THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Vol. XIII.

NOVEMBER 26, 1913

No. 10

November 21, 1913.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

The young men of this College have had little opportunity to cultivate what is known as campus life. Such life needs for its development not only residential quarters, but leisure. Our campus is more like the ancient "campus", a place across which men march to and fro in their preparations for the later battles.

All the more need is there for something here to foster that spirit which in other places the campus life promotes. The selection of "The Campus" as the name for the weekly paper established within my acquaintance with the College, was a most happy one (though, as I remember, I urged "The Acropolis"), for it intimates the mission of such a paper: to help bring the young men of this College into a closer, a campus, acquaintance and fellowship.

It has been a real force in our life, and I send you a most hearty, grateful greeting as you celebrate its founding. I need not hope for its permanency—that is assured. But I do hope that it will come to reach every student, and teacher too, and to give a stronger sense of comradeship to the thousands who daily enter these gates. And I have another hope, that it will have such support as to make possible its daily publication.

I wish to be enrolled permanently as a paid subscriber, that I may keep myself informed of what is going on in this most delectable spot of earth. I am proud to have been a patron at the founding of THE CAMPUS, and I shall keep always agreeable memories of my association with its successive editors.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN H. FINLEY.

“For the Betterment of Student and College Activities.”

The principles which guide us in the management of this periodical should be thoroughly understood by every member of the student body. This is your paper, and you should know how, and by whom, its policies are directed.

In connection with our business management, we call attention to the fact that THE CAMPUS is not conducted for personal profit. Its business affairs are always under the general supervision of the Campus Association, Inc. an organization composed of former editors and workers on this paper. So keenly did the members of the Association feel that there should be no sharing of financial profits that several years ago they bound themselves legally, as a membership corporation, never to permit the use of CAMPUS funds for personal ends. With such meager profits as can be gleaned from the publication of a two-cent weekly, the Campus Association is striving to build up a fund which will be used at some future time for the promotion of some student and college activity.

Furthermore, THE CAMPUS is conducted by and for the general student body. Supervision by the former editors, who compose the Campus Association and who are now engaged in various walks of life, is intended only as a stimulus and an aid. Although the members of the Association give ungrudgingly of their time and best effort, in devising ways of making this sheet mean more to the students and to the College, they aim not to interfere with the work of the editors—editors who are chosen, without partiality, from among the students, on a basis of demonstrated effort and ability. Every student here should feel that he can work on this paper if he wants to. We are most anxious to give everyone an opportunity.

We accordingly feel that we deserve, and we therefore do not hesitate to ask for your support. We want you to feel that THE CAMPUS is a part of your college life—we want both your praise and blame. This is your paper and you can make it or unmake it. We have prospered as a result of your whole-hearted co-operation. We do not complain that your support is inadequate. A faithful body of readers can be counted upon week after week. But we do think that this support is not nearly as general as it should be. There are those for example, who read THE CAMPUS only once in two or three weeks. And to such in particular do we direct this appeal; and to such do we make this explanation of our cardinal principle, as it is expressed in our charter,—“the betterment of student and college activities at the College of the City of New York.”

Farewell to Our President.

The time has come to bid farewell. For Dr. Finley these are days of sad leave taking. From his associates in the administration of the College and from the general alumni body, he has already received well wishes, none the less hearty because mingled with regret. But the parting most profoundly felt will come to-day at eleven o'clock when Dr. Finley will say “Good-bye” to those that are peculiarly his own—the product of his work of ten years.

All of the classes graduated under President Finley, will be represented at the general student assembly that has been called by the Student Council to meet in the Great Hall. Addresses will be made by members of each of these classes, commencing with one of the graduates of 1904 who formed the first company of the Finley cohorts. Colonel Lydecker '71, our newly elected trustee, and Professor Downer will also speak. Meyer Cohen, '14, President of the Student Council, will be chairman of the meeting, and will give expression to the feeling of the students on the occasion of our parting from Dr. Finley.

To-day's meeting will be a student function, under the auspices of the Student Council. When sessions are temporarily discontinued at eleven o'clock, the students will proceed into the Great Hall, grouping themselves by classes. Members of the Faculty will sit in the audience as guests of the students. The assembly will mark the initial appearance of the Glee Club. The musical program will also include a violin solo.

A Hypothetical Profit.

At the meeting of the Student Council last Friday afternoon somewhat of a sensation was furnished by the business manager of the 1914 Microcosm, who reported a profit of $133.85. The enthusiasm with which this announcement was received was, however, somewhat dampened by the qualification that the profit is contingent on the sale of two hundred copies of the book, which are still on hand. A committee was appointed to wind up the affairs of the board and to try to make the "paper profit" real.

