CITY COLLEGE

Hear Ye...

Student Council last night changed the SG by-laws to make Senior Class officer and Council positions full year offices. This ruling will be implemented in the upcoming election with the result that the students elected will be the senior class officers for the entire year, September, 1963 - June, 1964.

2 BHE Additions Back Free Tuition

A continued free tuition majority on the Board of Higher Education was assured last week when Mayor Wagner appointed two new members to the body.

Both Jack I. Poses and David Sullivan, the new appointees, have stated that they would resist any move to charge tuition fees at the City University.

The Board of Higher Education was given the power to impose tuition on the city colleges by the State Legislature in 1961.

Mr. Poses is the president of Parfume, a perfume firm, and a trustee at Brandeis University. Mr. Sullivan is general president of the Building Services Employees International Union.

Appeal Public Trial Grant In Queens College Prejudice Case

By RONALD REICH

The Board of Higher Education has appealed a State Supreme Court decision granting a public trial to two Queens College professors' charges of anti-Catholic bias in the QC administration.

In its brief, filed in the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court, the Board claimed that such a trial might "seriously injure the academic reputations of those involved as well as undermine the student respect so necessary for successful teaching..."

It also stated that the two professors, Drs. Joseph V. Lombardo and Joseph P. Muttally, had not exhausted all other means at their disposal in the administration to air their grievances.

Denied Promotion

The faculty members have charged that they were not promoted to full professorships in 1961 because they are Catholic.

The two professors have requested a public trial after their charges were dismissed as unfounded by the Board's Investigating Committee headed by the Honorable Porter Chandler. They have subsequently accused the Committee of also being biased.

SC Questions Choice Of Speaker; Investigation Clears Newspapers

In a sudden move last night Student Council asked President Gallagher to clarify the reasons for Dr. Jaime Benitez' being invited to speak here on Charter Day.

The motion, which passed overwhelmingly, was brought up when it was revealed that Dr. Benitez had, "abolished student government and all political organizations," at the University of Puerto Rico, of which he is Chancellor, in 1948, and not allowed them on campus since.

Educator Jaime Benitez

Plagued By Controversy

By VIVIAN NEUMANN

The administration of Jaime Benitez has been marked with conflicts reflecting the underlying turbulence of the Puerto Rican Commonwealth itself.

This strife led to the election of Dr. Benitez in 1942 as Chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico. A year before, student protests resulted in the resignation of Rexford Guy Tugwell, who had been serving simultaneously as the University's head and Governor of the island.

Man In The News

The New York Times of September 14, 1942, noted that the new Chancellor had been an Associate Professor of Economics at the University for twelve years and was a supporter of Governor Tugwell. Born in Vieques, Puerto Rico, thirty-four years before, Dr. Benitez already held degrees from Georgetown and the University of Chicago.

Although the Board of Trustees' election of a new Chancellor lessened student unrest, Dr. Benitez' administration began with ominous rumblings of strife to come. Eleven days after his ascendancy, he encountered a strike of students in the University's College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts at Maya-guez against his appointment of a new vice-chancellor and dean.

Aware that students had recommended another candidate, Dr. Benitez told them to go home and reflect "with calmness and serenity," and realize the appointment was his and not their responsibility. He then proceeded to suspend classes indefinitely.

The Chancellor's most publicized conflict, however, came six years later, when he refused to allow Pedro Albizu Campos, Puerto Rican nationalist leader, to speak on campus in response to a Student Council invitation. 1,000 students stormed his office demanding his resignation.

Striking back at the student body, Dr. Benitez closed the University for the remainder of the term. He then put into effect his own pronouncement: all student political activities including student government would heretofore be banned from the University of Puerto Rico. That was fifteen years ago.

After a decade and a half without student participation in any non-scholastic aspect of the campus, pressure for acting seems to be increasing. Two bills are on the Puerto Rican legislature's agenda. One provides for the Rector's tenure; the other calls for a reactivation of Student Council.

Council also heard a report

President Buell G. Gallagher
Asked To Explain

from the Committee Investigating Student Newspapers at the College. The Committee found, "nothing that could be described as inherently deficient."

The newspaper committee majority stated: "any allegation of 'political overtones' being responsible for the questioned articles is factually unsubstantiated. They were isolated incidents brought about by a set of extenuating circumstances and not by any overreaching deficiency that would call for Student Government action."

Chancellor Benitez' eminence in academic affairs was not questioned by Council, but President Gallagher was asked "to clarify his reason for the invitation in view of Dr. Benitez' attitude towards student government and student organizations."

