Council Reports.

THE earnestness which dominated the Student Council's first business meeting reflects credit upon the men composing that body. Ex-President Reich's report was read in which he showed that the last term was the most successful in the history of the Council, from a financial, legislative and executive standpoint. Julius Drachsler, chairman of the Curriculum Committee, gave a thorough and intensely interesting report upon the effects of the present curriculum upon the students. After an extensive investigation, the committee found that this problem is perhaps the most serious which the College has ever dealt with. "In the opinion of the committee," the report goes on to say, "the fundamental reason for the growing dissatisfaction with the curriculum is not so much the amount of work as a disproportionate amount of work laid upon students. The common opinion, for example, is that in certain courses too much work is expected within a definite time. As a result of this, too little time is left for other equally difficult subjects." The report shows how this increased burden produces a system which is often "contemptuously, but many times thoughtlessly called 'cramming.'"

Professor Winslow gave his class in Municipal Sanitation a treat yesterday, in the nature of a trip to the Mt. Vernon Sewage Disposal Works. Next Tuesday, a trip will be made to the garbage incinerator at New Brighton, Staten Island.

A Senator At Last.

With an attendance which gives promise of a most successful term, the Civic Club held its first meeting of the year last Thursday afternoon. A letter from the Secretary of the Inter-collegiate Civic League commending the society's excellent work of last year, was read by President Eisenberg. The program committee hopes to be able to invite statesmen of nation wide prominence to address the society, provided the membership is increased to one hundred and fifty men. To-morrow afternoon at 3:30 P. M. in Room 306, the second meeting of the society will be held, at which ten members will be selected to act as delegates to the I. C. L. convention, which is to take place at Columbia University, April 6th and 7th. To-morrow afternoon's program will consist of a sharp conflict between the Albany insurgents and the caucus followers over the choice of a Senator from New York State. If time permits, the members hope to relieve the deadlock by electing the man "pre-eminently fitted, etc." to represent New York at Washington. All students of the College are eligible to membership regardless of class or course.

A Busy Society.

The past week was a very active one for the Menorah Society. On Wednesday Dr. Kaplan lectured on the Bible. In the evening the organization meeting of the Menorah Council was held, the body which is to take care of all of the legislative and executive business of the society. On Thursday Dr. De Sala Poole delivered an illustrated lecture on the "Jews of England" which was deservedly received with great applause. The week's activity was closed by Dr. Magnes' lecture on Friday.

Two lectures are to be given this week. To-day at 1:15 P. M. sharp, the third of the series of illustrated lectures on the "Jews of Various Land" is to be delivered by Prof. Richard Gottheil of Columbia, upon the subject, "The Jews of the Orient."

All are warmly invited to attend.

A Wagner Program.

Before an audience that completely filled the Great Hall, galleries, platform, aisles, and even the platform steps, Professor Baldwin gave his annual Wagner program last Sunday afternoon. His interpretation of the great German master called forth repeated rounds of enthusiastic applause. His playing of the "Liebestod" gave sympathetic expression to the great pathos and beauty that is so characteristic of Tristan and Isolde. Professor Baldwin also played parts from Lohengrin Die Meistersinger, Die Gotterdammerung, and Parsifal.

The Debate.

With a small number of prospective candidates present, the try-outs for the Bates debate were held last Friday evening. The judges were Professor Palmer, and Drs. Redmond and Freeburg. As a number of candidates were prevented from appearing, the trials were continued on Monday. The names of the successful candidates will be announced in our next issue.

A Serious Danger.

If the Juniors who are subscribers of the 1912 Microcosm do not visit the "Mike's" photographer by this Sunday they will be seriously in danger of having their pictures omitted. It was only out of consideration for a number of them who were not clear as to the final date that the Business Manager extended the time to the end of this week. Mr. Bernstein also requests that the societies and class organizations arrange with him for the taking of their pictures.

An English Library.

Students of English literature will read with pleasure of the English Department's success in securing a library of its own. At present, Mr. Compton is busily engaged in cataloguing the books. Those students who are in immediate need of any books, may secure them by applying in Room 119.

Paris And Oxford.

