CITY COLLEGE

BHE Approves Increased Aid To Grad. & Special Programs

Requests for substantial increases in State funds for the City University's graduate and doctoral work and for the College discovery program were approved by the Board of Higher Education Monday night.

The Board has asked, with the approval of its executive committee, for $3.2 million for maintenance and expansion of its graduate and doctoral work, an increase of $2.2 million above the $1 million which the state has awarded for this purpose since 1962. $1.7 million was also requested from the State to extend the College Discovery Program for which the State gave $500,000 this year.

"The necessity for prior action on the $3.2 million request," said Dr. Gustave Rosenberg, Chairman of the Board of Higher Education, "arises from our experience in the last two years. Unless we know shortly what increase we can count on from the State, we cannot begin in time to recruit the exceptional people we desire to add to the City University's doctoral faculty."

BHE Chairman Rosenberg Gets More State Aid

Both of the BHE's requests have been endorsed by State Commissioner of Education Dr. James E. Allen, Jr.

The $1.7 million request would earmark $500,000 to carry forward for another year the students now in the Program and to continue the research for new criteria of

Excesses In Allocations May Block Budget OK

By REBEL OWEN

Last night, Student Council, in a meeting marked by frequent disorder, appropriated more than $3,000 to Interfraternity Council (IFC) and House Plan Association (HPA). Additional House Plan appropriations which could easily total more than $2,000 are to be taken up next week. SC has so far, this term, appropriated $15,000 of next term's budget.

Student Government Treasurer Marty Kauffman, who was requested at one point by SG President John Zippert to stop "ranting and raving," said after the meeting that if Council continued spending at its present rate he would request Dean of Students, Willard Blaesser to reject the final budget and send it back to Council for reconsideration.

Kauffman placed a "conservative" estimate of total funds available next term at $29,000. He pointed out that this would leave no contingency reserve, no fund set aside from Free Tuition work, and no funds for clubs which apply for appropriations next term. Among clubs expected to apply are the Debating Society, which Kauffman estimated would request at least $750, and the Musical Comedy Society, which will probably ask for a $750 underwrite of its production.

IFC was granted all of its request including $540 for Greek Letter. HPA was also granted close to what it requested on items

Three-Day Voting Starts In Council Campaign 'Students as Students' Clause Is Basic Issue

9 Vacant Seats To Be Filled

Students start going to the polls today to select nine Student Council members to represent them in Student Government. Two slates are running; the "Campus," (C) which emphasises a moderately conservative interpretation of the controversial "students as students" clause of the SG Constitution, and the Beaver Action Ticket (H).

Voting will be today, tomorrow and Monday, opposite Room 152 Finley and Knittle Lounge, Shepard Hall.

Four candidates are contesting the Councilman-at-large seat which will be vacated by Ricky Eisenberg at the end of his term. They are Cary Krumholtz (C), Mike Ruskov, Michael Sigall and Linda Weber.

Stephen Cagan is running uncontested for the one SC seat available in the Class of '65.

SG Pres. John Zippert To Debate Students as Students

Lester Goldblatt (C), Laura Lee Katz, and Saul Shapiro are running for one seat on SC from the Class of '67.

Twenty-six candidates are running for the six available Student Council seats from the freshman class. They are: Philip Sherman (H), Jeffrey London (H), Andrew Shepard (H), John Nichless, Richard Tropp, Edward Smith, Kenneth Flaxman, Joseph Korn, Ivan Shulman, Ronald McGuire (C), Allan Perry (C), William Kurtis, Kenny Schaffer (H), Alan Ostlund (C), William Reich, Joseph Spitone, Jack Greene (C), Ellen Turkish (C), Mati Kuuskmae, Robert Getman, Andy Kertesz (C) Eileen Blank, Stephen Perlmutter, Eugene Miller and David Eagle and Gail Neumann.

Issue Debated Tomorrow

The leading issue of this election campaign, the proper interpretation of the "students as students" clause of the SG Constitution, will be debated today in Room 102 Shepard at 12:45 PM by SG President John Zippert and Council member Carl Weitzman.

Zippert is the leading proponent of a broad interpretation of the clause. Weitzman is the acknowledged leader on Council of the narrow interpretation faction. (As chairman of the by-laws subcommittee, he maintains that Council may only act under powers specifically delegated).

The "students as students" clause has long been an issue in SG elections, with broad interpreters declaring that a student has a responsibility to study and act on the problems of his society. Those advocating a narrow interpretation contend that the Constitution specifically prohibits interest by SG in off-campus events, and that SG is not representative of the students to take positions on off-campus issues.

Enlarged Shack Almost Ready; Gate Guards Await Connection

By P. WARFIELD

The floor gets cold, the wind blows in, the quarters are cramped. This is no slum. This is . . . the Guard's Shack!

