Architects To Stage Demonstration
Protesting Shortage Of Facilities

By ARTHUR VONBERGT

Over 100 students are expected to picket the Administration Building on Friday to protest what they believe is a shortage of facilities at the College. The students contend that there is a lack of housing, a need for more professors, and a lack of facilities to support an expanded program.

The demonstration, organized by the College's chapter of the American Institute of Architects, will begin at Goetchal Hall at 12 Noon. The students, who pay up to $100 tuition for their five-year degree, will march on Steinmann Hall with a petition of grievances to be presented to Dean of Engineering and Architecture William Allen.

The line will then move to the Administration Building, where a similar petition will be presented to President Buell G. Gallagher. The building will be picketed again on Saturday.

An independent architecture library and the wood and model-making shop were both included in original plans for the School of Architecture, according to Jorge Espinola and William Cappiello, co-chairmen of the protest.

Dean Allen promised last term that the building would be completed in February, but the project is now bogged down in red tape in the Board of Higher Education. They hope that the protest will speed action along.

Establishment of Student Court To Be Considered By Council

Establishment of a disciplinary "Student Court, as well as other proposals for the reorganization of the SG" will be decided upon at tonight's Student Council meeting.

The Student Court, proposed by Student Affairs Committee Chairman Bill Rhodes, would model itself on the U.S. Supreme Court, consisting of three judges and three alternates selected by the SC Executive Committee and the Department of Student Life from candidates nominated by the College's Honor Societies. The Court would deal with all cases of delinquency on SC, cases of changes made by one Council against another, and all violations of College and SG rules and regulations.

A similar student Court exist now in other colleges. Hicks said that he has met with similar students there and that the Court would function as a "self-policing" mechanism.

Harlem Editor Attacks Free Tuition Policy

"I think that they should get rid of the selective service law," said Carl Beals, President of the National Students for a Democratic Society. "Saying that Negro students at the CU stand out in the crowd like flies in a glass of buttermilk," the editorial added. "We appreciate the efforts of Governor Rockefeller in resisting the preservation of free tuition law — a tuition charge for state universities — and we hope that enough cars will be on the Freedom Easter Parade in New York so that we can see it in its entirety."

Experimental Films Tomorrow

The College's first Experimental Film Festival, with 22 films and several panel discussions, will be held tomorrow night. Three films produced at the College's Institute of Film Techniques will be shown. Jonas Mekes, film critic of the Village Voice, will participate in panel discussions on "The Origin of the Experimental Film," "The Directions of the Experimental Film," and "The Underground Cinema and Rising Student Film Movements." Chris Steinbrunner, who broadcasts "The Film World" on WFLY-FM, and Robert G. Wernick, an instructor of Films 11, will also participate.

The student-made films will be shown at 11 PM. "Keep On Dancing," the first feature-length film in the series, was first shown at the Fast for Peace in Vietnam. The festival begins at 7:30 PM in the Grand Ballroom. Admis-

Freedmen's Bureau

The State Board of Regents and State Commissioner of Education James B. Allen have joined the Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education in calling for increased state aid to the City University.

The committee, which is headed by Senator Manfred Ohrenstein (Dem., Manhattan), is proceeding on the premise that "the tradition of free public higher education would be maintained in the future.

This is the first time that Dr. Allen, Rockefeller's appointee, has split with the Governor on the financing of CU. Rockefeller has maintained that the state should not pay more than 50% of the CU operating budget.

Established on Page 2"

OPostnotes ...

- Tutoring for the mathematics section of the Selective Service qualifying exam is being conducted by Tech Council. A registration list is posted in the Observation Post office, Room 213.
- The City College Voice will be printed on Friday.
- Hillel will conduct a silent vigil tomorrow on behalf of Soviet Jewry. The vigil will meet at the Hillel House at 12:15 PM and march to the front of Cohen Library where they will stand silently for the remainder of the 12:2 break.

"City Colle"
“Students as students” is an issue raised each term by members of Student Government. It is abbreviation for the clause in each term by members of Student Government bases, and who do poorly, within the next month. They as Campus Affairs Vice President Ruben Margules, who would abandon civil liberties out of blind obedience to authority. We do not think that “students as students” has any relevancy today. We cannot stand like ostriches, with our heads in the sand, while the world continues to affect us. Because something takes place off campus does not mean it does not concern students “in their role as students.” The murder of a civil rights worker in Mississippi does affect students here, and so does the strike of migrant workers in California. Both actions are indications of serious faults in American society, and every university must assume the role ofseeing in pointing out and correcting such injustices.

