Employment Bureau Statistics.

BETWEEN twelve and one o'clock to-day, every student in the college and the members of the Upper A class will receive a list of questions to fill out. This list has been gotten up by the Statistics Committee of the student with the aid of the Faculty members of the Employment Bureau with a view to ascertaining certain information concerning the work which each student would care to do after college hours. This information will be valuable to the Employment Bureau in its work. The questions asked are these: State carefully:—I. In what occupations you have engaged during school year; during vacation. II. What occupation you desire during school year; during vacation. III. What vocation you plan to enter permanently.

From these questions the Employment Bureau hopes to be able to fit the right in the right positions by knowing what each man can do and what he desires to do.

The Statistics Committee of the Student Council is a standing committee which was created this term for the purpose of obtaining information from the students which will be of benefit to the college.

Another Day of Vacation.

The Christmas holidays will be lengthened for us by the addition of Tuesday, December 24. This gives us nine days of vacation instead of the eight days allotted by the college calender in the register for this year. The vacation begins, then, on the afternoon of Monday, December 23, and ends on Thursday, January 2, at nine o'clock in the morning.

Elizabethan Show.

The evening of Wednesday, December 18, a week from to-night, is the date set for the performance of "Epicoene, The Silent Woman." For the past few weeks the cast has been rehearsing diligently and this week it will be work with no let-up until the night of the show. Tickets are now on sale at twenty five and fifty cents. The play will be produced on Tuesday afternoon in Townsend Harris Hall for the youngsters and will be in the nature of a dress rehearsal. The only official performance will be on Wednesday evening in the Great Hall. The orchestra, under Professor Baldwin's direction, will play.

Sophomores Win Debate.

The first of the series of interclass debates under the auspices of the Student Council was held last Friday evening and the decision was awarded to the Sophomores, who upheld the negative side of the question, Resolved, that the United States make no discrimination in the levying of Panama Canal tolls. Everett Hood, Sidney Samuelson and Hyman Feldman debated for the Sophomore class, and Charles Rosenzweig, Perry Schneider and Caro represented the Freshmen. Dean Brownson acted as chairman and Professors Downer, Overstreet and Woolston were the judges. The music was supplied by an instrumental trio.

Senior Smoker.

The Faculty Lunch Room will be the scene of much rejoicing and merriment on the evening of December 28, when the February '13 class will arouse their spirits in smoke and song. Mitchell Cahn is chairman of the smoker committee.

Freshman Feed Secrecy.

The Freshmen are noiselessly arranging for their Feed—the traditional mastication with the new name. The Burns Detective Agency of the Sophomore class has been unable, in spite of its gumshoe methods, to obtain even the slightest hint of the details beyond the fact that the subscription price is one dollar and a half.

Student Council Proceedings.

The fifth regular meeting of this term's Student Council was held last Friday afternoon. The debate committee reported that the first debate, between the Sophomore and Freshman classes, was scheduled for Friday evening. A trio of musicians had been secured to play and Professors Downer, Overstreet and Woolston had consented to acted as judges. Dean Brownson was to preside. A sum was appropriated for the purchase of a banner which will be awarded to the winning class of the series. The secretary reported that his work in connection with the disposal of the 1913 Microcosm was yielding good results. The Council decided to ask for a final report on the 1913 Microcosm by the business manager. The committee on class elections has drawn up an elaborate report which recommends a formal registration day and stricter regulations with regard to eligibility and voting hours. The statistics committee has printed 1,500 cards containing a list of questions which will aid the Employment Bureau in its work. Arrangements have been made to have these distributed to-day to every college student and to the members of the Upper A class. A committee was appointed to take charge of the students' mail. Two councillors were suspended on account of excess absences and the classes are given the power to appoint other men in their places. A new Customs Book committee was appointed to take charge of the sales next term.

Plans of the Seniors.