Last summer a mysterious hole was dug next to the old house opposite President Gallagher's at the 133rd Street gate. The purpose was not to create a fallout shelter or modern sunken guard shack. It was, as observant passers-by found out several weeks later, to defrost the "snowmen of South Campus: the Burns guards.

For years the gate shack guards have been getting cold in the "old, ugly, small" shabby booth, protecting College students, as Sgt. William Montague said, from "unsavory characters that might come between these portals."

Twenty-four hours a day, neither er snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night' stays these men from their duties, but it sure makes things tough.

In brief, the guards want the shack; but the shack is already there; but it shouldn't be; but it's not completed, but it's not supposed to be because three to six months is routine even after its construction has been approved, and therefore it still has at least another month to go; especially since it's a "luxury" (though it had no electricity and no heater before yesterday's impromptu alterations). One thing, however, is clear. "Gate house" refers to

ESSG Censures Dr. Farmer For Interference In Activities

A motion censuring Dr. Martha Farmer (Student Life-Evening), for unwarranted "partisan interference" in the activities of the Evening Session Student Government was approved 14-2 Tuesday night.

The motion was in reference to Dr. Farmer's charges that the Government functioned in an "undemocratic manner," and her role in convening the long-defunct Council of Club President to urge new elections.

Dr. Farmer had previously been removed as Faculty Adviser to the Government at the request of the Executive Committee.

Tuesday's motion was the first censure approved by the Evening Session Council in many years.

The conflict stemmed, past SG President Bob Croghan said, from Dr. Farmer's "attempts to take over the Government. When she wants something, she will go to a small group of people, usually out of office and incompetent, and

Tax Cut Proposed For College Grads

A new plan enabling students to deduct expenses connected with higher education from future earnings was proposed Sunday in a Federal survey of the income-tax system.

The proposal came out of a study done by Richard Goode, an economist, under a Ford Foundation grant.

Under the terms of the plan, the direct costs of education would be deductible from the student's own future income over a period of ten to twenty years, even if the student's parents, or other persons, originally financed his education. The saving would probably amount to twenty to twenty-five per cent of the basic costs of the education, exclusive of living expenses. This would also make it easier for students who had to borrow money for their education to subsequently repay their loans.

Goode's proposal for giving tax benefits to the students themselves is at variance with the more common plan to give the deduction for educational costs to the parents of students

PRESIDENT'S CHOICES

To the Editor:

The upcoming Student Government Elections are important because nearly one-third of the Student Council seats are at stake. I urge all students to vote in this election not only for the candidates of their choice but also on the important referenda which will appear on the ballot.

For the upper class offices the following deserve your vote: LINDA WEBER (Student Council-at-Large), STEVE CAGEN (Student Council, Class of '65) and SAUL SCHAPIRO (Student Council, Class of '67).

For the six freshmen Student Council seats in the Class of 1968, I have carefully examined the twenty-six candidates and find that six of them merit your vote on the basis of their participation, interest and knowledge of SG gathered since September. Many of these candidates have participated in the Campus Affairs Commission's SG Training Seminar and are associate members of Student Government committees. The following should be elected to Student Council from the Class of '68:

EILEEN BLANK — free tuition campaign block leader.

KEN FLAXMAN — engineering student interested in Community Affairs programming for the North Campus student.

RON McGUIRE — associate member Educational and Campus Affairs Committees.

GAIL NEUMANN — incumbent and active member of the Campus Affairs Committee.

RICHARD TROPP — associate member Community Affairs Committee.

ELLEN TURKISH — associate member Educational Affairs Committee.

Sincerely,
John Zippert
SG President

PICAYUNE

To the Editor:

If I may, I should like to review the "review" of "Auntie Mame" written by Vivian Brown last Tuesday.

Mrs. Brown devoted over 3/4 of her "review" to picking out little things that went wrong with the production — a spotlight filter falling down (this is a little piece of colored paper), a wire coming down two scenes before it was supposed to. She also complained about faulty set changes. Perhaps, Mrs. Brown didn't notice that many of the changes were made instantaneously, the longest taking only about 30 seconds. The changes were made in front of the audience, which I feel is better than making them wait blindly behind a closed curtain. I'm not denying that some of these mistakes took place. What I am saying is that these were only minor difficulties, and they did not really detract from the success of the show.

Dialogue makes a play — actions and dialogue. Perhaps Mrs. Brown was not wearing her hearing aid or she, too, would have heard the witty and sophisticated repartee that drew throws of laughter throughout the play. Perhaps she didn't hear the applause during the curtain calls that made this person feel that it was generated by a lot of enthusiasm, and not plain politeness.

Ironically, Mrs. Brown reviewed this play on Saturday, when most of Friday's difficulties, (and there were many) were cleared up. Main Events took note of the reasons for the difficulties and said we should be commended for doing so well with all of the problems that we had.

Miss [sic] Brown seemed to ignore all the good points (namely the great job the entire cast did), and attacked the few bad points, as if she was looking for every bad thing she could say from the moment she took her seat.