In the regretted absence through illness of Father Gleason, U. S. N., who was to have addressed the Newman Club last Friday evening, the club was very fortunate in being able to secure an equally popular speaker in Dr. James J. Walsh, dean of the medical school of Fordham University, who very obligingly came at short notice to address the large audience gathered in the Physics lecture room. His subject was "The Scientific Universities of the Middle Ages." The whole lecture was full of facts, startling to many people, especially in regard to the extent of the thorough-going education which at Paris or Oxford or Bologne, in the thirteenth century, was open to the poorest classes. In fact, the numbers who availed themselves of educational opportunities were greater in proportion than in New York to-day.

Golden Prosperity.

A fifty dollar prize is probably too great a burden for a single Senior to bear. This was realized by Golden, '12, who forthwith, one afternoon last week, invited a party of his classmates to join him in an impromptu ice cream and soda festival at Gruver's. Upon adjourning, the company voted unanimously that their host was the most popular man in—Arts II!

The plans for the new home of the Chemists' Club in 41st Street near Fifth Avenue, make provision for a number of "University Rooms." Prominent universities both in this country and abroad, will be represented. Mr. Jerome Alexander and Mr. Albert Plant, both Alumni, have assumed charge of the fitting up of the City College room.

The Rivals.

If you want good seats for the show on March 25th, get your tickets immediately. Since Monday, the committee has been overwhelmed with requests for tickets, and the prospects for a crowded house are bright. Do not delay or you may find yourself left out in the cold.

ATHLETICS.

Victorious.

Before as large a crowd as ever witnessed a swimming meet in our pool, the Lavendar and Black triumphed over the Red and White. The point score was 38—15. This meet was for the purpose of deciding just who would and who would not occupy last place in the Inter-collegiate League, and it was the good fortune of our swimmers to come out ahead. The result of this meet gives the college fifth place. It was only by the hardest kind of work on the part of our swimmers, plungers, and divers, that we were enabled to do so. Every man swam as if his life depended upon the result. It was a treat to see Coughlin and Eisele chopping their way through the water to victory.

In the relay race every man on the team did good work. Nussbaum, Fielding and Coughlin each kept on even terms with his opponents, and Eisele, (our anchor man) turned the trick for us. The fancy dive was also won by our boys, Berman and Fielding finishing in the order named. Although the latter did not get first place he made one dive which brought down the house, to put it mildly. This was the salmon dive, which he executed perfectly. In the 50 yard race, Coughlin finished in the best time he ever made in competition,—28 2-5 seconds for the fifty is not to be overlooked. Needless to say Eisele won the 220 yard race for us, with Kemmerer third. This was the latter's first try at intercollegiate swimming. In the plunge Mayer came in second, being nosed out by Stanwood of Cornell. The 100 yard, however, was the most exciting race of the day. The four competitors swam very close to one another for almost the whole century; but Coughlin brought his second five points to the college, by making a beautiful "spurt." Nussbaum came in second.

The water-polo game, we lost, but only by the most respectable score of the season, 5—0. The first half which ended 0—0, was merely anticipatory of the excitement attending the second half of the game. The ball kept see-sawing up and down the pool, both teams coming very close to their opponents' goal-posts, but neither being able to score. Every man played a good game, especially Levinson, Prusan, Summerfield,—well, what's the good? they all played in excellent form. In the second half, Levinson seeing that his team-mates could do little in the scoring line, took a hand himself, and swam down the length of the tank. He got as far as the Cornell goal-keeper, where he was squelched, and the ball taken from him and passed down to a Cornellian at the other side of the pool. As Levinson was far from his post, it was an easy matter for Cornell to score.

The summaries:

800-Foot Relay.—Won by C. C. N. Y., (Nussbaum, Fielding, Coughlin and Eisele); Cornell (Day, Maze, Maldiner, Hamilton), second. Time—2:57 1-2.

Fancy Dive—Won by Berman, C.C.N.Y., 165 points; Fielding, C.C.N.Y., 156½ points, second; Kaufman, Cornell, 151 points, third.

50-Yard Swim—Won by Coughlin, C.C.N.Y.; Maze, Cornell, second; Maldiner, Cornell, third. Time—0:28 2-5

220-Yard Race—Won by Eisele, C.C.N.Y.; Hamilton, Cornell, second; Kemmerer, C.C.N.Y., third. Time—3:10 2-5.

Plunge—Won by Stanwood, Cornell, 54 feet; Mayer, C.C.N.Y., 52 feet 2 inches, second; Sanderson, Cornell, 50 feet, third.

