CITY COLLEGE

College Leads NY With 33 Awards

The College led all institutions of higher education in the number of Regents College Teaching Fellowship award winners for this year. Thirty-three undergraduates at the College were named recipients of these awards.

Columbia University, which tied with the College for first place last year in the number of winners, ranked second with 19, followed by Queens College with 18; Brooklyn College with 16; and Cornell and Fordham Universities with 12 each.

The fellowships are awarded to seniors at any college or university in the world who are legal residents of New York State. They provide for graduate study leading to careers in college teaching. The awards are granted on the basis of a competitive examination, academic achievements in college and faculty recommendations. Grants range up to $2,500 a year, depending on financial need.

Huntley To Speak On Charter Day

Chet Huntley, NBC news broadcaster and commentator and member of the award-winning Huntley-Brinkley team, will deliver the address at the College's Charter Day celebration on May 13. The formal ceremony will be held in the College's Great Hall and will be attended by students and faculty members. The event observes the 119th anniversary of the founding of the College as an institution of free higher education. President Gallagher will preside at the ceremony.

VISTA Visit...

Mayor Wagner, center, is seen here touring the VISTA display in Finley Student Center, Thursday. With Edgar May, author of "The Wasted American," and active with the anti-poverty program.

"It's only a friendly visit," said Mayor Wagner. The Mayor had been scheduled to speak in Finley Ballroom between 12 Noon and 2 PM, on VISTA, a domestic peace corps program. Although he arrived to late for the program, he spoke with students and answered questions.

Asked about the recent criticism of the city's anti-poverty program by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, who charged that there was no effort to staff people from the communities in which the programs was operating, he said, "Each community center will have 50 to 60 people who live in the community on its staff."

Some of the areas on New York which the Mayor indicated as possible recipients of aid are East Harlem, South Bronx and South Jamaica. The VISTA program is relatively new and has not been completely set up yet.

Zippert Wins HPA, Tech Council Approval; Kauffman, Landis, Reich Also Recommended

By L. H. HARRY LEE

Presidential candidate John Zippert has been endorsed by House Plan Association (HPA) and Technology Council.

HPA has also announced its other executive endorsements. Marty Kauffman, presently SG Treasurer, was recommended for Executive Vice-President over Bob Travis, and Mark Landis was endorsed for Treasurer over Mike Sigall.

Herman Berliner, running against Ellen Turkish for Educational Affairs Vice-President, was endorsed, as was Bill Reich, who is running against Allan Perry for the post of Secretary. Paul Biderman, running unop-

Council To Consider Indoor Picketing Rules

Student Government Executive Committee recommended that Student Council propose to the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities (GFCSA) that indoor picketing be allowed at a stormy session Monday evening.

SG Treasurer Martin Kauffman, candidate for Executive Vice-President on Carl Weitzman's Campus First Slate, threatened, "I'll have Carl line up the votes and smash you" (at tonight's Council meeting).

The Executive Committee met with members of the Student Committee for University Reform (SCUR) Monday to consider adopting proposals for revising the regulations regarding demonstrations, publicity privileges and chartering of organizations. Student Council may adopt a series of resolutions to present to GFCSA, which will meet on Thursday to consider revision of existing regulations on student activities.

The Executive Committee will propose that the campus be divided into zones with a maximum number of demonstrators assigned to each zone. Any organization or group of students may hold a demonstration subject only to numerical requirements to be set at a future date.

Executive Committee will propose that any indoor demonstration, provided that it is orderly and that it conforms to a maximum number of demonstrators to be set by the Executive Committee, be allowed.

Other Recommendations

Executive Committee voted to recommend that a Free Speech Area be designated on the lawn near Park Gym, modelled after Hyde Park in London. Other recommendations include allowing publicity to be distributed anywhere outdoors on the campus where traffic is not blocked nor a disturbance created, that Student Government censor publicity only on the grounds of incorrect factual information, and that publicity regulations governing Ad Hoc Committees and temporary bodies be eased.

