PREFACE TO THE TRANSLATION BY GILBERT MURRAY.

"The Trojan Women" tells of the proudest conquest wrought by Greek arms in legend, the taking of Troy by the armies of Agammon. But it tells the old legend in a peculiar way. Slowly, reflectively, with little stir of blood, we are made to look at the great glory, until we see not glory at all but shame and blindness and a world swallowed in night. In the beginning we see Gods brooding over the wreck of Troy; now a smoking ruin, sacked by the Greeks. Such is the handiwork of Athena, daughter of Zeus! Her name is no sooner mentioned than she appears. But she is changed. Her favorites have gone too far; insulted the altars of the Gods and have defiled virgins in holy places. Athena is now turned against her people. Their great feet, flushed with conquest and stained with sin, is just about to set sail: Athena has asked Zeus the Father for vengeance against it, and Zeus has given it into her hands. She and Poseidon swear alliance; the storm shall break as soon as the fleet sets sail, and the hungry rocks of the Aegean be glutted with wrecked ships and dying men.

*How are ye blind,
Ye traders down of cities; ye that cast
Temples to desolation and lay waste
Tombs, the untrodden sanctuaries where lie
The ancient dead, yourselves so soon to die.*

And the angry presences vanish into the night. Then the day dawns and the play begins, and we see what in plain words, the great glory has amounted to. We see the shattered walls and some poor temporary huts where once was a city; and presently we see a human figure rising wearily from sleep. It is an old woman, very tired, her head and her back aching from the night on the hard ground. The old woman is Hecuba, lately queen of Troy, and in the huts hard by are the other captives. "High women chosen from the waste of war" to be slaves to the Greek chieftains. They are to be allotted this morning. She calls them and they come startled out of sleep, some terrified and some quiet, some still dreaming, one suddenly frantic. Thru the rest of the play we hear bit by bit the decisions of the Greek army-council, Cassandra, the virgin priestess, is to be Agamemnon's concubine. The stupid and good-natured Herald who brings the news thinks it good news. The other women are horror-stricken, but Cassandra is happy. God is leading her; her flesh seems no longer to be part of her; she has seen something of the mind of God and knows that the fate of Troy and of dead Hector is better than that of their conquerors.

The central portion of the play deals with the decision of the Greeks about Hector's little boy, Astyanax. He is only a child now; but of course he will grow up and he will form the natural rallying point for all the fugitive Trojans and the remnants of the great Trojan Alliance. The Herald is sent to take the child from his mother, Andromache, and throw him over the battlements. He comes when the two women, Andromache and Hecuba, are talking together and the child playing somewhere near. Andromache has been allotted as slave to Pyrrhus, the son of Achilles, and is consulting with Hecuba about the horror she has to face. As they speak the shadow of the entering Herald falls across them; he cannot speak at first, but he has come to take the child to its death, and his message has to be given.

The Stadium Exercises

The new stadium built by the generosity of Adolph Lewisohn for City College will be presented next Saturday afternoon, May 29th, to the city. Formal exercises of the presentation will take place in the Great Hall of the College at two o'clock. Mr. Lewisohn will make the presentation, and Mr. McAneny, the acting Mayor, will receive the gift in the name of the city and transfer it to the College, for which it will be accepted by Charles E. Lydecker, the chairman of the board of trustees. Other addresses will be made by Dr. John H. Finley, President Churchill, of the Board of Education; Justice Greenbaum, president of the Associate Alumni of the College; Joseph L. Buttenweiser, of the class of 1888; Dr. Henry M. Leipziger, of the class of 1873, and Dr. Thomas A. Storey, the head of the Department of Hygiene at the College.

After the program in the Great Hall, the academic procession will proceed to

For sheer beauty of writing, for a kind of gorgeous dignity that at times reminds one of Aeschylus and yet it is compatible with the subtlest clashes of mood and character, "The Trojan Women" stands perhaps first among all the works of Euripides. But this is not its most remarkable quality. The action works up first to a great empty scene where the child's body is brought back to its grandmother, Hecuba, for the funeral rites. A solitary old woman with a dead child in her arms; that on the human side, is the result of the deeds of glory. Then in the finale, come scenes of almost mystical tone, in which Hecuba appeals first to the Gods, who care nothing; then to the human dead who did at least care and love; but the dead, too, are deaf like the Gods and cannot help or heed. Out of the noise and sham of battle has come Death the most Holy and taken them to his peace. No friend among the dead, no help in God, no illusion anywhere, Hecuba faces that which is, and finds somewhere in the very intensity of Troy's affliction, a splendor which cannot die. She has reached in some sense not the bottom, but the crowning peak of her fortunes. Troy has already been set on fire by the Greeks in preparation for their departure, and the Queen rushes to throw herself into the flames. She is hurled back by the guards and the women watch the flaming city till with a crash the great tower falls. The Greek trumpets sound thru the darkness. It is the sign for the women to start for their ships; and forth they go, cheated of every palliative, cheated even of death, to the new life of slavery. But they have seen in their nakedness that there is something in life which neither slavery nor death can touch.

