Speech Today Marks Drive

Shriver's Speech Opens Recruiting

Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, will highlight Peace Corps Week at the College with a speech here today. He will talk on the "Peace Corps Today" in Aronow Auditorium at 10 AM.

Films on the Peace Corps will be shown in Room 217 Finley today at 12 Noon, Wednesday at 6 PM, and Thursday at 12:30 PM and at 9 PM.

Recruiting Booths will be manned through Friday from 8 AM to 8 PM opposite Room 152 Finley, Knittle Lounge in Shepard, and in Cohen Library.

The Corps has had its most favorable response in New York City at the College. In January of 1965, 132 students filled out questionnaires, as compared to 112 at New York University, 91 at Hunter College, and 74 at Brooklyn College.

College Ranks High

The College is 33rd in the top 100 schools across the country in actual enlistments.

The only qualifications for applicants are that they be over 18 years of age, and have no dependents under 18 years. The Corps prefers to enroll upperclassmen, but juniors may agree to train at camp during their summer vacation. — and go overseas after their senior year.

Most of those who have signed up in past years have been liberal arts majors. The Corps trains them in community organizing,

Status Of Bowker Doubtful As BHE Controversy Widens

"The Chancellor is still the Chancellor and I am still the dean of studies," said Dr. Harry Levy. "Our status is not changing."

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education (BHE), asserted, however, that since Chancellor Albert Bowker and Dean Levy of the City University resigned last month, neither has been in the office nor performed their duties.

The latest dispute between the administrators of CU and the Board of Higher Education is over whether the officials who submitted their resignations last month should be paid while they are reconsidering them.

Chancellor Bowker, Dean Levy, Brooklyn College President Harry Gideonse and Hunter College President John Meng resigned in a dispute over distribution of power and loyalty, but are reconsidering at the request of the BHE and the Mayor.

The Board's legal adviser, Arthur Kahn, has advised Dr. Rosenberg that the officials are not entitled to their pay if they have

Common Sense Party Wins Five Seats; SG Elections Marked By Heavy Voting

By JOSH MILLS

The Common Sense Party, winning five of the six seats it contested, scored a crushing victory in last week's Student Government by-elections.

The by-election, one of the closest in SG history, turned out over 1,110 voters, more than twice as many as last term's.

A proposed amendment to the SG Constitution, which would have reduced Executive Committee from seven to five members, was soundly defeated.

Jerry Ostroff, running on the Campus First slate (CF), was the top vote-getter for the at-large seats with 677 votes. Larry Yermack, with 577, and Barry Shrage, with 560, captured the other two seats. Both ran on the Common Sense (V) slate.

Mark Landis (V), with 104 votes, and Fred Hirsch, with 111, won the two seats in the Class of '66. Kathy Bellizi (CF) was the third candidate.

In the Class of '67 contest, Neil Ribner (V) defeated Judy Gottlieb (CF).

Ellen Turkish (V), with 170 votes, was the winner in the Class of '68, defeating four other candidates. Ken Schaeffer (CF) finished second with 135.

The victory brings to 11 the number of Common Sense Council members. Campus First members control 16 seats on Council, and five of the seven executive positions.

Paul Biderman, SG Vice President for Community Affairs and acting head of the Common Sense Party, was jubilant over the victory. He stated that motions affecting "publicity regulations, educational reform and academic freedom" would probably increase. Free Tuition would be largely unaffected, he said.

The Common Sense Party victory is a crushing defeat for SG President Carl Weitzman, the nominal head of Campus First. The proposed amendment was introduced by Educational Affairs Vice President Herman Berliner and Treasurer Sigall, both Campus First members.

The Common Sense Platform stressed educational reform through student involvement in decision-making, academic freedom and a "fresh look" at the Free Tuition campaign.

It also favored indoor distribution of publicity, indoor vigiling, food machines in Cohen Library and travel expenses for the Bridge and Chess Teams.

The Common Sense Party was formed by students who ran with John Zippert on the Commitment slate in last May's presidential elections.

Zippert, a former SG President and now a field worker for CORE in Louisiana, resigned and ran against Weitzman. He was defeated in the largest election in the history of the College.

