A Message to

JOHN HUSTON FINLEY

from the Students of

THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

on the Completion of his Tenth Year as

PRESIDENT

May 7th, 1913

The completion of the tenth year of your service as President of the College of the City of New York is a most fitting occasion for us, its students, to put into words the esteem in which we hold you. This message of regard and affection we hope you may have read many times before in the greater devotion to the College, in the greater loyalty to the City of those who were students here before us. This message, we pray, you may read many times more in acts of unselfish devotion inspired by the example of your life among us.

To the enthusiasm which greeted your coming a decade ago, we add to-day the respect called forth by ten years of zealous industry and noble accomplishment. To the learning of the scholar you have added the understanding of the friend and have brought us into deeper sympathy with the lives of our fellow men. You have ever advanced true democracy, reconciling the many diverse elements of the City and inspiring a spirit of interdependence which makes for better citizenship. You have extended our educational opportunities and increased our faith in education. Your helpfulness has never been narrowed by the confines of the College; you have been the prophet of the City, of its needs and its hopes, dwelling upon its infinite romance, summoning our energy to do its work and beseeching our loyalty to preserve its honor, commending its friends and silencing its defamers.

Of the fruitfulness of your work the students of the College of the City of New York are peculiarly sensible, and they to-day unite in thus expressing their appreciation of what you have done and the fervent hope that you may long continue to bring honor to their Alma Mater.

The foregoing set of resolutions, engrossed on parchment and signed by every student in the College, will be presented to President Finley at the assembly to-day in honor of the president's ten years of service at the College. The resolutions were drawn up by Meyer Cohn, '14, and engrossed by Mr. Schulman of the Art department. The celebration of all the exercises to-day, which chances also to be Charter Day, will be entirely under the conduct of the students of the College. All recitations will be suspended after 12 o'clock, in Townsend Harris as well as in the College.

The program for the day is as follows: At 12 o'clock there will be an assembly in the Great Hall. At 2.30 a luncheon will be tendered in the gymnasium to the president. The several hundred of the students and Faculty who have subscribed will grace the occasion. Several talks will be given and songs rendered. After the luncheon it is planned to hold on the campus some sort of informal exercises in which all classes will take part. The Townsend Harris ball team will play the Claessens Point team at Claessens Point.

The program of exercises in the Great Hall will proceed as follows: Professor Baldwin will open the assembly with Weber's "Jubilee Overture." Professor Werner, who will preside, will then introduce Mr. Theodore F. Miller, '69, chairman of the Board of Trustees, who will speak on behalf of the Board. For the alumni Mr. Lewis Sayre Burchard, '77, president of the Associate Alumni, will make an address of appreciation. The next speaker will be Professor Lewis Freeman Mott, '83, who will represent the Faculty. A violin solo, "Reverie," by Ovide Musin, will be rendered by Nathan Singer, '15. Professor Baldwin will accompany him on the organ. Israel Weinstein '13 president of the Student Council, will speak for the student body and will present to President Finley the book of engrossed resolutions of appreciation. The book contains the signature of every student in the College. President Finley will respond. The assembly in the Great Hall will then be concluded by Professor Baldwin's rendition of Meyerbeer's "Schiller March."

In the gymnasium a luncheon will be served by Mazetti, the caterer. Israel Weinstein, president of the Student Council, will be the toastmaster. Alfred Bennett, '14, will render a piano solo, and David E. Grant, '13, president of the upper Senior class, will talk. Mr. Chase of the Art department will sing, with Professor Baldwin at the piano. Following this there will be a talk by Francis R. Dieuaide, '13, president of the Athletic Association, and a monologue by Mr. Camera. The entire assembly will join in the singing of a song, "Dr. Finley," written by Mr. Lewis S. Burchard, '77. President Finley will then give a short address. The entire assemblage will close the program by the singing of college songs. H. Suchman, '15, will be at the piano and Joseph C. Noethen, '13, will lead the cheers and the songs.

Prize Speaking Night Friday.

The occasion of the semi-annual prize-speaking contests, which will be held on Friday evening in the Great Hall, will hark back to the time when prize-speaking night was the main social event of the college year. All the classes, societies, alumni groups, fraternities and other groups will have sections of seats reserved for them.

