To the Editors of THE CAMPUS:
May this new paper help to make and keep our campus on the heights of New York the brightest, cleanest, wholesomest spot in all the city, and the place of best friendship and happiest memories.

Sincerely,

JOHN H. FINLEY.

The Plan of The Campus.

Oh! news that is breezy, but news that is news
To be told in a way that will students enthuse,
Told (very quickly, before it is lost
In the mazes of time) at a nominal cost;
Society items and news of the class
Heard in the corridors, heard on the grass—
Full notes of Athletics (it's come here to stay),
All told in a bright but a sensible way;
Diamond and gridiron notes you'll not lack
With what boys are doing on field and on track;
Editorials? Certainly, as snappy as can be
Of interest to students, from all bias free,
Above all, opinions, plainly expressed
On subjects we think will suit students the best.—
And jokes that have humor and maybe some verse (Yes! better than this—there could hardly be worse!)

In short, of the news we'll act as the hub
With spokes stretching out both to senior and sub.
When the first issue's read, we feel you will seek Eagerly, too, for THE CAMPUS next week.

THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

"For the Betterment of College and Student Activities."

OPPOSITE we reprint the first page of the first issue of THE CAMPUS. We are satisfied that we have put forth every effort to follow the ambitious plan our prophet set for us in our first attempt, in September, 1907. In approaching our ideals, we have been aided not a little by the kind encouragement of many of the Faculty and Alumni and by the generous support of the students. In consequence we were able to overcome the many difficulties that beset our early existence and to accumulate a small sum with which to incorporate ourselves and thus assure the perpetuity of THE CAMPUS.

We have set aside the time-honored principle that college publications are mere business propositions to be run for the profit of the managing board of editors. It has been our aim to identify ourselves as a college activity in the same sense that the societies and college shows are college activities. Our purposes are as set forth in the articles of incorporation which we append—"The accumulation of a fund from the profits . . . which fund shall be used to aid, foster, maintain, promote, realize or encourage any aim which shall go towards the betterment of College and student activities This corporation is NOT organized for profit."

We must beg our readers' indulgence for this seeming self-praise. But during the three and one-half years of our existence we have severely refrained from speaking about ourselves and airing our "policies." The editors have been content to let their work speak for them. It is only because we desired to acquaint the College more intimately with our material progress, that we digress for this once from our custom.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF

THE CAMPUS ASSOCIATION

WE, the undersigned residents of the City, County and State of New York, desirous of forming a corporation under the Laws of the State of New York, pursuant to the provisions of the Membership Corporations Law, do hereby certify:

FIRST. The name of the corporation shall be THE CAMPUS ASSOCIATION.

SECOND. The purposes for which said corporation is to be formed are as follows:

The publication of a newspaper called THE CAMPUS, at The College of the City of New York, and the carrying on of all those further activities necessary and proper for the publication of the said paper.

The accumulation and holding of a fund from the profits of the said newspaper, which fund shall be used to aid, foster, maintain, promote, realize or encourage any aim which shall go towards the betterment of college and student activities at The College of the City of New York, or for any lawful purpose or purposes not contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions heretofore mentioned. This corporation is not organized for profit.

THIRD. The said association shall have all the powers of similar membership corporations created under and by the Membership Corporations Law of this State.

FOURTH. The territory in which said corporation's operations are to be principally conducted is to be the State of New York.

FIFTH. The principal office of the said corporation is to be in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan.

The subscribers to these articles of incorporation are Fred Zorn, June, '10; Bernard A. Shalek, February, '10; Louis Ogust, February, '10; Jacob Hoffmann, June, '10, and Charles S. Brisk, June, '10. Louis Mayers, February, '10, is a charter member of the Association.

We observe that a considerable number of graduates still frequent the Senior Alcove. Is this due to love of Alma Mater, or——?

We Told You So!

The hurry and commotion about the alcoves last week represented one of the interesting phases of class activities. Disputations were the order of the day. The persuasive arguments of the candidates and their workers, resulted in a babel of tongues, highly exciting to the participants and listeners. As we go to press, the results of the elections are:

June 1911—J. Schapiro and S. L. Samuels, tie for President; G. Edwards, Vice-President; R. Rubenstein, Secretary; H. Cooper, Treasurer; J. Rosenberg, Marshal; M. I. Aronson, Athletic Manager; M. L. Jacobs, Poet; S. Bischoff, Prophet; L. Blumenfeld, M. Hirsch, S. K. Rapp and A. Sohmer, Student Council.