FBI To Investigate Communist Influence In DuBois And Progressive Labor Clubs

By P. WARFIELD

The FBI is investigating "communist demonstrations and activities" in at least 3 metropolitan area colleges, the New York Journal American stated in a front-page article Sunday. The colleges are City, Brooklyn, and Adelphi, "and possibly others." The Progressive Labor and W. E. B. DuBois clubs were said to be of special interest in the investigation.

Robert Heisler, President of the College's DuBois Club said,

"It is well known that the FBI conducts investigations of all social action organizations. There's nothing new about it. Tapping phones and infiltrating organizations have no place in a country that prides itself on being a democracy," he said, but, "I'm sure they've been around for a long time." As a result, Heisler has "a feeling that the Journal American wrote the article for harassment purposes."

Israel E. Levine, the College's Public Relations Director, said he had no knowledge of any investigations other than the Journal American assertions.

"Any club that meets the requirements for a charter and files a constitution that does not conflict with college regulations... is entitled to exist," Levine said. "As a matter of principle, as a matter of freedom, the students ought to be permitted to organize in this manner."

Levine added that "we don't give out any information on student activities to any group. That would include the FBI."

Dean of Students Willard Blaesser, commenting on reports in the New York Journal American that the FBI would investigate Communist infiltration of the College's Progressive Labor Movement and W.E.B. DuBois Club, stated that President Buell G. Gallagher will reaffirm his policy of not allowing FBI agents on campus except for the usual security checks if the need arises.

SG President Joel Cooper and former SG President John Zippert both announced that they wholeheartedly support the administration's position.

posed for Community Affairs VP, was also recommended. No endorsement was made in the Campus Affairs race, which has Larry Yermack pitted against Rubin Margules.

Tech Council has not yet announced any endorsements other than for President.

Both Kauffman and Berliner are running on Councilman Carl Weitzman's Campus First slate. The other candidates endorsed by HPA are on Zippert's Commitment slate.

The Tech Council endorsement was preceded by a public debate between Zippert and Weitzman, which was followed by a question and answer period.

Clark to Establish Own Youth Group

Prof. Kenneth B. Clark (Psychology) said last Friday that he would set up a private project for work with selected young people in Harlem.

Dr. Clark withdrew as chairman of HARYOU, one of the predecessors of HARYOU-Act, in June, 1964, because of a conflict with Representative Adam Clayton Powell over the administration of the Federal-city anti-poverty project for Harlem.

Prof. Clark denied that his new project would be a rival to HARYOU-ACT, adding that an advisory board from the community be named and its members decide on the nature of the program. Clark said he would provide the initial financing for his new project himself, using royalties from his forthcoming book, Dark Ghetto.

Doc Watson and NY Ramblers Appear in Lewisohn Program

By P. WARFIELD

The College's "First Festival of Country Music" got off to a roaring start as blind Doc Watson, John Cohen, and the New York Ramblers played yesterday afternoon in Lewisohn Lounge.

An enthusiastic audience of about 250 people listened as Watson accompanied himself on the guitar with a harmonica, or sang old time country songs. "The Blackberry Blossom," which he flat-picked sensationally, was followed by such energetic applause that Watson, who had already made his way out of the room, had to return and play "Brown's Ferry Blues." To the delight and astonishment of most of the audience, the remarkable Doc Watson picked faster and faster, ending at a fantastic speed.

John Cohen, of the New Lost City Ramblers, who had played before, showed his film, "The High Lonesome Sound," which is about the folk and folk music of Hazard, Kentucky.

Scenes of the mines and miners, their homes and families, and a revival meeting were shown, but the inadequate narration which scantily explained the miners' economic hardships, added to the film's disjointed effect. The music, which predominated, was interesting, and as the camera played at length over one old man's craggy face and hands while he sang, one had the feeling that Cohen was trying to connect the heartiness of this group of people with the robustness of its music.

The New York Ramblers, a city-billy group, got prolonged applause after every song, and, in fact, after every solo. The group's co-ordination, and its individual members' virtuosity, were of the highest order, and it performed with enthusiasm and verve.

The concert was followed by a workshop at which some of the performers demonstrated banjo and guitar techniques while others played some more of their favorite blue-grass music.