'Freedom Christmas' Program To Send Volunteers To South

Several organizations at the College will be recruiting volunteers to take part in Christmas vacation voter registration drives in the South. Volunteers will do door-to-door canvassing, drive people to registration offices, publicize meetings and help in voter education projects in those states covered by the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

The National Student Association, which will be recruiting participants for work with five national civil rights organizations, hopes to get 300 to 600 volunteers into the field by December 20.

The five sponsoring groups are the Congress of Racial Equality, the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee. Hillel will recruit volunteers at the College specifically for the Christmas Voter Registration Project of SCLC, which will be concentrated in urban areas of Alabama.

There are no age or vocational restrictions for Freedom Christmas volunteers. Each volunteer should be able to spend at least a week in the South between the second week in December and

In other action, New York City Selective Service director Col. Paul Akst announced that next month's draft call of 1685 men will include some childless married men. President Johnson last August ordered childless men married after August 26 placed in the same class as single men.

Men married before August 26 may also be called, Askt said.

According to Hugh Graham, West Coast Regional Director, service in the Peace Corps does not exempt one from the draft, but only an estimated 5% of the volunteers have been drafted after returning from duty overseas.

The Corps is making a determined effort, according to Graham, to enlist students activists with experience in community organizing work.

The Corps currently serves in some 45 countries, with 24 others asking for volunteers. Volunteers are still working in the Dominican Republic, were they were asked to stay by the rebels.

Common Sense First

The Common Sense Party's victory in last week's Student Government by-elections is a step forward toward a progressive and dedicated government for the students.

The student body is obviously unwilling to be led by a political party that acts on the whims of its leader, SG President Carl Weitzman. The Campus First Party and Weitzman were both rebuffed; they would do well to take notice of the students' disavowal of power by fiat.

Despite this warning against his high-handed actions, Weitzman is already off and running along another path of deception and secrecy. Observation Post was unable to publish the full results of the election because they have not yet been made available by Weitzman, three days after tabulations were completed.

We hope this election will change the predominant mood of Student Council from thoughtless action to common sense. The student body has served notice — Council and Weitzman must respond.

Freedom Christmas

Despite the passage of the Federal Voting Rights last Spring, only a small percentage of Negroes eligible to vote in the South have registered. Until all Negroes make use of their rights, there is little hope of bringing about a change in the reactionary white power structure that has oppressed not only Negroes but poor whites as well.

The National Student Association, of which the College is a member, is sponsoring a "Freedom Christmas" project that will provide civil rights organizations in the South with volunteers for one or two weeks.

Student Council has refused to endorse this worthwhile program. It will be given a second chance tomorrow night. "Freedom Christmas" is not a question of "students as students," but rather, of whether Student Council will deny that the struggle for equality is of concern to all students.

Observation Post fully supports "Freedom Christmas." We urge all students to volunteer if they can, and to offer financial aid if they are unable to go South. We will do all we can to help arrange car pools to the South and to disseminate information.

Student Council has been given a second chance to maintain the College's reputation as a leader in civil rights activities. This honorable heritage should not be tarnished by childish politics.

THE BLUEBIRD OF HAPPINESS HAS FLOWN THE COOP

Can education bring happiness? This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery. I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Knut Fusco.

Knut, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A." was awarded his B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, his M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and his D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was his. His intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was he happy? The answer, alas, was no. Knut—he knew not why—was miserable; so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, he was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that he flung himself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by, a liberal arts coed named Nikki Sigafos came by with her Barb doll. She noted Knut's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said Nikki.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Knut peevishly.

"All right, I will," said Nikki. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Knut shook his head.

"Have you ever watched a sunset? ... and then to a justice of the peace." Written a poem? Shaved with a Personna Stainless Steel Blade?"

Knut shook his head.

"Well, we'll fix that right now," said Nikki, and gave him a razor, a Personna Stainless Steel Blade, and a can of Burma Shave.

Knut lathered with the Burma Shave and shaved with the Personna and for the first time in many long years he smiled. He smiled and then he laughed—peal after peal of reverberating joy. "Wow-dow!" he cried. "What a shave! Does Personna come in injector style, too?"

"It does," said Nikki.