The Seniors and Juniors who will compete for the prize of the Board of Trustees are Thomas I. Schiff, '13; Herman Schwartz, '13; Harry Rotkowitz, '14; Paul M. Hahn, '14; G. Christiano, '14, and James Donoghue, '14. The three Sophomores who will compete for the Drummond prize are Hood, Furman and Karowsky.

The contests will begin promptly at 8:15 and admission will be by ticket only.

The New Curriculum.

THE general features of the New Curriculum have already been described in THE CAMPUS. It remains only to add details. The courses prescribed for College classes by the new curriculum are as follows:

IN ARTS.

- First Language (Latin), 14 credits, i. e.,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ .
- Second Language (Greek, French, or German), 14 credits, i. e.,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ .
- Third Language (in case one year of a third language is offered for entrance), 6 credits, i. e., 3, 3.
- Trigonometry (if not offered at entrance), 3 credits.
- Advanced Algebra (if not offered at entrance), 3 credits.
- English, 6 credits, i. e., 4, 2.
- History, 8 credits, i. e., 4, 4.
- Physics (if not offered at entrance), 6 credits, i. e., 3, 3.
- Chemistry, 6 credits, i. e., 3, 3.
- Natural History, 4 credits.
- Philosophy, 3 credits.
- Political Science, 3 credits.
- Public Speaking, 8 credits.
- Physical Instruction, 2 credits.

IN SCIENCE.

- English, as in Arts.
- History, as in Arts.
- Philosophy, as in Arts.
- Political Science, as in Arts.
- Public Speaking, as in Arts.
- Physical Instruction, as in Arts.
- Natural History, as in Arts.
- Mathematics, 15 credits, i. e., 5, 5, 5.
- Chemistry, 9 credits, i. e., 3, 3, 3.
- Physics, 6 credits, i. e., 3, 3.
- Art, 4 credits, i. e., 2, 2.
- Modern Language, 7 credits, i. e.,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $3\frac{1}{2}$ .

The Language requirements, as stated, are for those students who present at entrance three years of the first language and two years of the second. The student who has offered more than this for entrance, has correspondingly less to do in College; the student who has offered less, has correspondingly more to do in College.

The requirement in Science Mathematics is for those students who present for entrance Solid Geometry, Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra. The student who has offered less than this for entrance, has correspondingly more to do in College.

It will be noted that the total amount of prescribed work remains unchanged in the following Departments: Chemistry (in Arts), History, Physical Instruction, Physics, and Public Speaking. The requirements of the other Departments have been, in general, reduced. For example, in the Arts courses there will henceforth (beginning in September) be no requirement in Junior year language except the Latin of Arts 3; no requirement in Art; no requirement in Analytics or Calculus; no required third language unless a third language is offered for entrance; and the requirements in English, Natural History, Philosophy and Political Science are considerably reduced.

The reductions in the Science courses cannot be stated so simply, for, whereas under the old curriculum there were varying requirements in Science 1, Science 2 and Science 3, there will henceforth be one uniform Science course. In this new Science course Mechanic Arts will not be required, and the requirements in Chemistry, English, Natural History, Philosophy, Political Science and Language will be reduced; while the requirements in Art and Mathematics represent about the average requirement of the three old courses.

In considering these reductions in requirement it must be remembered that the reduction is often apparent rather than real, that it is not a reduction relatively; for the total number of credits required for graduation has been reduced from 146 to 128, and the value of the credit has been correspondingly increased. In other words, a normal term schedule will henceforth be 16 credits instead of  $18\frac{1}{2}$ ; but it is not expected or intended that this shorter schedule shall be easier, except in so far as the student will gain by confining his attention to fewer subjects. It should be added that the limitation in the number of credits which a student may take during any term will be very much more rigid than in the past. Only excellent students will be allowed to take as many as  $17\frac{1}{2}$  credits, and none but students of the highest scholarship standing will be allowed to take more than  $17\frac{1}{2}$ .

In order to accomplish at once the change from the old to the new graduation requirement, the total number of credits which each student has obtained will be reduced on July 1st to  $128/146$  of the original total. For example, a total of 73 will be reduced to 64, a total of 100 to 88, a total of 32 to 28. It should not be necessary to say that this reduction also will be only apparent, not real. For in every case the number of credits still to be achieved is correspondingly reduced, and a man with 64 credits and a total of 128 to obtain is manifestly just as far on his way as a man with 73 credits and a total of 146 to obtain. Of course there will be a precisely corresponding reduction in the number of credits required to register a student in any given class.