The Finley Planning Board, which arranged the event, called it "The First Festival of Country Music." Hopefully many more like it will follow.

Red Menace Seen In Survey

In an attempt to test the political beliefs most prevalent on campus, the College's Young Conservative Club circulated a poll last Friday to four hundred and thirty students.

One hundred and seventy of these polled named the John Birch Society as being a greater menace to the U.S. than the Communist Party, while two hundred twenty-two cited the Communists as the greater threat. When asked which policy the student favored in Vietnam, two hundred and ten stated a desire to see further military action, one hundred seventy-four favored immediate negotiation and forty-two desired immediate withdrawal. Forty-five per cent of those polled stated a belief in the Judeo-Christian concept of God, with twenty-three per cent rejecting the concept; twenty-three per cent responding doubtful and 9 per cent failing to reply to the question.

Other questions included:

1. Would you prefer a more socialistic form of government in this country?
2. Do you favor the admission of Red China to the UN?
3. Would you be in favor of the USSR losing its vote in the UN if it fails to pay its peace keeping debt?
4. Would you be in favor of UN control of nuclear weapons?
5. Would you favor unilateral disarmament by the U.S.?

The results were:

YES	NO	NO RESPONSE
1. 25%	67%	8%
2. 38%	52%	10%
3. 60%	32%	8%
4. 55%	36%	9%
5. 20%	75%	5%

Those students polled were asked to name who they considered the greatest American of the past century. The results were:

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 146; John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 78; General MacArthur, 45; Theodore Roosevelt, 23; Woodrow Wilson, 14; Barry Goldwater, 12; Ayn Rand, 6; Martin Luther King, 5; W. E. B. DuBois, 4; Adlai Stevenson, 3; Other, 40; No Response, 24.

Lies

The United States government, under the leadership of, and presumably with the knowledge of, President Johnson, has repeatedly and unashamedly lied to the American people in order to bolster support for its sagging foreign policies. As one example, the infamous State Department "white paper" on the war in Vietnam, which tried to hold the Hanoi regime largely responsible for the actions of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front, has instead served largely as evidence that the NLF is not receiving large amounts of support from the North.

Another example is the recent claim that the United States was reviving gunboat diplomacy in order to protect the lives of American citizens in the Dominican Republic. This, of course, turned out to be a slight mis-statement. Actually, the Marines were there to prevent "another Cuba." And, of course, leaving aside the visions of Communists which are dancing through the heads of the State Department, the real effect the Marines are having is to support the military dictatorship. As a matter of fact, in the interest of maintaining order, the Marines have taken over the duties of "battle-fatigued" rightist forces.

We feel that before United States troops are committed to supporting sordid little militarist regimes in South Vietnam and the Dominican Republic, they should be used to protect the lives and property of American citizens living in the United States. The Johnson Administration has for too long let beatings and killings, bombings and burnings go unchecked in our Southern states. The 10,000 soldiers now in the Dominican Republic could be far better used to wrench the State of Mississippi out of the Age of Feudalism.

The Administration talks of preventing "another Cuba." Before we express hypocritical concern about the oppressed people of Cuba (who would probably give us an argument) and talk of the danger Cuba presents to the hemisphere, we should devote a great deal more attention to the dangers the rule of terror and racism present to American democracy. A country which allows murder, terrorism and racism to dominate its cities, towns, and countrysides does not have the right to tell the rest of the world what to do.

Election Debates

Campaigns for all Student Government positions begin tomorrow with debates between all candidates for office on the South Campus Lawn. It is essential that all students be informed of the issues and the candidates before making their choice known next week. We can think of no better way to achieve this end than by attending the rally.

Hirsch Quits Post At Finley Center

Jerrold Hirsch announced his resignation as assistant to the director of the Finley Center, Monday, to accept a new post as the first director of student activities at the Newark College of Engineering in New Jersey. His resignation will be effective at the end of this term.

Hirsch graduated from the College in 1958 and received his Masters in Student Personnel at the Teachers College in 1959, when he became program advisor to Dr. Farmer at the College. A year later he was awarded a degree of "Dean of Students" from Columbia.