One of the matters discussed at the Council meeting was the desirability of establishing cordial relations with the students of the Evening Session. A report was made by the Social House committee which announced that it had collected $190 from the students for the fund.

The Student Council also took up the question of securing a suitable room for its meetings and an effort will be made to have a special room designated for this purpose.

"What's Wrong with the Jew?"

At the invitation of the Menorah Society, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise came to lecture before an audience of three hundred students last Thursday on his impressions of Palestine. When Honor '14, President of the society introduced him he said that he could not lose this opportunity of addressing Jewish young men on a most vital topic and chose as his subject "What's Wrong with the Jew?" His answer was the Christlessness of Christendom and the lack of self-reverence on the part of the Jews. He stated that his recent interview with President Wilson resulted in the assurance that no treaty would be made with Russia that discriminates against the Jews. He urged that the Jews reverence the high moral righteousness of Israel and thus retrieve their lost power in the community.

We note with regret that Mr. Butler of the Natural History Department was on leave of absence last week on account of the death of his mother. We express the sentiments of the student body as well our own when we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

ATHLETICS.

Cornell Wins Cross-Country.

You were either there and saw it, or you read about it or have been told about it, so there is hardly any necessity of rehearsing the whole matter again except to correct an impression that C. C. N. Y. did not finish a full team. After taking Guinness' time the timers did not wait for Drake who finished after him, being the fifth and last man of the C. C. N. Y. team. Schaffer was the first man of our team to cross the line. He finished seventieth in 39 minutes and 59 seconds. The others were Frey 71, time 40 min.; Scarlata 73, time 40 min. 7 sec.; Guinness 79, time 42 min. 38 sec.; Drake 80, time not recorded.

The summaries are as follows: First ten men:

1.	Boyd	Harvard	time 34-37
2.	Hoffmire	Cornell	" 34-55
3.	McCurdy	Penna	" 35-01
4.	Blackman	Harvard	time 35-02
5.	Safford	Yale	" 35-35
6.	Marceau	Dartmouth	" 35-42
7.	Coop	Brown	" 35-45
8.	Morrison	Princeton	" 35-46
9.	Cook	M. I. T.	" 35-57
10.	Langner	Penna.	" 36 min.

Team Scores.

Leaving The Seniors Behind.

Once again it has been shown that the college curriculum does not produce a well rounded man. Filling the students minds with knowledge seems to take away speed from their legs. We refer to the underclass men repeating their usual performance in the athletic events of the College. On Thursday the Freshmen ran away with the Interclass Track Meet with a score of 50 with the Sophomores a close second with a tally of 41. After that the weighty Seniors and the jaunty Juniors appear on the horizon with the numbers 5 and 2 to their respective credits. To think that our recently incubated Freshies should show their heels to their matured and lordly guardians is certainly cause for comment. Remember, Seniors and Juniors! This is an age of speed, and he who runs in a foot race must not read. However, figures speak louder than words—so here goes:

More "Comment on the Schedule."

All praise to whom praise is due! Last year the hammer was out for those who, in their wisdom, gave us a basketball schedule which, was good for a fresh water college with a student body of about 12. To-day we can proudly say we are playing against colleges more worthy to compete with our Five. For this many thanks Manager Thomas! With N. Y. U., Princeton, Swarthmore and St. Lawrence among those present the opening game should see the Gym packed to the doors. Such an aggregation of opponents is sure to bring out all the rooters for our major sport.

The White Ball is Up.

Our water polo squad is rapidly splashing into form and in several weeks will be working its hardest to drown Yale, Princeton, Pennsy, Williams and Columbia. At least, let us hope so! Among the best of our boys are "Cap" Nussbaum, Hartman, Feinberg, Rosenblum, Schwartz, Lansman and Babor. We would like to mention more but we do not know their names. Pardon an alumnus! The boys are light but to make up for this, extremely fast, - in fact so fast that they swim away from the goal, not towards it. Several changes in the rules have been made which make speed more essential and desirable than weight. Much rough work will be eliminated and our mermaids will be safe.

December Fourth

One of those good, old-fashioned, hip-hip-hooray mass meetings will inaugurate the Basketball Season on Thursday, the 4th of December. We want to stir up a rousing war spirit that may in turn stir up powerful St. Lawrence when she faces our boys at the first game, December 13th.

Lafayette Saturday at 1 P. M.