A somewhat radical change is the practical abolition of the Arts 3 course. From this time on no course will be offered leading to the degree of B. A. except with Latin as the major or first language. The provisions to be made for those students who have already elected and entered upon the Arts 3 course will be described later.

One provision of the new curriculum which is novel but has been found advantageous in the experience of some other colleges, is this: when a student who has completed the prescribed courses in English is found by any Department at any time to be incorrect or slovenly in his written English, one-half credit of his English requirement may be "recalled" and he may be required to regain it by work in composition to be prescribed by the Department of English ; and he is not eligible for graduation until such work has been successfully completed and the half credit regained.

Supplement to

It should be noted also that French is no longer the only possible second language in Arts 2 ; that the second language may be either French or German. This provision will be made retroactive in the case of any student who so desires, i.e., the High School student who has presented Latin and German for entrance may complete the required second language credits in German if he wishes to do so.

The new curriculum will be put into effect in September, 1913, so far as possible, not in all respects. For there must be a period of transition from the old curriculum to the new during which certain adjustments will be necessary. These adjustments will depend in general upon the following principles: (1) for the student who has completed in any Department as many credits as are prescribed for him in that Department under the new curriculum, no further courses are required; (2) the minimum credit requirement in any Department shall not be less than one or the other of these two: the minimum prescribed by the old curriculum or the minimum prescribed by the new.

It would take several pages of THE CAMPUS to give in detail all the conclusions that result from the application of these principles to the courses actually offered or to be offered in the college. But a few concrete cases may be stated for purposes of illustration :

In Philosophy: Students who complete Philosophy 3 in June have no further requirement; students who have had no Philosophy or have completed Philosophy 1 only will take the new 3 credit course.

In Natural History: Arts and Science 3 students who have completed Natural History 1 in June will be required to take Natural History 2, Old Style; students who have had no Natural History will take Natural History 1, New Style, i.e. 4 credits.

In Mathematics: Arts students who have completed both Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra have no further requirement; Science 1 and 3 students will be required to complete 14, 15, or 16 credits according to the amount already completed in each case; Science 2 students now in college will be required to complete two terms of Mathematics, whether Old Style or New Style.

First and Second Languages, Arts: For students who have completed in June Latin 4, Greek 4, French 4a or 4, or German 4a there will be in each case no further requirement.

Third Language, Arts: For students who have completed French A3, German A3 or Spanish 1-2 there will be no further requirement; students who have taken no Freshman work in the third language will take the new 6 credit, two term course.

Art: Science 1 students who have completed Art 1' Old Style, finish their requirement by completing Art 2, Old Style; those who have not begun the subject in college take the new 4 credit, two term course. Science 2 and 3 students must complete at least 4 credits in Art.

Latin in Arts 3: Students who have already begun Spanish, in college or Townsend Harris, are required to complete one year only of Latin; students who have not begun Spanish will be required to take Latin, through at least two years, in place of Spanish.

It may be added, to avoid any possible misapprehension, that we shall be absolutely under the old curriculum until September; and that every student will receive full credit for every subject which he completes this term, whether it is required under the new curriculum or not.

For the upper classes the most important feature of the new curriculum is its provisions in regard to the choice of electives. From 48 to 60 credits of each student's work will be in elective courses. In order to aid him to make wise choices the most closely inter-related Departments of the college are grouped together in three "Divisions" as follows:

I.
Languages and Literature

II.
History
Philosophy
Political Science

III.
Mathematics
Physics
Chemistry
Natural History

And it is provided that a student must take at least half of his elective credits in one of these Divisions and at least twelve credits in one Department of such Division- The other half of his elective credits he may distribute at will.

Furthermore, the Sub-Faculties of the several Divisions have framed "Groups" of elective courses which may be taken with profit by those students who have already decided upon particular professions or occupations. For example, the Sub-Faculty of Division II will recommend groups of electives suited to the man who expects to take up Law or Journalism, and the Sub-Faculty of Division III. will recommend other groups for the man who expects to go into Medicine or Chemical Engineering or Sanitary Science. A student will not in any case be required to take any one of these groups, — the only restriction upon his freedom of election is that stated in the preceding paragraph.

The requirement that a student must take half of his electives in one Division and 12 credits in a Department of that Division will not be enforced in the case of students who become Upper Seniors in September. Those who become Lower Seniors, Upper Juniors or Lower Juniors in September will be required to take half their remaining elective credits in one Division and one-quarter (approximately) in one Department of that Division.

