FREDERICK P. BELLAMY LAUDS EDWARD M. SHEPHERD IN ADDRESS ON CHARTER DAY

Discusses Future of College---Gilbert
Crawford Speaks of Founders

Charter Day, the anniversary of the act of the Legislature on May 7th, 1847, which provided for the establishment of the institution, was celebrated in the Great Hall. The programme included addresses by President Mezes, Frederick P. Bellamy, representing the board of trustees, Gilbert H. Crawford, of the class of '68, representing the alumni, Professor Duggan, and musical numbers by Professor Baldwin, the College Orchestra, and the Glee Club.

Professor Duggan, in his address, traced the educational history of the country. "The Free Academy was the first," he declared, "to be publicly supported. It was aimed to meet the social needs of the community and was to be distinctive in character. It has always remained true to the original aim. There are many striking instances where the College has led all others: it was the first to introduce a chair of English, and the first to institute mechanical and commercial courses. Its curriculum has covered every line of higher education," he said.

Trustee Frederick P. Bellamy then spoke to the gathering. He laid stress on the fact that altho the Act of 1847 as being celebrated, the College evolved gradually by a series of legislative acts, culminating more than fifty years later—in 1900—when the College achieved its full legal recognition as a chartered institution by the creation of a separate Board of Trustees. Reference was then made to the Independent Board recently provided for at Hunter College.

Mr. Bellamy then spoke of Edward M. Shepard and what the College owes to him. "It would be impossible," he said, "for a Trustee of the City College of to-day who knows its history to speak of its Charter, on this, its Charter Anniversary Day, without paying a tribute of respect to that distinguished Alumnus of the College—Edward M. Shepard, who was at once

"Tuxedo Does Not Irritate My Throat"

The non-irritating quality of Tuxedo which Caruso praises is due to the original "Tuxedo Process" by which the tobacco is treated. This process refines the tobacco and absolutely removes all bite and sting.

Many thousands of men think they cannot smoke a pipe, for fear the tobacco might burn or parch their mouths. Tuxedo has done away with any such possibility. You can smoke Tuxedo all day long, without any irritation whatsoever—indeed with increasing pleasure.

the inspiration and the author of this perfected Charter, of 1900, under which this College has at last achieved its legal and scholastic independence.

"He freely gave to this College some of the best years of his brilliant but too brief life, and no one knows better that do those who were his colleagues on its Board of Trustees, in how true a sense even these College buildings should be recognized as a monument to his persistent and successful efforts. I feel it my pleasure as well as my duty to-day, on this Charter Anniversary of the Institution which he served so devotedly up to the last moment of his life, to ask you to listen to these few words taken shortly before his death from his own prophetic vision of this—his Alma Mater.

And now, as to the future of this College of the City, of this Cherishing Mother of our own—what is her future to be? Who can tell? Lest you think I dream I hardly dare put into words the full vision which I see, and see clearly and surely of years which are to come. This College of ours will grow till it outnumber any single body of college students in our country or in the world. But it is not her numbers which will then be her glory; rather will numbers represent the noble privilege of her burdens—the wonderful scope of her influence and her duty. Though the College may not be a University, we mean that no University shall better or more powerfully help and direct American life than shall our College. In that future day we mean that nowhere—the world over—shall what makes up a liberal education general but not technical, be better taught to the extent to which the young man must learn it if he would turn to the special mastery of any career for which intellectual discipline is necessary.

If all of this be rhapsody is it not the rhapsody of truth? If the feet of the Alumnus stand truly and firmly on the ground, ought not his head to strike the stars? If we do not overpass in the pressure of our work and achievements what is wise and sound and within the knowledge and accomplishment of common life, is it not helpful to realize—though but dimly—the career which, if her children and her friends be faithful to her, as surely they will be, the Almighty offers this College of our service and devotion.

The next speaker was the President who, in a few well-chosen words explained the deep significance of the occasion and the place of the College in the history of the City.

Gilbert Crawford, '68, discussed "Founders Day" in other colleges when the generosity of private philanthropists is lauded. He explained the various acts by which the College has come into its own, and then made a plea for the institution of vocational courses of study.