The design for the numeral lights of the class of February 1913 has been completed and the date for the exercises and concert attending the lighting of the numerals has been set for January 10. A smoker has been arranged to take place during the holidays. The play will be completed by the end of this week and rehearsals will be commenced immediately on return from the christmas vacation. A committee has been appointed to arrange for the banquet.

Art Notes.

Mr. Weinberg of the Art Department contributed to the good work of the School Art League by lecturing under their auspices on "A Child of the Dikes." The lecture took place on November 20, in the hall of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Through the diligent efforts of Martin Birnbaum '97, manager of the Berlin Photographic Company, a most wonderful, unexcelled Exhibition of modern German Graphic Art has been brought to this country and is on exhibition at the galleries of the company—305 Madison Avenue. Mr. Birnbaum extends an invitation to all students and instructors to visit the galleries. This is a rare opportunity to see a collection of works which have never been surpassed in this country and all students should avail themselves of this offer.

Faculty Notes.

While visiting Trinity College on December 5, Professor Winslow delivered an address there. He was in Springfield, Mass., on December 6. On Monday, he lectured before the New York Academy of Sciences on "A Museum of Living Bacteria." Dr. Goldfarb lectured before the same body on that day, on "Studies on the Effects of Salinity Changes upon Regeneration," "A New Method of Fusing Eggs of the same species." Dr. Goldfarb, upon special invitation, visited the Twenty-Sixth American Convention of the Association of Colleges of the Middle States and Maryland, which assembled at the University of Pennsylvania during the Thanksgiving Vacation. He discussed there "The Teaching of Biology in Colleges." Professors Mott and Downer were the official representatives of the College at the convention.

Professor Thompson has contributed an article to the Review of Reviews entitled "The Captain of Industry." This forms a part of a general symposium which is being held in that magazine, "The People and the Trusts."

The Research Club will hold its next meeting tomorrow evening. Professor Clark will read a paper on "The Control of Industrial Monopoly in the United States."

ATHLETICS.

C. C. N. Y. Wins First Game.

We won the first game of the season over Maryland with the close score of 22—20. There was plenty of action to keep up the interest through the entire game, especially toward the close when Maryland came back strong and could not be restrained from caging goal after goal from all parts of the field. The Maryland team was certainly game.

When, at the end of the preliminary game, Captain Southwick's squad trotted in for its first game, the cheering squad gave it a hearty welcome. After a minute or two of practice, Mr. Deering blew his whistle and the playing began with a rush. Sunny Southwick drew first blood by shooting the first goal. The passing of our men was so clever and accurate that they dazzled the Southerners and ran rings around them. Schulberg and Kaplan shone conspicuously in the daring shots they attempted. Toward the end of the first half, Weirich took Shorty Bradner's place at center and showed himself capable. It was only occasionally that the ball was fought for under Maryland's basket in this half, which ended with our men at the top of the score 16—11.

In the second half, Maryland came back strong with an irresistible courage. The figure of Timanus, the Southern guard stands out prominently through the way in which he blocked our plays again and again. Our opponents, in this half, scored nine points to our six by the time the whistle blew.

The preliminary game resulted in a walk-over by the Freshman team 44—10. The Commercial High School team at no time had even the ghost of a chance and in the second half, the entire Freshman team was replaced by substitutes. Moskowitz, Silverstein and Apfel and later, Donaldson, showed up well. Manager Thomas may well be proud of his men.

The line-up:

Loyola Next!

On this coming Saturday evening, the varsity will play another team from Maryland, Loyola College. The basketball guide shows a good record for this team, and, on the strength of that, we expect another fast game. The Freshman team will meet De Witte Clinton High School in the preliminary game.

Yale Swimming Meet.

On Friday the Yale bulldog will take a swim in our pool. Little is known of the strength of the New Haven team. Walter Howe, Captain of Yale's football team will swim against us on the occasion of our first swimming meet. We wonder if he will be as expert in the water as he was on the gridiron. We have only seen our swimmers in practise and in the interclass meet; when they meet Yale they will have the spur of competition and the C. C. N. Y. men ought to make even better time. Riemer '15 will doubtless break the college record at the meet for he's done it in practice. His time is within seven seconds of the intercollegiate record which is at present held by Pennsylvania. This Friday evening, then, we shall have the opportunity to see our swimmers in action.