Hirsch was elevated to coordinator of Day and Evening Session student affairs in 1960, after becoming assistant to James Peace, director of Finley Center. In this capacity he participated in the establishment of House Plan Association in the Evening Session.

Baruch Students Protest At First National; Claim Bank Supports Segregated Education

By MARTIN FLANK
Of the Baruch School Ticker Staff

Fifty students and faculty from the College's downtown Baruch School picketed the Gramercy Park Branch of The First National City Bank Thursday and Friday afternoon to protest the bank's underwriting of Mississippi bonds to support five segregated colleges in that state.

Participating students handed out leaflets stating that the bank underwrote a $2,775,000 bond issue, funds from which were used to construct five colleges in Mississippi which were kept segregated by the state government.

The leaflet asked customers to withdraw funds from First National City in protest of the bank's aid to segregated schools.

Howard Yahm, president of the Committee on Human Rights of the Baruch School, which coordinated the demonstration, and Kenneth Peeples, entered the bank and presented to the branch manager a petition signed by 300 Baruch students objecting to the bank's action in underwriting the bonds.

The manager accepted the petition and gave Yahm a letter explaining the bank's position.

The letter noted that the bank considered the demonstration improper and felt it was illegal to boycott any state or city in the United States.

Students and faculty from the Baruch School picketed the Gramercy Park branch of the First National Bank Friday.

The bank's belief, the letter said, is that the federal courts and the Department on Justice will enforce the law of the land, and it is wrong for any individual or group to be permitted or encouraged to take the law into its own hands.

Yahm contended, however, that "the bank has a moral obligation to society and it is ignoring this obligation by supporting discrimination in any form in any state or area."

To protest the picketing, however, about fifteen Baruch School students deposited money in the bank during the demonstration.

In explaining his objection to the picketing, Andrew Radding, one of the depositors, stated, "The whole affair is ridiculous. The picketers seem to be able to see only the short term effect of the loan. Students are endangering their opportunities of obtaining a position in the financial world."

Joseph Rosenberg felt the demonstration was a tremendous success. "The students and faculty of the Baruch School demonstrated their objection to the actions of the bank in an orderly manner without any civil disobedience."

Seattle Earthquake Recorded On Seismograph; Machine In Shepard Detects Huge Tremors

Last Thursday's Seattle earthquake was viewed by twenty to twenty-five College students as it was happening. The Geology Department's visual electronic seismograph recorder enabled the students to see a depiction of the quake vibrations as they occurred. The recorder, acquired in November 1964, is the only one of its kind in New York City. It is located across from Room 306 Shepard.

The quake was first recorded at 11:30 AM and strong vibrations lasted for an hour and a half. Professor Lowe (Chairman, Geology) said that he noticed the vibrations as he was leaving from a lecture in Room 306. At first he thought that the battery of the machine "had gone bad." After a little while, though, he realized he was watching a quake of "very strong magnitude."

"The kids were quite excited and a large crowd gathered,"

In the afternoon a sign was posted above the machine, stating the location and magnitude of the quake. The quake registered a magnitude of 7 on the Richter scale, indicating a tremor of major proportions. The record of the quake remained on the recorder for the rest of the day.

The Seattle quake killed two persons and caused widespread but minor damage. Factories and schools were evacuated in the city as plaster fell, windows shattered and masonry tumbled. Vibrations could be felt as far away as Moscow, Idaho, 300 miles east of Seattle.

The visual electronic seismograph recorder is connected by 800 feet of shielded wire to the Babor Seismograph Vault in the basement of Shepard. The Babor Seismograph named after Professor Emeritus Joseph A. Babor, has been in use since 1948.

The visual recorder consists of a paper-covered drum which rotates once every half hour for twenty-four hour periods. The information is continuously recorded in red ink on the paper by a stylus. The drum is reset every morning and turned off during week-ends. The large waves produced by an earthquake can easily be distinguished from the normal waves caused by minor tremblings of the earth's crust.

Manhattan Nips Beavers 6-5; Lavender Errors Costly

Despite home runs by Barry Edelstein and Dave Hayes, the College's baseball team dropped its second game in Met league competition yesterday as it lost a tough 6-5 decision to Manhattan College at Van Cortlandt Park. The Beavers have three victories to go along with their pair of losses.