the stadium, where, as already announced, the first public event in its history will be the performance of a Greek tragedy in English, Euripides's "Trojan Women," in Gilbert Murray's translation, by the company under the direction of Granville Barker.

The extent of the public interest in the event is shown by the fact that the demand for tickets for both the presentation ceremony and the Greek play has far exceeded the number of seats available. It is understood that if the weather should be rainy on the Saturday, the play will be given instead on the following Tuesday, but this will not affect the date of the presentation. The play is to be repeated in a public performance on Wednesday, June 2nd, and the "Iphigenia Among the Taurians" is to be played on the afternoons of Monday, May 31st, and Saturday, June 5th. Tickets for these public performances may be purchased at the office of the Secretary of the Mayor's Greek Play Committee, Aeolian Hall.

S. C. Holds Last Meeting

At the last meeting of the Student Council for this term, eight students received their insignias. They are: Daniel Krinowsky, President of the Council; Bertram B. Wolf, James Gould, Solomon Biloon, members of the Varsity debating team; Mortimer J. Cohen, winner of the State Peace Prize Contest; Sidney Samuelson, member of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee; Nathan Schachner, Business Manager of the 1915 Microcosm; and David Frank, President of the Senior Class and member of the Discipline Committee. In nearly all of the cases the election was unanimous.

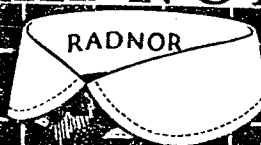

The President of the Council announced the appointment of Schauer, '16, and Schattman, '17, to the Committee for the Supervision of the Fresh-Soph Activities in the Fall. Herbert Benjamin, '17, was made editor of the C. C. N. Y. Handbook.

The Lunch Room Committee stated in its report that it had analyzed the lunch-room situation carefully and had concluded that it would be utterly impossible for the students to take over its management within a year. But a step has been taken to bring the Lunch room under student control, namely, the appointment of a Student-Faculty Committee which will endeavor to regulate the Lunch Room in a more satisfactory fashion than heretofore. The Faculty members of the Committee have already been appointed by President Mezes. Professor Overstreet is chairman, and Professor Coffin and Breithut are the two other Faculty members.

Schachner, '15, reported that 1915 Microcosm had finally paid off all its debts and that there was a good possibility for profit. Schachner desired the Council to change the method of election of the "Mike" board with a view of obtaining increased efficiency. His plan was to have only the editor and business manager elected by the Class and to have the assistants appointed by them. This method, he stated, would abolish the great fault of the "Mike" board by making the assistants directly responsible to the editor and business manager for their positions.

"The Trojan Women"
 "The Trojan Women" was produced in the celebrated "Bowl" of Yale University last Saturday, under the direction of McCarthy and Barker, by the same cast which will give the tragedy here on the 29th. The account states that the production was hailed with even more enthusiasm than a Varsity foot-ball game with Harvard, and that it was a land-mark in the history of the institution.

Prof. Rupp Talks on "The Teaching of Latin."

A large gathering attended Professor Rupp's talk on "The Teaching of Latin" before the Herberman Classical Society last Thursday.

"To teach Latin," Professor Rupp said, "a good command of English and its idioms is necessary. A reading knowledge of French and German is required, as numerous commentaries have been published in those languages. Italian is rapidly coming into use. No one ought to teach Latin," he declared, "unless he has more than fair knowledge of Greek, since the appreciation of the idealism in Latin literature can be gotten only thru acquaintance with Greek.

"It is advisable," Professor Rupp added, "to take post graduate courses. Without a Ph. D., the chances of advancement are small. And for this degree Greek ought to be the minor; the replacement of Greek by another language being less desirable. A knowledge of ancient history and geography; a little of archeology, which treats of the life, manners and political institutions of the ancients; of epigraphy, the study of monumental inscriptions and of the development of the alphabet; of paleography, or the study of manuscripts,—all of these should be included in post-graduate work.

"The prospects for teachers of Latin," concluded Professor Rupp, "are fair, tho they are better for teachers of modern languages. The number of students of classical languages is growing greater," he remarked, "the best evidence of this being our own College."

