To the Students.

FOR nearly two years it has been our privilege to occupy the finest and best equipped collegiate home afforded any student body of the nation, and the City College is today distinguished from the foremost educational institutions only in the matter of social backwardness. The traditions and customs of Eli-Yale and Princeton, the fond recollections that touch the heart strings of of their students and bind them to their Alma Mater, will not always be lacking in the City College, and it is our firm conviction that any movement to inculcate similar spirit will mark the dawn of true greatness for our College. Animated by these sentiments the Student Council has attempted to incorporate the numerous suggestions forthcoming from all quarters. Of necessity such an attempt must be extended over many terms and I devote the following lines only to a brief discussion of the steps the present Council will take in this direction.

It is our purpose to concentrate this term on Freshman-Sophomore customs. The annual Flag Rush is the only established activity of this kind, but it is the intention of the Council to increase the number of such annual inter-class battles from one to three. Already a committee has been appointed to consider the advisability of making preparations for a tug-of-war and to arrange for some other contest. In the meantime it is well for us to consider the advantages to be derived from such inter-class strife. The development of college and class organization is essential to the success of activities of this nature. The Council believes that in activities which bind members of a class together in a mighty effort is the essence of organization itself, and that, given this initial impetus, such class spirit will be acquired as will, insure permanence of organization. That these three customs will touch at the root of college life, namely, organization, can hardly be doubted.

As a second thought regarding these customs the Council had in mind the possible possession of Jasper Oval. It is only a question of time and the City will be called upon to decide as to the wisdom of giving Jasper Oval to the City College or of appropriating it to some other purpose. At that time our chances will depend clearly upon the extent to which the College uses the Oval, and on this ground the Council maintains that its additional use in connection with these customs will serve to strengthen our hold on a priceless athletic field. In closing it might be well to mention that the Council plans to award a victory pennant to the class which succeeds in winning two of the three proposed struggles and in order to secure a fund for this and other purposes the Council urges the class organizations to support the Student Council Tax plan when presented to them. Trusting that the above propositions will meet the unqualified approval of the students, I am

Sincerely,

Robert A. Steps,
President of the Student Council.

The college recently received a collection of mineralogical and archaeological specimens bequeathed to it by Miss M. W. Bruce.

Prof. Thomas A. Storey was recently elected a member of the Society of Experimental Biology and Medicine. Dr. Storey has been re-elected President of the Physical Education Society of New York and vicinity.

---

Mr. William E. B. Starkweather has been granted a leave of absence until February 1, 1910. Mr. Starkweather will be at the Hispanic Museum.

Students' Club.

A meeting of members of the Students' Club was held on the 31st ult. for the purpose of electing officers. Professor Duggan, who was the presiding officer, called upon a representative of the organization committee for a statement as to the purpose of the meeting and the method of procedure. At the conclusion of Mr. Krumwiede's remarks a number demanded the floor and there ensued a heated attack on the "constitutionality" of the constitution. The vehemence of several individuals might be attributed to the approach of Spring weather—perhaps. Professor Duggan finally succeeded in pouring oil on the troubled waters and, after the passage of a motion providing for the appointment of a constitution revision committee, the elections were proceeded with. The officers elected are: Benjamin Friedland, President; Winfred C. Allen, Secretary; and George B. De Luca, Treasurer. Announcement is made that only paid-up members will be permitted to act on the report of the Constitution Revision Committee.

Important Faculty Notice.

Regular examinations for the removal of deficiencies, both those now standing and those which are incurred in June, will be held during the week preceding Commencement instead of in September as heretofore. Any deficiencies not removed at these June re-examinations must be made up by repeating the work in class during the fall term.

By vote of the Faculty,

Carleton L. Brownson;
Dean.

It is our sad duty to announce the death of William Wictorowitz, '09, which occurred on April 7th at the Mt. Sinai Hospital as a result of injuries received in a recent interclass football game. He was a prominent athlete, being catcher on the base ball nine, and an exceedingly popular man. He was a member of the Omega Pi Alpha fraternity. We mourn his loss

To Beautify Our Grounds.

Large contracts have just been awarded for landscape decoration at our College. The work includes sodding and the planting of trees and ivy. Rows of trees will line Convent Avenue and bushes will decorate the plots of grass in front of the buildings. We can also look forward to the day when our buildings will be overgrown with ivy, presenting that enchanting appearance which was the charm of our old home downtown.