The Jaspers jumped on starter Howie Smith for four runs in the bottom of the first inning on four singles spiced with two Lavender errors.

John Lewricewicz led off the Manhattan first with a single. George Bruns followed with a base blow of his own to center field. Lavender centerfielder Billy Miller scooped Bruns' shot but his relay back to the infield was wild and Lewricewicz came home with the first run of the afternoon.

Star Jasper basketball player Larry Lembo followed the two singles with another one and Manhattan led 2-0.

Phil Marzullo followed with a triple scoring Lembo and when Lavender left fielder Steve Beccalori threw wild to third, Marzullo trotted home with the fourth Jasper run.

Down 4-0 in the top of the second, Beaver catcher Bernie Martin drew a walk. With one away, Beaver third sacker Barry Edelstein came to the plate. Barry picked out a fast ball and hit his first home run of the season as the Beavers crawled back at 4-2.

In the Manhattan third, a single by John Crews followed by a triple by pitcher Bob Chlupsa gave the Jaspers a 5-3 lead.

It wasn't until the eighth inning that the Beavers were able to hit the scoreboard again. Dave Hayes, the fine Lavender second baseman, reached first on an error. After Miller had fanned, Steve Beccalori grounded to third, when the throw went wild, Hayes scored. However, Beccalori was nailed at third trying to gain an extra base. In the same inning, Lou Gatti followed with a double but could only reach third when Bernie Martin followed with a sharp single to center. The Lavender bid died as Ralph Mastruzzo flied to right to end the inning.

The Beavers got two in the ninth to tie on a Barry Mandel single and a Dave Hayes home run but in the Manhattan ninth, with Joel Weinberger on the hill, a walk, an error, a single and another single gave the Jaspers the 6-5 win.

Weinberger was the losing pitcher as Chlupsa picked up the win.

Netmen Back In Win Column; Smash Queens Here By 8-1

Taking an easy victory from Queens, 8-1, last Saturday on the Finley Center courts, the College's tennis team went back to its winning ways.

Coming back from their disappointing loss to Iona the week before, the Beavers did not waste any time in wrapping up their fifth win of the season. The match was one of the shortest the Lavender has played. While most matches last about five hours, Saturday's competition lasted only three hours. This was due to the fact that all but one of the matches were decided in two sets.

The Beavers' number one man, Marty Deitch defeated Ken Bronston, 6-2 and 11-9. Elliot Simon, Arnold Garfin, Charles Mattes, and Joel Litow also took their matches in two sets. Michael Seiden had a little rougher time, but he won his match in three sets.

In the doubles competition, the Lavender did not use their number one team of Deitch and Seiden because the Beavers had already clinched victory. Instead, Peter Schaffer and Litow took the number one spot, and defeated the Knights' two top ranked players 8-6 and 6-3. Also winning a doubles match for the Lavender was the combination of Mattes and Peter Willmann.

The lone Beaver loss of the day was in the third doubles match where Gerald Jaffe and Steve Zell were defeated, 2-6 and 5-7.

This afternoon, the Beavers will be playing what is likely to be their toughest match of the season, when they meet St. John's at the Redmen's courts at three o'clock.

The Redmen's entire starting team, which defeated the Beavers last year 6 1/2-2 1/2, is returning. The match will be the Lavender's first non-league encounter of the season.

Beavers Win Municipal College Track Championship Saturday

By PHILIP HOROWITZ

The College's track team successfully continued its reign as Municipal Champs with an easy victory over Brooklyn College and Hunter College on Saturday. The scores of the meet were, the Beavers-104 1/2, Brooklyn-64 1/2, and Hunter-20 1/2.

Queens College, who was expected to give the Lavender trackmen a stiff challenge, was absent from the meet and thereby assured victory for the College. The Beavers have won the Municipal Championship in each of the six years in which it has been held.