"Founders' Day in other colleges," he said, "commemorates the generosity of individuals who devoted their private means to the public good. Our celebration reminds us rather of the enlightened policy of men, who persuaded the voters of New York that it was to their interest to maintain in their own hands an institution for the higher education of young men. There were other colleges here at the time, and which too, had received large financial assistance from the city, but the community as such had no voice in their control. The Founders of this College determined to offer to the young citizens of New York, a scheme of higher education that was not planned by a private corporation. This was a wise, far-sighted and statesmanlike resolution.

"There were other features which deserve brief mention. One was that this College stands upon a referendum; the plan of the Founders was approved by a special vote of the people. Another feature was the absolute freedom of opinion, religious, social and political, accorded to instructors as well as students. In the first Faculty an Episcopal minister sat by the side of a well-known free thinker, who in those orthodox days was dubbed an infidel. There he sat in the Faculty of the People's College, clothed with the full authority of a professor.

"It must be confessed that the Founders announced an ambitious program. Through one of their number, Mr. Robert Kelly, who delivered an address at the opening of the College in 1848, their purpose was declared to be the establishment of an institution which should offer to students a "business, mechanical and industrial" education; to be, mark well the words, united with "general mental culture." These words expressed an idea which, if not original, was novel at that time, in a form as abstract and elemental as the declarations of fundamental law in the Constitution of the United States, and just as much in need of exposition. We hold in great respect men who furnish original ideas for the benefit of mankind, and this is simple justice; but sometimes we forget what is due to those, who, receiving an idea fresh from the conception of others, undertake to devise the practical details which make the idea useful. Creative power is just as necessary in working out the details of a great idea as in conceiving the idea itself. The Constitution of the United States declares that Congress shall have power to regulate commerce between the states, and we praise the fathers for the comprehensive simplicity of this grant of power, but what shall be said of the statesmen and judges who for one hundred and twenty-six years have been kept busy preparing the practical rules and definitions which make that constitutional grant of value to the people? So, recurring to Mr. Kelly's address, all honor to the Founders for pointing the ship in the right direction, but no less honor to those, instructors, trustees and others, who for sixty-seven years have been trying to put into actual visible operation the ideas which he expressed for his colleagues. What is a true business education, a true mechanical education, a true industrial education, and how shall they be united with general mental culture? The problem has engrossed the attention of the College authorities from the beginning, and even to-day it is but partly solved. Some say we are only at the beginning of the subject and no where near a solution. One thing is certain, the demand of the public that the problem shall be solved.

"It is some consolation to know that the same question is troubling the 'learned faculties' everywhere. Our Founders were innovators. They proclaimed an educational truth which was not welcome to the learned pundits of 1848, but to-day colleges which frowned one time on the doctrine that a business, or mechanical, or industrial education could be united with general mental culture, are advertising, each for itself, its own boasted method of doing that very thing.

"We must wait awhile and must not be too impatient. Great changes come slowly. The light which strikes the eye on a clear night, coming from far distant suns, obeys an impulse which may have been given to it generations ago. For centuries the civilized world has been trying to devise an ideal system of mental and physical training for the young, but the guiding star with just the right spectrum has not yet been seen. Our Founders pointed the telescope to the region of space where they believed the star would be found, and our instructors have faithfully maintained the tradition handed down by the Founders. Perhaps one of our present students, who is discontented because he is conscious that his studies have not done for him all that he hoped, may be so fortunate as to make the great discovery."

The Exercises were then concluded with a stirring rendition by the entire assemblage of the song, "The Glory of Our College," the words of which were written by Professor Coleman.

Three Greek Plays To Be Given By Barker

In addition to the production of Euripides's "Trojan Women," with which the Lewisohn Stadium is to be dedicated on the afternoon of May 29th, there are to be three performances of Greek plays by Granville Barker and his company in the Stadium during the following week, under the auspices of the Citizens' Committee appointed by the Mayor and of Columbia University, New York University, and the City College. "The Trojan Women" is to be repeated on Wednesday afternoon, June 2nd, and the "Iphigenia among the Taurians" will be presented on May 31st and June 5th. Admission to these performances, each beginning at 4.30 P. M., will be by tickets which may be purchased through the office of the secretary of the Mayor's Greek Play Committee, in Aeolian Hall.