I strongly object to her saying that "Auntie Mame" was not as good as MCS's productions. Mrs. Brown's job is not to compare one show with others but to judge an individual show on its own merits.

Vote

Although no major positions will be filled as a result of the Student Government elections which begin today, the outcome of the balloting will have a profound affect on the student body.

The possible raising of student fees to subsidize a football team, and a referendum regarding the entire scope of Student Government will be resolved by these elections, and nine Council seats are to being contested.

To eliminate student apathy is not easy, but a vote to increase the student fee fifty cents to support a football team could go a long way toward reviving school spirit and a great sport at the College. If you vote against it, make sure you buy two tokens on the way to school in the morning, so you can go right home after classes.

A representative government can only represent you if you vote... it only takes a few minutes and doesn't hurt a bit.

"Those students," he charged, "who cooperated, well, the road was paved with gold. Those who didn't, found themselves out of office, under tremendous pressure, or having people used against them."

The Council of Club Presidents, last convened in 1952, was called by Dr. Farmer and "led to assume by her" Croghan said, "that they had the power to dictate to the Council." The chairman, Pearnal Charles, a non-matriculated student, and thus incapable of holding an office, was appointed by Dr. Farmer. He overruled several motions challenging his chairmanship, as well as a recount of the 8-7 vote passed, by the Committee, calling for new Council elections. He was later forced to reconsider the recount.

Evening Session - President Michael Kinsler declined to consider the recommendation binding, in that the vote, originally a 7-7 tie, was broken by Charles, who legally does not have a voice in the Committee, according to Kinsler.

President Gallagher's house, while the sign-in edifice presently under consideration is properly known as the guard shack.

In the middle of the summer, approval was obtained for a new, enlarged, stainless aluminum guard shack to replace the old one. According to Kenneth Fleming (Building & Grounds), the guards affected are on "outside posts." This means that, like policemen, the guards are supposed to be prepared to remain outdoors all or most of the time. The new facility would thus be a "luxury."

The guards, who control the gate, receive phone calls after 9 PM when the College switchboard is closed, provide security in general, get cold when it's cold, and feel that completion of the new shack would make an already difficult job less so. According to Mr. Fleming, however, three to six months is the routine time for completion of such a job, especially since his Department "can't buy a piece of wire without approval from the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity (DWSG&E)." This is to guard against "fire, electrocution," etc.

The guards have improvised, however. Bypassing three months of red tape, six feet of extension cord was purchased with private funds and now allows use of a heater by utilizing the old shack's outlet. Approval from DWSG&E is still pending for a two-foot electrical conduit to the new house. But, hopefully, even that won't be necessary soon, and the guards will carry out their gatehouse duties warm and dry.

Beaver Cagers Crush Bridgeport 70-57

Taking their first big win of the season, the College's basketball team crushed Bridgeport 70-57, last night at the losers home court. The five Beaver starters all scored in double figures. Alan Zuckerman paced the team with 19 points, followed by Bob Kissman with 14, Julie Levine with 11, and Ray Camisa and Mike Pearl with 10 apiece.

As for Bridgeport, their high scorers were Bill O'Dowd and Rene Machado with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

The Beavers did not take the lead until the first-half was almost over, but after that Bridgeport was never able to catch them.

Bridgeport took an early lead of four points, as Rene Machado accounted for all four of them on a turn-around jump shot and a lay-up. By 13:39 of the first period, the Purple-Knights had stretched their lead to six points, 13-7. They maintained that lead until 12:55 when the Beaver's Bob Kissman scored on a turn-around jumper to make the score 15-9. From that point on the game was mostly dominated by the Lavender.

The Beavers finally tied the score with 9:42 remaining in the first half on a jumper by Julie Levine.

Contest . . .

Students of the College have the opportunity to design the victory symbol that will be awarded to the municipal college basketball champion. The contest is being held at the College in conjunction with similar competitions at the three other municipal colleges.

Each of the four schools will submit their best entries, and the victory symbol will be chosen from among them.

The winning entry at the College will be chosen by a representative of Observation Post, Campus — the undergraduate newspaper of the City College since 1907, and the College's Sports Publicity. The winner be awarded two tickets to House Plan's Carnival Queen Ball.

To enter, the student should submit their suggestions along with their name, address, and telephone number to the Sports Editor of either Observation Post (Room 336 Finley) or Campus (Room 338 Finley). The contest will close at the end of this semester.

With 3:35 left the Lavender began to pull away. Levine and Kissman, both scored on foul shots, and Kissman scored on a play set up by Levine to make the score 29-25 with 2:29 left to go.

The Beavers stretched their lead by two more points by the time the half ended, as the score was 34-28.

The beginning of the second half saw Bridgeport whittle away at the Beaver's lead. With 14:48 to go in the game, the lead was narrowed to two, 40-38, but that is as close as the Purple-Knights were able to come.

With 6:27 remaining the Lavender had a lead of five, but then they began to pull away for good.