Professor Rupp was preceded by Benjamin Ginsberg, '16, who spoke on the life and works of Martial and translated some of his better known epigrams.

The "Stadium Number" of MERCURY which will appear this Friday promises to be one of extraordinary interest and will be preserved by many as a souvenir of the Dedication of our new Stadium. The contents include the Official Program of the Ceremonies and the Play, and a review of the Play by Herbert Benjamin. There will also be articles by Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, Professor Mott, and Professor Storey, and an article "The Stadium" by Dr. Finley. Otto Tabor, the President-Elect of the Athletic Association has written an essay on the significance of the Stadium to athletics in the College.

The cover design will be a beautiful photogravure of Mr. Lewisohn. The price of the number will be five cents.

Present Loving Cup to Dr. Taaffe

The Dramatic Society of the College gave a Reception to Dr. and Mrs. Taaffe in the General Webb Room, on Saturday evening in appreciation of Dr. Taaffe's services as coach of the 'Varsity shows since 1909.

Despite the inclement weather, a good-sized gathering of alumni and student members attended. Professor Ball and Professor and Mrs. Coleman were present.

Rettenberg, '18, opened the program with several piano solos and Hanson, '18 sang a few songs. Appropriate talks were given by Professors Ball and Coleman.

The main event of the Reception was the presentation of a large and handsome silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, to Dr. Taaffe by Peterson, '15, of the Dramatic Society. Dr. Taaffe heartily thanked the Society for its appreciation of his endeavors, and in reviewing the plays produced under his coaching declared that some of his happiest moments were spent in dramatic work at the College. While regretting the inactivity of the Society this year, he expressed a hope for the future.

Italian Play Successful

Masterly acting by Miss Maran, in the leading role and splendid support by the other actors made "L' Oro a L' Orpello," the play of the Circolo Dante Aleghieri, given at the Lexington Avenue Opera House, a success.

Much credit is due to the actors Misses E. A. Maran and C. Penque and Messrs. V. Parisi, J. Cotallessa, A. J. Amore and S. Scacciaferro.

Professors McGuckin and Cosenza and Doctors Costa, Ettari, Artman, Panaroni, Moore, Camera, and Knickerbocker were present. From Hunter College came Miss Cunz and Professors Cru and Hessler. Professor Racca of N. Y. U. also attended.

"The One Best Bet"

The Senior Play, "The One Best Bet" will be given in the auditorium of T. H. H. on June 11th and 12th. Tickets at 25 cents each may be procured from any Senior.

As a C. P. musical comedy it promises to be a great success. Catchy lines and a clever plot will make "One Best Bet" the best Senior play in years, according to the testimony of the coach.

The Campus Association.

The Editor desires to thank Professor Hunt for his friendly interest which found expression at various times in offers of aid. Thanks are proffered to Mr. L. W. Ogust of THE CAMPUS Association for his support of a healthy independence in the sentiments of the paper. We are grateful to Miss McCartie and Miss Frank for aid in news-gathering. We also desire to thank Dr. Finley, Dean Brownson and Professor Mott for various courtesies.

And we thank you all, our readers!

We extend our sincerest thanks to the following gentlemen of the Elsworth Press for their efforts on behalf of our paper: Edward Elsworth, Chas. Fetscher, William Fitzgerald, James Fitzgerald, Morris Weiner, John Sullivan and Benjamin Silvermond.

We cheerfully recommend the Elsworth Press.

The Dante Celebration, to have been held Thursday, is called off on account of the unavailability of the Great Hall which is being prepared for the Stadium Exercises.

Our sympathies are with Professor Palmer, who is managing the heavy end of the Stadium Celebration. To prove our sentiments are sincere, we hereby discharge any member of THE CAMPUS staff who pesters the Professor for "press privileges" in the shape of tickets for the celebration.

We will learn all about the matter from The Times, Sunday morning. Saturday we are going on a trip up the Hudson to enjoy the fresh air.

NOTICE

College students who are taking courses in the Preparatory Department are held responsible for all the work of such courses. Therefore, although their attendance is not required after May 29th, they are strongly advised to attend so far as their college examinations will allow.

Navy Wireless Operators

Visit College

During the recent visit of the Atlantic Fleet to New York City, a number of the chief radio operators visited the Radio Laboratory of the College. They were much interested in the equipment, particularly when they were permitted to listen to military messages being transmitted between Newcastle in Canada and Portsmouth in England, and to the messages coming to the United States from Nauen, near Berlin in Germany. Several were permitted to talk to their mates on the big battle-ships by wireless telephone; a procedure which aroused much enthusiasm among them.