City College Student Wins

Third Place in Essay Contest

Harry R. Stern, '15, won third place in the prize essay contest of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration. About fifty men competed. The winner was Robert W. Brown of the University of Arkansas. The title of Stern's essay was "Arbitration and Democratization."

(b) That the T. H. H. faculty initiate all matters of course of study and of student control, and advise in all matters such as properly fall within the scope of faculty action.

GOVERNING BOARD

3. That there be a College faculty board which shall be composed of:

(a) Faculty members of the Dept. of Education not exceeding three in number.

(b) The Dean of the College faculty.

(c) Not less than three nor more than five other representatives from the College faculty, appointed annually by the President.

(d) The Principal of T. H. H. and the President of the College, neither one having the right to vote,

And which shall decide all matters of course of study, policy, organization of staff, length of period, study periods, etc., and be responsible to the President and Trustees of the College, but not to the College faculty.

REASONS

I. We believe that Townsend Harris Hall should be continued as a College Preparatory School because there seems to be need in this city for a school whose special aim shall be to prepare students for College.

A course of study specially designed to prepare students for college may be completed in a shorter time than the usual High School course because of the concentration upon the subjects leading to the college curriculum and the elimination of other subjects.

An easier transition is affected from the preparatory work to that of the College, both as regards methods, teaching and adjustment of environment on the part of the students.

The number of graduates of the College teaching in the City High Schools is so large that it appears desirable to give the students aiming to teach in these schools an opportunity to secure, while at the College, opportunities for observation and practice in a secondary school on the College campus.

II. It is highly desirable that boys of High School age and College men be not obliged to mingle in the same halls and rooms.

The completion of a preparatory course and the entrance into college should be emphasized by a physical transition which will mark the more forcibly the step taken in scholastic life.

Keeping the students in one building renders unity of administration possible.

The reduction of the numbers to one session will enable the administration to make more satisfactory schedules, and to inset study periods.

The reduction in the number of students in the preparatory school will enlarge the opportunity for the expansion of the College by increasing the funds available for College work.

3. As the majority of colleges are requiring fifteen points for admission to college, and the State Department of Education accepts the content of the present curriculum of Townsend Harris Hall at a fifteen unit valuation, we believe that the content of the College preparatory course should at least meet this requirement.

The Committee appears to be unanimous in the belief that every opportunity and encouragement should be given to the more capable students to complete the preparatory course in three years, but are divided as to the expediency of presenting the normal course as one of three years or one of four years.

The majority is of the opinion that the content of the course is of more importance than the time of its completion, and that the schedule imposed upon a student should be carefully studied, therefore, should begin at a pace that may be increased, if successive tests prove that he is able to make more subject in a given term.

The records of four consecutive terms beginning with the class that graduated from Townsend Harris Hall gauged according to his ability. Every in June, 1913, show that of the students eligible for the Freshman class, lacking not more than one point, eighty per cent had been in attendance only three years; fifteen per cent three and a half years, four per cent four years, one per cent four and a half years.

*Everywhere
Why?*

The averages of eight consecutive classes, beginning with the class that graduated in June, 1911, show that the number of those eligible for the Freshman class was twenty-five per cent of the number entering Townsend Harris Hall three years before.

In the case of the four consecutive terms mentioned above, the number of students that entered the Freshman class without conditions was ten per cent of the number that entered the C class three years before. In the case of five consecutive terms in the Boys' High School of Brooklyn and in the DeWitt Clinton High School, the number of students graduated and certificated was eighteen and twenty-two per cent respectively of the number entering the schools four years before.

These records do not appear to the majority of the Committee to justify the presentation of the Townsend Harris Hall Curriculum as normally a three year course.

IV. The difference between the nature of secondary work and of college work should be recognized in the choice of teachers, according as their abilities and sympathies better fit them for the one or the other.

The administration of the College, and that of the Preparatory School will be made more effective in each case through the staff vitally interested in but one problem.