Rivalling Sunday's march of fashion down Fifth Avenue was the annual Easter parade of peace demonstrators to the United Nations building. The 5000 marchers who made the trek under a sympathetic sun Saturday included over 150 students and several professors from the College.

Special Events On Campus

Prime Minister

The Prime Minister of British Guiana, Dr. Cheddi Jagan, will speak here Tuesday, April 30, before the Evening Session West Indian Students Association (WISA).

He will be here following a trip to Canada and will also speak before the United Nations and at Harvard University.

The president of the club, Pearnel Charles, has invited all students to the speech, which will be held in Buttenweiser Lounge at 9:30 PM.

British Guiana is now internally independent.

Uprising Marked

On April 19, 1943 the Jews of the Warsaw Ghetto revolted against their Nazi rulers thus bringing to the attention of the world the fact that 6,000,000 Jews and tens of thousands of other minority peoples had died under the Nazis.

A symposium on the revolt's significance will be presented today, the twentieth anniversary of the uprising, by the Sholem Aleichem Yiddish Club, in conjunction with several other campus organizations, at 12:30 PM in the Grand Ball Room.

Benitez?

The College's first Charter Day celebration in seven years will take place May 9 amid the splendors of newly decorated Great Hall and the flags of the Universities of the Western Hemisphere. Dr. Jaime Benitez, the Rector of the University of Puerto Rico, has been invited to give the main address. Charter Day traditionally commemorates the College's values as well as its founding, and for this reason we question the wisdom of the invitation to Dr. Benitez.

Although a noted scholar with a seemingly endless list of degrees, Dr. Benitez' administrative record does not equal his scholastic one. He has marred his years at the University of Puerto Rico by his autocratic spirit and serious curtailments of student freedom. Dr. Benitez barred political activity of any kind from the campus and abolished the student council.

This situation has been allowed to continue for fifteen years, and the Executive Committee of the National Student Association recently criticized him for, "arbitrary restriction," of student activities.

From the record then, he does not appear to represent the ideals of student-faculty cooperation, full political expression, and academic freedom so often voiced by our President. Dr. Gallagher, however, said Tuesday that Benitez was Puerto Rico's foremost scholar and had been invited, "quite independent of anything that may or may not have happened," at the University.

Had the Rector been invited by a student organization, his academic status would, perhaps, be the only relevant factor. But as an honored guest of the College community, Dr. Benitez's suppression of student organizations and activities can hardly be overlooked. To do so is to lend the College's prestige to the continuation of policies which have consistently been opposed here.

The invitation to Dr. Benitez should be withdrawn if such action is still possible. If not, students who attend the Charter ceremonies should take the opportunity to question the Rector as to the situation at his University and to express their support for a "free academy" in Puerto Rico as well as in New York.

Clearing The Air

In a way we are glad Student Council held its investigation of Observation Post and The Campus. It demonstrated a few things we've been telling them for years. The SC Investigation Committee had to admit that it couldn't find anything "inherently deficient" about the newspapers. And even SG's own Public Opinion Research Bureau discovered that ninety per cent to ninety-five per cent of the student body doesn't have any complaints — at least not against the newspapers.

Maybe this will clear the air a bit. Meanwhile, we join SG Vice-President Bob Rosenberg, who chaired the investigation, in hoping the future will bring better understanding between SG and the newspapers.

Never Forget

Twenty years is a long time, almost a generation. People grow up, get married, and forget a lot of things. The recent anniversary of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's death was marked by a one inch box in the New York Post.

Twenty years ago there was a revolt in the Warsaw Ghetto. The resistance motto was "Never Forgive. Never Forget." Today the Sholem Aleichem Yiddish Club will remember their brave uprising — and the 6,000,000 Jews who died in Nazi Europe. The club is sponsoring a symposium in the Grand Ballroom at 12:30 PM. We can only ask you to remember — and attend.

FUN AT CARNIVAL

Saturday Eve. — May 11

NOW YOU CAN BE YOUNGER THAN SHE IS

It is a scientific fact that girls reach emotional maturity earlier than boys. For this reason freshman girls are reluctant to make romantic alliances with freshman boys, but instead choose men from the upper classes.

Thus the freshman boys are left dateless, and many is the night the entire freshman dorm sobs itself to sleep. An equally moist situation exists among upper-class girls. With upper-class men being snapped up by freshman girls, the poor ladies of the upper class are reduced to dreary, manless evenings of Monopoly and home permanents.

It pleases me to report there is a solution for this morbid situation—indeed, a very simple solution. Why don't the two great have-not groups—the freshman boys and the upper-class girls—find solace with each other?