The new curriculum is not presumed to be perfect. It will bring with it not only the possibility of misunderstandings, mistakes and confusion, but also of misdirection of energy and waste of opportunity. It remains for the students to do their part, as the Faculty have tried to do theirs, to make it the best curriculum we have ever had.

Carleton L. Brownson.

New Department Courses.

All departments are preparing their courses for next term. Some have been passed on and are printed below:

The Chemistry courses next term will be the same as this term. The Physics courses are also the same, except that P-4 will consist of Light and Electricity and P-5 will be made an elective course in advanced electricity. The surveying courses will be held before College opens. The English courses are as follows:

- 1—History of English Literature—4 hours, 4 counts.
- 2—History of English Literature—2 hours, 2 counts.
- 3—Rhetoric and composition.
- 4—Grammar and Diction.
- 5—Shakesperian comedy.

All other electives are the same as those in the old register.

French courses follow for students who take French as their second language:

- 1—Introduction to French Literature.
- 2—19th Century Literature.
- 3—Classical Drama.
- 4—Studies in 17th Century Literature.

For students taking French as the third language:

- 5—Modern Prose.
- 6—Classical Plays—for students who have had six terms of French in High Schools.
- 7—Same as 2.
- 8—Same as 3.

Electives.

- 9-10—Elementary (2 terms).
- 11 —18th or 19th Century Prose.
- 12 —Poetry.
- 13-14—Modern Drama.
- 15-16—Composition.
- 17-18—Advanced Course.
- 19-20—Science Readings.

The Latin department will give the following:

- 1-2—Virgil.
- 3—Horace's Odes.
- 4—Horace's Satires and Epistles.

Electives.

- 5—Latin Drama.
- 6—Latin Lyric and Satiric Poetry.
- 7—Latin Historians.
- 8—Latin Orators and Rhetoric.
- 9—Cicero's Philosophical Works.
- 10—Latin Linguistics.
- 11—Latin Prose Composition.

Henceforth there will be no sight reading in the Latin department.

ATHLETICS.

Nussbaum President.

After a fortnight of campaigning and a day of personal exhortation, all the votes have been counted and Nussbaum has been declared A. A. President for the coming year. As the votes were being counted in the A. A. Room a hundred or so enthusiasts gathered in front of the gym and gave an imitation of Times Square on Election Night.

During all the turmoil Harry Schaffer, unanimously elected secretary, presided over the "I Should Worry Association." He was the sole member, though, until the ballots were counted, after which everybody enrolled. While bulletins were being displayed from the window, every one was excited, but once the result was announced, a hearty cheer greeted Nussbaum, the winner, and another was given for Siebern, a good loser and "The People's Candidate." William Sullivan secured the vice presidency. Israel Ornstein '16 was elected property man. Lerner '15 is the new treasurer. Zagat and Schulman will fight it out for assistant treasurer.

Congratulations, winners! Losers, we are sorry!

St. John's Victorious.

When they visited us last Saturday, St. John's put a crimp (let us hope only temporarily) in the winning streak of Soons's boys. But our manager has hopes of a return game, and then there may be a different story.

The first ball pitched to the Saints was hit for a possible single, but bungling work stretched it into a triple. Three hits and one error gave them four runs, but with men on second and third "George" fanned two men and the worst was over.

Our men could not hit when hits meant runs. In the very first inning Mullen's pass, Darkey Schulberg's hit and Weirich's sacrifice put men on second and third, and then—two men fanned. In the third inning another heart-rending scene. The bases full—and then three of our men failed to get hits.

Our two runs came in the sixth when Donaldson's triple sent O'Connell home. He scored later.

The last inning saw a near-rally. With one out Wright was given a pass and Myer's pinch hit a single. Captain Mullen walked, as is his wont. Schulberg up, Weirich on deck, things looked rosy, but St. John's was there with bells on, and Scorer Crowley had to add another zero to our long list.

Mullen out-pitched Dimico, striking out eleven men to the Brooklynite's ten. It was a hard game to lose, Captain.

C. C. N. Y. . . .	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	—	2	6	7
St. John's. . . .	4	1	0	0	1	0	0	2	2	—	10	8	4

Batteries—Mullen and O'Connell, Dimico and Mahoney; strike outs—by Mullen 11, by Dimico 10; bases on balls, Mullen 4, Dimico 4.