The attack on the DuBois Club of America was of special interest to students, for it directly involved a distinct minority on our campus. Council has taken a progressive and bold stand and it would be a tragic error if the short-sightedness of Carl Weitzman, Rubin Margules or “The Campus” forced a retreat.

Do They Really Care?

Students will be asked to register for the Selective Service Deferrment Test within the next month. They have been urged to take the examination if they feel that their class standing alone would not suffice to grant them a deferment. It is somehow fitting that class standings will not be available until September, while the test is in May. Students who take the test in an attempt to cover all bases, and who do poorly, will be furnishing their local draft boards with additional, and unfavorable, information. The College’s short-sightedness in allowing students to be drafted between May and September on the sole basis of unfavorable test scores, may condemn many youths to life, or to death, in the U.S. Army.

This action is a fitting example of the casual approach the College has taken to the drafting of its students. The Administration has not spoken out against the draft. It has not spoken out against General Hershey’s new student draft policy. It has not attempted to make class ranks available before the test is taken. It has not attempted to ask that special consideration be granted to students until the standings are released. The Administration of this College has done nothing, other than conveniently process forms, to help students facing the draft.

If the Administration has any concern at all for its students, it should speed processing of class standing, so that they could be available in late June.

If the Administration cannot be moved in its lethargy to this great exertion, local draft boards should be asked to give special consideration to the College’s students until September.

Let’s Defeat Apathy

The apathy of students at the College for intercollegiate sports must set new records each year. Only basketball seems to escape the disinterest. Game after game, the soccer and lacrosse teams play before a handful of students. This poor attendance can effectively cripple a team’s morale. Perhaps if an effort were made to publicize the games, more students would attend. Few students are aware of the schedule of athletic events. The movies and concerts shown in Finley Center are advertised with signs plastered throughout the building. Perhaps if the Physical Education Department and the Finley Center Planning Board could get together and work out an effective means of publicity, more students could support the College’s teams.

Looking Backward With Reich

Two years ago Student Council and the student body extended the tenure of Student Government executives from one term to a full year. The change was made so that half of each term wouldn’t be consumed with electioneering and playing politics. Nothing has happened since then to change this, yet SG Secretary Bill Reich is seeking to restore one-semester terms. Council will consider this change tonight.

The passage of this restructuring would be a grave error. Sixteen weeks is not enough time for an executive to enact a meaningful program. The strain of a vigorous campaign twice each school year is nearly as great as that of serving a year-long term.

Reich’s proposal for a student court is also ill-conceived. Few students are mature or responsible enough to be allowed to sit in judgment of their peers. The objective administration of justice cannot be expected at the hands of a few over-emotional politicians.

We hope Council will not waste much time debating these proposals. Too much time in the past has been spent on fruitless debates. Council would do better to construct substantive suggestions than to discuss a return to the past.

Democrats . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

both houses, and 2) A democrat is elected governor.

In last year’s passage of similar bill through House of Representatives Assembly and Senate, a victory was felt by free tuition partisans, since it had been bottled up in the Senate for three years prior to its passage.

William P. Ponsanotte, assemblyman from Manhattan (Dem., Lib.), feels that the bill might get some hereafter unexpected support from New York Republican leaders.

The bill is also on the Democratic platform for 1966.
AN OPEN LETTER ZEUS:
Dec 2nd
Dear Zeus:

(*Kid cool to be around, shooting all at once with that gun you just got for him. Please don't bring it here or we'll get gun shot wounds."

AL and MARION, engaged, there
HOWIB and FLO, pinned, and PAUL and MIMNA engaged.

We're all jumping for joy at all this, but please tell him to go play somewhere else before the rest of us get hit.

Sincerely, The Brothers of
KAPPA PHI OMEGA

AMATEUR RADIO SOCIETY
Will hold final exams for the radiate of W2JI in Room 813 Shepard. All exams will be given on Thursday, December 4th from 10:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M. in Room 813 Shepard.

ANARCHIST DISCUSSION GROUP
Examine the views of F. A. Hayek and other libertarians in the context of the philosophy of human nature. The meeting will be held in Room 505 Mott at 10:00 P.M. All are welcome.

ASSOCIATION FOR COMPUTING MACHINERY
Will present a lecture on computer science in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held from 12:00 to 1:00 P.M. outside of class and open to all.

ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY
Will hold a lecture and discussion on the history of astronomy in Room 212 Shepard. All are welcome.

BAKERY LEV Y CHEMICAL SOCIETY
Will prepare Dr. Lawrence C. Snyder of the New York University Laboratories in Room 355 Shepard. will present a lecture on the applications of chemistry.

BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the biology of the North American Medical College in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

CDUCESIUS
Will present a lecture on the process of developing a scientific theory in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

CARROLL BROWN HELLINIC SOCIETY
Will participate in a Civil Liberties Union in Room 817 Talbot.

CHESS CLUB
Will meet in Room 106 Talbot to play a chess tournament. The tournament will be held on Thursday, December 4th from 12:00 to 2:00 P.M. in Room 106 Talbot.

COMMITTEE TO SUPPORT OUR SOLDIERS IN VIETNAM
Will organize a Pro-Government Rally in Room 814 Owen at 12:00. The rally will be held for the benefit of the American Legion.

CONSERVATIVE CLUB
Will hold a lecture on conservativism in Room 212 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

CORE
Will hold a forum on community organizing in Room 314 Shepard.

CYCLING CLUB
Will hold a lecture on the benefits of cycling in Room 305 Mott. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

EXECUTIVE DEVELOPMENT CLUB
Will meet in Room 305 Mott at 10:00 A.M. to plan a trip to Europe for the executive directors.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE NEW YORK UNIVERSITY LABORATORIES
Will present a lecture on the application of chemistry in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

GEOLOGY SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the geology of the Earth in Room 305 Mott. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

MILITARY SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the military history of the United States in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

PHYSICS SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the physics of the universe in Room 305 Mott. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

PLATOMANIA
Will present a lecture on the philosophy of Plato in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY SERVICE
Will present a lecture on the history of international relations in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

MACHINERY
Will present a lecture on the history of machinery in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

MOTOR SPORT CLUB
Will present a lecture on the history of motor sports in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

MUSIC SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of music in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

NATIONAL MUSICAL POLITICAL SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of political music in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

PICTURES SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of art in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

PRO-AMERICAN SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of Americanism in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

PUBLIC SERVICE ORGANIZATION
Will present a lecture on the history of public service in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

REPUBLICAN SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of republicanism in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

ROCK HOLE SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of rock holes in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

SCHOOL OF POLITICS
Will present a lecture on the history of political science in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

SOCIOLOGY SOCIETY
Will present a lecture on the history of sociology in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

SPORTING CLUB
Will present a lecture on the history of sports in Room 314 Shepard. The lecture will be held on Thursday, December 4th at 3:00 P.M. and will be open to all.

THANKS
For Everything!
Sis Wisses '69
Sakia!
When the College's Outdoor Track Team opens its season at one o'clock this Saturday at Lewisohn Stadium against the Metropolitan State College, Coach Francisco Castro will have only thirty able-bodied athletes on whom to depend. Depth thus becomes the major problem, and this is where Joe Friedman, an example of the unknown athlete, becomes an important part of the track squad.

Joe Friedman is a distance runner. The strength of this year's team lies in its distance runners — but not because of Joe Friedman, Jim O'Connell, Steve Banter, Country Champ and holder of all the College's major distance records, is still number one, the star who will battle the opponents' top scholarship runners for first place throughout the year. Running twenty miles a day every day through the Bronx Zoo, Jim accumulated more distance than boring the decks.

Abe Azin is number two, but he decided to take a year out. Abe's made long enough for him. A perpetual motion machine, Abe qualified to represent the United States in the Macabiah Games in Israel this past summer as the first Jewish finisher in first place in last year's Boston Marathon.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you're a sophomore, but you run it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Your name is Joe Friedman and you're a sophomore, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.

Joe Friedman and your auburn, but when you read it in the newspapers it comes out Mark Friedman, a junior. Your name is Joe Friedman and you start practicing the shot-put this Spring as a short-putter. Joe Friedman's advance to the limelight will come, strangely enough, when his races have already been decided. A mile and a half-mile, his valuable contributions will come with possible second and third place finishes that afford the points that decide between second and third place. In this world where Einstein proved everything is relative, Joe Friedman, who could probably lap any gym class man in the mile, is relegated to obscurity behind the stars. He isn't alone. Neil Liebowitz, John Fick, and Dennis Smith are the other distance runners who don't win the headlines but help win the meets.