The grading of the salaries in the Preparatory School may be made more attractive.

Five plans of organization other than the one recommended were considered by the Committee:

1. A Faculty composed of the Principal of T. H. H. and of Heads of Departments in T. H. H., with the Department of Education of the College acting as adviser.

2. A Faculty composed of the Principal of T. H. H., Heads of Departments in T. H. H. and the President of the College.

3. A Faculty consisting of the Principal of T. H. H., Heads of Departments of T. H. H. and representatives from the College Faculty.

4. A Faculty composed of the Principal and entire teaching staff of T. H. H. and a supervisor from each of the College Departments, entire Department of Education, President of the College; Heads of Departments of College.

5. Full control to be placed in the Department of Education.

We recommend a Faculty in T. H. H. because it will represent the most experienced portion of the staff actually engaged in the teaching and operating of the curriculum, will concentrate responsibility upon the individuals, and stimulate their interest.

There must be a link between the College and its Preparatory School, hence we have devised a governing board which shall insure correlation between the curricula of the College and of T. H. H. Furthermore, as T. H. H. is to serve as an observation and practice school for the Department of Education, it is appropriate that this Department should have official representation on this board.

Board of Trustees Authorized to Charge For Use of Buildings

Governor Whitman has recently signed an additional section of the original act of 1900 which amended the Greater New York Charter in relation to the use of the lands and buildings of the College.

The act, which will take effect at once, authorizes the Board of Trustees to prescribe charges and compensation for the use of any part of the College and to exact fees for the attendance at or participation in the uses so permitted.

All money so received will be accounted for within ten days and paid to the Comptroller of the City who will credit it to the special fund for the exclusive benefit and use of the Athletic Council and other organizations of the College.

Reception to be given to

Our Dramatic Coach

On Saturday evening, May 22nd, the Dramatic Society of the College will give a Reception to Dr. and Mrs. Taaffe in the Tower Rooms.

Many of the Faculty, the alumni body of the Society and the present members will attend. An elaborate program is in process of formation.

The officers have proposed to solicit subscriptions for a fitting gift to Dr. Taaffe in recognition and appreciation of his services as coach of the Varsity Shows for several years. The presentation of the gift is to take place at the reception.

Subscriptions may be made to the President, Martin Peterson, or any of the other officers.

Notice

The Dean's Office has announced that after this term, candidates for License No. 1 of the Board of Education (for teaching in the public schools) must complete the following courses:

Philosophy 2.
 Education 1, 3 and 5.
 Either Philosophy 21 or Education 2.

During the coming term, however, the following combinations will be permitted, especially for the convenience of those who will graduate next February:

Philosophy 2 and Education 2.
 Education 2 (or Philosophy 21) and Education 5.

That is, the prerequisites set for Education 2 and 5 may be disregarded temporarily.

Altho not prescribed, Education 8, and Education 9 are necessary.

There are three sections in Education 9. The course counts one credit.

English Club Meets

The members of the English Department, assembled as the English Club, with Dr. Crowne in the chair, dined in the Tower Room Wednesday, May 5th at 6 o'clock.

Dr. Friedland read a paper on required and elective English in the leading American colleges and technological schools, and offered a number of important conclusions. A set of recommendations from the General Committee on Courses, Professor Krowl, Chairman, was strongly endorsed. The meeting declared its sense of the urgent need of prescribed sophomore work in English, and the great desirability of a course in advanced composition for exceptionally able students, and of other elective courses. It was further recommended that there be a Faculty Committee charged with general oversight of student English in all departments. A Committee, appointed by Professor Mott, consisting of Messrs. Krowl, Horne, Compton, Otis and Friedland, was instructed to submit to Professor Mott and to President Mezes a statement including these and other resolutions together with the results of Dr. Friedland's analysis.

Notice to Freshmen

All Freshmen in Arts 1 and 2, except those who have already had a third language, may select either a third language or the course in Comparative Literature and Art (English 21); and those who have had a third language may elect the course in Comparative Literature and Art. They are required to report such election at the Dean's Office not later than Wednesday, May 19th.

Bio Banquet To-night

This evening the semi-annual banquet of the Biological Society will be held in the Faculty Lunch Room.