February 1912—D. R. Bernstein, President; W. M. Finger, Vice-President; Secretary, L. Englander; Treasurer, E. Hayman; Athletic Manager, S. Kraft; Marshal, M. Z. Bungard; Poet, R. C. Whitford; Student Council, V. Bopp, H. Levitt, S. E. Perlman and S. Valenstein.

June 1912—L. Friedman, President; S. Miller, Vice-President; M. Cohen, Secretary; B. Frumberg, Treasurer; E. R. Jacobs, Marshal; S. Frank, Athletic Manager; M. Hochenberg, Historian; E. T. Frankel, P. Leiboff and J. Shientag, Student Council.

February 1913—H. J. Newman, President; I. Isler, Vice-President; G. Isaacson, Treasurer; A. Gordon, Marshal; A. L. Glassenberg and L. J. Mutterperl, Student Council.

June 1913—President, I. Weinstein; Vice-President, E. W. Stitt, Jr.; Secretary, F. R. Dieuaide; Student Council, M. Magui, and T. I. Schiff and H. S. Schulman, tie; Treasurer, I. Raskin; Historian, B. Meyer; Athletic Manager, G. Siebern; Marshal, A. Thomas, February 1914—M. H. Benedek, President; M. Mosher, Treasurer; M. Glück, Secretary; H. Tassinari, Athletic Manager; H. Willbach and H. Wolfson, Student Council.

The Council Convenes.

The snap and earnestness with which the first meeting of the Council took place last Friday afternoon gives promise of the continuation of its good work. With S. K. Rapp, '11, the newly elected President in the chair, the business of the meeting was carried through with dispatch. The other officers who were elected are Solomon E. Perlman, '12, Vice-President; J. Schientag, '12, Secretary; Richard Stern, '11, Cheer Leader. The Assistant Cheer Leader, who must be a member of the Junior Class, will be voted for at the next meeting. Candidates are requested to submit their nominations to the Executive Committee. Professor Downer was re-elected Faculty Treasurer.

Among the several matters considered by the Council was the letter of condolence to ex-President General Webb's widow, which appears elsewhere in this issue. The President was empowered also to investigate the allegation that "cheating is a common practice, etc."

A word to new Councilors may not be inapropos. The present Council has a tremendous amount of work to do. Only a very limited time is available in which to complete this work thoroughly. Attendance at meetings should therefore be regular and prompt. The practice of sending proxies should be discouraged as far as possible, for proxies are at best but poor substitutes who are not versed in the methods of the Council, nor are they expected to act judiciously upon measures with which they are little or not at all acquainted and the purposes of which they probably do not understand.

Commencement Honors.

At Commencement, M. Daniell Alperin, '12, was heralded as the winner of the Prize of the Board of Trustees for the best oration. Solomon E. Perlman, '12, was awarded the Drummond Prize for the second best oration while the Roemer Prize for the best poetry declamation went to Selig Hecht, '13. The awards of the various other prizes were noted by us in last week's issue.

Marks Neidle and Lorenz Reich of the class which recently graduated were nominated by the Faculty for fellowships in Science and Art, respectively.

ATHLETICS.

Lavender vs. Mustard.

Zinovoy didn't have to go to sleep and wake up to find himself famous; he was famous before he dropped his weary head on the welcome pillow. Seven field goals in a single game is nothing to be sneezed at. However, lest we encourage a case of rapid cranial development, let us pass on to a scientific investigation of Rouge. It has been the common belief that "rouge" refers to the peculiar tint of Louis Friedman's hirsute adornment. But an etymological investigation has unearthed the astounding fact that "rouge" is a combination of two Saxon words ro=basket and uge=ball. This may sound like random wandering, but it is only the train of thought called up by the Rochester game last Thursday night.

The game resembled in many ways a lavender-and-mustard-colored comet. It started off with a rush that was next to impossible to maintain for any length of time. Zinovoy at once loomed into prominence. From the very beginning the guarding of Rouge and Propper was unexcelled, speaking in the language of our advertisers. They didn't stop at anything to stop a Rochester man, and in their efforts they showed varying degrees of affection toward their opponents. In the second half Propper showed the spectators one of the prettiest dribbles that has ever been perpetrated on our court. With the whole Rochester team around him, he dribbled the ball the length of the court, shot a goal, and then grinned. Soon after Zinovoy hooked up, shoe to shoe, with an up-State man and the game was discontinued while they sat on the floor and were parted. Kaplan's speed and good judgment helped a great deal towards our victory. And Frank Friedman lived up to the reputation that is inseparably attached to his cognomen.

