To-Day.

THE Student Council will hold a mass meeting of the student body in the Great Hall, to-day at 1.15 P.M., at which plans for the erection of a bronze tablet to the memory of the late Edward M. Shepard will be discussed. The President of the Council, Samuel Levy '12, the Chairman of the Shepard Memorial Committee, Israel Weinstein '13, and perhaps another student will speak. It cannot be urged too strongly that every student in the College should be present at this meeting of the undergraduate body of the College held for the purpose of raising funds for the erection of a tablet to the memory of the late Chairman of the Board of Trustees. There will be no Student Council lecture to-day in order to avoid the conflict which must otherwise necessarily arise. Students are requested to be on time for the doors will be closed promptly at 1.15 P.M.

Law.

The Student Council series of lectures on vocational subjects was resumed last Wednesday afternoon with a talk on "Law" by Hon. Edward M. Colie of the class of 1873. He emphasized several fine, delicate points of professional life and stated that the profession of law has come to be recognized as one of the most honorable activities in which man engages. One should not enter any profession if he does not possess a "sense of duty" towards his fellow men. Some of the qualifications of a good lawyer are good address, the ability to secure clients and to retain them, tact, fluent expression, and above all, character. "With these," he said, "you are sure of a good standing in the community."

Sanitation.

In his address on "Sanitation and the Health Problem" before the members of the Common Welfare Club last Friday, Professor Winslow said that the chief causes of disease can be found in the industrial and economic conditions under which men work. He attributed the prevalence of tuberculosis and infantile paralysis to the ignorance of the community concerning the prevention of these devastating maladies. The remedy is an extensive educating campaign which should be undertaken by the Board of Health and by the social settlements. Professor Winslow expressed the hope that, some day, all doctors would be in the employ of the State in order that they might lead the campaign against all disease.

At the next meeting of the club, E. T. Frankel '12 will explain the chart which he and other students assisted by Professor Woolston, have drawn up. This chart contains a map showing the entire social situation in the city.

Dr. David H. Ray, formerly of the Physics Department and now Chief Engineer of the Bureau of Buildings, Manhattan, will lecture to the class in "Strength of Materials" (P7) on the subject of "Structural Problems of High Buildings," to-day at 9 a.m., in room 6.

Another Gift.

The Minister of Public Instruction, of France, through the good offices of Mr. A. George, President of the Société Nationale des Professeurs Français en Amérique, has given to the French Department a complete set of the Larousse Mensuel Illustré for 1911, and will send regularly hereafter Le Touring Club, as most interesting illustrated monthly.

Professor Storey.

Professor Storey delivered an address, April 4th, before the American Academy of Medicine on "Medical Inspection in the Schools." On March 29th, he was re-elected Secretary of the American School Hygiene Association. In the May issue of "Factory" appears a paper by him on "Why Workmen Tire." The January Review of Physical Education contained his paper on "General Exercise." Dr. Storey is a member of the editorial board of the official publication of the "Inter-state School Hygiene and Medical Inspectors' Association."

Go West.

Dr. Blaustien, Head of the School of Philanthropy spoke to the graduating class last Thursday afternoon, about the opportunities of the College man in the West. He would not advise anyone to go unless he had some definite end view, or had a definite vocation. One must pioneer in the West but the ultimate returns more than compensate for the immediate sacrifices which must be made. The West needs educated men and wants to educate the people living there. This creates a wide field for the College man in the teaching profession. More and more demands are being made upon the East to supply efficient teachers and Dr. Blaustien will be pleased to confer with men who contemplate going West to teach.

An Italian Play.

An Italian play, Goldoni's Il Ventaglio (The Fan) will be given in the latter part of May under the auspices of the Circolo Dante Alighieri. In all probability the play will be given at Carnegie Lyceum. Pietro Sabbatino '12, President of the Society will play the leading part. Drs. Ettari and Cosenza are coaching the cast.

The annual meeting of the Federation of the French Alliances in the United States and Canada was held at Café Martin, on Wednesday April 10th. One hundred and twenty-five delegates of the different groups were present. Professor Downer was re-elected a member of the Board of Direction and Professor Delamarre, General Secretary.