Civic Club.

Meetings of the Civic Club are held every other Wednesday at 3 P. M. Membership is open to all students of the College, the only qualification being an interest in civic questions, the study of which is the object of the organization. The constitution of the Club is to be ratified to-day at 3 P. M. At the last meeting, the following officers were elected: President, A. L. Wilbert; Vice-President, M. Taeff; Secretary, O. Beller; Faculty Adviser, Professor Clark.

Dr. Samuel B. Heckman delivered a very interesting address on "Porto Rico and Her Education" at the University Settlement on the 28 ult. Dr. Heckman was for two years assistant commissioner of education in Porto Rico.

At the organ recital on the 31 ult. Professor Baldwin played a selection written by A. Walter Kramer of the Class of 1910. The composition, which was very well received, is entitled "Pastorale Religieuse."

---

The annual elections of the Y. M. C. A. held recently resulted in the following officers: Winfred C. Allen, President; H. S. Warren, Vice-President; Percy Green, Secretary; and William H. Fernschild, Treasurer. On the evening of April 2 Messrs. Krumwiede, and Allen attended a dinner of the Board of Management which was held at the Faculty Club of Columbia University. Mr. Everett P. Wheeler, '56 was one of the speakers.

ATHLETICS.

Baseball.

The "Varsity" baseball team had the New York Teachers' Training School as opponents in the first baseball game of the season on Friday, April 2. The embryo teachers proved but poor adversaries for our boys and let us score as we pleased until rain stopped the uneven contest in the fourth inning, with the score 6-2 in our favor. About one hundred, who had received inside information, saw the game with Columbia University on the following Tuesday, and that one hundred are satisfied that the varsity team will hold its own for the rest of the season despite the fact that they lost.

Columbia, with the advantage of a professional coach, managed to squeeze out a victory through good base running and through taking advantage of our errors. The college outbatted the boys from Morningside but it was concentrated into one inning. In the first session Columbia scored twice on errors. Brown did not give them a hit but he forced a run with the bases full. Rosenblum, first batter for the college, started a rally by knocking a clean single over second; Dub beat out a bunt; Drady sacrificed and De Luca capped the climax by hitting to right field for three bases, sending in two runs and scoring himself on the fumbled return. Praeger singled, and scored on Raggi's base hit bringing a total of four runs for the inning. For a while the varsity held Columbia, but their fielding became ragged as the game progressed. By advantage of these errors Columbia gradually pulled up and drew away from the College, winning by 7-4.

In general the varsity was poor at the field but good at bat. However with a reasonable allowance for nervousness, they played fairly well. De Luca, Rosenblum and Brown deserve special commendation. The latter exceeded expectation and outlasted three Columbia pitchers.

A rumor is a going the rounds to the effect that Streusand intends entering either N. Y. U. or Columbia next fall. You're surely not going to leave us, are you Cap?

Outdoor Interclass Meet.

Favored by fine weather, the first outdoor Interclass track meet of the season brought out a large field of contestants in all events. It was again demonstrated that our Sophomores and Freshmen are an evenly matched pair, with the first half of our Freshmen to-be showing signs of lusty youth. The Sophomore contingent carried off the honors by three points, winning at the last moment from 1912 through the superiority of their relay team. The performances in all events were a marked improvement and give indications of future athletic greatness for the College.

The summary:

220-Yard Dash, Novice.—Won by L. Bogan, 1913; M. Sellig, 1912 second; F. Mills, 1913, third; G. Waldman, 1912, fourth. Time—26 $\frac{1}{2}$  seconds.

440-Yard Handicap.—Won by T. Starbuck, 1911 (10 yards; S. Katz, 1910 (15 yards), second; M. Weinberg, 1912 (22 yards), third; G. Webber, 1911 (scratch), fourth. Time—54 $\frac{3}{8}$  seconds.

2,500-Yard Run, Handicap.—Won by W. Reichardt, 1912 (50 yards); P. H. Groggins, 1911 (scratch), second; G. Frankel, 1912 (30 yards), third; W. Kappis, 1911 (10 yards), fourth. Time—6. 22 $\frac{2}{8}$  seconds.