"Gloriosky!" cried Knut. "And does Burma Shave come in menthol, too?"

"It does," said Nikki.

"Huzzah!" cried Knut. "Now that I have found Personna and Burma Shave I will never have another unhappy day."

"Hold!" said Nikki. "Personna and Burma Shave alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Knut. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said Nikki.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Knut. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said Nikki and removed it.

"Land's sakes, what a relief!" said Knut, now totally happy, and took Nikki's hand and led her to a Personna vendor and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Knut is a perfectly fulfilled man, both intellect-wise and personality-wise. He lives in a charming split-level house with Nikki and their 17 children and he rises steadily in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, he became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, he was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and he published a best-selling book called I Was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

ty's quest for freedom in his address before several hundred students in the Grand Ballroom.

The McCarran Act states that all members of the Communist Party must register with the United States government. Failure to do so results in a fine of $10,000 per day.

According to Abt, the act attributes the growing demand for social change to the work of international criminal conspirators led by the Soviet government. Abt's explanation for this demand for social change is that we are "seeking a new and better way to live."

Dr. Herbert Aptheker, director of the American Institute for Marxist Studies, said that the McCarran Act "violates 17th century British law" and that it is a "clear violation of the Fifth Amendment."

The act brands a Communist, Aptheker continued, as "an assassin, a murderer, a traitor, a betrayer of democracy . . ." He feels that "what is now required of this country is the complete vindication of the Communist Party."

Aptheker concluded by saying that "we are in the midst of a qualitative shift in the outlook of this country . . . away from the right . . . towards an intellectual, progressive and, yes, Marxist outlook."

Other speakers at the teach-in were Walter and Miriam Schneir, who discussed their book, "Invitation to an Inquest," which reappraises the Rosenberg-Sobél case. The accused had been charged with conspiracy to commit espionage, a device which "can convict the largest number of people with the smallest amount of evidence," Schneir asserted.

Other speakers included Jo Brandt, Professors Stanley Feingold and Samuel Hendel (Political Science).

Hoopsters Drop Heartbreaker To Columbia After Mauling Adelphi In Season's Opener

Lavender Beaten, 63-57, After Leading At Half

By HARVEY WEINBERG

Alan Zuckerman and Barry Eisemann fouled out last night and Columbia went on to a hard fought 63-57 victory as the College's basketball team dropped a heartbreaking decision in Wingate Gymnasium.

The Lavender had embarrassed the highly touted Lion team in the first half and had gone off at intermission on the long end of a 33-26 score. In the second half, however, referees James Lennon and Walter Rooney said that Zuckerman and Eisemann were guilty of breathing too heavily and too often on some of the Lions. With ten minutes to go in the game, Zuck was awarded his fifth foul. Three and one half minutes later Eisemann was presented with his and the Beavers were finished.

From there, playing against six-foot John Clifton, Columbia's seven-foot center Dave Newmark looked like a champ. Newmark, who had been totally and unequivocally outscored, outthrusted, and even outrebounded by 6-6 Barry Eisemann, suddenly came alive against Clifton, although Johnny amazed the capacity crowd by pulling two rebounds off his gigantic opponent. Newmark netted eight of his twenty-three points in the final seven and one half minutes.

With Zuck and Eisemann finished for the night, Columbia broke a 45-45 deadlock and coasted the rest of the way.

Bob Kissman Stars on Defense

For thirty minutes though, the Beavers proved that height does not mean a damn when you have a well-drilled, hustling, strapping ball club. The Lavender literally ran their taller and heavier opponents right into the locker room at the half.

On great shooting by Mike Pearl, Pat Vallance and Zuckerman, plus the defense of Bob Kissman and Eisemann, the Beavers had the Lions and in particular their coach sweating for a half-hour of play. As a matter of fact, if it wasn't for six-footer Stan Felsing, the Lions might never have kept as close as seven at the half. The burly senior scored the Lion's first ten points alone and tallied 12 out of their first 13. He scored on twisting drives and a deadly jumpshot as the Beavers tamed the rest of the Lion pack. Felsing wound up with 22 for the evening.