New Features.

The "1913" Microcosm contains many new features. Some of these are cartoons of all the professors, class room sketches, valuable statistics, pictures of the present site of our future stadium, a sketch of the stadium as it will appear after completion, an exceptional athletic section, pictures and write-ups of all the societies and a collection of "grinds", every one of which has a guarantee for a hearty laugh.

The "1913" Microcosm is now in press and will soon be on sale. For your own sake subscribe now!

Several of large cases of books have been received from Trustee Kohns which will be presented to the College library in the near future.

Sixty Years.

The Hotel Martinique was the scene of a rejuvenating banquet and reunion of old and new Phrenocosmians, last Saturday evening. After the one hundred and fifty members who were present had been satisfied gastronomically, President Willett gave forth a gaseous exhalation in introducing the toastmaster, Professor Lewis Mott, '83. Professor Downer explained the meaning of the word "Phrenocosmia". Professor Duggan, '90, entertained the diners with a delightful essay, "The two P's—Pedagogy and Phrenocosmia." A debate, the subject of which was: Resolved, That we favor Government ownership and regulation of all cooks, book agents, baseball players and other necessities of life, was the feature of the evening. The affirmative side was upheld by Mark Eisner, '05, and Dr. Fetter, '83, and the negative by Hochenberg, '12, and Weinstien, '13. The judges were Nathan Ottinger, '92, Alexander Seigel, '05, and E. Cohen, '12. As we go to press the result has not yet been announced; the judges were instructed to award a unanimous decision. Mr. Naumberg of the class of 1894 presented the prizes to Phrenocosmia, the victor in the last Phreno-Clio debate. These prizes, it will be remembered, are awarded by the class of 1894 to the winner of the annual inter-society debate and constitute twenty-five dollars to the society and medals to the individual debaters. Professor Werner, '57, brought good wishes from Clionia and the critic, Professor Horne, '89, reviewed the program.

Civic Club.

Ten delegates from the Civic Club attended the luncheon and convention of the Intercollegiate Civic league held at Earl Hall, Columbia College, last Thursday. Schwarz '13 spoke and A. L. Glassenberg '13 was nominated for the Executive board of the League. G. Landy '12, president of the Civic Club, travelled to Washington with the convention, and at to-morrow's meeting will give a full report of the proceedings.

The History Department will tender a dinner to Professor Johnston to-morrow evening at Reisenweber's.

ATHLETICS.

It Happened in Brooklyn.

Last Friday our team journeyed over the Bridge and entered the portals of the "City of Churches" and rubber plants known to some as Brooklyn (Oh, yes, it's on the map) and that summer resort certainly did delight the hearts of our ball tossers, although the natives informed us we were in the heart of their town. But the Navy Yard was our destination and at the Navy Yard we finally arrived.

The St. Francis—C.C.N.Y. game was a corker from start to finish, and the fans who traveled into the wilds were amply repaid for their trouble. Both teams were in fine form, and evenly matched in skill and speed. C.C.N.Y. was victorious because—well, because she bunched her hits at the right moment, and when the dust of battle had cleared we were on the long end of the score by one run—eight of our men having crossed the plate to our opponents' seven. The game started with a two-bagger by Hecht followed by a long single by Berrigan. We had started well and when the first inning closed had scored two runs. Not to be outdone St. Francis did likewise. In the second, neither team tallied, but in the third the Brooklyn boys circled the bases three times establishing a lead that they held to the beginning of the ninth.

Berrigan brought the fans to their feet in the next, by driving out a neat double through centre. Raggie raised our hopes by batting out a single, and driving Berrigan home.

The next innings were weird in the extreme. Errors were evident everywhere. Fielders seemed to be bewildered, and base runners were caught napping several times. In the seventh Sappoe was walked and immediately proceeded to steal second which he did successfully, whereupon Hecht repeated his two bagger of the first, and drove Sappoe across the plate. Berrigan flied out to short. Raggie who followed him sacrificed, but Hecht died at third. In their half, St. Francis failed to connect with the ball successfully and struck out in rapid succession.

