Students who are pursuing irregular courses may find two of their examinations scheduled for the same day and hour. They are required in all such cases to take the examinations with the lower class, and to be examined in the upper class work at the re-examination sessions.

Charter Day Celebration.

The distinctive feature of last Friday's exercises was the presence of General Webb. The cordial reception accorded him by the Faculty and students alike, bears witness to the high esteem and warm affection which the college still cherishes and will always continue to cherish for its former leader. General Webb arrived at the College at noon and a collation in his honor was served in the Faculty lunch room.

Two keys, symbolic of the welcome with which our former President will always be received at the College, were presented to him by the Faculty. One is a key to the main door of the buildings, the other to the door of the Faculty Reception Room on the fifth floor, and this room is hereafter to be known as the General Webb Room.

The exercises, celebrating the sixty-second anniversary of the granting of the College charter, started shortly after two o'clock with an academic procession into the Great Hall. President Finley read from the Scriptures and then, speaking of what the City College has meant to the hundreds who have gone forth from it, he showed how grateful we should be to the one who was in command of this great college in the days when she was struggling for existence. "The nation will never forget," he said, "the valor of the General on the field of battle, and we will never forget his work for the College." The vast audience, which filled the entire hall and both balconies, greeted this reference to General Webb with long continued applause.

J. H. Schneider, '09, welcomed ex-President Webb in behalf of the students, and then Major Lydecker spoke for the alumni. "General Webb's predominating influence over the students," he said, "turned out manly graduates—men with some of his own manly qualities." Major Lydecker also related the story of General Webb's heroic work at Gettysburg and how valuable his accomplishments as a soldier were to him in his work at the College.

Speeches were also made by Professor Werner and by Trustee Lee Kohns, and a letter from Edward M. Shepard was read. Then, as General Webb rose to speak, the audience could no longer restrain its feelings. The applause lasted for several minutes. Expressing his satisfaction with the progress of the College, the General said that the frequent opportunity which he has had to communicate with President Finley's administration, has given him great pleasure.

Thereupon our new song "Urbs Coronata" was sung for the first time, and in honor of General Webb. An American flag was presented to the College by the Hamilton Post of the G. A. R. President Finley accepted the flag and called for the singing of the National Anthem. Becker played "America" on his cornet and the entire audience sang the first stanza. The impressive ceremony in the great Hall ended with a procession to the campus where the sun-dial was unveiled and the ivy planted.

Planting of the Ivy.

After the exercises in the Great Hall, the Faculty and guests marched to the main entrance on St. Nicholas Terrace to assist in the planting of the ivy brought from West Point. Professor McGuckin performed the ceremony for the Class of '69 in honor of our first President, Horace Webster, who retired in the year of its graduation. Mr. L. E. A. Drummond planted the ivy for the Class of '88, in honor of General Alexander Webb, under whom it graduated. The impressive ceremony ended with a procession of the Faculty and alumni to the campus. Here the magnificent marble sun-dial, presented by the Class of '97, was unveiled. President Finley's thanks, followed by '97's cheers, ended the exercises.

Upon request of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, an organization whose purpose it is to interest college students in Socialism, the CAMPUS will lend out to all students interested a pamphlet issued by the Society and written by George R. Kirkpatrick entitled "the Educated Proletariat." The pamphlet aims to show why all college men should acquaint themselves with Socialism—its aims, principles and progress. Copies of the pamphlet may be borrowed at the CAMPUS office, Room 412, any morning between 8.45 and 9, and also Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Charter Day Contests.

Baseball.

Faculty, 9; Seniors, 9.

No small feature of Charter Day was the annual baseball contest between the Faculty and the dignified Seniors. Both teachers and students covered themselves with dust and glory in the contest on Jasper Field. The feature of the game was, of course, the debut of President Finley as a ball player. He was at the bat once and then he landed on the ball for a beauty to center field. But De Martino had the temerity to get under it. It's a good thing that Dio has only a few weeks' longer at College!

The lords of the class room turned out in force and at first bid fair to make themselves lords of the ball field. The way the Faculty started to hit the ball was a caution. In their first chance at the bat the Professors showed no desire to score and were properly credited with a goose egg. Likewise the Seniors in their turn. In the second inning things were livelier, when Dr. Newton and Mr. Bliss crossed the plate in a thoroughly accomplished manner. Then "Tommy" got busy and tallied, followed shortly afterward by Silberstein and Githens. Then came the grande coupe. With the bases full, Lumley, '08, now a dignified Professor, turned traitor and knocked a home run. From this point on it became a little family hitting party, and, when the totals were figured, it was found that the score was a tie, 9-9.

Dr. Marsh was specially noticed cavorting around the bases in an extremely logical manner, while Mr. Bliss seemed to have benefited by his reading on the subject. Dr. Fuentes exhibited his famous Spanish spitball. Dr. Storey earned much applause for his gymnastic stunts whenever the ball came in the direction of right field, and Dr. Allen was very particular to wear his glove at the right angle. Mr. Neuss also pleased with a pair of new tennis shoes.