True, there is something of an age differential, but that need not matter. Take, for example, the case of Albert Payson Sigafoos and Eustacia Vye.

Albert Payson, a freshman in sand and gravel at Vanderbilt University, was walking across the campus one day, weeping softly in his loneliness. Blinded by tears, he stumbled upon the supine form of Eustacia Vye, a senior in wicker and raffia, who was collapsed in a wretched heap on the turf.

"Why don't you watch where you're going, you minor youth?" said Eustacia peevishly.

"I'm sorry, lady," said Albert Payson and started to move on. But suddenly he stopped, struck by an inspiration. "Lady," he said, tugging his forelock, "don't think me forward, but I know why you're miserable. It's because you can't get a date. Well, neither can I. So why don't we date each other?"

"Surely you jest!" cried Eustacia, looking with scorn upon his tiny head and body.

"Oh, I know I'm younger than you are," said Albert Payson, "but that doesn't mean we can't find lots of fun things to do together."

"Like what?" she asked.

"Well," said Albert Payson, "we could build a snowman."

"Bah!" said Eustacia, grinding her teeth.

"All right then," said Albert Payson, "we could go down to the pond and catch some frogs."

"Ugh!" said Eustacia, shuddering her entire length.

"How about some Run-Sheep-Run?" suggested Albert Payson.

"You are callow, green, and immature," said Eustacia, "and I will thank you to remove your underaged presence from mine eyes."

Sighing, Albert Payson lighted a cigarette and started away.

"Stay!" cried Eustacia.

He stayed.

"Was that a Marlboro Cigarette you just lighted?" she asked.

"What else?" said Albert Payson.

"Then you are not immature!" she exclaimed, clasping him to her clavicle. "For to smoke Marlboros is the very essence of wisdom, the height of American know-how, the incontrovertible proof that you can tell gold from dross, right from wrong, fine aged tobaccos from pale, pathetic substitutes. Albert Payson, if you will still have me, I am yours!"

"I will," he said, and did, and today they are married and run the second biggest wicker and raffia establishment in Duluth, Minnesota.

Major Actions Pass Council

NSA resolution had been brought to light by Eric Eisenberg, of the Marxist Discussion Club, and the matter researched by Observation Post. Called Tuesday night, Dr. Gallagher had said, "Dr. Benitez' coming to us is quite independent of anything that may or may not have happened. He is the leading educator in Puerto Rico and we have invited him because we are honoring Puerto Rico and its leaders."

Earlier in the evening the Public Opinion Research Bureau had submitted the results of a poll which showed that "if there is a problem [concerning the newspaper] the student body isn't aware of it."

The poll found that only five per cent to ten per cent of the student body, was "aware" of distorted or confused newswriting.

In another action, Council made provision for a referendum in the coming elections. If passed, upper seniors staying for their ninth term would elect three SC representatives each spring and freshmen would also elect three. This term 142 freshmen will elect six representatives.

Council also endorsed Theathon's campaign for a theatre on campus and voted it 110 dollars.

ing that "one of the chief obstacles to the development of a broadly based representative national union of students is the existence of arbitrary restrictions imposed on students by the Rector of the University of Puerto Rico."

"We don't like the notion that University administration can bar action on a campus and we deplore the fact that students can't have political activity," said Thomas Lamoureux, NSA Assistant Vice President for Latin American Affairs. "But Benitez is not a complete autocrat, and we can't give him complete responsibility for this," he added.

Atkins . . .

Bloom and a new as-yet-unnamed slate led by Bob Atkins have both announced candidates for major offices, while two additional Vice-Presidential and one Treasurer candidate also entered the race as independents. Atkins' ticket is seeking the endorsement of the Constructive Action Party.

Richard Kane, Joel Cooper and Daniel Katkin are running with Bloom for Veep, Secretary, and Treasurer respectively. Pessis and Howard Simon are running with Atkins for Vice-President and NSA representative respectively.

Bob Levine is running independently for Treasurer, and Marty Kauffman and John Lang are competing for the Vice-Presidential post.

Baseball

With the season not even half over, the College's baseball team has won twice as many games as it has in each of the past three years. The Beavers own a record of 4-3.

Last Saturday the Lavender nine reached new heights. Not only did they win two games in a row, but on the same day, taking NYU 8-6 and 6-4.

The Violets scored three runs in the first off starting pitcher Howie Friedman. The Beavers, however, rebounded with two out in the second to tie the score, as they knocked out NYU's starter, Len Zimmerman.