The beginning of the last session found us striving to overcome a two run lead. The few City College rooters who were present collected behind the home plate and strove by encouraging cheers to urge their team to greater efforts. That they succeeded is evidenced by the fact that remnants of the ball were picked up all over the field. It was inspiring to watch our boys connect with the sphere each striving to outdo the other. They put holes in the bat and burnt up the base-lines. Two sackers were common and almost everybody up registered a safe hit. However, it ended at last, but not until City College had sent three of her sons across the home plate. As a fitting climax to a real C.C.N.Y. finish, Bennett our long proportioned slab-artist, walked one man and struck out three others in succession. It was a great day for us—but, just one feature somewhat dimmed its brightness; there were but five or six C.C.N.Y fans present.

For the past two or three years there has been a noticeable lack of interest on the part of the student body for baseball, and consequently our ball-team has had little or no financial support. What is even more discouraging is the fact that very few students think it worth their while to come out and root for the nine and to encourage them at critical moments in the game when friendly cheers are most necessary. Perhaps most of us do not realize the difficulties confronting our "ball tossers". Have you ever thought what the lack of a practice field means to a team? Have you ever thought that teamwork suffers because of irregularities in the members' schedules? Taking these disadvantages into consideration the showing made thus far by the team has been very creditable. Omitting that hoodoo fourth inning in the Fordham game C. C. N. Y. more than held her own; and at the St. Francis encounter the brand of ball served up to the few fans present, incited them to throat rending shouts.

Coach Holton hopes to form a second nine in the near future, to play games with the various High School teams. If you can play the game at all, come out. Perhaps you will make good material for the Varsity next season.

The C. C. N. Y.—St. Francis game by innings:

C. C. N. Y.	2		0		1		0		1		1		0		3		= 8
St. Francis	2		0		3		1		1		0		0		0		= 7

Batteries:—C. C. N. Y. = Bennett—Sappoe.

St. Francis = Donnelly, Wall—Fitzgerald.

The City Colleges Meet.

On Saturday, the track meet of the four colleges in the City will take place. Columbia, Fordham, N. Y. U., and the College will compete for the track supremacy of the City. Our boys have been doing consistent training and should give the representatives south of us and north of us and those from the "Bronicks" a hard run for premier honors. We have men entered in all the events. The entries for the mile, the half mile and the two mile runs have not been decided upon as yet by Coach Mackenzie. This afternoon tryouts will be held and the winners will be entered to represent the College on Saturday. The other Colleges will have delegations of rooters at South Field to cheer their teams on the victory. It is up to every fan to come down and lend his lung power to the support of our team.

Picked Up On the Plaza.

No, this refers to news items exclusively! We do not comprehend the allusion.

Don't forget the try-outs for the mile, half and two mile runs this afternoon at 4:30.

"Dutch" Bogan is expected to do wonderful timber-topping in the hurdles on Saturday.

Daniel Nessler and I. Isler played the finals in the handball tournament yesterday.

At the Paulist A. C. games Saturday, Captain Siebern ran in the mile, and Kennedy in the two-mile. Just a little practice jaunt for Saturday.

Our racquet wielders are practising daily at Harry's Courts. 96th Street and Broadway. "Rouge" Friedman is out for the team. If he plays this game as well as he does basketball—

At the last meeting of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association Cornell resigned. Harvard, West Point, Annapolis, Amherst, Brown and Williams were invited to join with no water-polo teams for one year. A revision of the rules of this drawing room game is contemplated.

Friday Evening.

HIS Friday evening the debate with Johns Hopkins University will take place in the auditorium of Townsend Harris Hall, at 8 P. M. While one team — Sabbatino, H. Schwartz and T. Schiff, alternate — is upholding the affirmative side of the subject, "Resolved that all corporations engaged in interstate business be under the control of the Federal commission, the other team — Curoe, Grant and H. Roth, alternate — will debate the negative side in Baltimore. Both debates will be held under unique conditions. The first man on the affirmative side will speak for fifteen minutes; the first man on the negative side will speak for twenty minutes; the second speaker for the affirmative will be given twenty minutes, and the first speaker of the affirmative side will close the debate with a five minute refutation and summing up. The judges for the debate at the College will be Dr. William H. Allen of the Municipal Research Bureau, Hon. Chas. S. Fairchild and George W. Perkins, Esquire. Dr. Elgin R. L. Gould will preside.