Interclass Relay.

The first of the series of interclass relays was run off last Tuesday. Three four-man teams were entered, representing 1913, 1915 and 1916. The Juniors did not enter anyone. Each man ran 220 yards, and the Freshmen won the event in 1 minute and 54 seconds. The 1913 team finished second. Schulman, Alport, Kallman and Tabor made up the winning team, while Siebern, Schneidman, Brodowsky and Eogen ran hard for the Seniors.

In connection with these relays, Coach Mackenzie emphasizes the facts that no man will be eligible to compete in these interclass relays who runs on any other team or who does not report for regular practice with the track team. It behooves class athletic managers to see that their runners go out with the team and do not practice for the relays only.

The 880-yard relay will be run off next Tuesday. On the 24th it will be the mile, and the two-mile relay will take place next year, on January 8. These are all in the interclass series. Try-outs for each event will be held on the Friday and Monday immediately preceding it.

1915—1916.

Our suggestion of a Fresh-Soph football game is bearing fruit. A fine team will be chosen from this group of 1916 men who played in their high school days: Donovan, Farrell, Drake, Shanholt and Schloss from Harris; Gavin, Healy and Cusack from Boys' High; Donaldson from Richmond Hill; Saxl from Peekskill, and Butterworth and Frye, two of our Freshmen runners. Less is known of the Sophs, but Salzman, Augustus and Nick O'Connell, Barry, Cox, Stitch, Mulholland, Krudelsky, Rauch, Schaffer and Wodraska ought to make a good eleven. Now it only remains for the '15 and '16 managers to get together, and set a date and then the Renaissance of Football!

The graduating class of Townsend Harris Hall will celebrate the holidays with an informal dance which will be held in the gymnasium.

Housing our Social Spirit.

WITH the approach of the holiday season, our thoughts and feelings turn to the brighter sides of our life. The new spirit of accomplishment which was initiated at the beginning of the new College year and which has been so earnestly maintained through these three months has oftentimes been almost brought to a halt by the abrupt chasm that lies in the way of our accomplishment of social crystallization. There is no need to recount what detriment there is to the expression of our social spirit, which is caused by the lack of an adequate home for it. One does not need to argue why the social house is a necessity—one knows only that it is. That we must have the house is a foregone conclusion. How to get it is the problem. We cannot any longer put off the consideration of it.

The Student Council, ever the first to raise its voice for student welfare, has determined upon immediate action. Its committee has presented many methods for going about the task of securing a house but all their plans have discarded in favor of what seems to us not alone the most feasible but the only possible one. To begin with, personal, financial support on the part of every student is fundamentally essential. The response must be sincere, immediate, wholehearted even if it is not sufficient (and one can scarcely hope that it will be) for the full accomplishment of our purpose. Again we say, the students' expression of their need is the keystone of our further progress.

Beyond that and with that as a more convincing argument than any other we can advance, there are the wealthy, liberal minded citizens to whom we can appeal in a worthy cause. Their interest will be aroused in proportion as we exhibit interest and our social house will fast be on its way to becoming a realized ideal.

The students have responded nobly to the call for funds to send the track team to Cornell. To the Shepard Memorial Tablet, too, they have contributed liberally. For the social house they must lend their support as to no other project for upon it depends more than can be expressed in words. It will be the making of our success and greatness.

At present, no contribution is asked. The term is far advanced and full interest is difficult to arouse. But at the beginning of the next term, when all shall be drawing a long breath in preparation for continued effort, it is then that action must be taken.

In every epoch, in every generation, in every year, there stands forth one achievement above every other and by that achievement the period is characterized. Let this College year, then, be characterized as the time when the nucleus of the great social house project was formed and consolidated.

Society Sass.