On Saturday our cross-country team will run against Lafayette over the Van Cortlandt Park course. Mr. James E. Sullivan has been kind enough to let us use the course before the A. A. U. Cross-country Champs which will be held the same afternoon. Lafayette has beaten Lehigh and Rutgers, so our boys will have to work hard if they are to redeem themselves in the hill-and-dale run.

Football.

The Y. M. C. A. has organized a football team which has been practising daily on Jasper Oval under Mr. Bartlett, who is acting as coach. Among the men who have gone out for the team are Barry, Hanley, Cusack, Austin, Moerschen, Burrows, Norman, Crawford, Kennedy, Cahill, Donaldson, Tram, Jones, Crowley and Brown. Barry, Donaldson, Cusack, Crawford and Kennedy are ex-high school stars. Train, captain of the team, played on the Yale Freshman team last year.

The group of men who have started an interest in football at college must be commended. With this interest spreading the game could easily develop into a Varsity sport.

C. C. N. Y. Beats Cornell at Football.

The C. C. N. Y. Y. M. C. A. football team easily defeated the Cornell Medical College Y. M. C. A. team at Oakwood Heights, S. I., last Saturday. Our gridiron stars scored two touchdowns and held the M. D.'s to zero. The Y. M. C. A. will meet the Newman Club soon.

Wrestling.

"Hacken Schmidt" Ehrman '17 was victorious in the 110-120 lb. class and "Mamutoff" Ridinsky '16 grappled to victory in the 120-130 lb. class. A large crowd was present to see the heavy weights fight it out.

Dr. and Mrs. Finley to Receive Instructors.

The gymnasium on Saturday night will be the scene of a farewell reception to be given by the President and his wife. All members of the instructing staff and their wives have been invited to attend and bid a last farewell to our retiring President.

Faculty Sentiments.

At the Business Meeting of the Faculty held last Thursday, Dr. Finley took formal leave. Professors Mott, McGuckin, Saurel, Brown, Brownson and Overstreet spoke on behalf of the Faculty and wished the new President of the University of the State of New York God-speed to his new field of endeavor.

High School Principals Dined.

A luncheon by the standing high school committee was tendered to the principals of the city high schools last Saturday. Alrick H. Man, ex-president of the Alumni Association and member of the Board of Education was the guest of honor. Professor Winslow, as chairman of the committee, presided.

Bartlett Wants Four Millions.

Secretary Bartlett has been conducting a whirlwind campaign to raise funds for the Y. M. C. A. As we go to press some one hundred and fifteen dollars have been received. Presumably, the contributions will continue to pour in, and all surplus funds will be distributed pro rata among contributors.

President Finley to Preside.

On Nov. 28 and 29, the 27th annual convention of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools will be held, under the auspices of the University of the State of New York, at Albany. President Finley will deliver the address of welcome.

Last Tuesday, Dr. Finley attended the convention of the New York State Teachers' Association and delivered an address that was enthusiastically received.

The Department of Hygiene presented Dr. Finley with a beautiful gold-handled cane as a token of esteem for the retiring President.

Our Ambassador.

GR^{EAT} occasions in the path of a life are rarely scattered; more uncommonly unique are they in the existence of a collegiate community. The advent of Dr. Finley to the Presidency of this Citadel of Learning and his departure this day to other fields of endeavor delimit an epoch in the history of City College. In this year, "The Tenth, Finley," we, as a college, lose an able executive; but, by the same stroke of Destiny we are privileged to nominate an ambassador to an empire of education. A post of eminent duty is a post of eminent honor. Blended with our remorse, therefore, is a pardonable feeling of pride in our accredited emissary. As a collegiate community we despatch a regiment of good wishes to escort Dr. Finley as he goes from this "Acropolis" to measure up to the greater responsibilities and larger opportunities incident to membership in the Councils of the Empire State. To the brigade of cordial words with which Dr. Finley's friends have surrounded him THE CAMPUS contributes its squadron of congratulations.

An Editorial Recall.

That it is best for a shoemaker to stick to his last is a principle founded upon the Common Law of Experience. A diligent search of the Scriptures and Statutes, however, fails of uncovering any mandatory prohibition applicable to men in other trades and professions. And so, with a composite conscience clear before the law, and—be it confessed!—with sundry private and individual misgivings, several ex-editors and members of previous editorial staffs of THE CAMPUS have convened this twenty-first day of November in the shadow of the Singer Building for the purpose of writing and editing an issue of THE CAMPUS that will be—well, unique. Half a decade or more has elapsed since some of us wielded an editorial blue pencil, or sought, with facile and trenchant pen, to mould the opinion of an undergraduate community. We shall, therefore, overrule in advance any possible exceptions to the admission of evidence under each and every of the allegations set forth in Pages 1 to 20 of this issue. Moreover, we are prepared to prosecute under Section 1340 of the Penal Law any person or persons who will be sponsors for the charge that it is impossible for an editor to “come back”. For this and other reasons—
Caveat emptor!