Among the guests will be President Mezes, Professor Winslow, lately of the College, now a member of the State Board of Health, Professor Senior of Bellevue, Professor Gregory of Barnard and Mr. Osbourne of the Museum of Natural History.

Lecture at Civic Club Meeting

At Thursday's meeting of the Civic Club Professor Scott of the Natural History Department will talk on the "Organizing of Rural Communities."

Present Professor With Chapters

Professor Thompson of the History Department has contributed to one of the most curious books ever published.

Former students of Professor Denning of Columbia recently dedicated to him a volume entitled "Southern History and Politics." Instead of presenting their professor with a cane or a loving cup to show their appreciation of his work, each of his students, who are now teachers and professors of history themselves, wrote a chapter of what makes up a complete book and dedicated it to him.

Professor's Thompson's contribution is entitled "The New South—Economic and Social."

Professor Thompson is working on a short history of the United States which will be published in the fall.

Movies at Chemistry Lecture

The last public lecture to be given under the auspices of the Chemistry Department was delivered by Dr. Warner of the Edison Laboratories last Friday afternoon in the Doremus Lecture Theatre. His subject was "Crystal Growth and Other Educational Subjects."

Dr. Warner illustrated Edison's idea of supplementing book instruction with motion pictures.

Good Program Offered atPrize Speaking Contest

The Semi-Annual Prize Speaking Contest will be held this Friday in the Great Hall.

Brown, Edelman, Grablowsky and Kaplan will compete for the Drummond Prize and the Board of Trustees Prizes. Goldberg, Manz and Schiff will be the contestants for the Roemer Prize. Professor Baldwin will be at the organ.

Tickets may be secured from Professor Robinson in room 221.

Charter Day Dance Well Attended

The Charter Day Dance held under the auspices of the 1916 Class was well attended. The gymnasium was handsomely decorated with class trophies and fraternity banners.

All present declared that the evening had been well spent.

Professor John Turner and Mrs. Turner were the representatives of the Faculty.

S. C. Meeting Brief

During the course of a brief meeting of the Student Council on Friday afternoon, Turner, '16, chairman of the Assembly Committee which arranged for the Charter Day Assembly, stated in his report that another student gathering would take place on Thursday, May 27th. The purpose of the assembly is to lay before the students the plans for the Stadium dedication exercises which will take place on Saturday, May 29th.

The plans drawn up by Cohen, '16, and Harap, '16, for a Co-operative Book Store have been accepted by the Faculty Committee and by President Mezes. It now remains for the Board of Trustees to approve of them to realize the project.

The "Mike" debtors are to be hailed before the Discipline Committee which will endeavor to do away with standing debts.

Notice

The Joint Committee on Discipline has found Mr. Moe Nudelman, U. So. 3, guilty of handing in as his own work a Physics note-book which was the work of another student. The Committee has imposed upon Mr. Nudelman the following penalty:

(1) The requirement of additional or superior work in Physics in order to obtain credit for the course;

(2) Exclusion from all extra-curricular activities until Feb. 1st, 1916; and

(3) The publication of this notice on the bulletin boards of the Student Council and the Athletic Association, and in THE CAMPUS.

Professor Guthrie Speaks on "Political History in Relation to Judaism."

Professor Guthrie spoke in the Menorah Alcove last Monday on "Political History in Relation to Judaism."

Professor Guthrie explained that it is as easy to trace the history of the Jews since they had made complete records of their lives and traditions.

He showed how the familiar relations of the Jews grew into the tribal system and discussed the system of jurisprudence that sprang up.

It was then shown how the monotheistic religion of the Jews encouraged political unity and strengthened the positions of the rulers.

Bio Dinner

To the Editor of THE CAMPUS:

Sir: I should like to call the attention of the students of the College to the dinner of the Biological Society which will be held this Thursday, May 13th at 6.30 P. M. in the Faculty Dining Room. A number of prominent guests will be present. As usual, a good time is assured those who attend, in addition to a good meal, which is just as essential. Many innovations will be displayed which will be surprises to all who attend.