C. C. N. Y. 11—Brooklyn College 9.

Just another victory—that's all—and one of the finest exhibitions of fighting spirit ever seen in a C. C. N. Y. team.

In the first three innings Brooklyn put nine men across the rubber, while our semi-varsities received none. That was all Brooklyn was to get, for then our regulars went in.

Matthews opened the fourth with a single, and Mullen, as usual, walked. Then came hits by Weirich, O'Connell and Kramer, with a sacrifice from Hanley and a pass for Lease. Net profit—four tallies. The next inning gave us one more run—Matthews's double followed by three passes.

O'Connell starred in the eighth. With two men on bases he clouted the sphere for a homer. Then Kramer singled, and Donaldson, to uphold the honor of Long Island, knocked another homer. He Merkle while rounding second, and so was out, but in the meantime the "Kid" had scored.

C. C. N. Y. . . .	0	0	4	1	0	0	2	4	*	—	11	12	6
Brooklyn . . . .	2	7	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—	9	9	3

George Hirsch Wins Cup!

At last we have a real song! THE CAMPUS Song Contest was held at the last A. A. Assembly and by a large vote the men present decided that Hirsch's "C. C. N. Y." merited most the CAMPUS Cup. A "Banquet Song" and "Our College Towers" had many supporters; in fact, these songs were good enough to keep for use next year.

Here are the words of the winning song. If you did not like them remember that there will be a demand for more verses, and wait until you hear words and music together.

New York, New York,
The banners now are waving
For you! New York!
New York, New York,
The crowds are loudly raving
For you! New York!
Can't you see,
Your loyal sons are battling
For lavender so fair?
All together! (spoken) One! Two! Three!
New York and Victory!

CHORUS

C. C. N. Y.
C. C. N. Y.
Can't you hear them cheering, cheering,
C. C. N. Y.?
Spoken (Rah! Rah! Rah!)
C. C. N. Y.
Victory is nigh
For SEE! Old Yale* is fearing
C. C. N. Y.                      * Name to be substituted.

Mr. V. Gonzales, an expert on foreign trade, who is with the National Association of Manufacturers, will address the class in international commerce to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock in Room 309.

Ten Years of Industry

IN A NOTE of good will to THE CAMPUS at the beginning of the past collegiate year, September last, President Finley said, "I enter upon my tenth year at the College with higher hope than ever for the fruition of the seeds of promise in the college." The remark brings home to those who know him the sense of President Finley's unselfish devotion to the ideals of the City College. He has made the hopes of the college his own so that thought of the college is complemented by thought of its head. Always efficient in his administration, he charms all those whom he administers with the fineness of his character.

But if all that THE CAMPUS may be able to say about the president has been said more beautifully and more appropriately by others, yet none can be more sincere in their appreciation of him, both as a president and as a man.

International Students' Club.

Professor Privat, of the University of Geneva, paid a visit to the college on Thursday and lectured in the Great Hall during the assembly hour on "Students' Leagues." He expressed the desire that the students of the college would unite with those of other institutions in an effort to extend the universal peace movement. He told of the influence of students' leagues in the past and hoped for similar organizations now. He stated that the only way in which this could be accomplished was for the students of all countries to have a world language, "Esperanto." A pleasant story in that tongue then followed, and most of the audience understood.

During the third hour of the day, Professor Privat spoke before the students who had French that hour on "Rostand." Professor Privat departed from the College, we are sure, with a favorable impression of our work here, and our impression of him is equally pleasant.

Society Gossip.

At the Installation Dinner of the Young Men's Christian Association held on Monday Evening in the Faculty Lunch Room, the following newly-elected officers were duly sworn in: President, Thomas Evans Coulton '14; Vice-President, William R. MacDonald '16; Treasurer, Paul J. Herman '15; Recording Secretary, M. D. S. Peterson '15. The new Committee chairmen are as follows:

Bible Study—Everett D. Hood '15; Social—Herbert W. Licht '16; Library—Robert H. Young '16; Industrial—John H. Boschen, Jr., '16; Deputation—Herbert W. Schneider '15.

Mr. Arthur Rugh, a lecturer of prominence was the speaker of the evening.

There will be a general re-organization of the the Civic Club at to-morrow's meeting. Freshmen and Sophomores are eligible to run for office at the election. Professor Guthrie has promised to have one or two men present to speak to the members.