Finding that they were kindly and firmly (sometimes strenuously) restrained from coming near their basket, the Rochesterians tried several shots from mid-field and caged a few of the kind that does one's heart good. We were all surprised to see Coach Palmer send in Levitt and Storfer as substitutes at the very end. As the time-keeper announced that the game was over the score stood 29 to 17, and a happy throng poured through the oak portals of the gymnasium. The line up:

C. C. N. Y.—29

Rochester—17

D. Kaplan R. F. Kaiser, Schoen
 G. Zinovoy, Levitt . . L. F. Fields
 F. Friedman, Storfer . . C. Neary
 L. Friedman R. G. Moscowitz, Dunn
 H. Propper L. G. H. Edwards

Goals from field—Kaplan 2, Zinovoy 7, L. Friedman 1, Propper 2, Kaiser 1, Schoen 1, Fields 1, Moscowitz 1, H. Edwards 1.

Goals from foul—L. Friedman 5, Neary 7.

Referee—Mr. Deering. Umpire—Mr. Melitzer. Time-keeper—F. Mannheimer. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

To-morrow evening in our pool will take place the long-awaited triangular meet, in which Columbia, Amherst and City College will participate. This is not on the inter-collegiate schedule, and therefore A. A. members will not be able to make use of their regular cards. Tickets will cost twenty-five cents for A. A. men.

The following night our 'Varsity swimming and water-polo teams will journey to Philadelphia to try their strength against the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications will be received for the positions of Assistant Baseball Manager and Assistant Tennis Manager. Only members of the June '12 and February '13 classes are eligible.

Lovers of the weed will kindly restrain themselves until they leave the gymnasium, and then light up, if they care to.

YOU?

In the near future, we shall submit to the students a ballot whereon they will vote for the most popular athlete of the year, and for two men, not necessarily undergraduates, who have done most during the year to promote athletics at the College. The several choices will be noted in the 1912 Microcosm.

Another Drenching.

In a close and exciting meet held at Princeton, N. J., our swimmers were defeated by the Orange and Blacks on February 13th by a score of 41 to 12. All of the events were warmly contested, although this is not indicated by the score. In almost all of the races we were in the lead at one time or another, but invariably were beaten out in the stretch.

As in all of our former meets of the present season, we had one man who came home a winner. In this case it happened to be Fielding who saved us from complete disgrace. He captured the fancy dive for us, Berman of our team coming in second. Princeton, however, swam away from us in the 220 yard. In the 50 yard swim Coughlin led by about two yards until he came to the turn, where he lost a couple of yards. How close this race was may be better appreciated when we state that between Gosnell, the winner, and Coughlin, the third

Trials for Bates Debate.

OWNSEND Harris Hall has been selected as the scene of our second debate with Bates College, to be held Friday evening, April 28th. The subject treats of the economic advantages to the United States of the reciprocity treaty as proposed by the Joint Commission at Washington. Trials will be held the first week of March, and six men are to be selected, four of whom will ultimately represent the College. It is unnecessary to urge the importance of this debate. As an all-college affair it is bound to stand out as the banner event of the year. A victory will mean much to the College and to the city; another defeat will be nigh irreparable. Every student has some debating ability within him and should feel proud that he is given the opportunity to test that ability upon such an occasion. Come out for the trials and Professor Palmer and his associates will gauge your worth.

As there was no session last Wednesday and again yesterday, yesterday's schedule of recitations will be followed to-day. Regular work will be resumed Friday morning.

The Council to Mrs. Webb.

The following letter was sent by the Student Council to the widow of General Webb:

"Since it has pleased the Almighty God to remove from their midst their beloved ex-President, General Alexander Stewart Webb, one who always showed the deepest interest in the College, its students and its activities, one towards whose ideals of manhood, justice and honor they have ever striven, and to whom they are in great measure indebted for their present prosperity, the students of the College in Council assembled are desirous of expressing their deep sympathy with you in your great bereavement."

Washington's Birthday Observed in Paris.

But four lectures remain to be given by President Finley at the Sorbonne. The last of these will be delivered March 1. He will then devote his time principally to traveling among the Provincial Universities. Tuesday, Dr. Finley's subject was, "The Building of the Newest Commonwealths". Yesterday our President led in the observance of Washington's Birthday in Paris by speaking upon "Washington and the Great Valley."