Those desiring to attend will please see Linder, '16, Smith, '15, or Greenberg, '15. The subscription is one dollar.

Thanking you for your courtesy, I remain,

Jacob Greenberg,
President of the Biological Society.

The Stadium Exercises

To the Editor of THE CAMPUS:

Sir: I would like to communicate to the College thru the medium of your paper a few words apropos the dedication of our Stadium on Saturday afternoon, May 29th.

The College must make a good showing and demonstrate that the students appreciate the Stadium and are willing to assist as marshals at the dedication.

A great deal depends upon the management of this affair. Let the students rise to the occasion.

One hundred and fifty marshals will be required. We are desirous that as many of these as possible wear white trousers and blue coats.

Evening Session to Hold Banquet

The Annual Banquet of the Evening Session will be held at Hotel Breslin on the evening of May 22nd. Subscription is two dollars.

Two Days Left

You still have two more days in which to procure tickets for the much-heralded excursion this Saturday. No tickets will be sold at the docks.

The general features of the annual outing—a comfortable steamer with dancing accommodations, the chance to view Admiral Fletcher's formidable fleet now at anchor in the North River, the game on the grounds, recreations at the adjacent State Park and Highland Lake, etc.—have been described fully before.

The "Albion" will leave the Battery at 9 A. M., West 129th Street about 45 minutes later, and will then journey up to the landing at Bear Mountain, near West Point, arriving at 1.30 P. M. Several hours will then be given for recreation at the resort and on the return trip the steamer will reach the city about 10 P. M.

ATHLETICS

WEEKLY CHAT WITH VIC.
TRACK

The Stevens trackmen slipped one over on our boys last Wednesday when they beat them by the score of 75-37. Bad as the score may look, on closer consideration it wasn't so worse. Our boys took first in the 100, 440, 880 and the two-mile.

The cause of the lop-sided score is the fact that we had no men who had ever thrown the discus or the hammer. Alport took care of the Broad Jump, the only field event in which we took a first. In the Shot, the best we could do was a second by Rudnick. Hervey had an off-day on Wednesday and had to quit at 5-3½ in the High Jump despite the fact that he did 5-5 in the last indoor meet.

In the 440, Jerry Vriens broke the College record by one second with 53, which is excellent time considering the slowness of the track after the rains of last week. Jim Moonan came in right at Vriens elbow. Joe Scarlata came within a second of breaking the College record for the Two-Mile. Joe had been leading the field all the way and he was advised to slow up. He did so and when he learned at the finish that he could have broken the record he felt like booting himself. 'Salright, Joe you'll do it yet.

The results of the meet are as follows:

100 yd.—Moonan, C. C. N. Y. (1st), Meslow, Stevens, (2nd). Time 10:3.

120 yd. Hurdles—Hoinkass, Stevens, (1st), Phelps, Stevens, (2nd). Time 17:4.

220 yd.—Meslow, Stevens, (1st), Bal-ko, Stevens, (2nd). Time 24.

220 yd. Hurdles—Hoinkas, Stevens, (1st), Lehman, C. C. N. Y., (2nd). Time, 29:1.

440 yd.—Vriens, C. C. N. Y., (1st), Moonan, C. C. N. Y. (2nd). Time, 53.

880 yd.—Schaffer, C. C. N. Y. (1st), Edding, Stevens (2nd). Time, 2:11.

1 Mile—Howell, Stevens (1st), Rogers, Stevens (2nd). Time, 4:58:4.

2 Mile—Scarlata, C. C. N. Y. (1st), Weberpals, C. C. N. Y. (2nd). Time, 10:26.

High-Jump—Conard, Stevens and Piquet, Stevens (tied for 1st). Jump, 5 ft., 4½ inches.

(1st), Rudnick, C. C. N. Y. (2nd). Put, 33 ft. 10 inches.

Discus Throw—Stretch, Stevens, (1st), Grosso, Stevens, (2nd). Throw, 95 feet, 4 inches.

Broad-Jump—Alport, C. C. N. Y. (1st), Phelps, Stevens, (2nd). Jump, 19 ft., 7 inches.