Running Broad Jump, Handicap.—Won by F. Lattimore, 1911 (scratch), 19 feet 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches; H. Lang, 1912 (2 feet), 18 feet 10 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches, second; M. Price, 1909 (2 feet), 18 feet 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches, third; J. Hyman, 1912 (2 feet), 18 feet, 7 inches, fourth.

Running High Jump, Scratch.—Won by F. Lattimore, 1911, 5 feet 3 inches; Rosenberg, 1912, 5 feet 2 inches, second; J. Rogow, 1912, 5 feet 1 inch, third; W. Roberts, 5 feet, fourth.

16-Pound Shot Put.—Won by B. Praeger, 1911 (9 feet), 35 feet 1 inch; S. King, 1912 (8 $\frac{1}{2}$  feet), 34 feet 3 inches, second; J. Katz, 1910 (7 $\frac{1}{2}$  feet), 34 feet, third; L. Ridgeway, 1912 (4 feet), 32 feet 7 inches, fourth.

One-Mile Interclass Relay—Won by 1911 (Groggins, Weber, Starbuck, Passloff); 1912 (Valentine, Weinberger, Reichardt, Dolan), second; 1910 (Katz, Norman, Truppen, Zorn), third; 1911, second team (Kappis, Goldfield, Gabriel, Greenberg), fourth. Time—3.37 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Individual Championships.

While it can scarcely be claimed, even by the most sanguine, that our amphybians are conquerors, it is safe to claim a champion manager. At the Intercollegiate Individual Championships held in our pool on April 3, Manager Grattan was our only entry to take a first place. He held simultaneously the position of Master of Ceremonies, Announcer and Recording Secretary, with an occasional digression into police duty. Our other entrees were outclassed. Stern finished third in a 100-yard heat won by Shryock of Pennsylvania and Fielding failed to win a place in the fancy dive. Chambers of Princeton won the finals of both the 50-yard and 100-yard swim, Fitzbohm of Yale took the 220-yard swim. Dalrymple of Pennsylvania won the fancy diving and Raines of Yale made the longest plunge. In the Freshman relay event the Princeton youngsters swam away from the Yale bull pups.

No Lacrosse.

On account of insubordination in the ranks, the A. A. has finally decided to cancel the lacrosse schedule. Several of the veteran players who were sure of their positions on the team, failed to report for practice. As Manager Kotok had arranged a hard schedule, it was thought inadvisable to pick a team of raw material. But to let the delinquents play in the regular games would have been unfair to those who came out consistently. It is possible however that the second team will play it's own schedule of games.

Recently there has been organized an Elite Handball Team which is composed of Weisbord, '10, Manager, Eiron, '12, Morris, '12, and Jerry, '12. The team is open to challenge and games have already been arranged with some of the strong Prep and High School teams. Recently the Elite team met the representatives of Boys' H. S. in Brooklyn and made a clean sweep, winning the first two out of three in each series. The scores: Singles—1. Elite 21; B. H. S. 19; 2. Elite 21; B. H. S. 10. Doubles—1. Elite 21; B. H. S. 7; 2. Elite 21; B. H. S. 13.

A Rational Reform.

THE story of David's bout with the "one best bet" of the Philistines is a classic synonym for successful contention against overwhelming odds. Our campaign against the Goliath of the educational system in vogue in this institution may not be comparable to the valiant efforts of the shepherd of Bethlehem; it may be more truly analogous to the proverbial bay of a lonesome canine at the moon. At the same time our pen, "mightier than a sword," could not be wielded in advocacy of a more timely reform than the provisional exemption from examinations. While the venerable preceptors of learning are recovering breath at this astounding heresy, permit us to suggest that it is our intention respectfully to demonstrate that the detrimental features of the present system of examinations at the end of each semester more than outweigh any possible (?) benefits derived.