The men on the team have worked faithfully and conscientiously. On Friday evening they will debate as scientifically and as ably as they know how. Of that we are certain. Whether they win or whether they lose we are confident that they will put forth their best efforts. The student body should be present to lend their moral support to the team that is representing the College. A large delegation of Johns Hopkins alumni will be present to urge the representatives of their Alma Mater on to greater efforts. In Baltimore the College team will see few if any City College men in the audience. The undergraduate body here should make up for the lack of City College supporters in Baltimore by turning out in full numbers. Intercollegiate debates take place but once a year. The students should reserve that night for attendance at the contest.

The best wishes for success of the entire college will attend our representatives in the contests. An eager sympathetic audience will listen with confidence and with hope in Townsend Harris Hall auditorium. The traveling team will have a double struggle—one with the opposing team and the other with the strange environment which they will encounter. Both will display the City College spirit of gift, determination and earnestness.

President Finley.

On April 4th, the President spoke at the dinner of the Alumni of Exeter Academy. He attended the luncheon given by Mr. C. A. Coffyn on April 9th at the Railroad Club to the new Ambassador to France, Mr. Myron T. Herrick. On the same evening he attended the dinner given to Chancellor Brown of New York University by Dean Russell of Teachers College.

Messrs Jacob A. Riis, Eugene A. Philbin, Irving S. Cobb, General George W. Wingate and President Finley were the speakers at the luncheon given at the National Arts Club by the City's Recreation and Playground Associations to Mayor Gaynor's Recreation Commission, of which General Wingate is chairman. President Finley, who presided, said that the purpose of the dinner was to bring about co-operation between the recreation association folk and the Mayor's commission.

Chemistry Notes.

On Friday afternoon, Mr. Carleton Ellis, a prominent investigator in the field of industrial chemistry, will speak on "Methods of Developing Inventions, Successful and Unsuccessful." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides and experiments.

Last Saturday, Professor Moody's class in industrial chemistry was escorted through the plant of the Peter Cooper Glue and Fertilizer Company.

At the last meeting of the Chemical Society, Dr. Prager read a paper on "The Pharmacology of Phenacetin and Salvarsan." A. Kerner '12 spoke on "Synthetic Caouchouc." The society is planning to hold a smoker in the near future.

Dr. J. W. Hartmann of the German department has made arrangements with the Columbia University Press for the publication of his book, "Göngu-Hrolf's Saga, which will appear this summer.

Dramatic Finances.

The Dramatic Society made a profit of thirteen dollars on the play produced last month at Carnegie Lyceum. The receipts amounted to $313.00 and the expenses totalled up to $300.00. The play was witnessed by five hundred and twenty-eight persons, a number which exceeded by far the former attendance record. Some of the chief items of expense were $88.00 for costumes, $25.00 for "make-up" and $115.00 for the renting of Carnegie Lyceum. The business manager is arranging for performances at New Rochelle and Brighton Beach. In the near future the annual election of members will be held by the society and the entire cast of the play will probably be honored.

International Peace.

Meyer Cohn '14 won the prize of twenty dollars, last Wednesday afternoon, given by the Intercollegiate Peace Association for the best oration upon any phase of international peace. His subject was "The War-god and the Peace-poet." On Friday, he will journey to Ithaca to represent the College in the New York State Intercollegiate Prize Contest which will also be held under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Peace Association.

A Thrilling Rescue.