The Clio-Phreno debate has been postponed until late in January. This fact, however, has not prevented both societies from holding their trials. The affirmative side will be upheld by Clionia through Raphael '13, Bach '13 and Davis '13. Phrenocosmia will be represented by Grant '13, Roth '13 and James '13.

---

"The Nitrogen Cycle" was the subject of a paper delivered by A. Schalkenstein '13 at the last meeting of the Chemical Society. D. Soletsky '14 spoke on "Review of Current Literature."

---

La Société des Etudiants de Francais, a French club of C. C. N. Y. students organized six years ago, extends a general invitation to those interested in French, to attend a dramatic, literary and musical entertainment which will be held at the Temple Emanuel on December 15. I. Schwartz '13, W. Schapiro '13 and M. Sindeband '16 will take part.

---

The Engineering Society listened, on Monday, to a paper on "Chemical Sources of Electrical Power" by William Priess '13 and to a "Review of the Scientific Journals" by Joseph Levy '14.

---

The members of the Memorah Society attended the special Hanukah Service tendered to them and to the Maccabean Cadets at the Temple Beth-El. Rev. Dr. S. Shulman spoke on "Constructive Judaism—a Hanukah Message to Youth."

---

At the regular alcove meeting of the Civic Club, Professor Guthrie discoursed on "How our Government Compiles and Distributes Statistics and Information." Rovitch '13 preceded Professor Guthrie with a talk on the Socialist platform of 1912.

---

Beware the photo phiend, my son, for he does sight and hypo you! If you don't watch out, he'll come gal-lumphing back with your head—on a negative. Know ye that the Camera Club is busy!

Gym-Gems.

The two members of the athletic staff had to wear their overcoats while they were in the A. A. Room on Friday. Br-r-r—it was chilly!

The amphibian Sophomore, Edwin Riemer, smashed the record for the "220" last week. The old record was 2.52. Riemer's new mark is 2.44.

High jumpers and plungers are badly needed for our track and swimming teams. Our high jumpers practice every Tuesday and Thursday, and plungers are welcome any time.

The swimming meet after the one with Yale will be held with the City Athletic Club on Friday, December 20. Coach Mackenzie is interested in this club and there should be much splashing.

Last night, Sydney Nussbaum led his water polo team against a seven composed of former stars of the College.

Nessler is still leading in the race for the handball championship, and the fight for second place is closer than ever before between Novotny, Lockwood, Isler and Davis.

Our chess experts are busy trying to choose a team from the College to meet N. Y. U. They suffer, not from trouble in finding good men, but from an embarrassment of riches. If you want to try out, you will be welcome any day in Alcove I.

When it comes to the prospects of the track team, we don't have to look for the silver lining of the cloud, because there is no cloud.

Baseball.

Soons is busy with the confirmation of his tentative schedule. Richard O'Connell will manage the Reserves who will play College freshman teams and high school teams. All prospective diamond experts are advised to pass all their subjects and to keep Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons free.

Varsity Soccer Perhaps!

Many would have it that the excellent showing of the Freshman soccer team will result its being made a varsity sport next year. Manager Kohn recently took his charges to Paterson and now he is contemplating a longer trip. Arrangements are pending for a game with the Central High School of Philadelphia.

Friday was alumni day. Alfred Merryman, '11, Rouge Friedman, Henry Propper, Dave Levinson and Bill Borden, all '12, revisited the gym.

In collaboration with A. D. St. John, '11, Dr. Curtman contributed to the December issue of the Journal of the American Chemical Society two articles entitled "A Study of the Bead and Lead Dioxide Tests for Manganese with Special Reference to the Interference of Iron" and "The Sensitiveness of the Hydroxide Reaction for the Common Metals."

From Townsend Harris.

Besides the regular meeting of the Quill Club, of Townsend Harris Hall, Dr. Lieberman, who is the author of "The American Short Story," gave an interesting account of the history of short story writing in America and then turned his attention to the technique of the short story. The Quill Club devotes its efforts to the development of literary style.