100-Yard Race—Won by Coughlin, C.C.N.Y.; Nussbaum, C.C.N.Y., second; Day, Cornell, third. Time—1:12 1-5.

Baseball Prospects.

Probably spurred on by the hope of receiving one of the new outfits which will be given to our baseball players, more than fifty men have signified their desire to represent us on the diamond. Remaining from last year's team are Catchers Polley and Davis, Infielders Michaels, Roberts and Kieran, and Outfielders Raggie, Kelly and Hatch. Among the new men are Borden, Bloodgood, Werteman, McNabb, Tienken, Southwick, McNally, Rost, Berrigan, Terwilliger, McDonald, Lewis and Malone. Practice hard, fellows, and good luck to you.

All At A Glance.

Our basketball team, depleted by the loss of former stars, began the season with very poor prospects. Very soon, however, we were shown that it would follow in the foot-steps of our former teams. Under the leadership of Captain Heskowitz and with Coach Palmer's aid, our squad began the season of 1910-1911 auspiciously, when on the evening of December 14th, they vanquished the Yale five by the score of 20-15. In this game "Rouge" Friedman simply gave us a sample of how he was going to behave himself all season. By means of all sorts of shots, our team surprised the "gentlemen from New Haven" and ran away from them—and this too, after our opponents had rolled up a score of 9-3 against us in the first half.

Then, as a respite, we entertained, or rather, acted as hosts, to the M. I. T. players. But contrary to the laws of hospitality, we sent them home with the lower end of the score,—that is, they had 12 while we had 23 points. Gorschen was the star of this game, contributing five field goals, to our score.

The next game was with R. P. I. There was not much interest to this game, as at the end of the first half, we led them by ten points to zero. In the second half, however, they managed to pick up on us, and the game ended with a score of 20-5. Gorschen again was the hero, but he was aided a bit by the work of "Charlie" Mester. Contrary to common belief, R. P. I. proved to be our cleanest-playing opponent. Only four fouls were called on them.

Our team then took a little trip up-state where they played against Oswego Normal and Rochester. The first of these games they lost by the narrow margin of seven points, while the second they won by the wide margin of four points. In both of these games Mester starred.

After the return of our men from these out-of-town battles, we had three remaining contests: with Tufts, Rochester and Brown Universities. The first two we won. The score of the Tufts game was 28-16. In this battle, "Rouge" again distinguished himself. He Establishing a Custom.

An interesting page in the 1912 Microcosm will be devoted to the personal histories of the two men, other than students, who have been most instrumental in advancing and encouraging athletics at the College during the past year. Also, record will be made of the most popular athlete of the season. This is an excellent plan and may profitably be made a regular feature of future "Mikes". The students will register their choice on the ballot below, and drop it either in THE CAMPUS or Microcosm box in room 121.

In Society.

The following men were elected to office in Phrenocosmia: President, A. Levine; Vice-President, C. R. Kessler; Secretary, L. Kraft; Treasurer, L. Schwartz; Editor, J. Solomon; Cabinet, I. Eisenberg and S. Seligsohn; Character Committee, Messrs. Zuckerman, '11, Cohen, '12, Schiff, '13 and Feldman, '14.

At the last meeting of the Chemistry Society, two interesting papers by Crozier and Frankel, respectively, were heard. An excursion in the near future to some industrial plant is being arranged.

It took a jury composed of members of the Adelphean Literary Society just ten minutes to award the sum of $100 to the plaintiff in the mock trial which was held by the society last Friday evening. So well was the number received that it was decided to hold another mock trial at the large open meeting to be held this term.

How Views Change.

Last Thursday afternoon, a number of students, Sophomores in the main, in the company of Mr. Laffargue, were the guests of the "Cercle Francais" of Normal College. There they heard an instructive discourse on Moliere, delivered by M. Gustave Michaut of the University of Paris. Aside from the intellectual pleasure derived, the students were regaled with delicious refreshments served by their fair hostesses. The conversation over the cocoa cups impressed the students more than anything the worthy professor said and was carried on in deaf-mute and some French. After extending a reciprocal invitation to visit the College, the Sophomores returned with considerably altered views on co-education, woman suffrage and other important questions.

French Library.

At the meeting of the Cercle Jusserand last Friday afternoon, Professor Downer announced that 500 volumes of the French Library have already arrived. He also communicated the pleasing information that the Class of 1885, which has so generously presented the library, may double its gift.