Later tests with the radio telephone were carried on between a station near Washington Bridge and the College. Messages coming from Washington Bridge Station were received so loudly

Statement by Prof. Palmer

Professor Palmer, the Grand Marshal in charge of the arrangements for the Stadium Exercises, has given out the following statement:

"This is not a student affair. It is entirely institutional and representative. Invitations have been extended to a number of Universities and Colleges which will be represented by their Presidents or other officers. The demand is so great that we have decided to limit the number of tickets. If we were strictly logical we should not give any tickets to any individual students but to a number chosen by the Council to represent the student body. However, to accommodate the greatest number of students possible and to be fair to all we had to limit the tickets to those who are both A. A. members and Student Council members."

Students' Committee on Hygiene and Sanitation

To the Editor of THE CAMPUS:
 Sir: The Students' Committee on Hygiene and Sanitation, which is an adjunct of the President's Committee on Hygiene and Sanitation, wishes to submit the following suggestion to the students of the College.

(1.) When drinking from the water fountains, do not touch the bulb with your lips; think of others.

(2.) Do not waste the paper towels; they are expensive. There are none left in the afternoon because they are wasted in the morning. Professor Guthrie, with as big hands as any student in the College, does not use more than three sheets with which to wipe them.

(3.) Avoid overcrowding in the lunch room. When through eating, leave the lunch room; it is none too big. Do not stand around talking.

(4.) Do not throw refuse about the alcoves. There are plenty of baskets.

(5.) In using the stairways, use the right side for going up and the left side for going down. This will facilitate traffic and avoid unnecessary delay and confusion.

THE CAMPUS has advocated this in an early issue.)

(7.) The presence of only a few cans on the Campus does not mean that you should throw paper on the grass. Hold on to it until you see the cans. If you see any T. H. H. student violating this, speak to him about it.

(8.) Do not keep any gymnasium paraphernalia in the lockers of the Main Building. They give rise to unpleasant odors.

Remember that this is our community and if each of us would do his share, it would greatly improve the conditions under which we work.

If you have any complaints or suggestions to make, please address them to the Health Committee in care of the Lost and Found Room.

Drop Student Camps

Because the Controller of the Treasury disapproved expenditures amounting to $5,000 in connection with student military camps last year, the War Department has virtually abandoned its plan for holding camps this year.

The camps have been warmly supported by Secretary Garrison and it is expected that Congress will be asked for legislation permitting the expenditure of public funds for the maintenance. There were to be three camps on military reservations this year at Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., the Presidio of San Francisco and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. A site in Ludington, Mich., had been selected for a fourth camp.

Many to Visit Northfield

The College will be well-represented this year at the Annual Student Conference at East Northfield, Mass., June 25—July 4.

The Conference consists of sessions in which prominent religious workers address gatherings, Bible study, vocational discussions, and recreations. The Y. M. C. A. defrays a large part of the expenses of the trip. Last year several of the Faculty and about twenty students represented the College at Northfield; more than twice this number, including a few professors, are enrolled for this year.

at a third station at the Hotel Ansonia that it was possible to relay them back to the College by wire telephone. The words which were heard in the wire line receiver had, therefore, travelled seven miles by wireless and back four by wire line. This foreshadows the time when any Bell telephone station, in business or residence, may be used for long distance wireless telephone transmission.

On the evening of Saturday, May 29th, Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith will speak at Fayerweather Hall, Columbia University before the Radio Club of America. The topic will be "Foreign Radio Apparatus," and many interesting lantern slides will be shown. On the evening of Wednesday, June 2nd, Dr. Goldsmith will address the Institute of Radio Engineers at the same place on "Static Elimination." He will present several suggested methods of lessening the bad effect of atmospheric disturbance on the receiving of wireless signals.

ATHLETICS

WEEKLY CHAT WITH VIC.

The semi-final bouts of the Wrestling Tournament were held in the Gym last Friday. In the star-bout, Greenberg, '17, was awarded the 115 lb. Champs when he won from Schubert, '17, on decision in six minutes. The Heavy-weight Championship was awarded to Simonowitch, '17 because of the forfeit of Farnison, who held it last year.

In the 145 lb. class, Wittner, '18, won from Silverstein, '18, in ten minutes. In the 150 and 158, Nemer and Zetkin, res-

Granich, '17, who has shown up well in the Tournament, dislocated his shoulder in practice and was unable to finish. Granich, who is in the 125 lb. class, has already thrown three men in different events, and was putting in a strong bid for the Champs when he hurt himself. Better luck next time!