It is claimed that examinations are beneficial on the ground that (1) a reorganization of knowledge is effected by the review which is made necessary, and (2) a reliable estimate of the student's standing is obtained. In reference to the former contention be it observed that many students do an inconsiderable amount of work during the term and yet cram sufficiently to secure a passing mark on the exam. In this process of cramming there is, for them, no review of familiar learning but rather the necessity of memorizing practically unfamiliar facts and theories. Eminent psychologists are agreed that ideas are suggestible in proportion to (a) their previous intensity, (b) the frequency of their previous recurrence, and (c) their recency. As any wayfarer on the rocky road to knowledge will testify it is impossible to sustain a high degree of efficiency through a prolonged period devoted to the accumulation of multitudinous facts. Moreover, the limited time at the crammer's disposal prevents frequent repetition. The advantage of repetition is greatly diminished by the necessity of repeating facts amid the same associations of environment with the result that they constitute but few links for subsequent associations. Therefore the success of processes of cramming must depend on mere recency of impression rather than on intensity or repetition. But recency is a temporal attribute and by its very nature cannot long exist. Again, cramming does not result in the study of the inter-relationships of topics and sub-topics; it serves another aim, namely, to lay emphasis on the most "important" as being the most likely topics of "inquiry" on the exam paper. Thus tumbles the reorganization argument from its sandy foundations. The second contention that examinations constitute a fair and just criterion of a man's proficiency is obviously fallacious because of the prominence of the element of chance. A man might be proficient in ninety per cent of the term's work in a subject and yet be examined on the remaining ten per cent. This situation occurs more frequently than the converse proposition. Ergo, abolish examinations as at present conducted.

Though encouraged by the loud chorus from the amen corner we feel that, reasonable as would be such a demand, the abolition of semi-annual exams is hardly to be hoped for at present. "Half a loaf is better than none" and our "half loaf" is the provisional exemption from examination of students who have an average of at least eighty per cent in the term's work. The proposed scheme has many merits. Its establishment would (1) provide an incentive to conscientious, daily application; (2) the element of chance entering into an official rating of a man's proficiency would be reduced to a negligible quantity. Dean Brownson's statistics will substantiate this contention, we are confident. And as a logical consequence to these premises the standard of the institution would be raised to a much higher plane. It would be an insult to intelligent beings to enlarge further upon the obvious advantages of this plan to promote the physical and intellectual well being of the student. We go to consult the omens: May Zeus grant that they be favorable to the ends of education!

The following officers were chosen by the City College Club at the annual election held on the evening of March 20th: President, John Hardy, '53; Vice-Presidents, Frederick Hobart, '60 and Joseph L. ## Baseball.

In accordance with the usual custom, the T. H. H. baseball team played its opening games outside of the city. The initial contest against Yonkers' High School April 7 gave the team a chance to show its mettle and show its mettle it certainly did. It was a contest against an umpire as well as against a team, and the score of 7-6 against us fails to indicate our superiority. Hampered by unfair decisions, our boys went in to win in spite of the referee. The first inning was productive of no results on either side but the second found a run squeezed in for Yonkers and the third saw Yonkers score two more. Rallying in the fourth our boys easily tied the score and were only prevented from tallying additionally by the umpire's rank decisions. In the sixth session Yonkers tallied again and in the seventh (abetted by the umpire) three more crossed the plate. In the last two innings our boys made brave efforts (principally against umpire) but only managed to bring in three men, making the final score 7-6 in favor of Yonkers. Newton pitched a strong game while Dudensing last year's hurdler, distinguished himself in left field. The sacks were covered in snappy fashion by three of last year's men—Risley, Adams and Fleck. "Bunny" Rhoades showed great ability at the receiving end.

Our second game was played at Cornwall last Saturday against the New York Military Academy. The teams were very evenly matched and a splendid struggle ensued in which the lead was now on one side and now on the other. Then the unlucky "eighth" came along. With the bases full and the score 7-6 Newton walked three men, Fleck made two costly errors and "Receiver" Rhoades missed a wild pitch, thus affording the soldier boys six additional tallies after T. H. H. had squeezed in a run in the last inning, the final score was seen to be 13-7. However, the team played a very strong game and, continuing at the present rate, should have no trouble with the other high schools.

For some unknown reason, the students of the C Class are very poorly represented in the A. A. This week the Mass Meeting Committee will arrange for a C Class rally, which we hope, will arouse some enthusiasm among our "Freshies."

"Slow but sure" seems to be our motto. Our A. A. membership has increased from 300 to 550 in two weeks. Our rallies seem to produce results.

Our Lacrosse Team was to have played Clinton on April 3, but for some unknown reason the game was forfeited to us. Who ever thought Clinton would crawl!

Little Peoli took third place in the fancy diving contest given by the N. Y. Swimming Association on April 3.
