Pro-Tuition Report

Heavily Criticized

By ZITA ALLEN

Reactions to a charge that free tuition is discriminatory ranged from mild disagreement to strong condemnation. The allegation was made in a report issued last week to a State Senate Committee by Professor B. Granger, former executive director of the National Union League. The report runs contrary to the popular belief that the imposition of tuition payments would be discriminatory.

Professor Granger charged that the University would be able to expand as a result of funds acquired through tuition payments. "We believe that the administration should be willing to reconsider its decision should the club be able to refute Hoover's charges."

The Albuquerque chapter, in a prepared statement, called for De

Fare and Defacto recognition of the club as a legitimate student group.

The action came several weeks after University of New Mexico President Tom L. Popejko announced the group would be denied recognition if it ever applied for it because FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover had denounced the national DuBois groups as a "Communist sponsored Marxist youth organization."

Shapiro explained that he felt while Simon's action were the result of "a substitute motion.

The idea was to prevent a repetition of the incident by making the mutual responsibilities of Council and its committees clear once and for all."

Simon, named with Zippert in the Lowenthal motion said, with the help of the Caduceus Society, the NSA Committee and Student Council by illegally endorsing" the rally while using the NSA group's name.

The third motion proposed by Carl Weitzman, Class of '65 rep, would have reprimanded Zippert for using the NSA Committee's name to publicize James Farmer's scheduled visit to the College Monday. Weitzman says he will withdraw his bill in favor of Cooper's substitute motion.

Censure motions nixed by Executive Committee

Three motions to censure the National Student Association (NSA) Committee and SG President John Zippert were defeated Monday night in favor of a substitute motion proposed by Executive Vice President Joel Cooper.

The substitute would require all SG committees to report their plans to Council subject to its approval.

Cooper announced that he would withdraw his original motion to censure the NSA Committee, explaining, "We must look to the future, not at the past."

Two of the three original bills introduced by Cooper and Class of '65 Councilman Stan Lowenthal are concerned with the NSA Committee's sponsorship of a rally condemning the treatment of Puerto Rican student demonstrations after Council refused to allow a motion calling for endorsement to come to the floor.

Cooper's original motion called for reconsideration of a motion to censure the NSA Committee which was defeated by one vote at last week's SC meeting, while Lowentada had brought an amended version of Zippert's and Educational Affairs Vice President, Hovis Simon, for "upholding the authority of the NSA Committee and Student Couneling by illegally endorsing" the rally while using the NSA group's name.

The third motion proposed by Carl Weitzman, Class of '65 rep, would have reprimanded Zippert for using the NSA Committee's name to publicize James Farmer's scheduled visit to the College Monday. Weitzman says he will withdraw his bill in favor of Cooper's substitute motion.

THE HOLY ELEMT

To the Editor:

I was deeply dismayed by the refusal of the College’s Business Manager, Mr. Morgan, to permit the sale of kosher sandwiches in the Cafeteria. In a world which is haunted by theocratic, political materialism of Communism and by the pleasure-seeking materialism of the free nations, it is gratifying to know that there are persons left, among them City College students, to whom life has a greater significance than the mere pursuit of selfish interest. To many students at the College, kosher food has an element of holiness in it — an element much, lacking in today’s world. I sincerely hope, therefore, that Mr. Zwiwald will reconsider his decision the next occasion the matter comes up for discussion.

Sincerely yours,
Alex Littmann

from minority groups.

Professor John Marczi, Chairman of the State Senate Committee on the Affairs of the City of New York, however, points out the fact that the High Horizons program is extremely limited. Senator Marczi believes that “The City is asking for a low to be passed which will keep it from doing what it doesn’t want to do anyway.” According to him, the imposition of tuition is up to the discretion of either the City or State governments.

The phenomenal increase in the number of pints collected last week by the College Blood Bank is indeed noteworthy. More than three times as many students as last semester turned out for donations of blood which they knew was being used now. The Observation Post office might be an ideal location since it is conveniently located and easily accessible, and the students are already there to do other business. The increase in donations is due in part to the efforts of the College Blood Bank, which has been actively promoting the cause through various methods. It is gratifying to see such a positive response from the student body.

Declaration Of Indigestion

When in the course of human studies, it becomes necessary for one student to suffer the ills of rancid hunger, and to seek the pleasures brought about by the ingestion of welcome morsels ... when, in less sterility terms, he craves a sandwich ... it is his unalienable right to have access to one. And yet the greatest single concentration of student minds devoted to study — the Cohen Library — is still without facility. The furthest thing from our minds, of course, is to insist that a kitchen and snack bar be installed in the Humanities reading room. However, the installation of sandwich vending machines in the halls of the library would be a welcome and overdue innovation.
Loans 4-5% Delinquent Here National Percentage Is Higher

Reports from the United States Comptroller’s Office of an excessive number of delinquent Federal loan accounts are not entirely accurate, according to Professor Arthur Taft (Student Services).

Many of the students involved, Professor Taft said, are either leaving the array, or are faced with graduate work. These students, who are allowed to defer payment on loans, have merely failed to report their “deferred” status to the Financial Aids Office.

Delinquent accounts, reported to be as high as twenty-five per cent nationally, make up only four or five per cent of the College’s loan accounts, according to Professor Taft.

Sex Chronicles’ Attacked by Edel

“Chronicles of genital activity” were attacked Monday night by almost all the Social Sciences Students at a talk on “Sex and the Modern Novelist.”

Edel depicted the current trend in modern novels, which leave nothing to the imagination. “Novels started with courtship and romance, then moved to the bedroom, but where do they go from there?”

The speaker, a student of Emile Zola, Edel said, is largely responsible for the current trend, according to the cost of 40 tons of food, which was supplied by the Council of Federa-

He noted that the three original motions and the substitute would not accomplish “anything because government are made of men and not of laws and structures.”

If the situation regarding the Puerto Rico rally occurred, Ewing stated, he would announce the intention of the NSA Committee to sponsor it at a Council meeting and thereby force it to be discussed.

AAU-NCAA Dispute Renewed; Athletes Stand To Suffer Most

By CHARLES SIMMONS

The National Collegiate Athletic Association has announced that any athlete participating in any "unsanctioned meet" will be suspended from NCAA competition. This action is the initial volley in the new feud between the NCAA and the AAU.

The fighting started two years ago when the United States Track and Field Federation, a part of the NCAA, tried to take over the AAU's control of track and field in the United States. The late General Douglas MacArthur got both sides to sign a truce, but it was to last only until the Olympics were over.

With the feud between the AAU and the NCAA starting to flare up again, the College's track team is being caught in the middle.

In past years the AAU has sponsored five meets in the early part of December that have marked the start of the indoor season. All things stand now, if the College participates in these meets it will be banned from the NCAA, which sanctions all of our conference meets. Thus, participation in these AAU meets will mean expulsion from all the conferences that the College belongs to. These include the College Track Conference, the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Track Conference, and the NCAA.