A "Kommers" will be tendered to the members of both branches of the Deutscher Verein by Drs. Keppler and Richter of the German department on the last Friday in May. This is to be something in the nature of a "get-together affair" for the purpose of furthering the spirit of sociability between instructor and student.

The weekly Bio-Trip, under the direction of Dr. Butler, was held Saturday, the walk being to Tenafly, N. J. The Bio-Club held its meeting on Thursday night, at which Dr. Edwards spoke.

Marking System Probed.

The committee of the faculty appointed to investigate marking systems is hard at work in an effort to simplify and standardize the system used in the college. The records of the marks in fifty courses have been compared and information obtained from twenty-two American colleges. The committee will soon render its report to the faculty, and the result may be a radical change in our marking system.

Teachers' Association Meeting.

A gathering of the C. C. N. Y. Teacher's Association was held last Friday night at the Aschenbroedel Verein, on East Eighty-Sixth Street, and many important matters were discussed. Committees reported on the successful establishment of a Teacher's Loan Fund and on a plan for the co-operative purchasing of goods, an agreement having been reached between the Association and numerous department stores. The question of a system for advancing teachers was also talked over. The Executive Committee reported on the following: (a) the abolition of the title, "tutor"; (b) the title "assistant professor," and (c) participation in the faculty. As one instructor worded it, "We wanted the teachers of this college to be sure of a reward for good service, just as the members of any other walk in life are sure of it. We want this to be an industrial democracy; not a beneficent autocracy, run by the Board of Trustees, who may be good lawyers, but don't know how a college should be run."

Educational Clinic Planned.

To top the new Psychological laboratory which will be initiated into the work in that department next September, an Educational laboratory will be added to the Education Department. The work will comprise the practical study of abnormal children, who will be brought in from the schools of the city, how they can be improved, and their relations to normal school children. In addition to our own students, the new courses will be offered to teachers in the city schools, who will study in the educational clinic during the afternoon. Through this new laboratory much practical improvement of the methods of teaching the children in the schools may be accomplished.

---

Dr. Heckman will read a paper before the Research Club on Thursday, May 8. "Hereditary and Feeble-mindedness."

---

Feldman, '11, who held a fellowship at the University of Chicago, has left for the Philippines to take up the position of Chemists to the War Department there.

This is to be something in the nature of a "get-together affair" for the purpose of furthering the spirit of sociability between instructor and student.

The weekly Bio-Trip, under the direction of Dr. Butler, was held Saturday, the walk being to Tenafly, N. J. The Bio-Club held its meeting on Thursday night, at which Dr. Edwards spoke.

Marking System Probed.

The committee of the faculty appointed to investigate marking systems is hard at work in an effort to simplify and standardize the system used in the college. The records of the marks in fifty courses have been compared and information obtained from twenty-two American colleges. The committee will soon render its report to the faculty, and the result may be a radical change in our marking system.

Teachers' Association Meeting.

A gathering of the C. C. N. Y. Teacher's Association was held last Friday night at the Aschenbroedel Verein, on East Eighty-Sixth Street, and many important matters were discussed. Committees reported on the successful establishment of a Teacher's Loan Fund and on a plan for the co-operative purchasing of goods, an agreement having been reached between the Association and numerous department stores. The question of a system for advancing teachers was also talked over. The Executive Committee reported on the following: (a) the abolition of the title, "tutor"; (b) the title "assistant professor," and (c) participation in the faculty. As one instructor worded it, "We wanted the teachers of this college to be sure of a reward for good service, just as the members of any other walk in life are sure of it. We want this to be an industrial democracy; not a beneficent autocracy, run by the Board of Trustees, who may be good lawyers, but don't know how a college should be run."

Educational Clinic Planned.

To top the new Psychological laboratory which will be initiated into the work in that department next September, an Educational laboratory will be added to the Education Department. The work will comprise the practical study of abnormal children, who will be brought in from the schools of the city, how they can be improved, and their relations to normal school children. In addition to our own students, the new courses will be offered to teachers in the city schools, who will study in the educational clinic during the afternoon. Through this new laboratory much practical improvement of the methods of teaching the children in the schools may be accomplished.

"Gym" Locker Changes.