The members of the Editorial Staff of this, the Old Editors' Issue, acknowledge their indebtedness to Mr. Jerome M. Education Notes.

In the Educational Review Dr. Klapper has an article entitled "A Judgment of New York City Schools" which is an answer to the charge of Professor McMurray that the schools of the city are very poor.

Last Saturday afternoon Professor Duggan spoke before the School Art League and in the evening he delivered an address before the Men Teacher's and Principal's Association.

Doings of the Profs.

Professor Cohen's article on "The New Realism," which appeared in the Journal of Philosophy is quoted from and referred to by Professor Hicks of London University in the Hibbert Journal. The second annual convention on Legal and Social Philosophy, in which Professor Cohen is interested, has been postponed to Easter week.

Two reviews by Professor Turner, of the Philosophy Department, will appear in the Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Methods on H. L. Stewart's "Problems of the Day in Philosophy" and on "Murray's Pragmatism."

The report of the New York State Factory Investigating Commission for 1913, just issued, contains a 125 page report on "Wood Alcohol" by Professor Baskerville. The same volume contains an article by Dr. Breithut on "The Inspection of Establishments Producing, Refining or Using Wood Alcohol."

Dr. Breithut's class in Municipal Chemistry spent last Thursday at the Standard Testing Laboratory of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. By a co-operative arrangement between these laboratories and the Department of Chemistry our men are directly prepared for municipal service. A similar arrangement with the Department of Health Food and Drug Inspection Laboratory has just been consummated.

Mr. L. Weinberg, of the Art Department, will lecture during the Christmas holidays before the Baltimore Chapter of the Federation for Child Study.

In The Society World.

Il Circolo Dante Alighieri elected the following officers at its last meeting: President, J. Battistella '15; Vice-President, A. J. Ricca '14; Secretary, Ettari '17; Treasurer Christiano '14. A special meeting of the society will be held at 1.15 this afternoon.

The Sketch Club which was recently formed has decided to hold its meetings every Thursday and Saturday. Professor Dielman is enthusiastic and has consented to become its faculty advisor.

The Erasmus Club will smoke during the Xmas vacation. It may as well be here, we guess, as hereafter for those alumni of the Brooklyn High School who are among us in the College.

The Catskill Aqueduct shafts were the object of a visit by the members of the Engineering Society. The next visit will be made to the R. H. Hoe & Co's. manufactory. Webbe '15 will deliver a paper at the next meeting on "Most Efficient Ways of Connecting Cells" and O. R. Gottfried '17 and Zimmer '14 will report on the Engineering Journals.

We are trying to get Euclid on the long-distance. How in the name of calculus can our intellectual athletes composing the Chess Club become a part of the Triangular League (Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Brown)? Be that as it may, C. C. N. Y. will play during the Christmas holidays at the rooms of the Brooklyn Chess Club.

Classica Sodalitas.

Harold Costello '14, the Augustus Cæsar of the Classical Society, has translated several epigrams of that Latin fellow, Martial, whose arnold-bennetings are being read by the Society. Professor Ball read a paper entitled "Martial—The Forerunner of the Advertising Business." We believe the paper was written in the English vernacular, as it were.

The State Civil Service Commission will give exams for a number of positions at the end of this month.

How to Learn German.

An easy and pleasant method of instruction is one that is nowadays so widely discussed as the "educational influence of the stage." Whatever one's opinion may be as to the sufficiency of this influence as a justification for the presentation of certain plays that are now getting to be common in this city, no one will deny its efficiency as a method in the study of foreign languages.

Students of German will accordingly be interested in the announcement of Mr. Rudolf Christians, whose company of German players are presenting classic plays at the Irving Place Theatre. Tickets may be obtained by students for special matinees at one-third of the regular prices. These may be had from Dr. De Walsh.

Tickets at a one-third reduction may also be had for regular performances of this company by obtaining an identification card from Dr. Richter.

The Dutchmen.

Das Deutche Verein hat tryouts gehalten für ein play dass mit den Mädchen des Normal College Verein letzten Thursday geben werden sein haben müssen. Ganz ein number hat ausgeturned. Derr Herr Doktor De Walsh hat die tryouts conducted. Die junge Herren Albrecht, Licht, Weinfeld, Moerchen, und Schoeller haben das grösste promise geshown. (How is this for German after five years!)