Discipline.

The present lower "C" class numbers 600. Of these students, 262 are in attendance at the Annex in 23rd Street. That the authorities of T. H. H. mean to maintain the high standards of scholarship which have always been associated with the College, is evidenced by the fact that 110 students were expelled last term from the "B" and "C" classes for having incurred deficiencies in excess of ten hours.

In this connection it is to be recalled that the bug bear eight week "probation" period which is still very much feared by lower "C" boys was instituted by General Webb. Indeed, most of the disciplinary measures, including the old "section book," were brought into operation by our stern second president in whom the traditions of West Point were ever ripe.

47,239 Text Books.

It is difficult for students to appreciate the tremendous amount of work that is required to manage the book repository, considering how they fume and howl when called upon to make little adjustments here and there in their text book accounts. We can assure our readers that Mr. Anderson's position is not an enviable one, especially during and immediately following the examination period. An invited peep into Mr. Anderson's records revealed some astonishing figures. For example, it was found that the College possesses no less than 47,239 text books and this estimate does not include 4,000 volumes in use at the Annex in the old "Chapel". Furthermore it was discovered that our text-book lore is derived from just 343 different texts which, if we allow ten books to a foot of shelf, might be installed in about seven of Dr. Eliot's latest and improved "five-foot" libraries. (Let our readers not draw any irrelevant inferences as to the value of a seven years' college course because as many shelves may house the requisite "knowledge".)

It is interesting also to note that the English Department surpasses all others in the number of books it imposes upon its students! An accurate estimate places the figure at 8494. The French Department is a close second with 8011 "readers, grammars, etc.," while the Department of Music possesses but 40 texts. Yet what a world of harmony their fewness spells! The several departments and the number of their text-books are given here: Chemistry, 2059; English, 8494; French, 8011; German, 4265; Greek, 2339; History, 3080; Latin, 4616; Mathematics, 3237; Natural History, 966; Philosophy, 1662; Physics, 2765; Political Science, 1532; Spanish, 997; Music, 40; Education, 2069; Italian, 214; Public Speaking; 893.

Victor over Stevens Institute in the Intercollegiate chess tourney, our team is in an excellent position to bring the chess trophy to the College. It defeated the players from Hoboken by a score of $3\frac{1}{2}$ games to $\frac{1}{2}$. Rosowsky, Meuser and Hacker succeeded in winning their games from Skinner, Zucker and J. Smith respectively, while Eolis drew with Staeglitz.

Explosives, Etc.

Professor Whitaker's lecture last Friday afternoon upon the subject, "The Chemist in Practical Life," proved most instructive and interesting. The three other lectures arranged for by Professor Baskerville are as follows: March 3, Mr. T. J. Parker, Sales Manager of the General Chemical Company, "Chemical Economics in Manufactures;" March 24, Dr. Arthur M. Comey, Chief Chemist of the Research Laboratory, du Pont de Nemours Powder Company, "Testing of Explosives"; April 7, Col. B. W. Dunn, U. S. A. (retired) Chief Inspector of Explosives for the American Railway Association, "Protection Against Explosion in the Transportation of High Explosives". The last two lectures will be illustrated throughout. Lectures begin, according to the program issued by the Chemistry Department, at 2:20 P. M. All students are invited to attend.

"The Jews of Various Lands."

Through the courtesy of the Jewish Community of New York, the Menorah Society has been enabled to obtain a series of eight lectures, illustrated with stereoptican views on the "Jews of Various Lands." Each of these lectures is to be delivered by an authority who, through his intimate knowledge of the country under his discussion, will be eminently fitted to make the lecture highly interesting and instructive. Among others, Dr. Richard Gottheil, Professor of Semitics at Columbia, will deliver two lectures on "The Jews of the Orient." The first of this series, "The Jews of Roumania," by Dr. G. Wolfsohn, will be given to-day at 3:15 P. M., in Room 306. All are invited to attend.

A Coming Star.

Dr. Taaffe has found a gem of a "lady star" for the Varsity Show in a Lower Freshman named Leinlein. This young Thespian, who will help make the evening of March 25th a memorable one in City College theatricals, contributed not a little to the production of the excerpt from "She Stoops to Conquer," which was part of the Commencement program of the Class of February 1911, T. H. H.

Social Activities.

On Friday evening, Feb. 10th, Phreno held the first of a series of smokers, the result of a desire on the part of its members to promote greater sociability. Before, during and after refreshments, things were "going some," and from a digestive, oratorical and social standpoint the affair was a great success.