With a whoop he rushed up to her. Dressed in gaudy attire, feathers waving in the air, face painted hideously and eyes rolling wildly, this twentieth century Indian presented a most remarkable appearance. She, a simple nurse girl, was seated on the campus,, demurely regarding several seniors strutting manfully about. She sprang up, and with fire flashing from her eye bade the ardent suitor "Go to." He persisted; she resisted. "I shall call for help," she cried. "Will no one save me from this cruel monster who wants me for his squaw." A crowd of students had gathered. A strapping fellow, seeing the fair maiden's plight, rushed forward and in strident tones demanded to know the why and wherefore. Words cannot describe the look of contempt which crept into the eyes of the astonished couple as they realized that this modern Don Quixote had spoiled a love scene which was being enacted under the watchful eyes of a Victoria Film Company photographer. The abrupt and unexpected close which the heroic youth put to the scene took all the enthusiasm away from the actors for the moving picture company and they retired to more favorable grounds.

Menorah Society.

Last Friday afternoon Dr. M. Kaplan spoke on "Practical Judaism" under the auspices of the Menorah Society.

To-day's program includes a paper on "Zionism, Pro and Con" by L. Kraft '12, and a discussion on the "Messianic Ideal" by M. Leichtman '15. On Friday, Dr. Kaplan will resume his course on "Vital Jewish Topics."

Tri-fraternity Dance.

About seventy couples attended a dance given by Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Theta Delta Chi at Bretton Hall on April 9th. Many members of the faculty and their wives were present.

---

Trials to select men for the prize speaking contest in May will be held on Monday, April 22nd, in room 315. Upper Juniors and upper Seniors who received at least seventy percent last term in public speaking are eligible to compete. The orations must be submitted in writing to Professor Palmer on the day of the trials and must not exceed ten minutes in delivery.

Departmental Libraries.

In the April number of the Educational Review appears an article by Mr. Henry E. Bliss, the College librarian on "Departmental Libraries in Universities and Colleges." Mr. Bliss discusses the benefits of a central library with department libraries and seminar rooms in the same building. The article is the first adequate study of the subject and will prove of excellent service to people outside.

Professor Palmer has been elected President of the instructors of Public Speaking in the Colleges of New England, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, and District of Columbia.

The Swimmers Dine.

The West End was the scene of a banquet given by the members of this year's swimming squad to Coaches Mackenzie, O'Neil and McCormick. The Athletic Association board, the managers of the various Varsity teams and their hard working assistants were also present. The swimmers bathed in good spirits and the uninitiated floundered along but all voted the dinner a huge success. We hope the team will be sufficiently recovered by the Fall to swim as well then as they did this year. Perhaps, better.

Interclass Basket Ball.

The semi-finals in the interclass basketball series will soon be held. The class Athletic Managers will arrange a schedule. The winner of the series may play the Seniors on the varsity team. If so the game will be worth going miles to see.

At the meeting of the Biological Society held last Thursday, Feldman '12 spoke on "Practical Agriculture."

TOWNSEND HARRIS NEWS

Track.

The track team has taken up outdoor training. The large squad which practices daily on St. Nicholas Terrace gives promise of an excellent team for this season. Under the direction of Coach Mackenzie of City College the men are fast rounding into shape and should prove worthy rivals of the other high school teams. Captain Turchin is improving daily in the sprints and his work in the hurdles is already arousing comment.

Checkers.

Last week the Harris Checker Club downed the Williamsbridge Y. M. C. A., team in a one sided game by a score of 6-0. The men played in fine form and won their games handily. The results: Welkowitz won 1, Barach won 2, Udel won 3.

Baseball.

Last year the plucky games which the baseball team played in the face of great odds won for it a place in the heart of every Harris man. This year, although handicapped by the loss of several veterans through graduation, the team is being fast whipped into shape and promises to give a worthy account of itself when "Play Ball" is heard at the first regular game of the championship series. Practice is going on regularly at Berkely Oval and it is interesting to note the earnestness of the men trying "to make the team."

Debating.

Last Wednesday afternoon the Groesbeck Debating Club held a trial debate. The subject was "Resolved that the Panama Canal should be Fortified." The judges awarded the decision to the team on the negative side. The men on the affirmative side did creditable work but the excellent rebuttal of their opponents earned them the decision.

Mr. Sohn of the German Department is on the road to recovery after an illness of several weeks. We sincerely hope that he will be able to resume his duties at the College in the very near future.