Ex-Thirteen.

Bachelors of Arts are put to shame; "bachelor" not being a copyright name. Here are a bunch of would-have-beens, boasting the fact that they're ex-thirteens; ignoring the blight of their sad declivity, they dare to get up a "bachelor festivity" (this Wednesday evening at St. Charles Hall;—here is your invite, come one, come all!) Once they were students, don't fail to remember; and now on the 23rd day of December, their dark-bookish day they will try to recall in a feed and a smoker at the very same hall. And just to end this bloomin' spiel, the Exes will visit a vaudeville on December the 26th, matinee. Sure even the dead dogs must have their day.

As Written by the '11 "Mike" Bus. Mgr.

The 1913 Microcosm will be edited by "Teddy" Goodman of the Junior Class, assisted by Mones, '15, Hoffman, '16, and Schattman, '17. Its business and finances will be managed by Schachner, '15, who assures us that his profits will exceed those obtained by us when we managed the publication. Meyerowitz, '15; Kear, '16 and Amore, '17, will assist him. The Art Editors will be Katz, '15, and Tabor, '17, whose past performances speak for themselves.

The Microcosm will positively be placed on sale by May 1, 1914. It is a little early to predict what it will contain, but we are assured that both the member and the quality of the cuts will be improved upon. The shape of the book will not be as unwieldy as in the past.

The entire managing board of the Students' Aid Fund, with Mr. Kenyon '72 as the trustee, was re-elected at a meeting held on November 10. The other members of the Fund are Professor Sim, president; Burke, Treasurer and Mr. Compton, of the English Department, secretary. The Fund was established to aid needy students to complete their college course. The money is loaned to them without interest.

Legislators in Session.

A week ago to-day, the Civic Club held its regular meeting. President Obstfeld '14 strenuously wielded the gavel. Prof. Guthrie spoke on the Four Million Y. M. C. A. Fund, and his eloquence separated the legislators from their loose change. Professor Robinson lucidly explained how a student might become an expert on civic questions.

The Junior Class is to hold an informal smoker on November 29 in the Lunch Room, at which most of the men will be able to get together to spend a pleasant evening.

Woe is us! Jesse Perlman, '11, writes red hot poems in the "Survey" and the "Call." Socialist? He denies the allegation and defies the allegator.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Splash Me and I'll Splash You.

The Varsity Swimming Team is making rapid progress toward championship calibre. McGrath, Riemer, Duncan, Nussbaum and Kilpatrick are swimming with speed. We hope they will equal, if not outdo the wonderful team of 1911-1912, captained by Coughlin. This team accomplished the only defeat Columbia ever accepted from C. C. N. Y.

Soakher.

1916 and 1917 have already organized Soccer teams and are even playing games. Let's hope that this means Varsity Soccer with a manager, a schedule, etc. Perhaps we may even read some day in The Call, an article telling about the defeat of Yale by C. C. N. Y., 8-1

The Board of Class Athletic Managers is at present busy arranging schedules for various inter-class activities, notably basketball, swimming and water polo, track, chess and tiddle-de-winks. Jones, Levy, Goldstein and Godnick are working hard.

Basketball.

The basketball outlook continues to become more promising, as the practise days goes on. As yet final selections for the squad have not been made, and Mr. Palmer has a puzzling problem before. At any rate we can be assured that the team which represents us this year will be one of the finest all-around set of men we have put on the basketball field.

June '13—first re-union—in form of class dinner—6th December—7 P. M.—Faculty Lunch Room. The janitor put the Editor out before he could write this item up.

Julian Barth '13, has been appointed as assistant to the chief engineer of the American Marconi Society to aid in the design of wireless sets.

"Insect Borne Diseases" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Professor Winslow at Teacher's College on Monday, Dec. 1 at 4 P. M.

Dr. Sinder was the guest of Clark University last week at a conference on Latin America.

Evening Session Notes.

The social life of the night college presents a promising outlook. There are numerous functions on foot.

The elections of the Student Council resulted in Mr. Flaherty being chosen President, Mr. Barron, Treasurer and Mr. Racoff, Secretary.

Tickets for the coming smoker may be procured from any councillor, delegate or committee man.

Sol. Bluhm, '14 of the day session addressed the Evening Session Student Council on Friday evening.

TOBACCO

A CHECKMATE to your smoke that bites and burns! Velvet—the selected tender middle leaf—aged in the leaf over two years—producing a mellowness that only the measured pace of time can encompass. A flavor and smoothness tremendously good!

Pipe smoking with Velvet is a revelation—proving that time only can make tobacco what we would all have it—smooth.