The score by innings:

Faculty	0	2	4	1	1	1	—	9
Seniors	0	3	1	1	2	2	—	9

The Tug of War.

Immediately after the Faculty-Senior baseball game, a rope was brought to Jasper Field and laid down according to directions. At one end the Freshmen gathered and at the other the Sophomores. At the signal both bands jumped forward, seized the rope and—it broke. Realizing the impossibility of either procuring a new rope immediately or of holding the tug at some future time, the contest was declared a draw.

At the Gym in the Evening.

An enthusiastic crowd, composed mostly of lower classmen, witnessed the three sets of contests between the Freshmen and the Sophomores, which were assigned for the evening.

First came the cane sprints. The first bout was for lightweights and in this class a terrific struggle was witnessed between Hayman, '12, and Slobodor, '11, which, after five minutes, culminated in a victory for the sophomore. The second bout was for middleweights, and in this contest Cohen, '12, took Johnny Moore, of Marathon fame, by surprise and snatched the cane from him in the short space of 24 seconds. Each class now had a bout to its credit and the excitement was intense. In the heavyweight class were Levinson, '12, and Heskowitz, our Varsity basketballer. For a minute and a half they struggled and then the cane broke. A new cane was supplied and they were at it again. Another halt was called after seven minutes, but now they were fighting to a finish. With a terrific effort Levinson took the cane from "Husky." 1912 had won the first series.

Second on the program was the wrestling. In the lightweights 1912 was represented by our Hindu gym team man, Bhudkenkar. In two and a half minutes he pinned Rosenblatt's shoulders to the mat. In the middle-weight event Schoenfeld, '11, literally threw himself at Borookov, and taking him completely by surprise, secured a fall in fifteen seconds. Borookov, eager to prove his worth, also represented the Freshmen in the heavyweights. However, his work was of no avail against the superior weight of his opponent, Langman. Neither secured a fall within the required ten minutes. And thus the wrestling was declared a draw.

Third and last came the horseback wrestling. The winners of this series would become the possessors of the Victory Banner, for according to the rules, the cane sprints and the wrestling matches each counted three points, while the horseback wrestling series counted five points. Now, 1912 having won the cane sprints, had three points to its credit. The wrestling matches were a draw, hence counted for neither side. Consequently the horseback wrestling was to decide. Of the eleven bouts of this last series, only eight were contested, and of the eight 1911 won four, and four were drawn. A team composed of Langman and Voss competed seven times of the eight for 1911 against the several teams put in the field by 1912, and were instrumental in winning the series for the Sophomores.

At the conclusion of the eighth horseback wrestling bout, the Victory Banner was presented to 1911 by Dean Brownson, and was accepted by Chester Frankel, president of the class. The contests were marked by a fine spirit of rivalry and fair play, one which is rarely seen at the college. We hope to see them annually.

C. C. N. Y. 2; Stevens, 1.

A complete resurrection of our diamond stars was the cause of our first considerable victory in the baseball field. After having lost to Lehigh, St. John's, Columbia and Rensselaer, they played as intelligent and brilliant a game of ball against Stevens as they failed to against their conquerors. This advance in baseball lore was due to the fact that Mr. Holtan had emphasized scientific ball throughout the previous week.

Stevens had a good pitcher, but he was touched for a free pass and two hits in the initial inning, one of them a double by Draddy, which resulted in two runs for the College. Stevens scored one run in the second. From this point onward it was a magnificent battle to prevent scoring, in which both teams succeeded. On several occasions Stevens had opportunities to score, but were prevented by our good team work. Dub at shortstop made a double play unassisted when things were not particularly roseate. A desperate attempt at a home run was nipped in the bud, or rather in full bloom.

Our Foreign Representative.

THE axis of the earth sticks out visibly through the center of each and every town or city," said one who is not an editor and whose dictum may therefore carry weight. The word "college" might very appropriately have been placed in the same category with self-important municipalities. We are justly proud of our Alma Mater as an institution of learning, but when special honors are bestowed upon her preceptors there is no limit to our conceit. It is a matter for self-congratulation with us that the United States Government has selected a member of our Faculty as one of a commission of seven to invite the International Congress of Applied Chemistry to hold its eighth meeting in this country in 1912. To Professor Baskerville, on whom this mark of distinction has been conferred, we extend our most cordial felicitations and best wishes for the successful consummation of the commission's undertaking. The professor will sail Saturday to attend the seventh session of the Congress, and he is chairman of the committee on Analytical Chemistry. Dr. Baskerville is in one sense a local representative and we are confident that his mission will materially enhance the prestige of the City College abroad.

by Miller in centerfield. A rapid relay to Ettinger and thence to Polley caught the aspiring hero at the plate. Nor was Stevens entirely outclassed in brilliancy, for the most sensational play of the contest was pulled off by their centerfielder, who caught Praeger's sure homer with his finger tips. Ettinger at second played a grand game and De Luca was very steady in the box. But the universal comment was that they all played like veteran professionals.