TRACK

Manager Guinness wishes to announce that all those interested in Varsity and Inter-Class Track should reserve Friday afternoons on their Fall schedules; also, that all Cross-Country candidates should begin training in August. See Mac on "how to do it."

Kupec, '15, Gets Fellowship

Beginning with the academic year 1915-1916 a number of fellowships in the new advanced courses in the Columbia School of Mines, Engineering and Chemistry will be awarded to students or graduates of a limited number of colleges and technical schools of high rank. In view of the very satisfactory showing which has been made by students who have gone to the Columbia School of M. E. & C., they have decided to designate one of the fellowships to C. C. N. Y. The fellowship will carry a stipend of $250 and will be designated to C. C. N. Y. so long as its representatives maintain the academic standing.

William J. Kupec, '15, has been appointed.

Prof. Osburne Recites at Bio Dinner

The Biological Society Dinner took place last Thursday night, May 13th. Speeches were made by the Faculty and guests. Professor Winslow of the State Board of Health spoke on the subject of Public Health and the many opportunities open in this newly discovered field of Applied Science. Professor Osburne of Barnard added to the jollity of the evening by reciting "Eats 'Em Alive." Not of least significance was the dinner itself, additional relish being furnished by a thoroughly biological menu.

Fresh-Soph Committee Reports

Report of Sub-Committee on Freshman-Sophomore activities to the Joint-Committee on Discipline.

The Committee suggests the following rules:

I. A Student Council Committee of two, one from the Senior Class, one from the Junior Class shall be appointed in the spring term with powers of supervision over all Fresh-Soph activities.

II. This Committee shall, on the day of registration, present to each Freshman a card bearing the following:

1. A notice of a mass-meeting to be held on the first regular College Jay.
2. A statement of the rules laid down by Sophomores.
3. A list of the Fresh-Soph activities for the year with the dates.
4. A statement of rules concerning activities.

Each Freshman shall put his name and class on this card and keep it as an identification card. This card must be shown when called for by an upper classman or a Sophomore.

III. The rules to be enforced by the Sophomores are:

1. No Freshmen shall congregate on the Campus.
2. Freshmen shall wear black caps with lavender buttons.
3. Freshmen shall wear black socks only.
4. Freshmen shall wear no red ties.
5. Freshmen shall not smoke on the Campus.

IV. The activities shall consist of:

1. Cane Spree.
2. Tug of War.
3. Track Meet.
4. Flag Rush.
5. Sophomore Carnivals.
6. Peace Banquet.
7. Fresh Feed.
8. Soph Smoker.

and others of similar nature. The first event shall occur on the first Friday of the year.

V. The rules concerning activities are as follows:

1. Sophomores shall take the names of all those breaking the rules.
2. The Freshmen breaking rules must report to the Sophomores at a Sophomore Carnival in the Fall or for punishment at public functions in the Spring till the Peace Banquet in the first week in May.
3. In addition, the Sophomores may choose a maximum of fifteen men from the Freshmen Class at large; said Freshmen to report when called for by the Sophomores, for hazing at the Sophomore Carnival and other public functions.

4. All hazing or punishment is subject to approval by the Student Council Committee.

5. Sophomores must give the Freshmen at least two weeks public notice of their demands for hazing or punishment.

6. Freshmen who fail to appear when called for shall be debarred from all extra-curricular activities for a maximum of one year, provided that Rule No. 5 has been complied with.

7. Individual or group fighting is absolutely forbidden. Failure to appear may be excused upon presentation of satisfactory excuse to the Freshman-Sophomore Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

David H. Frank,
Chairman.

George Randolph Chester

Famous Author, says:

"Why shouldn't a man be willing to recommend a tobacco which gives as cool, sweet and satisfying a smoke as Tuxedo?"

For Mentally Alert Men—Tuxedo

George Randolph Chester's "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" stories have delighted thousands through the mental alertness, good humor and keen mind shown by the wily promoter.

When George Randolph Chester writes of things typically American he knows what he is talking about; and when he endorses Tuxedo—the typically American tobacco—his endorsement carries great weight with the keen-minded, alert and brainy smokers of this country.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

is made especially to maintain the American spirit of good humor. Its constant use benefits a man in mind and body, by keeping him happy and physically fit.

Tuxedo is the finest Kentucky Burley—the world's premier smoking-tobacco leaf—made absolutely non-biting by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated. Tuxedo is delightfully mild, fragrant, rich, and gives a cool and satisfying smoke. Tuxedo is in a class by itself.