(1st), Moller, Stevens, (2nd). Throw, 121 feet, 5 inches.

WRESTLING

In a 135 pound Class bout on Thursday afternoon, Kerekese, '17, lost on decision to Abromowitz, '18, the best man in his Class. This is the first season Kerekese has been wrestling and he has shown lots of class. Last week he threw Levy in a hard-fought bout in the time of two minutes. After Thursday's bout, Girdansky, '18, and Bisglier, '18, gave a dandy exhibition. The best given up the Gym in some time. The exhibition illustrated many fine points such as bridges which were wonderfully executed.

In last week's issue of THE CAMPUS there appeared a protest against the non-appearance of tennis news. In answer will say that since the first game was played with Columbia, no regular matches have been held. However, we will attempt to see that every thing goes well in the future.

The 1917 Smoker by a Participant

The fellows had the time of their lives at the '17 Smoker last Thursday night. Eats and drinks galore—the best yet. And as for smokes, they couldn't be beat. Pipes and cigarette holders were given out as souvenirs. The Entertainment (with a capital E) was furnished in the main by Armour and Company. Armour and three of his friends gave an imitation of the Avon Comedy Four, and you could split your sides laffin.' After the encores, Armour himself, sang some songs, and then one of the Co. did some very clever "domino, fresco, change" work. The music was furnished by a visitor. Mr. Kleefeld and that boy could certainly elicit the tunes out of his banjorine. On the whole, it was a great evening. Let's hope the others are as good.

"The Old King Cole" for '18

"The Old King Cole," as the '18 Class is calling their Smoker, will take place on Thursday, May 20th at 8 P. M. The long list of attractions arranged by the Committee seems to promise a large crowd for the occasion. Besides plenty of tobacco and a cigarette holder, eats and drinks and a top-notch program has been arranged. Famous vaudeville entertainers and musicians will positively be at hand. The tickets are only twenty-five cents and can be purchased from the Committee in charge at the '18 alcove.

Nineteen's Smoker May 19th

The Nineteen Class has caught the disease and is giving a Smoker on the 19th of May in the Lunch Room. Judging from reports, the Freshies are going to prepare something with eclat. The '19 Smoker, May 19th at 8 P. M., the College Lunch Room, is the what—when—where of it.

A "Soiree" for the Philosophers

The Philosophical Society will hold a "Soiree" Friday, May 21st, 8 P. M. at the City College Club Rooms. Drinks, smokes, eats and thinks (philosophical) are the inducements for purchasing tickets which are fifty cents each, procurable from B. D. Kaplan, '16, or any other member of the Executive Committee of the Society.

The musical program was greatly appreciated. Osias Oestericher painted the numerals. A large audience was present.

Saturday, June 12th—following the last examination day—is the date set for the Annual Smoker of the Newman Club. Tickets, which cost fifty cents, may be had from Rimbach, Wright, Rubino, and J. Gehan. As usual there will be an interesting program, and the installation of next year's officers will take place.

The Newman Club Dance was a financial as well as a social success. Credit for this success is given to Wait J. Gallagher, '17, who managed the Dance.

William Faversham

Famous Actor, says

"A pipe of Tuxedo keeps me feeling physically fit and in good spirits, and, because it is mild and doesn't bite, it is pleasant to the throat and keeps my voice in good tone."

William Faversham

Tuxedo Keeps You Physically Fit

Every playgoer has remarked the virility and clean-cut vigor of William Faversham, both as an actor and as a man. No matter what part he is playing, he always presents a figure of alert strength and keen wits. His voice is especially engaging, clear, carrying and sonorous.

For Tuxedo tobacco to gain a testimonial from such a man, stating that it helps to keep him "physically fit and in good spirits" and keeps his voice "in good tone" goes far toward convincing you of Tuxedo's wholesome, all-round value to you.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo will put snap and vim into your daily work. It's an inspiring tobacco that will keep you fit as a fiddle, full of zest, hearty and happy and hale. You can smoke it all day long, and each succeeding pipeful will glow with greater cheer.

The original, exclusive "Tuxedo Process" has many imitators—but no equal.

Try Tuxedo for a week, and you'll like it forever.