Columbia chipped away at the Beaver lead in the second half as the refs chipped away at everyone's nerves with some of their calls. Even the Columbia fans were unable to see some of the things the referees managed to see. But that's part of the game and with no one to come off the

Frosh Also Lose

The Baby Beavers also took it on the chin as they lost 73-55 to the Columbia frosh.

Barry Eisemann, shown at the foul line in the Adelphi game, hit only 25% of his free throws last year but in this contest hit 6 of 7.

Mermen Undertake Rebuilding After Last Year's Poor Season

The College's swimming team has many problems this season, but one of them is not overconfidence.

This is not to imply that the mermen do not intend to better last season's dismal record if wto wins and seven losses, but everyone, from coach Jack Rider on down, realizes that the rebuilding process is still in the first stages.

With Junior Larry Levy and team captain Alan Frishman leading the way, the Beavers are determined to break the long-standing tradition of weak swimming teams at the College. Levy is the tall, slim junior who established Lavender records for the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard freestyle events last season. Frishman is the only senior on the squad, and the team's premier butterfly swimmer. Rider points proudly at his two prime pupils and confidently voices the opinion that they "can do everything."

There will also be an especially talented group of sophomores at Wingate pool this year. Henry Eckstein, in the break-

Other Sports Action

Fencing

The parriers opened their season Saturday by swamping Yale, 18-9. The Beavers captured the first round 8-1 and the Eli never recovered. Leading the pack were captain George Wiener and sophomore Steve Liebermann, who won all three of their matches. Steve Bernard, Joe Giovanniello, Alan Darion, and Bob Chernick each won two matches without a defeat. Coach Edward Lucia used numerous substitutions in the romp.

Swimming

In a preview to what to expect during their regular season, the mermen set two new Beaver records in the Eastern Collegiate Relay Carnival although they entered only three events. Tom Link, Henry Eckstein, Al Frishman, and Larry Levy swam the 400 yard freestyle relay in 3:44.4, breaking by three seconds the Lavender record set in 1961. Joel Storm then joined Eckstein, Link, and Levy, to set a new record in the 400 yard medley relay of 4:12.5, which was more than five seconds better than the previous mark.

Women's Basketball

The hoopskiirts, despite a closing rush in the fourth period, were defeated by a team of Alumni, 34-26, at Park Gym on Thursday. Fran Feuerstein was the high scorer with 12 points.

Women's Fencing

In their first match in their first year of competition, the female fencers pulled out an upset victory over Queens College, 10-6. Nelda Latham was undefeated in her four matches, and was the deciding factor as the Beavettes overcame a first round 4-1 deficit. The fencers, now a club, hope to attain varsity status in the future.

Rifle

The nimrods travelled down to Annapolis to meet Navy over the weekend and came back with their first loss of the season, 1444-1417. Bruce Gitlin with 291, Matt Cardillo with 287, Alan Feit with 282, Harry Singer with 279 and Jerry Uretzky with 278 led the Beavers, who now have a 4-1 mark.

The Beavers were under the handicap of shooting against Army type targets.

stroke, Thomas Ling in the butterfly and James Halpern in the freestyle event lead this group.

One spot where the Beavers are decidedly weaker than last year is in the diving competition. This situation was only aggravated by Henry Budka's ineligibility.

The Lavender's toughest challenges this season figure to come from Fordham, St. John's, and the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point. These three gave the mermen their most severe drownings last year.

Beat Panthers By 89-66

By KEN GELLER

The College's basketball team made believers out of the more than 1500 fans who crowded into Adelphi University's Woodruff Hall last Wednesday night, as they whipped the Panthers handily, 89-66.

Oddly enough, the Beaver surge which carried them to a commanding lead was managed without the services of Alan Zuckerman, last year's high scorer, with 4:53 gone in the first half, Zuckerman was taken out of the game by coach Dave Polansky after drawing his third personal and second technical foul of the game. At the time, Adelphi led 9-8, but when Zuckerman next walked out on the court, the Beavers had built a 38-27 halftime bulge.

Two of Zuckerman's three personals in the first half came as the result of charging fouls. Polansky attributed Zuckerman's lack of body control to the slipperiness of the court. Despite his not scoring in the first twenty minutes of play, "Zuck" still managed to pop in seventeen