A Japanese proverb reads: The pupil should walk seven feet away from his teacher lest he tread upon his shadow. Is he permitted to step upon the substance? We wonder.

alone made 18 of our points, 8 on field goals and 10 on fouls. This was the largest number of points made this year by any player of our team, and was more than the whole Tufts quintet scored.

In the Rochester struggle, without the services of Heskowitz, Gorschen and Mester, our men again emerged victorious. Zinovoy was the bright, particular star, caging seven baskets,—a mere trifle. Rochester took back with them 17 points, while our players were content with the knowledge that they had scored their largest total of the season,—29 points.

The last game, that with Brown, left a bitter taste in our mouths. The men from Providence, R. I., however had a mighty hard job defeating us. The score was 21—20. We led all the way, but were beaten out in the stretch. Thus our season ended.

In total City College scored 174 points against 123 for their opponents. In no game did we cage as many as 30 points. "Rouge" with 70 points led the team; Gorschen finished second with 28 points. The latter however, led in field goals, making 14 of them for us. "Rouge", who made foul tries for us, succeeded in caging 46; he missed 42. Everybody played well, thanks to the untiring efforts of Coach Palmer, and to the zeal of Manager Samuels. The members of the squad were Capt. Heskowitz, Gorschen, Propper, and Storfer of '11, "Rouge" Friedman, Kaplan, Rinovoy and Levitt, of '12, and Mester, Ellner, Mackler and F. Friedman of '13. However, the prospects for next season are very bright; so what more do we need?

The 1914 team also brought credit to their class and to the College, winning 6 games and losing only to Newton H. S., the P. S. A. L. champions. It scored 129 points to its opponents' 80. Southwick was the premier goal-maker with 45 points to his credit; Saltman was second with 30, and Rosenfeld, third with 29. This team developed good material for future Varsity squads. Others who participated in the Freshman games were Capt. Kostiuk, who played only part of the season, Ricca, Frieder, Kunitzky, Prusan and Greer.

With the Racket.

Tennis matches have already been arranged for the coming season by Manager Storfer with Pratt Institute, Columbia University and Stevens Institute. The prospects for a good team are bright, although only Captain Shapiro and Slatoff remain from last year's squad. Moreover, we should have a strong team, as among the new candidates are McMichaels, Levisohn, Goldstein, Chock and Weisenberg.

Still a Chance.

Applications for the positions of Assistant Manager of the basketball team should be handed in to the secretary of the A. A. To-morrow is the last day that these will be received, as the vote will be taken Friday afternoon.

The election for the captaincy of the 1911-1912 basketball team will take place to-day at 1 P. M. in the A. A. room. Basketball squad, be there!

Just in order to keep our squad in trim Coach Palmer will make an innovation in training methods this season. He will have our 'varsity basket-ball team practising every Thursday afternoon at 4:15 P. M.

At the Dominican Lyceum games, Tom Dolan, representing the Pastime A. C. took first prize in the 1000 yd. run with a handicap of forty yards.

T. H. H. NOTES

Intersection Activities.

Intersection athletic contests have become very popular lately. Prizes have been announced for an intersection swimming meet. All events are handicapped and members of the swimming team are debarred from competition. The results should therefore be close.

An intersection baseball league is in the process of formation. Attractive prizes for the winning section are being offered and the Tennis Club is planning an inter-section tennis tournament. If present plans work out well, the term should be one of unprecedented activity.

Latin Most Popular.

Statistics lately compiled indicate that Latin still holds its own, and more than its own, among the popular courses offered in T. H. H. No less than fifty percent of the students have elected it. Thirteen percent chose the French, German, and Spanish courses, while the remaining thirty-four percent cast their lot with the Sciences.

Tickets of admission to the exhibition of the National Academy of Design which begins March 11th and ends April 15th, may be had on application to Mr. Newman. This offer is open only to "A" and "B" men.

The Open Meeting.

The open meeting of the Webb Literary Society held last Friday afternoon, proved most successful. The main attraction was a hotly contested struggle over the question "Should immigration be further restricted?" In awarding the debate to the affirmative, Mr. McClelland said: "This week I read over one hundred essays on 'The Value of Joining a Literary Society.' The writers advanced many theoretical arguments, but I now see a practical application that speaks for itself." Rosenzweig's original story was heartily received.

All registration cards must be filed before Friday March 10, or their possessors will not be registered.