Howie Smith came on in the seventh to pitch three brilliant innings for the Beavers, allowing only three men to reach base.

In the night cap the Lavender edged out NYU, 6-4. Murray

Howie Friedman
Picking Violets

Steinfink blanked the Violets for four innings.

Today the Beaver meet Brooklyn in a non-conference game at Maconb's Dam Park at 3 PM.

The Beavers opened their season by demolishing Hunter, 16-4 in a 6 inning game.

Two days later in their Met Conference debut they dropped a doubleheader to Hofstra, 4-3 and 6-4.

On Monday they tripped Queens 6-4.

The following day they found themselves at the short end of a 12-2 Columbia slaughter.

Track

A tie in a track meet is almost as hard to get as a win, especially when you're competing against a tough team like Fairleigh Dickinson University's (FDU). But that's what the College's track team did as it opened its season two Saturdays ago in Rutherford, N. J.

Norm Jackman was the leading Beaver scorer in the 70-70 tie.

Jackman took first place in the 100 yard dash and also the hop-step-and-jump.

Trailing by five points going into the final event of the day, the mile relay, the Beavers needed a win to gain the tie. Jackman, Bill Casey, Bill Hill and Owen Masters combined for a time of 3:26.5, first place, five team points and the tie.

Two days later, the Lavender returned to New Jersey to face Montclair State Teachers' College at Upper Montclair. The Beavers took 11 first places of the 17 events as they steam rolled their opponent by a 95-53 margin. In the Montclair meet. Mike Didyk and Owen Masters took double victories in the mile and two-mile runs for Didyk and the 220 and 440 for Masters.

Last Saturday the Beavers came home to face Adelphi at Lewisohn Stadium, winning, 101-45.

With a good chance of an undefeated season staring them in the face, the Beavers faced C. W. Post yesterday in Lewisohn.

Lacrosse

The College's lacrosse team had just beaten Army's "B" team for the third year in a row, 8-1. A cannon sounded, and the West Point flag was slowly lowered to the call of "Taps," symbolic of the College's victory.

The battle started in the first five minutes when the Lavender grabbed the lead as Johnny Oestreicher scored on a pass from Emil Castro.

Army never quite got into the battle as the College surged ahead to a 9-1 triumph with the help of goalie Andy Markoe, and defensemen Harvey Leshnick, and Walter ("Red") Brown, the final goal coming off Dave Tropp's stick.

At one point in the second half the Beavers were down three men on penalties, but the Cadets, with twice as many men on attack as the Beavers had on defense, still couldn't score.

The victory evened the Laven-

der record at 2-2. Following an opening day loss to New Hampshire, 3-2, the stickmen were edged by C. W. Post, 9-8. They broke into the win column by routing Adelphi, 9-1. This was the lowest opponent goal total since 1957 when they shut out Adelphi, 12-0.

Tennis

Last year the College's tennis team had to wait until their very last match to find out whether or not they would be undefeated. Their traditional rivals from Adelphi marred the string of 1962 Beavers and smudged the 1963 Lavender schedule in the first match.

As the Dodgers used to say, the Beavers will just have to wait until next year to beat Adelphi as they dropped a 6-3 decision on April 8. Adelphi was led by Pete Jurow, who defeated the College's number one man, Karl Otto.

One of the bright spots as far as the Lavender was concerned was the victory in the singles competition of newcomer Ken Wunst. Wunst didn't compete last year and didn't come out this year until a couple of weeks before the season started.

The other Beaver victory in the singles competition came from Rich Gowing. Gowing, after the first four matches of the season is undefeated in singles. The third Lavender victory was contributed by Mike Seiden and Leon Rapport in the doubles play.

The Beavers were not about to throw away the whole season however, after the first match. They came back with three strong wins over Brooklyn Poly, Pratt and Iona by scores of 7½-1½, 8-1, and 6-3 respectively.

In this case, nepotism's a pretty good idea. But of course you've got to measure up to get it. To be admitted to Air Force Officer Training School, you've got to be a good student with skills or aptitudes we can use.

Air Force OTS is an intensive three-month course leading to a commission as a second lieutenant. As an Air Force officer, you'll be a leader on the Aerospace Team—and be a part of a vital aspect of our defense effort.

Here's a chance for ambitious college men and women to assume great responsibility. It's a fine opportunity to serve your country, while you get a flying head start on the technology of the future.

We welcome your application for OTS now—but this program may not be open to you in a year or so. If you're within 210 days of graduation, get full information about Air Force OTS from your local Air Force recruiter.
