Bill, can't be overlooked either. Actually Coach Castro is really training his team with the Collegiate Track Conference and Intercollegiate Athletic Association of America Championships in mind. The Municipals are scarcely more than a warmup for these two tough races.

Fortunately Blanco is not doing as well this season. His best time so far is 28.35. But the Kingsmen captain has always been a nemesis for the Beavers—sort of. Captain Lenny Zane in particular. Zane has beaten Blanco in the Mile Run, but failed six times in cross-country.
Whatever Blanco's credentials, though, he's not the most fastest runner the Beavers face tomorrow. Off-injured Paul Lampianos and John Bourse, both of whom have come close to breaking twenty-nine minutes for the five-mile course, are two other Beavers who have a good chance to beat the entire opposition.
The Casey brothers, Bob and Bill, can't be overlooked either. Actually Coach Castro is really training his team with the Collegiate Track Conference and Intercollegiate Athletic Association of America Championships in mind. The Municipals are scarcely more than a warmup for these two tough races.

Frosh Wrestling...

Coach Joseph Sapora is looking for men to fill his frosh wrestling team; no experience is required. The first meet is less than a month away so prospective grapplers should hustle up to Gortzail's Gym first chance they get—any afternoon after 3 PM and Thursdays from 12-2 PM.

Harriers To Face Clubs In Meets This Semester

about this season. They beat Montgomery, 15-0. (In a cross-country match the winning team has 15 points.)

It may be impossible to shut out Hunter tomorrow. It seems doubtful that the Hawks can muster a complement of five runners.

Unless they do, it will be impossible to beat them. That's a shame, because, in the first meet of the year, six Harriers finished in front of Kenny Miller, the Hawks top man on that occasion. Miller's time was 31.20.

The obstacle to shutting out Brooklyn in so much more formidable. His name is Ed Bianco. Bianco won the Metropolitana last year. In fact he beat the Beavers all three times he faced them. His best clocking was 27.96—twenty-three seconds under the Lavender record.

Pall Mall Presents—GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

CAMPUS TYPE IV

Few sights in all the world of girl watching are as breathtaking as the unexpected observation of a Gym-Dandy in midair maneuver. Plato might well have had the Gym-Dandy in mind when he wrote: "When a beautiful soul harmonizes with a beautiful form, and they are cast in one mould, that will be the fairest of sights to him who has the eye to contemplate the vision."

Although the Gym-Dandy is a joy to behold even while tightening the laces of her sneakers, she must be seen in action to be fully appreciated. The same thing is true of a Pall Mall. It's a long, firm cigarette in a handsome package, but it must be tasted to be fully appreciated. Try Pall Mall and see.

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste! So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!
Booters Set For Long Weekend;
Face Knights And Cannoneers

The College's soccer team no longer has a chance in the Met League race, but the Beavers still can escape with a winning season. Not since 1949, and never under Coach Harry Karlin, have the booters lost more games than they've won.

Pratt has always been tough for the Beavers. In 1958 the Beavers were defending a national championship and might have cruised to an easy win, but Pratt hung on and won, 2-1. In 1961, 1962, and 1963, Pratt did not tie them 1-1, snapping a 21 game winning streak. The next year Pratt again held the Beavers to a 1-1 tie.

1960 saw the Cannoneers top the Beavers 3-1, the worst defeat suffered by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory's champion team in eight years. Last year the Beavers broke the jinx, winning 3-1 to gain the Met Co-Championship.

Pratt was weakened when All-American Otto Stamatlis suffered a knee injury severe enough to eliminate him for the whole season. Even so they were able to edge Brooklyn 2-1 in double overtime.

The Beavers barely held Brooklyn to a 1-1 tie in one of their best games as far. All-State Walt Schmotolaeh is paced by Cannoneers with 25 goals, only three short of the team record of 28, Schmotolaeh, a sensational ball handler, scored four goals as Pratt rolled over New York State Maritime 5-1 in their last start. He scored Pratt's only goal when they lost to the Beavers last year. Neville Parker will probably end up granting him. Another forward, alphamore Alex Lane, has eight goals to his credit. Compared to the Beavers team total of four, eight seems like a lot of goals. The Beavers defense certainly has the work cut out. Pratt has two experienced goal tenders. 6-2 Al Lorentz usually starts, although senior Ron Ryan spells him occasionally.

Jump Rope

A new sport materialized at the College yesterday. During the 12-hour break a group of students went jumping rope in the midst of North Campus. Surprisingly, it was the coeds turning while the men jumped. The explanation for this is not an epidemic of mania. The students involved were pledges to Phi Tau Sigma and Phi Sigma.

Harriers Defend Championship And Run Jr. Mets Next Day

When the College's cross-country team starts in the Municipal Championships tomorrow the question will not be can they win, but rather can the first five finishers achieve all of their opponents there by effecting a virtual shutout.

The Beavers far outclass their nearest rival and should have no trouble retaining the championship held since Francisco Castro took over as coach in 1960.

On Monday the Beavers will compete in the Junior Metropolitan Championships. The meet is open to clubs as well as colleges.

The powerful New York Athletic Club is cast in the favorite's role. This representative from that first time the harriers have entered an American Athletic Union sponsored event. Only once in the entire history of the sport at the College have seven-country team shut out more than one team in a single season. That was 1948 when they shot out Rutgers and Adelphi.