The first of the series for the interclass lacrosse title was played last Wednesday afternoon on Jasper Field between our two strongest aggregations, the Seniors and the Sophomores. The teams were very evenly matched, despite the fact that 1909 boasted of a number of 'Varsity men.

The contest commenced at a fast clip, with 1909 showing superior form. Neither side scored; however, until, after about six minutes of play, the Seniors secured their first point through the accidental kicking of the ball by one of the Sophs into the 1909 goal. Shortly afterwards, Jimmy Hughes, having brought the ball the entire length of the field in spectacular fashion, passed it to Geismar, who made 1909's second goal. Despite '09's splendid passing and Hughes' marvellous work at center, no further tallies were added.

In the second period the Senior aggregation seemed somewhat worn out by their previous efforts, while 1911 exhibited an all around improvement, particularly in team play. After about four minutes' scrimmaging,

Pike secured the ball, and, working it down the whole field, scored 1911's only tally. During the remainder of the half, the Soph's showed up splendidly, although no additional scoring was done, Mayer's defensive work was particularly commendable, his stopping of six or seven of '09 attempts to score earning him much applause. Lewis, Gell, Mayer and Pike were easily the stars for 1911, while Hughes, Geismar and Kutner did well for '09.

A. A. Elections.

The A. A. elections held last Friday resulted as follows: I. Kaplan, President; L. Praeger, Secretary, and M. Judelsohn, Treasurer. There will be a re-election to-day for Vice-President between A. Katz and M. Duffy; for Assistant Treasurer between R. Toeplitz and G. Macpherson, and for Property Man between J. Perlman and N. Ettinger. The re-election will be held in the small room next to the Curator's office on the main floor, from 11 to 1 o'clock to-day.

Next Sunday Dr. Guthrie will debate with Mr. George R. Kirkpatrick, at the Brooklyn Philosophical Society's headquarters, at South Eighth Street and Drigg's Avenue, Brooklyn. The subject of the debate will be "Socialism."

Graduates and former students of Boys' High School, of Brooklyn, will find it of advantage to call on Dr. Mead in Room 128 at their earliest convenience.

T. H. H., 3; Curtis, 4.

Over on Staten Island on Thursday, T. H. H. lost to Curtis in the first P. S. A. L. game. It was one of those of the "heart disease" order. The Harris men started out finely, playing good ball throughout the game until the last inning, when Dudensing tried to throw the ball into the ocean. Newton pitched fine ball and at no time could the Curtis boys touch him. "Doc" also got two clean hits. Up to the ninth inning, the game was ours. But in the last half the trouble started. Bailey, with one out, was given a base on balls. On Maloy's infield hit, Bailey went out at second. Then Ripley rolled one to Nagle, who threw the ball without stopping to think where it was going, with the consequence of a tie score and a man on third. Here Tappan got up and drove the ball to deep left, where Dudensing made a fine catch. Alas! he threw the ball about a mile over Diver's head, and the game was over. As a team, however, our work was consistent, and the boys have still a lot of "stick-to-it" left.

Pike secured the ball, and, working it down the whole field, scored 1911's only tally. During the remainder of the half, the Soph's showed up splendidly, although no additional scoring was done, Mayper's defensive work was particularly commendable, his stopping of six or seven of '09 attempts to score earning him much applause. Lewis, Gell, Mayper and Pike were easily the stars for 1911, while Hughes, Geismar and Kutner did well for '09.

The Inter-Class Swimming Meet has been approved, and final arrangements are being made. Entries can be filed with Rogers. There will be the following events: 25-50 and 100-yard races, and a 200 foot race for a relay of four men. The committee is trying to obtain the use of the tank, so that there will be some chance for practice before the meet.

On May 15 the Swimming team is going to Philadelphia to take part in the meet for the Championship of the Middle and Eastern States. Our boys are entered in every event except the plunge. A fine trophy is to be presented to the winning team. The school's heartiest wishes for success go with the men.

BROKE?

No City College man need be financially broke if engaged with Aluminum Cooking Utensil Co. during the summer.

$2048.42 profit is a record made with our goods in 42 days last summer by D. A. McClain, of Harvard University.

Seventy-five men made an average profit of $12.35 per day during June, July and August, 1908.

In the same period of time, the average profit of all our salesmen was $6.92 per day. We had over 2,700 college men engaged during last summer. Common every day hard sense led them to realize the difference between an actual household necessity and those things for which there is no real demand.

For particulars see S. R. Banks, 98 John street, or care Aluminum Cooking Utensils Co.

A demonstration will be given Friday afternoon, May 14th, in the CAMPUS Office, Room 412, at 3 P. M.

This is an exceptional opportunity for those desiring profitable employment during the summer.