An attempt to do away with the pilfering which has been going on in the gymnasium of late, owing to the inefficiency of our present locker system, is being made by Professor Storey, who has formulated a new set of locker regulations. The locker rooms will be open only during the intervals between classes, the reason for keeping them closed during gym classes being that most of the pilfering occurred during such periods. Men who desire to use the building for voluntary work will have to make themselves acquainted with the department schedule of hours, so that they will not be confronted with the problem of trying to dress with their clothes in the locker rooms and themselves outside the door. The situation will prove unsatisfactory to many, but it is the only way which has yet been discovered to eliminate the thievery. Professor Storey hopes the system will prove effective; if not, it will be discontinued.

Commercial Training Good Here.

It is gratifying to note that City College is ranked with Yale and Harvard as a "School of Business Administration." In the April bulletin of the American Manufacturer's Exporting Association, there was an extended account of the work done in the aforementioned schools under the direction of experts. The Association further requested that those members in need of young men specially equipped for commercial work, should communicate with the secretary, who would in turn apply to the proper departments at Harvard, Yale and City College for desirable students.

Dr. Snider is conducting courses in international commerce and is equipping the students with a working knowledge of the present day situation. His efforts are attracting many men to a division of commerce which is opening up tremendous opportunities in the West, South America and China.

A Committee of the Associate Alumni has held meetings recently to draw up a permanent constitution for that body, and will be voted upon by the Association as soon as possible.

Friday, the 13th.

Friday, the 13th of June, is the night which the '13 class has selected for the first performance of the Senior Class Play. Another performance will be given the following evening. For the first time in the history of the College a real musical comedy will be offered. Clever plot, snappy dialogue and catchy tunes are the rule. The tryouts, which were held last Friday, brought out the class in a body. The cast, from our own inimitable Dutch Bogen to Gottschall, our little Summa Cum Laude man, who has consented to impersonate the cram, will be all-star. If you want to laugh, come and see bashful Bogen flirt with Professor Tw—, but that would be tellings; and if you want to hear "singing as is singing," drop into the T. H. H. Auditorium on the evening of June 13th or 14th and hear the City College Caruso, Leo Sorrin lead the chorus in—oh, come and hear for yourself.

Senior Hop.

Professor Overstreet, Professor and Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. Herbert Holton were the faculty guests at the senior hop last Friday evening. The dance was as successful as the previous class functions of June 1913.

To their honorary members, consisting of Professors Downer, Duggan and Guthrie, the upper senior class added Dr. Klapper, Professor Woolston and Professor Overstreet. Francis R. Dieuaide was elected Permanent Secretary of the class and Louis C. Gollomb Class Prophet.

Mr. Bartow S. Weeks has lately been appointed Justice of the Supreme Court. In a letter to President Finley Mr. Weeks says in part: "Before commencing the study of law my only education had been received in the public schools of New York and in the College of the City of New York, and to those institutions and to the city I owe a debt of gratitude which I can never repay, and any honors that may come to me belong justly to my Alma Mater." Mr. Weeks is a graduate of the class of 1879.

Dinner to CAMPUS Board.

The Campus Association, Incorporated, tendered its third annual dinner last Friday evening to the entire editorial board of THE CAMPUS. President Finley and Mr. Tristram W. Metcalfe, school editor of The Globe, were the guests. Mr. Burchard, president of the Associate Alumni, who had consented, found it impossible at the eleventh hour to come.

A pleasant reception was accorded to the editorial staff and to the invited guests in the Webb rooms, preceding the dinner. After the dining, Jacob Hoffmann '10, president of the Campus Association and toastmaster of the occasion, "reminisced" and introduced President Finley as a "newspaper idol." The president said that the college weekly journal was fulfilling a real need in the college and that it was a necessary institution. He relied upon it very often to convey most important information to the student body. Mr. Metcalfe told of his own experiences at college as editor of the New York University College weekly, The Triangle, and related in most interesting fashion the manner in which a great metropolitan daily is sent to press with the very latest news. He showed how every minute is of value in the news department. Among the other speakers of the evening were Winfred C. Allen '10, vice-president of the Campus Association, Louis Ogust '10, a charter member, and L. C. Gollomb '13, the present editor of the paper.

Clio Beats Phreno.

Rivals on the platform for half a century, Phreno and Clio clashed bats recently in a ball game, and Phreno took the count. Clio sent fourteen men across the rubber, Phreno's score was one less. For four innings Bach held the Phrenocosmians scoreless, then Mercury Magui was put into the box for some reason or other and in two innings he let in eleven runs. After that Bach finished the game.