The trackmen won 13 of the 18 events and finished second in 4 of the other 5 events. The only weakness of the team was in the weight events and in the intermediate hurdles. Co-captain Bob Bogart led the team with five firsts. He won the high jump (5'6"), the pole vault (10 feet), the broad jump (20'5"), the 120 yard high hurdles (16.5 seconds), and the triple jump (42'5"). Jim O'Connell took two first—the mile in 4:28.7, and the two mile in 9:49.1.

Don Schlesinger won the 100 yard dash in 10.2 and 220 in 23 seconds flat. He also participated in the 440 yard relay win along with George Kolodiy, Dennis Wildfogel, and incant Burger. Their time of 44.2 seconds was a new school record.

Other individual winners were Burger in the 440 and Peter Ziembra in the half-mile. The trackmen won the mile relay in 3:32.8 seconds.

The freshman team proved even more successful than the varsity in scoring 137 to 31 for their closest competitor. Tom Walsh was outstanding for the freshmen back to what he started with in the fall. Baron believes he has a couple of players who could become as good as any that have played at the College.

The quality that Baron most admires about his players is that they never let up; they are always trying.

Remaining Games

The Lavender stickmen have three games remaining to gain some of that needed experience this season.

Coach George Baron 'Basically Happy'

This Saturday at 2 PM the Beavers will wrap up their home season against Drexel, a team that nipped them 9-8 a year ago.

Next Wednesday they will play Lafayette at Lafayette and will conclude their season May 15 at Union College.

Inexperience Stops Stickmen; Lose To RPI 6-2 At Troy

Losing to RPI 6-2 at Troy, N. Y., last Saturday, the College's lacrosse team once again were victims of their weakness—inexperience.

However, inexperience was not their only problem. In the first half the Beavers played worse than they had all season, according to Coach George Baron. He said that the Lavender were missing and dropping more passes while running more than usual. At the end of the first half, RPI was in front 4-1.

Some Injuries

The Beavers also had injuries going against them. Two of their key attackmen, Lloyd Smith and Lenny Sager, were unable to give their full services. Sager was out for the whole game, and Smith, who is under a doctor's care, was only able to play for about a period and a half. Because of this, Baron had to move a couple of midfielders up front, so the injuries also hurt the midfielders.

But the Lavender's biggest problem is still inexperience. The Beavers have had no trouble in getting the ball up to the cage, but that is where their inexperience comes into play. An attackman must find an effective distance to shoot from, and this only comes from experience. Also the inexperienced player does not react to the other team; he simply goes according to the set play.

However, Baron says that he is basically happy with the Beavers' performance when he thinks

Meyreles Hurls Complete Game

By JERRY HOENIG

Breaking a tie with a two run single by Lou Gatti in the top of the ninth inning, the College's baseball team defeated Wagner, 5-3, last Saturday at the loser's home field.

Gatti had come up with one out, the bases loaded, and the score tied, 3-3. Barry Mandel who led off the inning was on third, Dave Hayes who hit back to the box and reached first safely on a fielder's choice was on second, and Alex Miller who had just walked was on first. Gatti singled, scoring Mandel and Hayes to give the Beavers their win.

In the eighth, the Lavender had scored two runs to tie the score. With two out, Miller singled to left. He went to third after Wagner's left fielder, Bill Matuszewski, threw the ball wildly to first. Steve Beccalori then singled to score Miller and make the score 3-2. Gatti followed with a double which scored Beccalori from first and tied the score.

The Beavers other run was scored in the fifth. With runners on first and second as a result of singles by Lou Henik and Mandel, Meyerles sent Henik home with a single.

The Seahawks had scored all of their runs early in the game before the Beavers were able to tally. In the second, with two out, Jim Turnamian and Mike Smullen got on second and third after they both singled and then advanced a base on a passed ball. Hank Burgos then hit a grounder wide of first. Gatti could not reach it, but Hayes made a beautiful backhand stop. However, he made a wild throw to Meyerles who was covering first, and the two runners scored.

In the fourth, with John Carlisle on second, Turnamian singled to send Carlisle to third. Then after Smullen struckout, Burgos singled to score Carlisle. That gave Wagner a three run lead and ended their scoring for the game.

Gatti was once again the Beavers hitting star. He got three hits in five trips to the plate, and he drove in three runs.