Clio held its second meeting of the term last Friday evening and discussed plans for its sixtieth anniversary celebration. Among the literary numbers was a reading from the life of General Webb, written by Major Lydecker, '71. Owing to a counter attraction in the gym., the all-society debate, on the question of reciprocity with Canada, scheduled for to-morrow night, has been postponed to the evening of March 3rd. All students are invited to attend.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual Spring Dance of the Newman Club which will be held at the Elsmere, on Friday evening, April 21. Friday evening, March 3, the Reverend Gleason, Chaplain, U. S. N., will deliver the regular monthly lecture of the Club in Room 105.

The officers of the Zionist Society, elected for the coming term, are: A. M. Dushkin, President; M. L. Jacobs, Vice-President; L. Kraft Secretary; E. J. Drachman, Treasurer; M. Isaacs, Editor.

The Cercle Jusserand has elected the following officers: president, J. Raphael; vice-president, E. Obstfeld; secretary, M. A. Meyer; program executive, H. Shulman.

Coming Into the Fold.

The Sophomores are slowly coming into the fold of the subscribers to the 1912 Microcosm. In this they are showing their appreciation of the endeavors of "Mike's" editors to make next year's annual an all college publication. The Freshmen are not so responsive. D. R. Bernstein, '12, maybe found in alcove 4 where he will accept nominal deposits upon subscriptions.

man, there was a distance of but one yard. Eisele's defeat also was rather unexpected. He led in the 100 yard swim until the very end, where he lost by a few yards. In the plunge we had very hard luck. Mayer was ahead until his very last chance, when his wind "gave out," and he also returned to the competitors' bench a defeated man. One consolation Mayer may have is that his Princeton opponents had to be pumped full of oxygen in order to outplunge him.

In the water polo game we were also defeated. But, hush—we scored. Yes, we finally did make a couple of points. But this was purely an accident. It is said that Stern, having possession of the ball and seeing a husky Princetonite advancing upon him, became so frightened and excited that he tried to get rid of the ball, and so threw it away. By mere luck it hit the goal-post, and we were credited with our first two points of the season. The final score was 22-2. The summaries:

Relay Race, 800 Feet—Won by Princeton, A. McLanahan, D. J. Smith, Green, Wight; C. C. N. Y., Nussbaum, Stern, Coughlin, Eisele, second. Time, 2.48.

Fancy Dive—Won by Fielding, C. C. N. Y., 158½ points; Berman, C. C. N. Y., 148½ points, second; Wight, Princeton, 147 points, third.

50-Yard Swim—Won by Gosnell, Princeton; R. M. Green, Princeton, second; Coughlin, C. C. N. Y., third. Time, 29 seconds.

220-Yard Swim—Won by Cross, Princeton; Brown, Princeton, second; Stern, C. C. N. Y., third. Time, 2.51 1-5.

Plunge—Won by Barnett, Princeton, 59½ feet; Barry, Princeton, 58 feet, second; Mayer, C. C. N. Y., third, 56½ feet.

100-Yard Swim—Won by Cross, Princeton; Gosnell, Princeton, second; Eisele, C. C. N. Y., third. Time, 1.05 2-5.

Referee, F. P. Currier, City Athletic Club. Starter, Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton. Judges, O. C. Seykel, Lawrenceville; R. J. McCormick, C. C. N. Y. Timers, J. Goldie, Princeton; C. C. Button, Lawrenceville.

T. H. H. NOTES

Basketball.

Owing to the fact that we were not allowed the use of the gym, we have been rather unsuccessful in basketball. Last week Stamford High defeated us 32-20.

About the same time our second team defeated P. S. No. 171, 13-7. As usual, M. Simberg starred.

Swimming Notes.

The Erasmus Meet, scheduled for Saturday night, February 18, had to be cancelled, owing to the failure to secure the tank for that evening.

Montclair Academy will be our opponents this Saturday evening at Montclair.

Notes.

Third place was what our 100 lb. relay team, consisting of Hauser, Solomon, Neulinger and Will Cowan, took in the Poly-Prep meet of February 11; and this, in the face of the most bitter opposition our lads encountered.

A rumor circulating through T. H. H. has it that an out-door meet will be held in the Spring. Let's hope this does not go the way of all rumors.

Judging from the advance sale of the A. A. tickets to date, the number sold this term will equal, if not exceed that of last term. Better hurry up and get yours.
